THE WEATHER
Unsettled, probably fair and continued warm to-day. Monday unsettled, probably local showers
Sun rises—4:12 a. m.; 7:28 p. m.
Moon rises—1:12 a. m.
High tide—7:45 a. m.; 8:15 p. m.

Boston American

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY NEWSPAPER

CITY EDITION
1. Main News. 6. Magazine.
2. Sporting. 7. Editorial.
3. Foreign. 8. Comic.
4. Real Estate. 9. Society.
5. Dramatic. 10. General News.
11. City Life.

VOL. 7—No. 104. Registered in U. S. Patent Office. BOSTON, SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910.
Copyright, 1910, by the New England Newspaper Publishing Company.
68 PAGES

BIGGEST BOSTON FOURTH TO BE 'SANE' YET GLORIOUS

President Taft to Help the City to Celebrate by Reviewing the Great Military and Civic Parade; Chorus of 1,000 Sing

Athletic Meets, Band Concerts and Elaborate Displays of Fireworks Other Features; Salute by Bells and Warships

BOSTON tomorrow celebrates the one hundred and thirty-fourth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. For the first time in its history the city is to observe the Fourth of July in a Safe and Sane manner.

Under the direction of the Safe and Sane Committee of one hundred and fifty, selected by the Boston 1915 organization a comprehensive and diversified program of amusements and entertainments has been arranged for the day.

The President of the United States, the Governor and other high officials of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will tomorrow be the guests of the city of Boston.

From early Monday morning until late at night Boston is to celebrate the Fourth in a manner never before attempted here. The hospitals and morgues, as well as comparative statistics between this and former years, will tell the tale as to whether the new manner of celebrating the Fourth is really safe. That it will be sane a glance at the splendid program proves.

Warships to Thunder Salute.

Bonfires are to blaze from many hill tops and public vantage grounds. Bells are to be rung and whistles blown. The whole city is to take a radical holiday. The national flag will be flown from thousands of flagmasts, the great ships of war in the harbor will thunder their salutes, while from every mast and spar the flag and varicolored pennants are to flutter. From thousands of private homes the flag will be flown.

Athletic games of all kinds are to be indulged in, some by professionals of National reputation while others are to be contested by amateurs. The games are to be played in many parts of the city and, starting early in the morning at Old Boston Common.

Patriotic exercises are to be held as of old in Faneuil Hall. Later a schoolboy is to read from the East balcony of the Old State House the Declaration of Independence. The lad is to read the selfsame parchment which was first read from the balcony of the venerable building.

The Independence Day oration in Faneuil Hall is to be delivered by John M. Wolf. His subject is to be "The Building of the Republic." This will take place at the first formal patriotic meeting of the day. It will begin at 9 o'clock.

At 10 o'clock sixteen-year-old Wilfred Frederick Kelley of Roxbury will read the declaration from the Old State House.

Pageant to Be Feature.

A pageant, the greatest of all the great features of the day, is to move through the streets of the Back Bay and Tremont street in the morning. It is expected that fifteen thousand men and boys will be in this great line of march. Eight bands are to play the music to which this pageant will march. There will be twenty-eight historic, industrial or educational floats in line.

Fantastic processions of Antiques and Horribles, a custom of the Daddys, will move through the streets of different sections of the city, principally during the early morning hours. The New England Amateur Rowing Association is to hold a great regatta in Charles River Basin in the morning. At the same time the city of Boston regatta is to be held off City Point under the auspices of the Inter-Club Association.

President Taft is to review the mammoth military and civic parade and following this he is to be the guest of the City Club. Later he is to deliver an address to the scores of thousands of teachers who are here attending the National Education Association convention. One thousand school children are to surround the presidential reviewing stand in Charles street in the Common and they are to sing several national hymns.

In the afternoon patriotic exercises are to be held in many of the Boston school houses, and thousands of plates of ice cream

Continued on Page 8, Column 5.

Showers on Fourth, and Slightly Cooler, Is the Prediction

Little Relief From the Intense Heat To-day, According to the Official Forecast.

Showers, possibly thunder storms, are expected by the local weather forecaster on the afternoon and night of to-morrow. Boston may have a showery Fourth. To-day will probably be fair and hot—hot as it was yesterday when the mercury climbed as high as 90 degrees.

Here is the forecast for to-day and Monday: Sunday, unsettled; probably fair. Continued warm. Monday, unsettled; probably local showers in the afternoon or night; slightly cooler, light variable winds.

Boston was hot yesterday. The maximum, 90 degrees, was reached at 2 in the afternoon. There were two prostrations from the heat in Boston and two in the camp of the Eight Regiment, M. V. M., at South Framingham.

PRAYERS FOR MR. JOHNSON.

Kansas Negroes Will Hold Tent Services as Fight Progresses.

HUTCHINSON, Kas., July 2.—The negro Holiness Church, here to-day, arranged for special services Monday afternoon to pray that Johnson may defeat Jeffries. A large tent was constructed to-day for the accommodation of those who will attend the services.

There are about 1,200 negroes here, and a majority of them will attend. According to the program the negroes will pray and sing religious hymns until Johnson wins the battle, "if it takes all night." Arrangements have been made to have the fight rounds bulletined between hymns at the meeting."

BILL IS UP TO MR. KNOX.

Government Won't Buy Gloves for His Coachman.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Secretary Knox will have to pay for the gloves used by the State Department coachman or the coachman will have to pay for them or go without them. The gloves cost $4 a pair.

The auditor of the State Department placed his O. K. on a bill for gloves for the Secretary's coachman recently. The Comptroller of the Treasury, the final authority, disallowed the claim, sharply calling the attention of the State Department auditor to the disallowance eight years ago of a bill for overcoat, boots and moccasins, for the State Department coachman.

EX-GOV. FOLK APPROACHES.

Boom Already Here; He Follows It Next Month.

Ex-Governor Folk of Missouri, candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, is coming to Boston next month to speak at clam-bake held by the Democratic City Committee. His coming was arranged for last evening by President Joseph A. Maynard, representing the city committee, and Lon Sanders of St. Louis and Harry W. Walker of New York, representing the Folk boom.

GUM-CHEWING UNDID CADET

False Statement to Officer Resulted in West Point Dismissal.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Cadet Everett Carlton Crear, 5th class U. S. Military Academy, denied that he was chewing gum when questioned by an officer, and as a result was to-day ordered dismissed from the academy by President Taft. Crear was appointed from Albany, N. Y. A court martial found him guilty of making a false statement.

YOHO STARTS HOME.

Racing Motor Boats Are on Return From Bermuda.

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, July 2.—The motor boats Ecnel II, Vice Commodore Cochran, owner, and Yoho, owned by H. D. Bacon of Rath, Me., sailed from here for New York at 10:30 o'clock today. These boats raced from there to St. George's, and are now on their return trip. The Ecnel II won the race coming this way.

TOLSTOI AGAIN ILL.

Great Alarm Felt for Venerable Russian Novelist.

MOSCOW, July 2.—Count Leo Tolstoy is again ill at his home in Yasnaya Polien It is not known how serious his present attack is, but owing to the "torch bearers" extreme age the least indisposition on his part occasions alarm.

NEW HAMPSHIRE PEAS.

Concord Editor Claims State Record for Early Production.

CONCORD, N. H., July 2.—H. H. Metcalf, editor and agriculturist of Broadway, has had peas from his garden every day since June 20. Mr. Metcalf lays claim to the State record for early production.

ROOSEVELT TO LEAD INSURGENTS IN BITTER FIGHT

"My Policies Forever" Is the Slogan of the Former President.

KILLS BOOM FOR GOVERNOR

Absolutely Impossible for Him to Accept Nomination, He Writes.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 2.—The definite attitude of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt towards the Taft administration was made clear today after a three-hour conference at Sagmore Hill with three insurgent Republicans. From now on, it today's developments count for anything, Mr. Roosevelt will conduct a bitter fight as the leader of the insurgents.

"My policies forever," is the new Roosevelt slogan. The insurgents who swapped notes with Colonel Roosevelt today were three, all of Kansas, who have been in the forefront of the battle against the Taft administration and Cannonism.

United Sites Senator Joseph L. Bristow, who, as Fourth Assistant Postmaster General under President Roosevelt, conducted the investigation into the postal land frauds in Cuba and in this country.

Congressman E. H. Madison, one of the members of the Congressional Committee which has investigated the Pinchot-Ballinger controversy, Madison having recently put in a minority report in favor of Roosevelt's protege, Pinchot.

Victor Murdock, whose sympathies have been with Pinchot and with all the Roosevelt policies.

Talks with Griscom, too.

These three rugged Kansas men have stood valiantly together in their fight in Congress and Col. Roosevelt to-day said he always regarded them as "among his most loyal supporters." Besides the insurgents Mr. Roosevelt had as an equally important visitor Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican County committee to whom the former President sent a telegram last week urging that the primary bill.

With Griscom Col. Roosevelt talked over the situation in New York State. The defeat of the direct primary bill, the ex-President admits, was touched upon. The American is able to announce positively that Colonel Roosevelt is to try to take a firm grip upon the Republican political machinery of New York. He is stung deeply over the overriding of his desire as to the direct primary bill and is going to lay out a course of aggressive activity in State affairs as far as his party is concerned.

Not only will the distinguished citizen watch the trend of events at the White House and try to shape them to his liking but he will essay to take the control of the State situation. He will carry out to the fullest extent the purpose he announced weeks ago upon his return home to devote himself toward "helping to solve" the country's grave problems. He will go even further in attempting to fix them all himself. And judging from the confident tone of the ex-president as he talked with the American correspondent this evening he expects to accomplish all he has started out to do.

Discussed Work of Congress.

The insurgents reached Oyster Bay by train, arriving at 12:10 this afternoon. Three hours after they had gone up the hill, the group of correspondents who have pursued them were invited to Mr. Roosevelt's veranda. Mr. Roosevelt greeted the correspondents with a hearty "How are you, boys?"

"We have been discussing the work of the session of Congress just adjourned," the Colonel went on; "but I want to say right here that we haven't talked over that Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, have we?"

"No, we haven't," chorused the insurgents.

"No, not a pint of it!" came the ex-President's reply, with a vigorous toss of the head. "I hope you will make that perfectly clear. You see, Mr. Madison is a judge on the committee of investigation, and it would not do for me to do or say anything that might in any way influence him or the others who are to finally pass upon the controversy."

Mr. Roosevelt paused to let his words sink in, and then, with eager tone, went on. "I owe a special debt of gratitude to Representatives Madison and Murdock for the stand they took at the time that Representative Tawney, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, offered a resolution in the house providing that none of the appropriations for the maintenance of

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

UNHAPPY YOUNG WIFE KILLS HERSELF WITH BABY

Tragedy in Dorchester Made Doubly Pathetic by Note Found by Bodies.

HUSBAND IS PROSTRATED

Mrs. Gustave Nord Seals Up Room and Turns on Gas From Seven Jets.

"My Dear Gustave: I have always loved you, but I have suffered a great deal for several months and I thought that you would never talk to anyone about me."

WHEN a neighbor and a policeman and a gas inspector broke down two doors of Gustave Nord's apartment on the second floor at No. 253 Bowdoin street, Dorchester, yesterday afternoon, and discovered Helen Ursula Nord and her fourteen months old baby dead on the kitchen floor, with gas pouring into the carefully sealed room from seven gas jets, they picked up a note beside the bodies.

The note was shown to Nord last night at West Quincy, whither he had gone by pre-arrangement to spend to-day and to-morrow with his wife's family. Relatives say that he acted for a time like an insane man. He couldn't understand it, he said, which has investigated the Pinchot-Ballinger controversy, Madison having recently put in a minority report in favor of Roosevelt's protege, Pinchot.

Victor Murdock, whose sympathies have been with Pinchot and with all the Roosevelt policies.

Talks with Griscom, too.

These three rugged Kansas men have stood valiantly together in their fight in Congress and Col. Roosevelt to-day said he always regarded them as "among his most loyal supporters." Besides the insurgents Mr. Roosevelt had as an equally important visitor Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican County committee to whom the former President sent a telegram last week urging that the primary bill.

With Griscom Col. Roosevelt talked over the situation in New York State. The defeat of the direct primary bill, the ex-President admits, was touched upon. The American is able to announce positively that Colonel Roosevelt is to try to take a firm grip upon the Republican political machinery of New York. He is stung deeply over the overriding of his desire as to the direct primary bill and is going to lay out a course of aggressive activity in State affairs as far as his party is concerned.

Not only will the distinguished citizen watch the trend of events at the White House and try to shape them to his liking but he will essay to take the control of the State situation. He will carry out to the fullest extent the purpose he announced weeks ago upon his return home to devote himself toward "helping to solve" the country's grave problems. He will go even further in attempting to fix them all himself. And judging from the confident tone of the ex-president as he talked with the American correspondent this evening he expects to accomplish all he has started out to do.

Discussed Work of Congress.

The insurgents reached Oyster Bay by train, arriving at 12:10 this afternoon. Three hours after they had gone up the hill, the group of correspondents who have pursued them were invited to Mr. Roosevelt's veranda. Mr. Roosevelt greeted the correspondents with a hearty "How are you, boys?"

"We have been discussing the work of the session of Congress just adjourned," the Colonel went on; "but I want to say right here that we haven't talked over that Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, have we?"

"No, we haven't," chorused the insurgents.

"No, not a pint of it!" came the ex-President's reply, with a vigorous toss of the head. "I hope you will make that perfectly clear. You see, Mr. Madison is a judge on the committee of investigation, and it would not do for me to do or say anything that might in any way influence him or the others who are to finally pass upon the controversy."

Mr. Roosevelt paused to let his words sink in, and then, with eager tone, went on. "I owe a special debt of gratitude to Representatives Madison and Murdock for the stand they took at the time that Representative Tawney, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, offered a resolution in the house providing that none of the appropriations for the maintenance of

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

The Pope, Stricken by Heat, Unconscious in Fainting Fit

This photograph of the Pope possesses special interest for the reason that it was given to Assistant District Attorney Michael J. Ducey in Rome for publication in the Boston American.

ALARM FELT AT VATICAN FOR HEALTH OF PONTIFF

Pius X. Overcome by Oppressive Weather and Ordered by His Physician to Take Complete Rest for Next Few

Much Concern Is Felt at Rome Owing to the Advanced Age and Enfeebled Condition of the Head of the Church

ROME, July 2.—Pope Pius X. fainted today and required treatment from his physician at once. It was given out by Dr. Petacci, who is in constant attendance upon the Pontiff, that the collapse of the Pope was the result of the oppressive heat.

While it was declared that the illness of the Pope was not serious, it is known that the doctor made his orders as imperative as possible that the Pope for an indefinite time take absolute rest, and arrangements have been made to relieve him of the [illegible] duties that he has insisted upon performing regardless of advice against such trying work.

Some alarm was felt here about the health of the Pontiff in spite of the effort upon the part of the officials of the Vatican to have the world know that the attack was one that might naturally be expected because of the intense heat.

It is known that the Pontiff has suffered a great deal from heart trouble, and this in connection with his age—he is just past seventy-five—makes any indisposition serious in the minds of the great host of his loyal church.

Grave apprehension has been felt for the health of the Pope by those in close attendance upon him during the past three years. All of this time it seems that his indomitable will had more to do with keeping him at his great post of duty than his physical strength. The rigid life that the Pontiff has elected to live with his whole mind and soul, weighed down with the weight of the great religious body of which he is the head, has served to age him rapidly within the past few years.

Many times he has had to go to his bed—sometimes carried there by his attendants while a smile played upon his lips, for during his various illnesses he has ever been a most cheerful patient and a most optimistic one. As the days, months and years have rolled so rapidly by—seeming to run more rapidly as [illegible] on—it has been noticed that he has become more easily affected by the slightest change in the weather.

Subject to Fainting Fits.

In the hot weather he has been subject to fainting fits and in the cold weather to bronchial trouble. At other times he has been compelled to relinquish many of his duties because of attacks of the gout that were of the most trying character. But in his physicians he has ever found the most insistent care. Dr. Petacci, the Pope have many a gentle difference as to what the Pope should do because of the demands of his health. Sometimes the doctor wins out, but generally the Pope has his way unless he is forced to give to the accident of weakness.

One of the significant pieces of news that filtered out of the Vatican not long ago was to the effect that since his accession to the throne seven years ago he has gained greatly in flesh. When he was elected the supreme pontiff weighed just 171 pounds. It is declared that his present weight now is in the neighborhood of 200 pounds. This increase in weight is attributed to the sedentary life of the Pope. In order to reduce this flesh doctors have ordered a [illegible] more rigorous diet.

The various fainting [illegible] marked the career of [illegible] secured, it is believed [illegible] annual exercise [illegible] most exercise [illegible] muscles.

BELMONT DRIVING CLUB IS RAIDED

$500 Worth of Liquors Taken Away by Watertown Police at Midnight.

The Belmont Riding and Driving Club in School street, Watertown, known as the Country Club, one of the most fashionable and popular of Eastern Massachusetts clubs, was raided last night by the Watertown police and $500 worth of liquors hauled away in a police patrol wagon.

The club was full at the time that the chief of police and five policemen and Chairman Stanfield Conniff of the Board of Selectmen suddenly threw open the doors of the club and entered. Men and women prominent in the community were in the rooms of the club enjoying the good cheer. There was much excitement as the police searched every room and confiscated the liquors.

Complaints had been made to the Watertown police that gambling was being conducted at the club, and the raid was planned so secretly that everyone in the place was completely surprised. A wagon backed in the door was well filled with bottles of drink.

BOY DIES IN ATTIC BLAZE.

Mother Trying to Save Child, Driven Back by Fire.

GLOUCESTER, July 2.—Three-year-old Johnny Allen was suffocated to death and his older brother and sister narrowly escaped being burned to death to-night in a fire in the attic in their house.

The three children climbed to the top floor of their home in Maplewood avenue after supper. Johnny carried up a bunch of matches without his mother's knowledge.

Suddenly there was a burst of flames through the roof of the house. The older brother and sister fled.

When Mrs. Allen reached the attic she made a dying leap across the threshold, but was driven back by the flames. Then she fell to the floor and fainted.

Firemen broke through the flames and grabbed the boy, but he was dead when he was taken out of the ambulance.

Woman Tries Suicide with Gas.

Mrs. Susan A. Friend, fifty-eight, of No. 24 Massachusetts Avenue, attempted suicide yesterday evening by inhaling illuminating gas. She was discovered by her daughter, Miss Friend. [illegible] and was taken to the City Hospital, where she was found [illegible] condition.

AMES-LODGE FEUD GOES UP IN THE AIR

Lowell Congressman Blames Senator for Navy Department's Turn Down.

Congressman Butler Ames and his friends believe he has Senator Lodge to thank for the refusal of the United States to detail a torpedo boat to test the lifting power of an aeroplane designed by the Lowell Congressman.

Dispatches to the Boston Sunday American from Washington last night said that, at the navy department, it is not quite understood by the experts of what practical value this test will be in solving any par of the problem of aeronautics and for that matter it is not fully appreciated why a Representative should be afforded facilities for practical experimentation which would probably be prompted by and emphatically denied to others."

On the heels of the navy department's decision come the charges that Congressman Ames was given a taste pointed some time ago that a torpedo boat would be assigned for the purpose; that this promise was given by no less a person than Secretary of the Navy Meyer; and that last night's revocation of that promise is to be taken as an answer to Ames's declaration of his candidacy against Senator Lodge.

"There are some phases of this matter that I cannot talk about for publication," Congressman Ames said over the telephone last night. "You can say, however, that I am not surprised at the intimation from Washington that I was using my public office to get a private favor. Politics is behind that intimation.

"The Government ought to be glad of the opportunity I gave it. I am doing, or rather trying to do, something that the Government should have been about long ago. Any talk about expense to the Government is puppy-rot. I am ready, and everyone at Washington knows it, to bear all the expense that the Government will let me bear. I'd pay for the coal used and for everything else, but the salaries of the officers and men detailed with the boat. Those would go on, anyway.

"The turn-down is a surprise to me. I thought that the request would surely be granted. Navy acquaintances of mine have been jubilant over my proposal, and many were anxious to be detailed on the test. It would be [illegible] getting for the government

BOSTON AMERICAN
FLAG COUPON
Sunday, July 3.
NOTICE! Absolutely Not Good as a HOUSEHOLD PREMIUM COUPON.

NEW HAVEN'S BEACON HILL FEE IS $19,000

By a simple use of the words "yearly salary," the New Haven Railroad has shut off a repetition of the highbaiting that was raised throughout the State last year when it acknowledged, in a sworn return to the Secretary of State, that it paid $19,000 to Charles F. Choate, Jr., for directing the passage of the Railroad Holding Bill.

Arthur P. Russell had charge of the New Haven's business on Beacon Hill this year. The "lobby" return just filed by the New Haven says: "New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, to Arthur P. Russell, yearly salary. No special charge for legislative services."

The law allows the filing of a return in this form.

Joy Jognson, legislative counsel for [illegible] forests behind the barand-bottle bill, received $200 from the Paxon Tenement League.

Former District Attorney Hill's law firm—Hill, Barlow & Homans—fared well in the disbursements for legislative work. The Boston Board of Fire Underwriters paid them $800, and Field & Cowles paid them $500.

One thousand dollars was paid to the firm of Elder, Whitman & Barnum for work on the bill to allow the sealing of single-service paper bottles and jars.

The Aetna Life Insurance Company paid $1,000 to former Senator William A. Morse, who was also retained by several other insurance companies whose returns have not yet been filed.

Former Representative William P. Dorman of Lynn received $775 from the Manufacturing and Mechanics Committee on Tax Laws, for his work for the constitutional amendment to permit the classification of property for taxation.

For services on proposed amendments to the game and fish laws, Charles Putnam received $1,500 from Walter Baker & Co. Ltd.

Former Governor John L. Bates got $1,000 from the Boston Railroad Holding Company. Former Representative Myron P. Pierce of Ward 11, Boston, cost $100 to the Boston 1915 Corporation for work on the bill for a "safe and sane" Fourth.

HEAT PLAYS HAVOC WITH THE SOLDIERS

FRAMINGHAM, July 2.—The week's tour of field duty of the Eighth Regiment, M. V. M., at the State Camp endedto-day. At 7 a. m. to-morrow camp will be broken, and the wagon train will move to Boston. The rest of the regiment will leave at 9 a. m. on special trolley cars for Somerville, where camp will be pitched to-morrow night. The regiment will march in the parade Monday in honor of President Taft.

During the concert this evening the band played "Home, Sweet Home." It was a welcome reminder. When taps sent the men to rest they were a tired lot, though officers and privates all declared that their week's war game was one of the most interesting and instructive in the history of the regiment.

Two incidents near to-day played such havoc with the ranks that 100 men were said to be called off at 11 a. m., when they were under way. Two prostrations from the heat occurred, and one man met with a slight accident. Those overcome were Roger Gordon and Edward Fletcher of Company H, Salem. They were able to be about after three hours in the hospital tent. C. Frank King of Company B, Everett, was shaken up in falling off a wagon, ing for a photograph. One of the men fell on him, injuring his side.

Owing to the heat, Colonel Sweetser, in command, put one company, the tailors, on fatigue duty for the afternoon. Most of the men lolled in their tents away from the sun, but those who were made accessories enough to go through a long list of sports, including baseball games and military competitions.

The post commander was William A. Few, left a field artil- Brigade headquarters were closed at 11 a. m. Most of the hospital section struck camp and started for home. The ambulance corps took to the highway and the foot contingent going by electrics.

Orders have been issued to the first squadron of Massachusetts Cavalry, for a tour of duty from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Troops A, B and D will spend two days at the camp, while Troop C of Cambridge, recently formed, will spend the whole week there. Major William A. Bertine of Jamaica Plain will command. Instruction will include a little war game peculiar to cavalry.

DRISCOLL IS MAYOR'S CHOICE FOR PENAL COMMISSIONER

Fitzgerald Planning to Name Labor Leader as the Successor of Gore.

POSITION IS WORTH $5,000

Patrick F. McDonald Slated for Nomination as Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR FITZGERALD let it be known yesterday that he is seriously considering sending the name of Dennis D. Driscoll to the Civil Service Commission as his choice for Penal Institutions Commissioner at $5,000 a year. The Civil Service Commission has rejected in turn the Mayor's nominations of Former Commissioner John B. Martin and Joseph P. Lyons for the place. Mr. Driscoll lives in Ward 16. He has been prominent in organized labor, particularly as legislative agent for the unions.

The announcement caused considerable surprise at City Hall, especially because Martin and Lyons had already been rejected.

The Mayor also announced yesterday that he had selected Patrick F. McDonald of Ward 20 to be superintendent of supplies at $3,000.

Mr. Fitzgerald, it is said, believes that both men will be acceptable to the civil service commission.

McDonald's appointment will be forwarded to the civil service commission on Tuesday. He will be named as J. Edward Mullen's successor in the Election Department, and Mr. Mullen will be requested to send his resignation to the Mayor's office. McDonald is a former member of the Board of Aldermen and was Superintendent of Bridges during Mayor Fitzgerald's first term.

Dennis D. Driscoll, slated for penal institutions commissioner, succeed Commissioner Gore, a Hibbard appointee, who tendered his resignation to the Mayor in February after becoming an enthusiastic supporter of Mayor Fitzgerald for years. He was on the stump for the Mayor in the last city campaign and too ka prominent part in the campaign of two years ago when he was shot at the Governor's executive chamber in the State House, a few days before the election.

EXTRA LYNN POLICE GUARD PAYMASTERS

Chief Burckes Takes Precautions Against Repetition of Bandit Attack.

LYNN, July 2.—Lynn paymasters, bankers and police took no chances to-day of a repetition of the bandit outrage of last Saturday. Chief Thomas M. Burckes had all his inspectors out in the factory and banking district in plain clothes. In addition to the regular patrolmen, many specials were on duty at the bank entrances.

The paymasters going to the bank to draw out their weekly payrolls, made the trip in automobiles for the greater part. Nor did they lose any time, either. Those who went afoot were not accompanied by more walking abreast of them, as formerly. But the guard brought up the rear a few yards away. This was to prevent the paymasters and other men carrying money being given away by the presence of an officer.

Practically all the paymasters or employers who went to banks carried revolvers to-day under special permit. They were ready to shoot at the first sign of interference.

The police questioned many suspicious characters. The town was on the alert and cautious that it was considered as unhealthy for tramps, confidence men and other lawless characters.

With all these precautions, the day passed without trouble.

Meanwhile Joseph Abom, the wounded bandit, is recovering speedily at Lynn Hospital. For a man with a hole in his skull he shows remarkable vitality. He has been in the operating room twice to-day for dressings. He asked to be allowed to get up and walk about, but the doctor denied him, much to his disappointment.

80 YEARS OLD TODAY.

Four Generations Will Help Mrs. Sarah Klein Celebrate.

Six children, thirty-six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren will help Mrs. Sarah Klein of East Boston celebrate her eightieth birthday in Amory Hall, East Boston to-night. Four generations of the Klein family will join in the unusual birthday party. President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt were sent embossed gold invitations to be present at Mrs. Klein's birthday party.

Mrs. Klein was born in Hungary and came to Boston thirty years ago. She is remarkably active and scarcely ever uses glasses. The birthday celebration is in charge of the following committees: Samuel Klein, M. Paul Klein, Frederick S. and W. Weinberg, S. Weinberg and S. and E. Ober.

BITTEN BY HER DOG.

Brockton Woman Severely Injured by Pet Terrier.

BROCKTON, July 2.—Mrs. George R. Washburn, one of the social leaders of this city, the wife of the leading baker, was severely bitten by her pet Boston terrier to-day. Mrs. Washburn was playing with the dog in the garden when the animal snapped at her hand and inflicted a deep wound on her wrist. A physician and veterinarian were summoned and Mrs. Washburn had to be given either while the wound was sewed up. No signs of rabies were found in the dog. It was thought that the extreme heat affected the animal.

New Cambridge Bank.

A new banking institution, to be known as the Columbia Trust Company will soon be started in Cambridge. It will occupy the quarters of the defunct National Bank in the Cambridge Municipal Building. Applications for the movement headed by Mayor J. Daly, formal [illegible] and [illegible]

MOTHER AND CHILDREN WHOM SHE MUST GIVE AWAY FOR POVERTY

MRS. DANIEL GEORGE AND HER CHILDREN.

MOTHER OFFERS TO GIVE CHILD AWAY

Offers Choice of Five Weeks Girl or Stocky, Strong Boy of Four Years.

DOES anybody want a five-weeks old baby girl?

Does anybody want a four-year-old boy? Up on Ann Street, Ward 3, any address will both for the asking, provided of course that you can prove that you are respectable and have a good home.

The little ones are Mary Arnold George and Frederick Douglas George, the children of Mrs. Daniel George of No. 10 Henry street, Haverhill.

Mrs. George has appealed to the Boston American. She would like a respectable and well-to-do family to adopt her children. "I am down very ill and have been a great deal of trouble with my feet," said Mrs. George to the Boston Sunday American. "I am very much afraid that at times goes on I will lose the use of my feet entirely. That is the reason that I want to have my children adopted by some nice people so that I can be sure they will always do well cared for.

"My husband is now working for the Thomas Shoe Factory in Brooklyn, N. Y., and I am planning to join him there soon. I have been working at the Guptill's shoe shop here in Haverhill, but had to give up on account of illness. My address will be No. 44 [illegible] avenue, Brooklyn.

"Mary is a fairly healthy child, with blue eyes and light hair. The little boy is very strong and robust for his age, and has yellow curly hair and blue eyes. Either child any man or woman would like to adopt. I am both of these children they are the Mrs. George at No. 10 Henry, Haverhill.

The family is not in good circumstances, attained George stated that her husband, now earns $18 or $20 a week, sends his money regularly and that when she was able to work she could earn $12 a week.

FLEES AFTER AUTO CRASH.

Driver Is Captured; Miss Jane Gould Injured in Wreck.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Miss Jane E. Gould, granddaughter of Charles A. Gould, the wealthy head of the Gould Coupler Company, was injured to-day when the [illegible] in which she was driving was struck by an automobile. Ray Parsell, who was driving the automobile, made no effort to help Miss Gould, but drove away at full speed. Miss Gould was thrown to the pavement, but escaped with bruises and a shaking up.

MARRY ME, MAME
WILSON BROS.
$3 CLASSES for $1
$5 CLASSES for $2
ALARM CLOCK 50c
We Are Agents for
ROGERS' SILVERWARE
WALTHAM WATCHES

ROOSEVELT KILLS BOOM FOR GOVERNOR

Writes New York State Republican That the Nomination Is Impossible.

Continued from First Page.

the secret service could be used in investigating the conduct of the Senate or House and forbidding that any of the secret service agents could be assigned to any other department than their own.

"At that time," the ex-President proceeded, with apparent bitterness, "a resolution of censure, aimed at myself was introduced in Congress and Representatives Madison and Murdock were two of the men who opposed it to the end."

"You know the President had sent message to Congress in which he severely criticized the conduct of certain Senators," put in Representative Madison. "He mentioned no names. Some Congressman put in a resolution to expunge that reference to the Senators from the minutes. Only thirty-five members stood up and fought the resolution. All the other Republicans in the House and the Democrats voted to cut out the President's criticism from the message."

"That is true," cried Mr. Roosevelt with a frown, "but Madison and Murdock stood by me. They were right, too, in their fight on the secret service question. That is real source of the fight," Roosevelt, whispered in confidential tones, "was that there were certain members of Congress who realized where I was putting them. Their names? Oh, I am not mentioning them."

Insurgents Issue Statement.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked if he and the insurgents had gone into the Taft administration to their detriment. "Let them tell you, he replied. "They may talk if they wish."

The insurgents hurried from the Hill, saying they would issue a statement at the depot. They led the way into the depot and Mr. Murdock drew out some sheets of paper and read:

"All three of us were anxious to see Mr. Roosevelt because we don't believe he and three stanchest supporters of his policies throughout his term of service, and we believe he knows this better than anyone else.

Senator Bristow was his right hand man in uncovering and punishing the postal frauds and Representative Madison and myself were among the thirty-two members of the House who stood up for him when the fight was made to defeat the plan of the use of the secret service men on uncovering the postal frauds. We were glad it would represent progress along the lines of proper control of interstate commerce carriers."

Congressman Murdock folded up his manuscript and stuck it in his pocket, remarking, "That's all we have to say."

Quiz the Three Kansans.

The American correspondent impressed with the reference that Mr. Roosevelt had been found to be absolutely unchanged in his attitude toward public questions asked Mr. Murdock if that was to be taken as an indication that the ex-President was not in sympathy with the work Mr. Taft had undertaken. Mr. Murdock smiled.

"You may construe it as you please," was his reply. "I am not going to discuss it."

"Do you think Mr. Roosevelt will endorse President Taft's administration," was asked all three, and again they dodged it, each saying with a strange grin, "Ask him."

"Did Mr. Roosevelt approve the narrowing of Speaker Cannon's powers?"

"I am not privileged to say," came from Mr. Murdock.

The three insurgents then jumped on the waiting train and left Oyster Bay talking of the break between Mr. Roosevelt and President Taft which they felt has now come to pass.

Kills Boom for Governor.

Mr. Roosevelt will not run for Governor of New York again. He said so himself to-day in no uncertain way just in time to block the first move in the organization of Roosevelt sentiment. His declaration leaves the anti-Machine Republicans of the State, completely up in the air.

Late in the day it developed that this letter had been sent to Mr. Roosevelt at Utica, addressed to Secretary Adams of the Republican Club:

My Dear Sir—May I, through you, cordially thank the Republican Club of Oneida county for its message of appreciative good will.

Believe me, I appreciate it and I trust you will make the club understand that I do appreciate it. But I also ask that the club at once stop any agitation to have me nominated for Governor. It would be an absolute impossibility for me to accept. With high regards, sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Funeral of George L. Harris.

The funeral of George L. Harris, for years a member of the Boston Police force, will take place this afternoon. Services will be held in the chapel at the Forest Hills cemetery. George Harris died at his home, No. 895 Walnut street, Friday afternoon. He retired from the police force on a pension several years ago and went to work in the Twenty-second Massachusetts Regiment for three months. When he left the army he entered the police force here. He is survived by a wife, daughter and two grand children.

NEW VACCINE FOUND TO COMBAT TYPHOID

Prof. Vincent Reports Important Discovery to Paris Academy of Medicine.

PARIS, June 24.—At this week's meeting of the Academie de Medecine one of the most important communications of recent times was made by Professor H. Vincent of the Military Instruction Hospital of Val De Grace, Paris. Doctor Vincent is known to specialists for serious work accomplished along the lines indicated by Pasteur.

He announces a new and efficacious vaccine against typhoid fever without the grave inconveniences of those already known. After the usual experiments with animals it has been tried successfully on thirteen persons. It is next to be tried on a large scale wherever an epidemic outbreak may furnish the opportunity.

It will then be known whether we have here the beginning of a great discovery whose consequences to human life will be incalculable, or whether we have simply made a great step forward in the search, but without reaching the goal. Dr. Vincent begins from the experimental results of typhoid vaccine already proposed. The strongest—that is, the most active—are the living typhoid bacilli. These are dangerous no matter how attenuated. They risk starting up typhoid fever among the predisposed or—what is, perhaps, more dangerous to society at large—turning apparently well persons into typhoid fever germ bearers.

A second vaccine, made of bacilli, killed at a temperature of 58-65 degrees centigrades is nearly as active, and is efficacious in preventing the fever, but it has the disadvantage of exciting local and general reactions which are often very painful.

After long and varied trials, Professor Vincent has found a vaccine which has none of the disadvantages of the other two, and which has fully succeeded in laboratory experiments.

Torpedo Boat Bulger Ends Test.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 2.—In the final test held to-day, the sub-surface torpedo boat Bulger completed the twelve-hour endurance test run this afternoon, before the Government board in Narragansett Bay.

BOSTON AMERICAN
Household Premium Coupon
Sunday, July 3
Name
Address
City State
NOTICE—A complete set consists of seven consecutive coupons. Only one coupon of each date will be accepted in exchange for premiums.

All articles delivered outside of the New England States are subject to collection of duty and express charges.

WORD-TIKE'S

Roosevelt Souvenir Plate, like cut, made by Wedgwood (England), measures 8 inches in diameter, exact likeness of Colonel Roosevelt, "the man of the hour."
35c or 3 for 1.00

In response to demands of out-of-town customers, we have decided to use next week the popular Swiss Cuckoo Clock. Has hand-painted cuckoo and gears every half hour with its musical note, pendant timekeeper. Our special price 2.95
No home complete without one.

Silk Umbrella or Parasol, 26 inches, 26-inch fine taffeta, paragon frame, choice of red, blue, green, brown or black, with fast color and extra fine quality 2.10
Norember's special.
Mail orders promptly filled if accompanied by check or money order.

Trade Mark

MONDAY
Store closed all day

TUESDAY
English Breakfast Set, in the well known Hanley Pottery, in the Royal Ivon with gold edge; set consists of 27 pieces, as follows: Coffee cups and 6 Saucers and 1 large Cream Pitcher, Well worth our sale price 2.99
Before, about

Leather Purses, in black or brown, with silver or gilt frame, with mirror to match, special price 2.49

TUESDAY (Cont.)

German Silver Mesh Bag, like cut, Paris size, French gun finish, fancy top, lined throughout with white leather, with purse and pocket on inside; our special price 2.95

Fine Leather Card Case and Purse Combined, with German silver mounting, comes in all the latest colors, our special price for one day 84c

THURSDAY.

Fine China Ice Cream Set, consisting of ice cream dish and 6 plates to match, in the rose decoration; special sale price per set of 7 pieces 85c

Silver Fern Dish, with lining, handsome open work design, our special sale price 1.59

Solid Gold Wedding Ring, in all sizes, made of 14 carat 6 dollar to match, in the rose decoration; special sale price per set of 7 pieces 85c

Solid Gold Wedding Ring, in all sizes, made of 14 carat 6 dollar to match, in the rose decoration; special sale price per set of 7 pieces 85c

Nurse Watch Chain, for ladies, with solid gold front and back, all hand soldered links, made of 14 carat 6 dollar to match, in the rose decoration; special sale price per set of 7 pieces 85c

Solid Gold Wedding Ring, in all sizes

SENATOR LODGE'S LIVING COST REPORT CALLED "RIDICULOUS"

Prof. T. N. Carver and C. S. Hamlin Condemn Shielding of Tariff

COST REPORT CONDEMNED AS WORTHLESS BY CARVER, WHO BLAMES TARIFF LAW

Harvard's Professor of Political Economy Declares Student Who Made "Blunders" Committed by Investigators Would Be Barred from University. Sees Effort to Save Party from Responsibility.

DR. THOMAS NIXON CARVER, professor of political economy in Harvard University, to-day for the Sunday American, reviews critically the Lodge committee report on the "High Cost of Living." Of this report, Dr. Carver sententiously says, "The findings of the committee are worthless." He adds: "The omission of all reference to the tariff was intentional."

The ascribing of advanced prices to "higher land values and higher wages," Dr. Carver calls "putting the cart before the horse." He says that farm lands rise in price when land grows scarce in comparison to population and that then farm products rise. The shifting of population from farm to city, he says, is caused by demand for labor in centers of population.

Trusts and the tariff are chiefly blamed by Dr. Carver, and these he styles "the twin relics of barbarism." His article in review of the committee's findings follows:

By DR. THOMAS NIXON CARVER.

A student would fail to pass the introductory course in economics in Harvard University who would make such blunders as are contained in this report. The first cause assigned as contributing to the advance in prices is "increased cost of production of farm products by reason of higher land values and higher wages."

This is a perfectly clear case of putting the cart before the horse. Every student of economics knows that the high price of land is not a cause, but the effect of the high price of farm products. Let the price of farm products fall to an unremunerative level, and land values will disappear, for the simple reason that farm land then becomes undesirable property. Let the price of farm products rise still higher and farm land becomes more desirable, and its price will rise still higher. There is no reasoning by which should command a high price for farming purposes, except a rise in the price of farm products, or a fall in the cost of working the land.

To say that farm products are high because land values are high is quite as foolish as saying a tree is tall because its shadow is long.

When land grows so scarce relatively to the increasing population as to make farm products scarce relative to the demand for them, then products will rise in price. When farm products rise in price relatively to the relative scarcity, the profits and interest of the farming supply of farm land and their products increase. This will make farm values appear to sell them at a high price, but the same conditions make others more anxious to buy land. This brings about a rise in land values.

A "Shallow" Reason.

Another reason assigned is the "shifting of population from [illegible] food-producing occupations and localities." This is not quite so illogical as the first reason given, but it is scarcely more profound. It would be ridiculous [illegible] for labor in the food-producing occupations, automatically, for example, [illegible] when the wages [illegible] them. Thus the supply of unskilled labor against which a demand for commodities is [illegible] for labor and capital to make both [illegible] which makes a demand [illegible] was from other occupations, including the larger [illegible] farm products. [illegible] pay enough [illegible] to enable the [illegible] to [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] to the cities had ceased [illegible] the [illegible] of city [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

DISINHERITED YOUNG WIDOW MAY YET SHARE ESTATE

Children of Robert H. Thompson, It Is Believed, Will Settle With Stepmother.

CASE PUZZLES FRIENDS

Wealthy Paper Man's Will Entirely Overlooks Loving Bride of Four Months.

BOSTON, Brookline and Wakefield friends of Mrs. Maybelle Edna Ames Thompson, four months' bride and now widow of Robert H. Thompson the rich Brockton paper manufacturer are puzzled to explain how it came that Mr. Thompson's will failed to provide for the pretty woman he had so recently made his wife.

To-day Mrs. Thompson is placed in the position of having to contest her late husband's will in the courts, with his children, to whom he left everything, make terms with the young widow. That action, it is felt by many of Mrs. Thompson's friends, she will not have to take for they think Mr. Thompson's heirs rather the love their father bore the pretty woman he so recently made his wife, and provide for her.

When Robert Thompson, who was president of the Thompson & Norris Company, paper company of Brockton, had offices in Boston and in many other cities, made Maybelle Edna Ames his bride, his friends and those of the young woman were delighted, for they knew of the rare attachment existing between the woman of thirty-five and the shrewd, rich business man thirty years her senior.

Called Wife by Nickname.

"My Ed" was Robert Thompson's pet nickname for his handsome wife. The fact that she had been declared in health for years had first attracted him to the woman when she worked in his Boston office. Her birthplace was Wakefield, and there several members of her family still reside.

Mrs. Thompson's friends here, in Wakefield and Brookline cannot but believe that Mr. Thompson had fully intended to provide abundantly for the woman who filled his declining years with tenderest love and devotion.

Maybelle Edna Ames passed her early life in Wakefield. She attended Wakefield High School and lived with her father in Ames street. She has two brothers and two married sisters in Greater Boston. About fifteen years ago Miss Ames found work in Boston as a stenographer. She finally was given a place with the Thompson & Norris Company.

She lived for several years in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Blanchard and when Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard became more inseparable than sisters in their companionship. It was while Miss Ames was living with the Blanchards in Linden street, Allston, that Mr. Thompson, her employer, first met her. Later when the Blanchards grew wealthy through investment in Maine lumber trusts they removed to a house in Babcock street, Brookline, and to this home Robert Thompson made his stenographer, Maybelle Edna Ames, His wife.

Love at First Sight.

He was visiting his Boston office a couple of years ago when he first noticed the handsome woman. He asked at once if she were not ill and was assured by his head manager that the stenographer was not in good health, but pluckier, more plucky and altogether indispensable. Mr. Thompson sought an introduction and ordered Miss Ames to care for herself. Even when he got back to his big business in Brooklyn, the man declared to be a millionaire, wrote his Boston stenographer to be careful of her health.

A secret marriage took place not more than four months ago at the Blanchard home in Brookline. Then the rich man took his bride to a stately house at No. 282 Washington avenue, Brooklyn, to live.

Twice the wedding had to be postponed on account of Miss Ames's delicate health. During this time the Brockton paper manufacturer often came to visit her, and she in turn visited friends in Brooklyn, where he at last made her his devotion itself. He thought about little else than "My Ed," and her wishes were law to him.

May Be Errors in Will.

It is this fact that leads Mrs. Thompson's friends here to believe that some mistake was made when his will was drawn to leave everything to his sons, Robert N. and Lloyd, and his married daughter, Mrs. Marion Funk. Even the handsome home in Brooklyn to which Mr. Thompson took his bride was left to the children. The will was signed June 19, 1908. Some of Mrs. Thompson's friends here believe that her husband made a later will, but this the lawyer, John J. Crawford, denies.

It is understood that Mrs. Thompson's children were very well disposed to their father's second wife. They are said to remember his solicitude for her, and it is believed that Mrs. Thompson will not be forced to appeal to the courts for her share of her husband's estate.

RECEPTION AT CITY CLUB.

More Than Five Hundred Teachers Meet at Luncheon.

Between 50 and 600 educators who are attending the convention of the National Education Association were tendered a reception at the Boston City Club, Beacon street, yesterday afternoon. A luncheon was served between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

The committee to receive the teachers consisted of Frederick P. Fish, head of the Board of Education, Walter Ballantyne of the City Council, Joseph W. Lund, chairman of the local education association, David D. Sneddon, State Commissioner of Education; David A. Ellis, chairman of the Boston School Committee; Stratton D. Brooks, Superintendent of Schools; James Joyner, president of the New England Teachers' Association; David P. Kelley, president of the City Club; James F. Rigby, vice-president of the club; Bernard J. Rothwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce; D. D. Scannell of the Boston School Committee, and Governor W. W. Kitchen of North Carolina.

Car Service on the 4th.

During the hours of civic and military parades in Somerville, Everett and Boston, from 9:30 to 11 p. m., on Monday, the Somerville, Everett and Charles street, Boston, car service will be more or less interrupted, but temporary routes will be used during these hours by which cars will be kept as near to schedule time and regular routes as possible.

VENTRILOQUISM
Taught by mail. Book of Secrets, 10c. Send for it now. Learn at home. 3 cent stamp for particulars and proof. Prof. A. A. Hyatt, Room P4, 823 Superior St., Toledo, O.

MASSACHUSETTS GIRL WHO CLAIMS PART OF THE BALDWIN RICHES

BEATRICE ANTONIA TURNBULL BALDWIN

GIRL STARTS WEST FOR FORTUNE FRIDAY

Leaves With Attorney to Claim Share of "Lucky" Baldwin's Millions.

GOING West next Friday to seek her fortune is Miss Beatrice Anita Baldwin Turnbull, under the guidance of an old Boston attorney and politician, Timothy W. Coakley, who is now a California lawyer.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Lilian Ashley Turnbull who says she was the common law wife of Elias Jackson Baldwin, known as "Lucky" Baldwin, who died in California leaving an estate worth $20,000,000.

The girl who has been known as Miss Turnbull, if she proves herself the daughter of Baldwin, is entitled to a large share in the estate. She has been represented in San Francisco by Timothy W. Coakley who has come to Boston to conduct her case. Associated in the case is the legal talent of Walter B. Grant of Boston, who has handled the family's business from the east and will accompany Miss Turnbull and her mother.

Coakley declares that under the California law it is not necessary to prove that Anita is Baldwin's legal daughter. It is proved that she is even an illegitimate daughter she will be entitled to share in the estate. On this point California law differs from Massachusetts law.

Miss Anita was only a year old when Mrs. Ashley Turnbull got Baldwin for breach of promise. This trial was interrupted because Mrs. Turnbull's sister shot at Baldwin wounding him.

The party will start west on Friday.

CONVICTS HAD HELP.

Police Sure Escaped Deer Island Prisoners Were Assisted.

Philip J. Hayes and John Coughlin, who escaped in mid-day last Thursday from Deer Island were given outside assistance according to the Boston and Winthrop police after having conducted a long and thorough search for the two men.

Just how the men managed to leave the island at noon is a mystery to the police and the officials of the institution. Hayes had served three years and a two-year term for larceny, while Coughlin had served but a year of a four-year sentence for robbery. The men escaped while the prisoners were at dinner. They got away when missed had disappeared from the island. The officials think they slipped down to the shore, swam out into mid stream and were picked up by accomplices in a motor boat.

THOROUGHBREDS KILLED.

Lightning Destroys Five of Haggin's Mares and Three Colts.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 2.—Lightning killed five fine brood mares and three really bred colts belonging to James Haggin on his Elmsford farm, one mile from here. The mares killed were Lucania, Flora Hart, Hollyhock, Professor and Harmonia. The latter was one of Haggin's most noted race mares. The colts killed were by Watervess and Royal Flush. The horses were in an open pasture.

RIVAL TO BOY SCOUTS.

England Will Now Organize All Her Old Fighting Men.

LONDON, July 2.—"Veteran's reserve force," embracing 250,000 men between the ages of thirty-five and sixty-five, out of whom have seen military service is the latest plan of Secretary of State for the Colonies, who announced today this addition to the military strength of the nation would be effected within the next six months. The idea of the reserve force originated with Sir Lee Strachey, a retired major-general, and was immediately adopted by Balfour.

Roche in Valparaiso.

Martin J. Roche, former State treasurer of the A. O. H. and engaged as a steamship agent in Charlestown for over two years, is in Valparaiso, Chile. He has been absent from Charlestown several weeks. His friends, not hearing from him, became worried. Many inquiries were made. Mr. Roche's friend Cashier Roche has just received a letter from him at Charlestown. Mr. Roche has travelled 6,000 miles since he left Boston and has visited many countries.

Funeral of T. J. Lee.

Many employes of the city attended the funeral yesterday of Thomas J. Lee, who was assistant engineer in the fire department. The funeral service took place at the residence of Councilman Thomas Brighton. The Rev. Fr. John A. Madden, assistant curate, celebrated the requiem mass. Burial was at Holyrood Cemetery.

Boy Falls in Elevator Well.

BROCKTON, July 2.—Nine-year-old Dewa yPerry, son of Rufus Perry of Old Colony square, was seriously injured today when he fell headlong down the elevator well in the Anglin Building. His skull was frightfully bruised. The boy was taken to the Central Hospital, where he is in a critical condition.

CARD CLUB THEATRE PARTY GOES TO LAW

Two Members Left Out Sue for Their Share of the Ticket Money.

There is a serious clash in the Nahant "Four Hundred" Whist Club because it is alleged some of the members took all the money they took in at a dance, went to the theatre in Boston, had a fine dinner afterwards and left two of the crowd out in the cold. Now the discarded ones have brought a suit for their share of the dance money.

The suit has been filed in the Court of Equity in Salem by Mrs. Ada E. Merrill and Mrs. Edith Bell, two women who didn't go to the theatre. One of those defendants is Mrs. Addie G. Fuller, wife of the wealthy owner of the Nahant Hotel. The dance was given on May 18 and the sum which it is declared eight of the members had to dissipate contained $15. While the plaintiffs admit that they could not have had a hilarious time on that sum yet they wanted their share of it for "the principle of the thing."

This is Mrs. Merrill's side of the case: "I am the president of the club. It is called the Nahant Four Hundred Whist Club. Mrs. Bell and I were married to make the last dance a success. Neither Mrs. Bell nor I was able to go to the theatre, although we would be notified about it. Then we were satisfied. Of course I was not the money we took out we are fighting for principle."

Mrs. Fuller tells her side of the controversy in this wise: "This is a case of jealousy—only that and nothing else. Mrs. Merrill, president of the club? Nothing of the kind. Mrs. Bell and I were married to make the last dance a success. Neither Mrs. Bell nor I was able to go to the theatre, although we were notified about it. Then we were satisfied. Of course I was not the money we took out we are fighting for principle."

Mrs. Fuller tells her side of the controversy in this wise: "This is a case of jealousy—only that and nothing else. Mrs. Merrill, president of the club? Nothing of the kind. Mrs. Bell and I were married to make the last dance a success. Neither Mrs. Bell nor I was able to go to the theatre, although we were notified about it. Then we were satisfied. Of course I was not the money we took out we are fighting for principle."

NEWTON YOUTH CONFESSES.

Keith Morris Pleads Guilty to Passing Forged Checks.

HAVERHILL, July 2.—Keith B. Morris, 21, well known in Newton Center social circles, pleaded guilty to forging checks in Haverhill, when arraigned before Judge Fuller today. He was held in $200 for a hearing next Tuesday. The Haverhill police say that Morris is wanted by the police of Boston, Keaneburk, Me., and in New Hampshire by the police in Portsmouth, Concord, Rochester, New Durham, Laconia and Nashua. City Marshall Slack of Haverhill refused to interview Keith Morris until his case had been disposed of.

Morris, up to a year ago, made his home with his uncle in Trowbridge street, Newton Center. He was graduated from the Newton High School and was one of the most popular members of the class. Friday noon he was arrested in one of the department stores just as he was making to cash a check signed "Edward Parkham."

WHY BYRNE IS REJECTED.

Board Says Mayor's Appointee Lacks "Education."

James L. Byrne, appointed water commissioner by Mayor Fitzgerald, was turned down in a letter that reached the Mayor's office yesterday by the Civil Service Commission because the commission was "unable to find that he is especially fitted by education, training or experience to perform the duties of water commissioner," according to Warren P. Dudley, for the commission, in writing the letter, added that the only information it can properly or legally be drawn by the Mayor, or by the Water Board, and by the public from such failure to approve is that the commissioners, after performing a careful study of their official duties and to the best of their ability the arduous duty imposed upon them by the statute of the Commonwealth, have been unable to conclude that the appointee is competent.

Byrne as the choice of Congressman O'Connell, Councilman John F. Fahey may now advocate a man for the place.

HORNE 10-MILE WINNER.

Takes Race Honors at Church Field Day in Brighton.

Running in perfect form, H. E. Horne of the North Dorchester A. A. won the ten-mile open race at the field day of the Church of Our Lady of the Presentation, held at Soldiers' Field, Brighton, yesterday. Horne took the lead at the start, closely followed by Bill Harkett of the Brookline Gymnasium, and Jack Cooke, also of Brighton, "Bi." At the five-mile mark these three had left the rest of the field in a large field of local boys far in the rear. As the miles rolled on and the finish was drawing near, Horne lengthened his stride and without any apparent effort took the lead. He won by a good margin over Burkett.

Previous to the big show there were several races of shorter distances. The one-mile race was won by L. E. Bacon, Brookline A. A.; M. C. A., 440-yard run by T. J. Halpin; 100-yard dash, by J. Robinson, and the broad jump, by J. H. Brahan. The half mile run over the Armory A. A. and the Elms of Brighton was won by the latter after a hard struggle by the score of 3-0.

DRAGGED BY SUBWAY CAR.

Everett Man Pushed Off Platform and Is Seriously Injured.

While waiting for a car last night in the Brattle street subway station, Hiram Paris, single, of No. 13 Arlington street, Everett, was pushed from the platform by the crowd. He fell between the platform and a Melrose car and was dragged for a distance before the car could be stopped. The car was in charge of Conductor No. 107 and Motorman No. 1. Paris was taken to the Relief Station, where it was reported that he had suffered multiple contusions and abrasions, and was in a serious condition.

Mayor Attends Funeral.

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald and Frank McInnes, assistant city solicitor, attended the funeral of William Jackson, city engineer, which took place yesterday at the Church of the Annunciation, Bay State road, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were not there officially, as the funeral was private, but as friends. The Mayor has been associated with Mr. Jackson for many years. The service was conducted by Rev. William J. Kelly, D. D., pastor of Brighton Congregational church. Burial was at Evergreen cemetery, Brighton.

Free from Grease. Hood's Lotion does not make hair grow. This is a strong point in its favor. Soothes and heals the skin. 25 or 50c.

Indigestion
Sour stomach, wind in stomach, belching, acid eructations, heartburn and nausea, are quickly relieved and in many cases permanently cured by Dyspeplets
Combining the best digestives, carminatives and correctives. 10 or 25c. Remember the name Dys-pep-lets Take no other.

CO-POLITICS ORDER IS ISSUED BY TAFT

Department Clerks in Washington Warned to Keep Out of Campaign Activity.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Civil Service Commission to-day notified the heads of the several executive departments to inform the employes in the classified service that they must refrain from political activity in the coming campaign.

The commission's order will have the effect of limiting the activities of upwards of fifty thousand Federal employes of the classified service in the coming Congressional and State campaigns. It will also be effective against postmasters, United States district attorneys and marshals, all of whom are limited more or less particularly in the doubtful districts to lend their aid toward helping on the candidacies which helped them into office.

Heretofore such orders have been issued by the commission but in many instances they have been ineffective. This year, however, following a tip from the President, it is intended to enforce the injunction against Federal employes participating in politics work.

The rule which President Taft has followed in the main since he entered the White House has been to reappoint postmasters whose terms expired if they sought reappointment and their records were good, unless there were some outside circumstances to bring about striking changes.

He has done so with the understanding that they should eschew politics and devote their attention to postoffice and not political business.

The order is not intended to mean that a Federal employe cannot take an interest in campaigns and conditions, but it is intended to keep him from judging out in organizations work and using his office to further the election of any candidates.

As a large majority of these Federal employes, especially in the so-called doubtful states are Republicans, the order will have a greater effect upon the Republican campaign than upon those of the Democrats. The Democrats, however, are disposed to consider that watchful postmasters and others to see that there is no flagrant violation of the order.

FORESTERS MAKE BIG GAIN OF MEMBERS

Court to Be Instituted on Friday Evening; Notes of Interest About the Order.

Numerous initiations to membership are scheduled this week by the Catholic Order of Foresters. All the courts report big gains.

John J. McGrath, D. H. C. R., will visit General Sherman Court of Plymouth Tuesday evening.

St. Catharine Court of Norwood will initiate seven candidates Monday evening.

Canton Court of Canton will initiate six candidates Tuesday evening.

John J. Kelley, D. H. C. R., will visit St. Patrick Court of South Boston Wednesday evening.

Full Dorothean Court of Newburyport will initiate fifteen candidates Tuesday evening.

Quincy Court of Quincy will initiate seven candidates Wednesday evening.

John Boyle O'Reilly Court of New Bedford will initiate eight candidates Wednesday evening.

Ward P. Dugan, D. H. C. R., will visit St. Winnifred Court of Chelsea Wednesday evening.

University Court of Cambridge will initiate a class Friday evening.

John F. Horrigan, H. C. R., assisted by members of the high-standing committee, will institute Court No. 208 in Catholic Association Hall, Mattapan square, Friday evening.

Fr. Stack Court of Watertown will initiate candidates Monday evening.

Fr. McNulty Court of Brockton will initiate candidates Tuesday evening.

Heat Causes Accident.

Frank McLaughlin, home unknown, is in the Cambridge Relief Station on the dangerous list, suffering from a depressed fracture of the skull. He was working on a new building for the Liquid Carbonating Company on Broadway, near Main street, and was overcome by the heat falling from a ladder.

Doctors Place Kaiser on Strict Course of Living

Internal Complications Make Condition of German Emperor Source of Alarm to His Advisers.

Special Cable to Sunday American

BERLIN, July 2.—A strict course of living has been prescribed for the Emperor by his medical advisers. The method of treatment leaves no doubt that he is suffering from diabetes. He has not the disease in a dangerous degree, but when diabetes makes its appearance in a man 51 years old it is always a serious matter.

There is, however, no ground for serious alarm if the Emperor carefully follows his physicians' orders. The trouble with the Kaiser is that he resists orders and chafes under restraint. Hereto fore the danger was for the future.

Considerable apprehension was caused by the fact that the Kaiser on the day of the death of Princess Frederica started on a pleasure trip to Hamburg, where he attended a banquet and that on the day of the funeral his yacht was racing in the Kiel regatta. The Princess, during her illness, was at Potsdam and Sans Souci in close contact with the Kaiser's family.

MONTREAL-TORONTO BY AIR

Count de Lesseps Plans Flight of 333 Miles.

MONTREAL, July 2.—Count Jacques de Lesseps, the French aviator, who flew across the English channel and is now one of the stars at the aviation meet here, announced today that he would make the flight from here to Toronto as soon as the Blériot aeroplane, which he used in his channel flight, arrived here. The distance from Montreal to Toronto is 333 miles. The aviator's course would be up the St. Lawrence Valley and along the North shore of Lake Ontario. If he covers the distance without alighting he will break all records. Previously, he would have attempted the flight in the machine he is now using, but believes it too small.

TAFT AUTO LICENSE GIFT FROM DRAPER

Governor Finds a Clever Way to Get Aronud a Delicate Situation Over Fees.

Gov. Draper has saved President Taft from a lot of bother by ordering that the registration and license fees for the eight autos used by the President at Beverly be charged up to the governor's contingent fund for the entertainment of official guests.

A few days ago when President Taft arrived at Beverly, Capt. Butt, the military attache, went about having the President's autos registered. The highway Commission sent one of its men down to Beverly to investigate. Attorney General McDonough, informed the Highway Commission that the Government cars do not require registration, and that the Commission was not entitled to collect any fees from the President. This naturally would have caused the cars to be operated without any number plates and being held up by the police.

So the commission asked the Attorney-General if it could issue a registration plate without accepting any fees. Attorney-General McDonough and Governor Draper hered about it and he ordered the commission to go ahead and issue the plates and charge the fees to his contingent fund for the entertainment of official guests. The commission also issued licenses for the autos of Mrs. Taft, the President's son, on account of the recent accident. The members of the commission and the President's staff, it finds that young Taft was not to blame for the accident.

White Wins $5,000 in Flight.

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, July 2.—Graham White, who lost the London-Manchester prize, won a prize of $5,000 today, being the only one of sixteen competitors to start at the meet here to dare to fly on account of the high wind.

Shop at Butler's
90 Tremont St.

Prices Simply Slashed!

Summer Millinery

White Chip Hats
Good styles, tastily trimmed with silk mull, wings, very pretty summer hats
2.98

10.00 Sample Suits 3.98
Irish Linen Suits—All this lot are very finely tailored models, in tan only. Ladies' Eton and misses' sizes, 14 to 20, 32 to 44 bust.

5.00 Women's Dusters 1.98
New Model Auto or Traveling Coats, with large collars and other styles, some have silk embroidery others have black trimming on collar and cuffs, a very desirable style and dressy, in tan color, small sizes, 32 to 46 bust.

7.50 Long Bengaline Coats 3.98
Semi-fitting coat, in tan and black, long shawl collar, a very dressy and suitable for present wear; 32 to 46 bust.

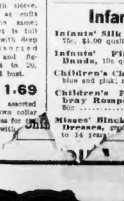
8.50 Ramie Linen Suits 2.50
Newest Model Ramie Linen Suits, in the new coat model, semi-fitting coat, shawl or notch collar, full plaited skirts, made by many of the best makers in this city, sizes, blue, tan, grey, Ladies' 32 to 46 bust, Misses' 32 to 40 bust.

Towels, Sheets and Cases, Bed Spreads
SPECIALLY PRICED FOR ONE DAY
100 dozen Hemmed Huck Towels, 18 by 36, value $1.20. Tuesday, per dozen..... 89c
Bleached Sheets, 2 1/2 yards wide, made with a reinforced center seam, value 50c. Tuesday, each..... 39c
Bleached Pillow Cases, 42 by 36, value 12½c. Tuesday, each..... 9c
Hemmed and Fringed Bed Spreads, for a full-size bed, value $1.25. Tuesday, each..... 89c

2.00 Wash Skirts 98c

New Skirts made of cotton linen, in white, blue, plain or polka dot, button down front, tailored pocket, deep hem. All sizes, including large waistbands, 28 to 36 inches. An exceptional bargain.

Bathing Suits 1.98
Bathing Suits, like pictured, and other attractive styles, in full size, low neck, trimmed with white braid; best in town for the price, navy and black, all sizes up to 46.



5.00 Dimity Dress 2.98
Pretty lawn bodice, neck dress, full plaited skirt, square neck of embroidery and ribbon velvet, baby ribbon trimmed, short sleeves, with deep hem, assorted stripes and figures, 14 to 20, 32 to 38 bust.

3.00 New Gingham Dresses 1.69
Ladies' and Misses' Dresses, in assorted new plaids, checks and colors, in three colors of stripe and cuffs of same. Neat dress for house or street wear; plaited skirts with deep hem, sizes 14 to 20, 32 to 42 bust.

Big Hosiery Bargain
Women's Silk Stockings
50c a Pair
Black and colors, full fash ioned, with high spliced heel and double sole, guaranteed perfect and Pure Silk.
50c a Pair
Women's Fast Black Gauze Lisle Hose, spliced heels and toes, reinforced sole..... 12½c

Infants' Wear
Infants' Silk Mixed Bands, 75c..... 39c
Infants' Fine Cotton Bands, the quality..... 12½c
Children's Check Rompers, blue and pink; regular price 50c..... 29c
Children's Plain Blue Chambray Rompers; regular price 50c..... 29c
Misses' Black and White Check Dresses, regular price, sizes 6 to 14 years..... 98c

98c Waists
59c
We have secured another big lot of pretty Lingerie and Lawn Waists at nearly ½ price, a large variety of styles, some trimmed with lace and embroidery, as shown in picture, others with front of openwork embroidery, made to sell for 98c.

Leather Goods
Genuine Leather Suit Cases, 24-inch, double steel frame, linen lined, deep drawn all around..... 3.98
Traveling Bags, genuine sole leather, with sole leather corners and leather lining, hand sewed edges, latest model.
16in 17-in 18 in.
4.98 5.49 5.98
Genuine Straw Matting Suit Cases..... 98c

Smallwares
Butler's Cotton, "best made"..... 3c
Weld-Clasp Hose Supporters, 25c quality..... 12½c

GLOVES
Women's 12-Button Silk Gloves, 2-clasp, overseams, silk, black and white; $1.00 quality..... 59c
Women's Imported Short Lisle Thread Gloves, black, white and colors; 25c quality..... 25c

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION
NEMO CORSETS
MRS. NEWMAN, Corset Expert, will be here to demonstrate these wonderful NEMO
Self-Reducing Corsets

Self-Reducing No. 522 with Lastikops Bandlet 5.00
Self-Reducing No. 405 with Rolled Strap 4.00
SELF-REDUCING No. 314-316 for Stout Figures; Nos. 312-320 for Tall and Medium Flatning Bosh 3.00
No. 405

NO OTHER SALE LIKE THIS IN NEW ENGLAND

Callahan & Morrissy 14th ST. NEW YORK Entire Stock

BEGINNING TUESDAY AT 9 A. M.

On Sale at Less Than ½ Price

BEGINNING TUESDAY AT 9 A. M.

The STORE OPENS AT 8 O'CLOCK TUESDAY MORNING (instead of 8:30) with a rush that should exceed anything Boston has ever known in the month of July. Everybody will come to SIEGEL'S for the unparalleled bargains in seasonable, high grade, fresh, new merchandise from the CALLAHAN & MORRISSY store in New York. We bought the entire stock at less than 50c on the dollar. For 48 years CALLAHAN & MORRISSY, now retired, have successfully conducted a high-class dry goods business in New York City, for many years being located at 48-51 West 14th Street, New York's busiest shopping thoroughfare, and extending through to 47-49-51-53 West 13th Street, occupying 4 floors and basement of a large building. CALLAHAN & MORRISSY carried a complete stock of merchandise for men, women and children. Everywhere in our store you will see the CALLAHAN & MORRISSY price cards. Hundreds of extra salespeople will be on hand to facilitate your shopping. We intend to give you a sale that will stand for years the grandest midsummer bargain event in Boston. Don't miss it. Thousands will be on hand early Tuesday morning.

Store Opens at 9 O'Clock TUESDAY

SCHOOL TEACHERS
We invite all school teachers to take advantage of our Private Committee Room, Writing Room, Rest Room, Manicuring and Hair Dressing Parlors, Restaurants, Candy Dept. and Soda Fountain.
HENRY SIEGEL CO.

Store Open Until 5 P.M. — Music in Restaurant 12 to 2

HENRY SIEGEL CO.

Washington and Essex Streets, Boston, Mass. — Open Until 1 P. M. Saturdays

COUPON Every purchaser of $1.00 or more in any department Tuesday on presentation of this coupon will receive 25 extra S. & H. Stamps. These stamps are given in addition to the usual

Double Stamps Until 1 O'Clock and Single Stamps Thereafter. Cut out this coupon now. Good only on Tuesday, July 11th.
DOUBLE S. & H. STAMPS UNTIL ONE O'CLOCK INSTEAD OF ONLY UNTIL NOON.

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

SUITS, COATS, SKIRTS

Tailored Suits—Value up to $25.00—Only suits, all the leading mixtures, all this season models, all are beautifully lined, not all sizes nor all colors, but a good assortment of small sizes for women and misses—suits that are worth up to $25.00 ..... $7.50

$5.00 Tub Suits—Tailored Tub Suits—Linen, Pongee, Madras, Repp, Poplin, Gingham, Percale, Chambray, Galatea, Ratine, Crash, Linene, Mercerized Poplin, Linen Mixtures, Linen Crash, Linen Suiting, Linen Ratine, Linen Galatea, Linen Chambray, Linen Poplin, Linen Gingham, Linen Percale, Linen Madras, Linen Repp, Linen Pongee $2.50

$30 Tailored Suits—$10.00

$20.00 to $25.00 Tailored Suits—$10

Women's $10.00 Dresses—Chiffon taffeta, shantung, crepe de chine dresses; values up to $10.00 for $5.00

Women's $10.00 Dresses—Poplin, shantung, crepe de chine dresses; values up to $10.00 for $5.00

$5 and $6 Wash Dresses $3.00

$2.00 Wash Dresses $1.00

$10.00 Lingerie Dresses $5.00

$5 and $6 Lingerie Dresses $3.00

$2.00 Washable Skirts $1.00

$3.00 Pure Linen Skirts $1.95

$5.00 Walking Skirts $2.95

Women's Silk Coats—Pongee and rough suiting, all this season's styles, values $15.00 and $12.00 ..... $6.75

Tub Dresses up to $5.00—One table of misses and junior tub dresses; values up to $5.00 ..... $1.19

Children's $2.98 Coat—Reefer style, pure wool material, sizes 2 to 6 years $1.00

Children's $5.00 Coats—Double-breasted reefer, ages 6 to 14 years, $10.00 coat for $5.00, red and navy $3.00

Misses' $15.00 Suits $5.00

Henry Siegel Co.—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

PARASOL SPECIALS

$1.75 to $2.98 Parasols—Covered with plain, fancy and novelty combinations of green, red, rose, copen, taupe, rosette, etc. Sale price $1.25

$3.50 to $4.50 Parasols—Covered with silk of various qualities in a large range of stylish effects. Sale price $2.50

$5.00 to $10 Parasols—Covered with rich silk of many grades, in a fine collection of designs, colors and patterns, no two alike. Sale price $3.50

Children's 69c Parasols—In pongee with red, white and blue striped borders; also red, white and blue with plain and ruffled effects. Sale price 45c

Children's 39c Parasols—In a very pretty assortment of fancy covers, in several colors and shapes. Sale price 21c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

CORSET SPECIALS

$1 and $1.50 Corsets—P. N. and others, sold to $1.50 ..... 59c

$4.00 Corsets—Extra long bis, with six long supporters $1.59

$1.50 and $2.00 Corsets—Coutil, beauty boned and boned all 79c

Henry Siegel Co.—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

JEWELRY SPECIALS

69c and 75c Hat Pins—Beautiful pink shade 39c

50c and 75c Pearl Earrings—Beautiful pink shade, Sale price 39c

$1.00 Shirt Waist Rings, Sterling silver, set with jade amethyst, sapphire and turquoise in round and oblong settings. Special 49c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

$1.25 Night Gowns—Beautifully trimmed around neck, front and cuffs, fine cambric 69c

98c Night Gowns—Chemise style, trimmed with fine embroidery, short sleeves 49c

$5.00 White Skirts—Soft cambric, deep flounce of rows of lace and embroidery, graduated ruffling $2.98

$1.50 White Skirts—Extra full, deep flounce of fine cambric ruffle 98c

$1.25 White Skirts—Cambric, flounce trimmed with several rows of lace, dust ruffle 79c

79c White Skirts—Cambric, flounce trimmed with embroidery and broken lace, special 39c

$2.50 Combinations—Drawer or skirt, dainty lace and embroidery 98c

$1.75 Combinations—Drawer or skirt, lace and embroidery trimmed 79c

$1.50 Combinations—Drawer or skirt, lace and embroidery trimmed 69c

98c Combinations—Drawer or skirt, trimmed with lace and embroidery 49c

25c Drawers—Cambric, wide hemstitched ruffle 15c

69c Drawers—Soft nainsook, wide ruffle of wide hemstitched tucks 29c

79c Corset Covers—Dainty lace and embroidery 39c

49c Corset Covers—Several rows of short lace 25c

39c Corset Covers—Lace and embroidery trimmed, silk ribbon 18c

Henry Siegel Co.—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

PARASOL SPECIALS

$1.75 to $2.98 Parasols—Covered with plain, fancy and novelty combinations of green, red, rose, copen, taupe, rosette, etc. Sale price $1.25

$3.50 to $4.50 Parasols—Covered with silk of various qualities in a large range of stylish effects. Sale price $2.50

$5.00 to $10 Parasols—Covered with rich silk of many grades, in a fine collection of designs, colors and patterns, no two alike. Sale price $3.50

Children's 69c Parasols—In pongee with red, white and blue striped borders; also red, white and blue with plain and ruffled effects. Sale price 45c

Children's 39c Parasols—In a very pretty assortment of fancy covers, in several colors and shapes. Sale price 21c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

CORSET SPECIALS

$1 and $1.50 Corsets—P. N. and others, sold to $1.50 ..... 59c

$4.00 Corsets—Extra long bis, with six long supporters $1.59

$1.50 and $2.00 Corsets—Coutil, beauty boned and boned all 79c

Henry Siegel Co.—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

JEWELRY SPECIALS

69c and 75c Hat Pins—Beautiful pink shade 39c

50c and 75c Pearl Earrings—Beautiful pink shade, Sale price 39c

$1.00 Shirt Waist Rings, Sterling silver, set with jade amethyst, sapphire and turquoise in round and oblong settings. Special 49c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

WAIST SPECIALS

69c Lawn Waists—Lace trimmed, also striped madras 39c

98c Batiste Waists—Fine lawns in lace trimmed 49c

$1.50 and $1.79 Waists—Batiste, linene and dotted Swiss, open front 79c

$2.50 and $3.00 Waists—Lingerie, pure linen, Persian lawn, hand embroidered and lace trimmed 98c

$3.98 and $5.00 Waists—French batiste, with Chevy and fine mulls, all lace or lace and embroidery $1.98

$5.50 and $7.50 Waists—Messaline, silk and linenette, elaborately trimmed, black and colors, new model $2.98

$10.00 and $15.00 Waists—Pongee silk and French batiste, all over embroidery, tucking trimmed with rows of lace and fancy lace $4.98

Henry Siegel Co.—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

HOSIERY SPECIALS

Women's 50c Hosiery—Imported, plain and openwork patterns in black gauze weights, very elastic, seamless and complete sizes, lisle tops, feet, back, toes and reasonable plain colorings, special, pair 29c

Women's 25c Hosiery—Full fashioned seamless, subject to slight imperfections, guaranteed, white, black, 3 pair for 50c, per pair 17c

Boys' and Girls' 25c Hosiery—Mockings, ribbed, 1x1 rib, fast black cotton, made very elastic, with extra reinforced heels, sizes 6 to 10, 3 pairs for 50c, per pair 18c

Infants' 25c Sox—Imported white cotton, with assorted plaid tops 12½c

Women's $1.00 Hosiery—Pure thread silk, black, white, navy, tan, with wide fast black, seal 69c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

HANDKERCHIEFS

Men's 25c Handkerchiefs—All pure linen, hem, in different widths of hem. Sale price 12½c

Handkerchiefs, Odd Lot of Men's, Women's and Children's, including all white, white with colored borders, colors, etc.; value up to 12½c. Sale price 4½c

Women's 25c Handkerchiefs—Lace trimmed, all linen, some soiled and mussed, others clean. Sale price 12½c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

SPORTING GOODS

$2.50 Hammocks—Close woven, mercerized spreader with loose back pillow and valance, variety of colors $1.49

$3.00 Raymond Ball-Bearing Roller Skates—Diamond style, in russet shoe, for men, women, boys and girls $1.29

Henry Siegel Co.—Third Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

TRUNKS, BAGS

$1.25 and $1.50 Luggage—Extension or suit case style, brass or spilt leather 75c

$3.50 Light Weight Club Bags—Steel Chinese matting, waterproof, sole leather reinforced corners, fancy lined, 24 or 26 inch $2.50

$4.00 Club Bag—Smooth grain, pebble leather, small pocket, fancy lined, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18-inch $2.98

$10.49 Club Bag—Cut extra full, smooth grain sole leather, hand sewn edge reinforced corners, leather lined, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 ..... $6.98

$5.50 Steamer Trunks—Wood body, reinforced iron binding, 3 extra tray, sizes 35 or 34 ..... $4.98

$8.50 Dress Trunks—Full size, wood body, Scotch hardened steel, one and up divided tray. Special $6.98

Henry Siegel Co.—Basement
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

LEATHER BAGS

$3.00 Hand Bags—Real leather, leather lined, German silver and japanese covered frame, 6, 7, 8 and 10-inch styles, in all shades shown in black, gray, tan, brown, blue and patent leathers, also black and brown, fine Morocco, seal, walrus and alligator grain, in all shapes $1.49

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

Men's $1.50 Pajamas—Fine madras, military cut, coat and belt, fast colors, desirable colorings. Sale price 89c

Men's $1.50 and $2 Union Suits—Quality ranging up to $3.00 each, subject to slight imperfections. Sale price 95c

Men's $1.15 Shirts—High grade white madras, body white and figured and satin stripes, regular model, attached cuffs. Sale price 69c

Men's $1.00 Negligee Shirts—Samples and seconds of a high grade shirt manufacturer 49c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

GLOVE SPECIALS

$1.00 to $1.50 Kid Gloves—2-clasp, 8-inches, glace and white, cut extra in any color but all sizes in the lot. Sale price 79c

$1.00 Capo Gloves—1-clasp, pique sewn, brownish backs, in mid and tan shades. Sale price 55c

$3.00 White Kid Gloves—12-button, two overseamings, all sizes. Sale price $1.89

$3.25 Kid Gloves—12-button mousquetaire, in black only; sizes 5½, 6, 6½. Sale price 89c

$3.50 Kid Gloves—16-button mousquetaire, tan, red, gray, navy, all shades. Sale price 89c

80c White Lisle Gloves—16-button overseamings. Sale price 25c

75c Chamoisette Gloves—12-button mousquetaire, natural shade. Sale price 50c

$1.00 White Lisle Gloves—12-button. Sale price, pair 50c

35c Chamoisette Gloves—2-clasp, natural shade. Sale price 21c

$2.25 Silk Gloves—16-button, with very heavy milanese silk, black and white. Sale price $1.25

$1.25 Silk Gloves—12-button, mousquetaire, black, white, tans, grays. Sale price 55c

$1.00 Silk Gloves—16-button mousquetaire silk taffeta gloves; black and white. Sale price 39c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

NECKWEAR SPECIALS

Washable Neckwear up to 59c—Consisting of all kinds and styles, well assorted, but mostly all open front styles 12½c

25c Linen Embd Collars—In high and low styles, a great variety of patterns and styles. Sale price 10c

$1.50 White Lace Veils—Also black and some colored. Sale price 59c

98c Chiffon Cloth Veils—Square size, all leading colors 59c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

BOYS' CLOTHING

Boys' $3, $4 and $5 Suits—8 to 18 years, double breasted, plain and fancy grays, browns and blues, in blue and worsted materials, also fancy mixtures, also Russian and sailor suits, 3 to 10 years, to maintain, $3, $4 and $5 values $1.75

BOYS' WASH SUITS

Sale of entire stock of S. & C. Bernstein, New York, who make the finest boys' wash suits in America.

Boys' $1.00 Wash Suits 39c
Boys' $1.50 Wash Suits 69c
Boys' $2.00 Wash Suits 95c

Henry Siegel Co.—Third Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

EMBROIDERIES

27-in. Embroidered Flouncing—Beautiful patterns on fine sheer batiste, value 50c, per yard 39c

Embroidered Allovers—In small dainty patterns, also the more desired effect often, sale price 49c

Finished Galloons and Bands—Beautiful assortment, a variety of widths, value 25c ..... 19c & 29c

White Wash Belting—15 different patterns, value 12½c yard. Sale price 5c

Odd Pieces—Sample strips of all kinds of embroidery, including edgings, flouncings, beadings, galloons, etc., value 10c to 50c yd.

3c, 5c, 9c, 14c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

Kimonos—House Dresses

39c Short Kimonos—Neat patterns and colors 19c

98c Dressing Sacques—Square neck, three bands 49c

$2.25 House Dresses—Light and dark colors, square yoke 98c

$4.00 House Dresses—Gingham, percale, chambray $1.98

Henry Siegel Co.—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

TOWEL SPECIALS

10c and 12½c Towels—Fancy border, hemmed and fringed 7½c

16c to 19c Bath Towels—Hemmed and fringed 11c

25c and 30c Bath Towels—All kinds, fringed and hemmed 19c

12½c Huck Towels—All white, hemstitched 8½c

18c Huck Towels—Heavy cotton 10c

19c Towels—Good quality for kitchen use 5½c

12½c Towels—Barnsley cloth and glass and check towels, large size 9½c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

WASH GOODS

7½c Printed Lawns—Also American shirting plaids, yard 4½c

8½c Apron Ginghams—In blue and brown checks, yd. 4¾c

15c Dark Gulling—Plain and checked, yard 9¼c

16c Shepherd Checks—Blue and black, yard 10c

8c to 12½c Wash Goods—Remnants of every description 4c

12½c Remnants—All kinds, yd. 7½c

15c to 29c Remnants—Of fine wash fabrics, dozens of different lengths 10c

15c Batistes—Fancy printed floral effects, neat small figures, stripe, white grounds, dainty colorings, yard 8¾c

49c Jacquard Silks—Also Tussah and Japanese, in plain colors, tinsel or tweed mixtures 29c

10c Lawns and Muslins—Fancy printed stripes, floral and oriental effects, large assortment, yd 6½c

19c Voile and Dimities—Plain and fancy colorings, yd 12½c

19c Galateas—Stripe, all good, desired colorings, yd 11½c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

LACE SPECIALS

Linen Torchon and Cotton Chinoy Laces—Both edgings and insertions, 2 to 4 inches wide, value 5c to 8c. Sale price, yard ..... 2½c and 5c

Platte Val. and Pt. de Paris Laces and Insertions, edgings from 3 to 5 in. wide, value 20c, sale price 12½c

18 and 27-in. Oriental Allovers—In white, butter and ecru, beautiful patterns for waists, yokes, sleeves, flounces, value 50c. Sale price 39c

80c and 75c Laces—In Venise, Cluny and Irish effects and galloons, white, butter and ecru, 2½ to 3 in. wide, value 50c, sale price 29c

French and German Val. Laces—Edges and insertions to match, value 25c and 20c. Sale price ..... 24c and 37½c

Odds and Ends of all kinds of lace, including wash laces, Chantilly, Valenciennes, net laces, allovers, shuffling, etc.

3c 5c 15c 29c 48c

$3.00 Batiste Robes—Handsomely embroidered, on sheer fine batiste material to make up in any desired style $1.98

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

LINENS & WHITE GOODS

39c Table Damask—Bleached and half bleached, mercerized, fancy floral and conventional designs, 58 inches wide 28c

75c Table Damask—Pure linen bleached, mercerized, floral and conventional designs 49c

$1.25 Napkins—Union linen, slightly soiled, good size, 6/8 ..... 88c

$1.75 Napkins—Bleached, 6/8 ..... $1.39

$1.50 Table Cloths—Hemmed with row drawn work, 10-4 ..... $1.29

$1.98 Table Cloths—Hemstitched, 10-4 size, pure linen $1.50

$3.50 to $5.00 Table Cloths—Pattern cloths, 2 yds. wide, slightly soiled, pure linen ..... $2.00 to $3.50

30c Scarfs and Squares—Hemstitched, with drawn work, size 22x22 inches 22c

55c-75c Centre Pieces—Pure linen, hemstitched and scalloped edges 39c

$1.50 to $2.00 Centre Pieces—Japanese hand drawn work, shams or tea cloths, sizes 24, 30 and 36 ..... $1.19

12½c Fringed Tray Cloths—All linen, soft and neat red borders, 3 for 25c

8c White Goods—Hundreds of remnants, yd 4¾c

12½c Lawns—Remnants of fine, mercerized lawns, yd 7¾c

23c Persian Lawns—Fine quality, 45 to 46 inches wide, slightly mussed edges 14c

29c to 39c Persian Lawns—Extra fine quality, various grades, 45 inches wide, yd 17c

$1.18 Long Cloth—245 pieces in pure linen finish, 12 yards long 84c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor, Domestic Section—Second Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

SHEETS, PILLOW CASES

6/4 Unbleached Cotton—Good quality, 2½ inches ends, hemmed 43½c

10c Cotton and Cambric Pillow Cases—Hemmed 7¼c

18c Cambric—Bleached, extra fine quality, yard 10c

19c Pillow Cases—Bleached, hemmed, good heavy quality, 42x36 inches 6¼c

15c Pillow Cases—Fancy grade, bleached, stitch inches and 42x36 inches 10c

50c Sheets—Suitable for double bed, bleached, 72x90 inches, hemmed 37c

60c Sheets—Full size, hemmed, extra inches, excellent for 49c

Bed Spreads—Hemmed and fringed, various kinds, at ..... ⅓ Off

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

NOTIONS & SMALLWARES

15c Corset Shields—Agate bone, quality, all sizes, in crescent and regular models and proportion 7c

10c Hair Nets—Real human hair nets, all shades and sizes 5c

10c Bone Hair Pins—Best quality, 4 in a box, crimped, straight and hair pins, steel enamel, per box 5c

50c Topsy Hair Rolls—23-inch, full length, natural wavy 37c

50c Pad Hose Supporters—In all colors, fancy and plain, pair 32c

Whitemore's Shoe Dressing 17c
Whitemore's Liquid Dressing 17c
Celerite for Stove Polish 17c
Ammonia, large bottle 10c
Shaker Salt, 2 for 5c
Shaker Salt, per barrel 10c
Pepper, per box 10c
Cloves, per box 10c
Cinnamon, per box 10c
Mixed Spices, per box 10c
Allspice, per box 10c
Ginger, per box 10c
Mustard, per box 10c
Nutmegs, per box 10c
Mixed Pickling Spices 10c
Celery Salt, per box 10c
Celery Seed, per box 10c
Mixed Pickles, per bottle 10c
Pickle Onions, per bottle 10c
Pickle Gherkins, per bottle 10c
Pickle Chow Chow, per bottle 10c
Pickle Mixed Sweet, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Gherkins, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Mixed, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Chow Chow, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Onions, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Cucumbers, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Peppers, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Mixed, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Chow Chow, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Onions, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Cucumbers, per bottle 10c
Pickle Sweet Peppers, per bottle 10c

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

TOILET ARTICLES

Henry Siegel Co.—Main Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Callahan & Morrissy Sale.

UPHOLSTERY DEPT.

12c Fancy Cretonnes, yd 6c

16c Curtain Remnants, yd 6c

PORTIERES

$4.00 Armure Tapestry $1.98
$5.00 Armure Tapestry $2.50
$6.00 Armure Tapestry $3.00

COUCH COVERS

72-in. Printed Couch Covers 37½c
$2.50 Printed Couch Covers 75c
$3.00 Heavy Tapestry 60-in. Covers $1.00

$4.00 Reversible Covers $1.50

SCOTCH LACE CURTAINS

75c Scotch Lace Curtains, pair 37½c
$1.00 Scotch Lace Curtains, pair 50c
$1.50 Scotch Lace Curtains, pair 75c
$1.69 Scotch Lace Curtains, pair $1

IRISH POINT

$2.50 Irish Point Lace Curtains $1.25
$3.00 Irish Point Lace Curtains $1.50
$4.00 Irish Point Lace Curtains $2.00
$5.00 Irish Point Lace Curtains $2.50

MUSLIN CURTAINS

75c Muslin Curtains, pair 37½c
$1.00 Muslin Curtains, pair 50c
$1.50 Cluny Lace Curtains $1.00
$2.00 Cluny Lace Curtains $1.50
$3.00 Cluny Lace Curtains $2.50

ODD SAMPLE CURTAINS

$4.00 Lace Curtains at $1.00
$5.00 Lace Curtains at $1.25
$6.00 Lace Curtains at $1.50
$8.00 Lace Curtains at $2.00
$10.00 Lace Curtains at $2.50
Up to $30.00 Curtains at $5.00

CURTAIN SAMPLES

Regular 15c samples for 10c
Regular 19c samples for 12½c
Regular 25c samples for 24c

CROSS STRIPE CURTAINS

Scotch for Portieres during Summer
$1.00 Cross Stripe Portieres, pr. 75c
$1.50 Cross Stripe Portieres, pair $1
Henry Siegel Co.—Third Floor
Double Stamps Until One O'Clock

Summer Cottage China Specials

17.50 Porcelain Dinner Set

120 pieces of fine, thin Porcelain, choice of nile, green or maroon; gold lace edge border $10

98c Set — 98c Set

Punch Set

6-piece Punch Bowl set, including hooks, handsome imitation cut glass, as shown in cut; 12-inch bowl on foot, with 6 punch cups to match, silver finished hooks. Regular $3.00 ..... 98c

BASEMENT

PRESERVING JARS

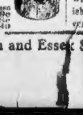
BASEMENT

Mason Fruit Jars
Filled with best Lightning jars; best rubber rings and caps; pints ..... Dozen 65c
Quarts ..... Dozen 75c
½-gal. ..... Dozen $1.00

Jelly Glasses — With tin caps; two sizes:
1-4 pint ..... 3c dozen
½ pint ..... 4c dozen
Caps for 1/2 pint jars, dozen 10c

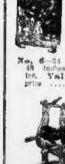
Rubber Rings—For Mason or Lightning jars; best quality, per doz. 5c

Lightning Style Jars
Undoubtedly the best made; clear glass; glass cover; extra wire clamps:
Pint ..... Dozen 65c
Quart 75c
½-gal. $1.00

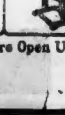


4172 Yards 25c TABLE OILCLOTH From CALLAHAN AND MORRISSY 12½c

1¼ Yards Wide, in Plain White and Fancy Colors. 25c Sale Price, Per Yard



Majestic Hardwood Refrigerator
Nine lined, removable trays and waste pipe, thoroughly insulated with 2 inches of dry, cool air through the provision chamber.
No. 6—31 inches long, 20½ inches wide, 48 inches high, capacity 50 lbs. of ice. Value $20. Sale price $15.00
No. 8—34 inches long, 20½ inches wide, 48 inches high, capacity 75 lbs. of ice. Value $25. Sale price $19.00



$1.30 to $3 Tea Kettles—Of Steel and Iron, all sizes, in japanned, bright and copper finish, heavy and plain or fancy shapes 98c

Window Screens and Screen Doors
Adjustable screens, with 31 adjusters, hardwood frames.
Screen Doors
Size 2 ft. 6 in. by 6 ft. 6 in. 95c
Size 2 ft. 8 in. by 6 ft. 6 in. 95c
Size 3 ft. by 6 ft. 6 in. 95c
Size 3 ft. by 7 ft. 95c
Size 3 ft. 6 in. by 7 ft. 95c
Size 4 ft. by 7 ft. 95c
Size 4 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 4 ft. 6 in. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 5 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 6 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 7 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 8 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 9 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 10 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 12 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 14 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 16 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 18 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 20 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 22 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 24 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 26 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 28 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 30 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 32 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 34 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 36 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 38 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 40 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 42 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 44 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 46 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 48 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 50 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 52 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 54 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 56 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 58 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 60 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 62 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 64 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 66 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 68 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 70 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 72 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 74 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 76 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 78 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 80 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 82 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 84 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 86 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 88 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 90 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 92 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 94 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 96 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 98 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 100 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 102 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 104 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 106 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 108 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 110 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 112 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 114 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 116 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 118 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 120 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 122 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 124 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 126 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 128 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 130 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 132 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 134 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 136 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 138 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 140 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 142 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 144 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 146 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 148 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 150 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 152 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 154 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 156 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 158 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 160 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 162 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 164 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 166 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 168 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 170 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 172 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 174 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 176 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 178 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 180 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 182 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 184 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 186 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 188 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 190 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 192 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 194 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 196 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 198 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 200 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 202 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 204 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 206 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 208 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 210 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 212 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 214 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 216 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 218 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 220 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 222 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 224 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 226 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 228 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 230 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 232 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 234 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 236 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 238 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 240 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 242 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 244 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 246 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 248 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 250 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 252 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 254 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 256 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 258 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 260 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 262 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 264 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 266 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 268 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 270 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 272 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 274 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 276 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 278 ft. by 8 ft. 95c
Size 280 ft. by 8 ft. .....

G. O. P. LEADERS BEG TAFT FOR EARLY CONFERENCE

What They Really Want to Know Is Just What the Conference Meant.

BEVERLY, July 2.—President Taft is being besieged by Republican leaders big and little throughout the country who desire appointments that they may talk with him about the meeting with Roosevelt and get a line on how the political cat is going to jump.

The watch word of these leaders for the present is patience. Private Secretary Norton desires it to be known that he has ordered the President to take a complete rest for ten days beginning July 4, stating that time Mr. Taft is to play golf, motor about the North Shore, and otherwise devote himself to his family and to rest cure. No one will be permitted to see him during that period, and to avoid application Norton is himself going away, leaving strict orders with Assistant Secretary Foster that for ten days the President must not be disturbed.

Will Be News to Roosevelt.

It is perhaps interesting to note that Secretary Norton goes to St. James, Long Island, for his vacation. St. James, as is well known, is within easy striking distance of Oyster Bay. Norton, however, declares that there is no significance in that fact.

At the end of ten days it will be time to talk about appointments with the leaders, who desire a "straight deal." In the meantime it may be depended upon as a certainty that the President will take some steps to assist with all the power of his administration the campaign that Colonel Roosevelt is planning to take control of the organization, which set his orders at naught in Albany the other day.

When the President goes, however, will be done quietly. Secretary Norton made the fact known to-day that the President will not take any part in the state campaign this fall unless it be in Ohio, where he feels that by reason of his citizenship he is entitled to participate in the State's political affairs. It is not at all likely that the President will make a few speeches throughout Ohio in October.

Pinchot Affair Not Discussed.

In other places to be visited his speeches will be wholly of a non-partisan character. Meanwhile the talk between Taft and Roosevelt here on Thursday will be regarded as confidential. The Ballinger-Pinchot affair was not touched upon at all. It can be said that the President remains firm in his position that Ballinger and Pinchot was the only resources left to him after the manner in which his plans were daunted by the former chief forester.

If Mr. Roosevelt should know that there was no doubt left in his mind about the President's support of Ballinger. As to the future, there are reasons for believing that matters are shaping up in such a way that the Ballinger shadow may not much longer rise between Taft and Roosevelt. Ballinger has aged greatly since he entered the cabinet almost seven months ago. He looks tired and worn. His hair has whitened, and the strain which he has been undergoing has proved too much for him to retire to private life for the benefit of his health.

The expense of the Ballinger-Pinchot affair to the government already has reached $30,000 having been spent by Attorney General Wickersham in connection with Ballinger's case. Ballinger's salary for four years in the cabinet. That any portion of this sum will be returned to him by appropriation even if he is vindicated, is out of the question, as the secretary of the interior is by no means wealthy.

Early Visit From Ballinger.

Furthermore while the President feels that Secretary Ballinger has been greatly maligned and has cheerfully borne his part of the burden of the Ballinger affair and is loyal to his secretary still there are reasons for believing that Ballinger should express a desire to leave the Cabinet the President will consider it a serious objection.

Secretary Ballinger is one of the cabinet officers slated for an early visit to his chief at the Summer Capital. His resignation may not come then but it will be regarded as strange by well-informed quarters if his resignation is not in the President's hands before the re-assembling of Congress or even before the congressional campaign wages warm.

After tomorrow the President will resume attendance on sundays at the First Unitarian church in Beverly, which he attended last Summer. It happened last year that so many sightseers crowded into the church on Sundays to see the President that the regular communicants who arrived late found their pews pre-empted and in many instances had to go away. A remedy has been provided against this now by a decision to open the doors to the church and no one not holding a ticket will be permitted to enter, at least until after all the regular members have been provided for.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Taft and some friends took a short sail in the Sylph along the North shore. It was the first time the President went afoot this Summer. He is entertaining former Congressman Samuel L. Powers of Newton this afternoon. Mr. Powers is the Republican leader in Massachusetts before the Chicago convention.

To-morrow Mr. and Mrs. Taft will go to Salem and attend divine morning services at the Grace Episcopal Church. Rev. J. P. Franklin, the pastor, a war veteran and Grand Army man, will then celebrate the fortieth anniversary of his installation as clergyman.

Mr. Taft has been taking things easy since he reached the Summer White House.

Burgess Point, and household attaches know that the brief rest he already has had has done him a world of good. The golf he took he will have a chance to do Monday stands to take him away temporarily after the coming week-end. Golf is said to be a long period of uninterrupted

MRS. TAFT DOES HER OWN SHOPPING AND HELPS MERCHANTS

Mrs. Taft out shopping. Snapshot by Boston American staff photographer.

MRS. W. H. TAFT OUT SHOPPING

Democratic Ways of President's Wife Please Storekeepers of Beverly.

"YOU might send these packages to the house, but I think I'll take this fruit. I want to make sure that it gets there in time for lunch."

Taking the paper bag under her arm, a pleasant faced woman, clad in white, with a white automobile veil around her hat, left the little corner grocery store and walked in the direction of Burgess Point.

Behind Mrs. Taft, the President's wife, declared the storekeeper proudly. "She often comes in here to buy things."

This is a thrifty housewife, Mrs. Taft likes to do her own shopping, and although she has been in Beverly only a week she has already visited many of the principal shops.

When Mrs. Taft first came to Beverly a year ago she was on invalid, but before the Summer ended she was able to take long and long walks about the town, and she seems to enjoy such strenuous exercise and takes every opportunity to visit the centre of the city.

Miss Helen Taft is fond of her electric runabout, but Robert Taft likes to ride in a touring car. Charlie Taft prefers a motor boat, and Mrs. Taft likes to walk.

Her democratic and unostentatious manner has endeared her to the people of Beverly. They do not stare at her or follow her about in every way to make room for her, but she is free from prying eyes. Miss Taft often accompanies her mother on the shopping trips, which often end up in fruit stores.

The clerks in the drug stores no longer feel surprised when they see the President's wife and daughter appear at the soda fountain and ask for an ice cream soda.

Political Firecrackers

THEY say that Dan Mahoney really meant it last year when he said he would not stand for re-election. Therefore, keep your eye on Representative Frank Guilford Wood. He is the only Democrat to find it easy to win the Senate fight in that district.

SENATOR PAT O'CONNOR'S brother will give a nice boost on the city payroll when Peter Fitzgerald the other day. Walter Fitzgerald is a candidate for the Tenth Congressional and Sixth Senatorial fights.

DON'T lose sight of author-athlete Ira Cleaves in that Tenth Congressional contest. He has been covering his tracks smoke-talks, walks, carstrainings and weddings for many years without looking for votes.

WATCH for a statement some time this week from Representative William H. O'Brien of Ward 19 as to whether he will enter the Democratic congressional or the ninth Senatorial fights. Without doubt he ought to go into the Congressional scrap. But that fight is chuck full of dynamite and empty cartridges and to reside. Candidates for governor have been hard put to find something suitable talk from the tailboard of a hay cart. Therefore, it is more than unlikely that O'Brien will be found on the Senatorial ticket. With it that the conventions and the nominee leaders will be free from all embarrassment.

THE sleepy old First Suffolk Senatorial district is going to have its full share of excitement this fall. The fight on the Republican side is undoubtedly to be narrowed down to Representative William M. Robinson of Ward 22, Brighton, and a Democrat and there will be George Murphy and Bowdoin Keenan of Winthrop, Strahan and Brooks Keenan of Winthrop. I are with Winthrop man. Keenan is a relative and friend of former Democratic senatorial John J. Sullivan. But don't think that Democratic voters aren't real vote getters. Watch them go.

IF Sorenson decides to run for the Senate instead of for re-election to the House, the Democratic nomination for representative in Ward 1 will probably be Joe Hoey of Ward 2. Joe is a good fellow. He is a candidate for reelection on the Republican ticket, and former Councilman Eddie Bagley hopes to be his running mate.

IF you like to hear angry talk, take a trip down to Amesbury and call on former Representative Sam Foster. Sam is roaring mad because the Republican machine has turned down his opposed Ames for reelection to the Senate in re-election to the Ames men will be Congressman Samuel Bennett of Saugus and Foster opposed. Noon last year.

'MUTT AND JEFF' AT THE TOURAINE TO-DAY

Harry Conway ("Bud") Fisher, Their Author, Is in Boston for a Few Days.

YOU never would have thought it, but the young gentleman of twenty-six who came out of a taxi last night and signed himself "Harry Conway Fisher" on the register of the Touraine had two other names concealed about him.

Harry Conway Fisher is one other than "Bud" Fisher, known wherever they laugh, throughout the English-speaking world, as the creator of "Mutt" and "Jeff."

Having admitted his identity, Mr. Fisher was induced to tell his thousands of good friends in New England all about himself, and as much as he would about our other old friends.

"There isn't much to tell," he said modestly. "But I was born in Chicago twenty-six years ago, and lived there ever since moved to San Francisco, where my father makes pianos.

"I got my schooling in Chicago, but never went to college and have never attended an art school. Jeff here says perhaps I needn't have mentioned that."

"I should say it rather antagonizes for itself," said the little man sitting behind him on the leather settee.

Shown as an Athlete.

"That will be about all, Othello," said Mr. Fisher, sharply. "As I was saying," he went on, "I never attended an art school. There was a time, however, when I had ambitions to shine in the world of track athletics."

"I should say 'shine' is the word, Jeff, what?" said the hungry looking person on the other side of Mr. Fisher, shooting his long neck behind the artist's back and talking to the little fellow with the whiskers.

"Right, O," said the little one, whereupon Mr. Fisher got up and moved over three booths.

"Yes," he said, "I was quite a star in schoolboy athletics. Once I won a medal that I came East to Philadelphia with the Hyde Park High school team, and helped to carry home the relay championship.

"But I entered upon my career of crime in San Francisco. For a couple of years out there, I was engaged on one of the papers, Mr 'Mutt' and 'Jeff' stuff, when I first began it, wasn't considered good enough to get by. The paper, I may say, was not one of the Hearst newspapers.

Caught On At Last.

"I wasn't known, I hadn't done anything, and 'Mutt' and 'Jeff' were around in my company for a whole year before anybody saw them. Then I left the paper, and finally then again, and the paper began using five columns of them. To-day they are seven columns wide, you know.

"Well, San Francisco liked them, and five years ago I went to the Examiner. I have been with the Hearst organization ever since.

"I live in Fifty-seventh street and I do most of my work in the office of the New York American. As a general think I sit down to the desk along about 10 in the evening. This isn't because I am waiting for the mood, or any of that sort of thing, but because I can't get to it before. In old days, when 'Mutt' and 'Jeff' first began going to the newspaper, I had to work hard to get back and know whether we were to be 'fired' and 'Jeff' and 'Mutt' were to go to a first-class hotel.

Mutt Quits the Race Track.

"About Mutt and Jeff, I don't quite know what to say. You observe that they have quite the race track for a time, and you ask me if its permanent. You know I can't answer about that. I don't know what they are going to do next. For a time Mutt was in love with a girl, and used to behave here in the Touraine. I know the girl, but she has long since left Boston here in New England, and until I settle for the three of us, on Monday or Tuesday, I shall be continually in doubt as to either or both of them will make a fuss over me and call me up in Fortyfirst street."

At this moment Mutt and Jeff stood at the Hilston street door, loking over the restaurant's morning. Saturday night Mutt smoked a long black cigar, his hands in his trousers pockets. Little Jeff leaned against the side of the entrance, one of his legs half crossed over the other, and his cane at 45 degrees.

"By the way," said Mr. Fisher, "in private life the boys are a trifle sensitive about their names. Upon my word, strangers, Jeff, for instance, is properly Othello Jeff, while Mutt, at present peculiarly, is really Augustus Mutt, Esq.

"Come boys!" the young man called out, quite as if he were the elder of the two parent, "time to get into the hay."

And Jeff and Mutt, the latter even in out of the entrance as if their shoes were on with lead.

"What the —!" grumbled Augustus Mutt, Esq.

"Can the rough stuff, Mutt! Can the rough stuff!" said the little fellow with Jeff, "there's no sawdust on the floor in this dump."

"Bud" Fisher says they're going on the Orpheum Flying Circuit. Mutt has something to do with that, he says.

FEAST OR A FAMINE.

Navy Yard Employes Either Swamped or Laid Off July 16.

There's a feast or a famine, and the work goes is the immediate prospect at the Charlestown Navy Yard. The hundreds of workmen employed there will either have all the work they can do, or will be literally cramped under heavy orders.

Work on the July 16 Cruiser is to be finished by July 16. The Navy Yard is to be made self-supporting for now by the Secretary Meyer. Hitherto, while nearly $1,000,000 are being expended to maintain the navy he ordering companies on the shortest notice. The Missouri and New York are being overhauled and repaired to be authorized.

Much of this work have to be done here it would take a large force of men several months. Should the work be done elsewhere many of the machinists may have to be laid off.

LITTLE GIRL SAVED.

But Automobile Is Damaged and Peddler's Cart Wrecked.

At the risk of his own life and at the cost of a damaged automobile and a demolished wagon, Chauffeur Earl Soutier, driving the big touring car of Dr. Chase of 1 Commonwealth Ave., saved the life of Rose Brantrec, yesterday afternoon. Soutier showed amazing skill and daring in saving the six-year-old Eva Harris. The child started she sat her father coming and ran right across the street in front of the car. Soutier stepped on the brake hard and finally run right into a vegetable peddler's wagon, demolishing it. The child was picked out from under the car uninjured.

Pease Heads Label Section.

John M. Pease, formerly one of the most active workers in the Independence League, to-day starts serving his first term as president of the Union Label Section of the Boston Central Labor Union, following a unanimous election to that position last night. The remainder of the officers elected are: Austin Kaveney, vice-president; Miss Lydia McFarlane, recording secretary; William Standeumhe, treasurer.

Crippled Ship Arrives

BOMBAY, July 2.—The Austrian Lloyd steamship Trieste, which left here for Trieste on June 25, arrived here to-day under sail, having lost its best dig. Much anxiety was felt as to the safety of the vessel, as days overdue and fears were entertained for the safety of four Jamaicans on board. It Trieste, on June 18 was sighted by the steamer [illegible] and a crew [illegible]

Dys-pep-lets cure

Dr. Gates Ready for Bee Inspector's Job

Worcester Physician Isn't Afraid of Being Stung, for He's an Expert and is Wise.

When an ordinary man sticks his head into a bee hive he gets stung.

If he interferes with a bee in the pursuit of honey he also gets stung.

It looks as though somebody had it in for Dr. Burton N. Gates of Worcester, because he has been appointed State Inspector of Bees. If Dr. Burton can inspect bees with the bees' knowledge and consent and without the stinging above mentioned he must have some influence over bees that is not known to the ordinary man.

An inspector of bees is an office made possible under the new law and Dr. Burton Gates is the first inspector. It is suspected that following the example of the milkman the bees have been adulterating their honey or getting the pollen from the sterilized flowers. Dr. Gates will watch the bees closely and if he sees any bee hovering near the town pump he will speak harshly to it.

In addition to being a bee inspector Dr. Gates is recognized as Amherst Agricultural College to teach bee culture, to show the students how to make two bees sting where only one bee stung before.

Dr. Gates has been devoting his attention to bees for a long time and probably knows more about the clever little insect than any other man in the State.

REV. H. S. JOHNSON A STAR AT THE GAME

DALTON, July 2.—Rev. Herbert S. Johnson starred in a new role today, when he was judged the fastest runner in a one old race run on the baseball path on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Zenas Marshall Crane, the mother of Senator Crane.

A party confined to relatives was being held in honor of Mrs. Crane's eighteenth birthday. Senator Crane, who is a great baseball fan, suggested a game of one old race, the following quickly participated.

Senator Crane, his son, W. M. Crane, Jr., Rev. Mr. Johnson, Marshall Crane and Mrs. Crane's sons, nephews of the Senator, George T. Plunkett and Brenton and Ashley Pomeroy, took part in the game. Senator Crane was the heaviest hitter in the bunch.

Congratulations were showered upon Mrs. Zenas Marshall Crane at the luncheon given in here honor by her daughter, Miss Ellen C. Crane, at the Wheeler cottage. Sixty members of the Crane family attended, Mrs. Crane's sons, Mr. and Mrs. Senator Crane was the life of the party. She watched Rev. Herbert S. Johnson in the race and greatly pleased when the Senator lost the ball with a long drive into a hedge.

BOSTON IN THE CAMERA.

Picture s ofThings That Might Be Improved on to Be Shown.

Boston, as the camera shows it, is the theme of a ten-minute act of an educational moving picture film to be shown at the Women's Municipal League, streets and alleys department, for presentation at the meeting, postponed by the Rev. Francis L. Lucy of the Roxbury Congregational church, which took place at the home of the bride's parents. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Woodsworth and the best man was Alfred Dunforth, brother of the bride. Miss Dorothy Dunforth and Miss Ethel Lucy were the ribbon girls were the Misses Eva Dunforth, Ruth Lucy, Mary Kimball and Josephine Corcoran. The ushers were John Ross and Louis Lucy. The bride wore white peau de cygne and her veil was caught up with orange blossoms.

BLOW AT BRITISH SALOONS.

Increased Fee Expected to Close a Third of All Liquor Shops.

LONDON, July 2.—The closing of one-third the saloons in Great Britain before the end of the year is the prediction of the Increased license fees under the new budget, is predicted to-day, following the first day's collection of the fees. The fees are governed by the rental value of the property occupied. They are from $5 to $1,250 and $1,250 under the new budget, as against about $2,500 under the old. The new budget rapping of the tax put hundreds of saloons out of business yesterday.

Fired Bullets at Train.

BROCKTON, July 2.—Detective Follansbee of the New Haven railroad arrived here to-day to investigate reports that bullets have been fired at trains, passing through Brockton this week. According to Detective Follansbee several passenger trains on the Boston branch escaped being wounded by bullets that crashed through the window of a local train.

FOUR THOUSAND AT CHURCH LAWN PARTY

Over $3,500 Added to Fund to Build Catholic Edifice at Brighton.

About four thousand people gathered at the Field Day of The Church of Our Lady of the Presentation held at Rogers Park playground yesterday afternoon to raise funds to help build a new church in Brighton. Rev. D. W. Leyden, who was assigned to that district by Archbishop O'Connell, had charge of the various. More than $3,500 was taken in at the grounds.

The field day was to be held on June 11, but was postponed on account of inclement weather.

The Holy Name table was in charge of P. F. Fitzgerald, Miss Helen V. Curley officiated at the booth of the Sunday School table. Francis J. McCarthy was the chairman of the construction committee, Francis J. Donahue, secretary. Chairman of the committee on sports was Dr. Joseph F. Gaffney. Other committee was Theodosius F. Haviland, who had sixteen members of the parish assisting him on the committee.

"BABY" BROWN'S FOURTH.

Two-Story House to Be Fed to Flames for Wealthy Boy.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 2.—"Baby" Brown, so unwisting to be called John Nicholas Brown, is one Newport youngster who is going to have the time of his life on Monday. Every imaginable brand of fireworks has been procured for him by his doting mother, Mrs. John Nicholas Brown.

The Brown estate and all the great grounds around the mansion are to glitter with many colored electric light and "Baby" is to rival old Nero as Mrs. Brown has had a two-story house built in the Brown grounds on the beach. This is to be burned with the ground until it is built largely of tar and turpentine it will make a great blaze. There is to be a big end to "Baby" Brown's Fourth of July.

The youngster's mother is holding a week end party at her villa, made lively entertaining many friends including Dance Livow Dresser of New York and his beautiful daughter, Miss Susan Dresser.

MISS DANFORTH WEDS.

Dorchester Society Interested in Her Marriage to C. E. Sibley.

Hundreds of Dorchester people are greatly interested in the wedding of Miss Frances E. Danforth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Danforth of Dorchester, and Charles E. Sibley, also of Dorchester. The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Francis L. Lucy of the Roxbury Congregational church, took place at the home of the bride's parents. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Woodsworth and the best man was Alfred S. Dunforth, brother of the bride. Miss Dorothy Danforth and Miss Ethel Lucy were the ribbon girls were the Misses Eva Dunforth, Ruth Lucy, Mary Kimball and Josephine Corcoran. The ushers were John Ross and Louis Lucy. The bride wore white peau de cygne and her veil was caught up with orange blossoms.

Fired Bullets at Train.

BROCKTON, July 2.—Detective Follansbee of the New Haven railroad arrived here to-day to investigate reports that bullets have been fired at trains, passing through Brockton this week. According to Detective Follansbee several passenger trains on the Boston branch escaped being wounded by bullets that crashed through the window of a local train.

GOES INTO POLITICS AS CANDIDATE A

Thomas Harper of Worce Becomes a Democrat; Aspi to the Common Council.

WORCESTER, July 2.—At the age seventy-four, Thomas Harper decides he has learned enough about politics to make his first active venture in it. He is going to be a candidate for the L practic nomination for Common Council Ward 6. He has been a Republican thirty years. Now he leaves that p to ally himself with the Democrats. He is making his first campaign. Mr. Harper is hale and vigorous at seventy-four years. He sees no reason why he should not be a candidate for office. He thinks his age is entitled to more consideration than it has been getting. He says:

"South Worcester gets the last thing everything, and I think it is time to protest. time to send men to city hall who will get us something first and not the last. And I live I shall be a candidate the Fall for the nomination.

"Yes, I have always been called a publican, though I voted for the man thought best fitted for the office, regardless of his affiliations. My sympathies have been with the Republican party, but I going out in the open and declaring myself the nominations, and I shall not spend much time either.

"I warn everyone beforehand that I shall not put out any literature or any of election, nor will I take any after I have been elected. I shall be willing to go back stuff with me. Worcester is not small for graft. There is enough of it but they can't get to me with any of deals. I know any of them that are on to anything about the hand behind the lever. I will give the ground work. It is time for a change in the city government here and that's why I am going into politics. Who of you is up to build it? I will get the first offerings of things need Look at our streets. Been torn up like a job on the streets the street railroad company, and Southbridge street all torn for weeks and job that should not be taken any more than a couple of weeks

AID CAUSE OF CHARITY.

Ladies' Catholic Club Repor Work of the Year.

The Ladies' Catholic Club Associa has just issued its sixteenth annual re for the work during the year for the children of Boston and the instruction girls in various trades. It contains an announcement that the scholarship O'Connell donated $1,000 to the society, and that the fund is now $1,500 with a prospect gift. A summary of what was accomplished during the year by the various branches is given. Considerable clothing has been made at the establishment on Washington street, and at the White Cross rooms, Boylston street, much charitable work at the suggestion of Miss Agnes Regan, visiting nurse, has been done. Families have been helped, the necessities being supplied through sales and by personal gifts of the club, and by donations. The report in part reads as follows: "Classes in dressmaking have progressed under the following teachers: Miss Keefe, Miss Cummings, Miss M. Savage and Mrs. Fraser; cooking, Miss Jane M. Bell, Mrs. Cummings, Miss Agnes Connell, and Mrs. G. Allen.

BLOW AT BRITISH SALOONS.

Increased Fee Expected to Close a Third of All Liquor Shops.

LONDON, July 2.—The closing of one-third the saloons in Great Britain before the end of the year is the prediction of the Increased license fees under the new budget, is predicted to-day, following the first day's collection of the fees. The fees are governed by the rental value of the property occupied. They are from $5 to $1,250 and $1,250 under the new budget, as against about $2,500 under the old. The new budget rapping of the tax put hundreds of saloons out of business yesterday.

D. & H. Section Men Strike

SCRANTON, PA., July 2.—Twelve-hundred section men, with their foreman, quitting the Delaware & Hudson shops after threatening several days, struck to-day for more wages. The foremen get ten dollars more per month and the greasers twenty-five cents more per day. The men demand $1.75. Willising to [illegible] demand the pay car out to pay [illegible] men, and said they were no longer regard as employes.

CURED MY BABY OF ITCHING ECZEMA

First Came when 3 or 4 Weeks Old. Used Everything Imaginable. Nose and Eyes Nothing but Sores. Two Cakes Cuticura Soap and One Box Cuticura Ointment Cured.

I can't tell in words how happy the word "Cuticura" sounds to me, for it cured my baby of itching, torturing eczema. It first came when she was three weeks old, appearing on her head. I used everything imaginable and had one doctor's bill after another but nothing cured it. Then the eczema broke out so badly behind her ear that I really thought her ear would come off. For months I doctored it but to no avail. Then it began at her nose and her eyes were nothing but sores. I had to keep her in a dark room for two weeks. The doctor did no good, so I stopped him coming.

For about two weeks I had used Cuticura Soap for her every day, then I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and began to use that. In a week there was a marked improvement. In all I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and my baby was cured of the sores. This was last November; now her hair is growing out nicely and she has not a scar on her. I can not praise Cuticura enough, I can take my child anywhere and people are amazed to see her without a scrap. From the time we used the first until she was three years, she was never without the terrible eruption, but now, thanks to Cuticura, I have a well child.

(Signed) MRS. H. E. HOUSEHOLDER,
May 10, 1910. 2004 Wilhelm Street, Baltimore, Md.

Sufferers from torturing, disfiguring eruptions of skin and scalp should read the latest 32-page Cuticura Book, free of Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., 131 Columbus Ave., Boston.

THE NEW SUBSTITUTE TEETH. $1 FREE EASY CREDIT

Cut this ad. out and use it as $1 in first payment on teeth. Our new substitute teeth are used instead of Plate or Artificial Teeth and look natural. "No Pain" or money refunded. Best work we will do for $5. Set of teeth for $4 with this ad. $1 Fillings 50c. Crowns and all other dental work at reasonable rates. Open Sundays, 10 to 4.

HANOVER DENTAL CO. Open Evenings.
Remember the number. 170 Hanover St.

Our Mid-Summer Vacation Sale Begins Tuesday, July 5th

and Means Added "Vacation Spending Money" for You

This is a sale of absolutely NEW MERCHANDISE—Instructions to buyers were urgent on this point—There's no time for summer dullness here—There's no old stock to clean out—The busiest months of the entire year are just ahead of us—We are in the uniqupposition of being able to offer only BRAND NEW MERCHANDISE at less prices than most stores will be compelled to ask for "leftovers"—Whether your destination is mountain, seashore, lake or country, your needs can be supplied by us at most liberal savings.

Legal Stamps Have a Money Value

They are redeemable in cash if you desire it, or in new, seasonable merchandise of any kind.

A full book of Legal Stamps is worth $2.00 in cash or $2.50 in merchandise.

Double Legal Stamps forenoons—Single Legal Stamps afternoons.

Steel work on our new Hamilton Place annex is nearing completion

This addition, when finished, will add thousands of square feet of selling space to our store, giving us an entrance on Hamilton place—only a stone's throw from the Park street church on Tremont street.

THE STORE OF NEW MERCHANDISE

GILCHRIST CO

MAIL AND 'PHONE ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED

COOLEST'S, the Coolest Store in Boston

This store is cooled by powerful currents of cold air continually forced through it by giant fans. Heated air is scientifically drawn out by a powerful vacuum. You may shop here in comfort on the hottest of days.

"The Store of New Merchandise" is a store motto that rings true

It is absolutely impossible for any sort of merchandise to lengthen its stay in our store. Our stocks are always on the "quick sale," and ours is truly "A Store of New Merchandise."

Vacation Sale of Women's Apparel

Mohair Skirts at 2.98

No. 1 Made in most fashionable style, as illustrated, from an unwrinkleable fine grade of mohair, deep pleated and shown in black, blue, gray and cream, in regular and extra width and length sizes. Sale price 2.98

Linen Skirts at 98c

No. 6 Full deep models, in white and natural linen colors only, made from a fine quality linen. Several models to choose from, one of them pictured above. Vacation sale price 98c

Mohair Bathing Suits

No. 2 All wool mohair bathing suits, made exceptionally full in bloomer and skirt, low neck or sailor collar effects, white braid trimming, positively a $3.98 value. Vacation sale price 1.98

Taffeta Silk Coats

No. 5 The style pictured above is a 34-inch model of extra heavy fine quality black taffeta, elaborately embroidered; a regular $7.50 value, at 3.98

Muslin Dresses

No. 3 $40 Summer Frocks of fine quality muslin, button front, as pictured, low neck, trimmed with bias bands and lace insertion, tucked back and front, with extra full skirt and deep hem; positively worth $1.89 each. Sale price..... 79c

Long Silk Taffeta Coats

No. 4 Full length, with embroidered collar and cuffs, cut in graceful semi-fitting or full loose models, latest tuxedo collar, coat made throughout from the finest guaranteed black chiffon taffeta. Worth $7.50 ..... 3.98

BLANKETS

White Blankets—Size 64x76 inches, extra heavy, soft finish, regular price $2.50 and $3.00. Sale price 1.50

Dark Mottled Blankets—Just the thing for motorists. Regular price $1.49 pair. Sale price 69c

White Bedspreads—Full size, white satin, handsome damask patterns, $2.00 each. Sale price 1.49

Turkish Bath Towels—2 special lots, extra heavy, white.
50c quality, now 37½c
65c quality, now 45c

Bleached Sheets—2½x2½ yards, made from strong standard cotton, no seam in center. Regular price 65c pair. Sale price 49c

Bleached Pillow Cases—Good quality, in 2 sizes, 42x36 and 45x36. Regular price 15c and 18c each. Sale price 11½c

WASH GOODS

Batiste Muslin—Printed with small, neat design. Regular price 6½c yard. Sale price 5c

Printed Muslin—With woven stripes, mostly neat black and white figures on white grounds. Regular price 10c yard. Sale price 6¼c

Organdie Muslin—Printed with handsome floral designs. Regular price 12½c yard. Sale price 7¼c

TOILET GOODS

Toilet Paper—Regular price 10c per package. Sale price, each 7c

Hair Brushes—Solid back, bristle brushes. Regular price 39c. Sale price 29c

Talcum Powder—Williams' make. Regular 25c size. Sale price. 15c

Empress Hair Tonic—Sale price 75c

Violet Ammonia—For the bath. Sale price 9c

Olive Oil Castile Soap—Large bar. Regular price 25c. Sale price. 19c

Tooth Brushes—Imported. Regular price 10c. Sale price 9c

RIBBONS

Imported French Warp Ribbons—1 inch wide, beautiful high luster finish, comes in white, pink, blue, navy and slate. Regular price 10c per yard. Sale price 5c

Fancy Stripe Ribbons—A combination of satin and moire effects, 5 and 5½ inches wide, comes in white, pink, blue and black. Regular price 19c a yard. Sale price, yard 15c

HANDKERCHIEFS

Men's Handkerchiefs—Pure linen hemstitched handkerchiefs. Regular price 12½c each. Sale price 9c

Men's Handkerchiefs—Pure linen hemstitched handkerchiefs, with ¼-inch hem. Regular price 10c each. Sale price 6c

Women's Handkerchiefs—Pure linen hemstitched handkerchiefs, with ¼-inch hem. Regular price 12½ each. Sale price 9½c

Children's Handkerchiefs — Hemstitched, with wide or colored borders. Regular price 5c each. Sale price..... 3c

SILKS

All Silk Pongee—27 inches wide, very bright lustre, with rough weave, suitable for vacation and traveling; natural color. Regular price $1.00 yard. Sale price 49c

Fancy Silks—19 inches wide, about 100 pieces in a many different designs of dress, dependable chiffon taffeta, checks, Roman stripes, plaids, also the new latest and most satisfactory fancy weaves, bathing suits, etc. Regular price 50c and 75c yard. Sale price 33c

Black Taffeta—Yard wide, Hoffman's special; pure dye, chiffon finish, reliable quality for dress, waists, linings and bathing suits. Regular price $1.39 yard. Sale price 89c

Black Habutai—Yard wide, guaranteed water and perspiration proof, suitable as lining silk for vacation and traveling. Regular price $1.00 yard. Sale price 59c

Vacation Sale of Undermuslins

Wash Petticoats

No. 1 Is nothing that should go into every vacation outfit—there'll be "bad weather" while you're at it, a petticoat like this will come in handy—made of striped gingham in blue or gray, tucked flounce and deep ruffle. The value, at 49c

Nainsook Corset Covers

No. 2 Made of fine quality soft nainsook, with deep yoke of embroidery and lace, as pictured above. These corsets were regularly sold by us at 50c; here in all sizes and priced for this sale at 39c

Nainsook Night Gowns

No. 3 Made with Empire yoke, as pictured, handsomely trimmed with embroidery and Val. insertion, with butterfly sleeves trimmed to match, 56 inches long. Sale price 85c

Princess Slips

An extensive showing of these garments, lace and embroidery trimming; present season vogue have created a strong demand for this style of garment; we present a splendid variety in cover and sale styles. Priced from ..... 98c to 6.98

Gilco Corsets

No. 4 Made expressly for Gilchrist & Co., of good quality of jean, medium high bust, long hip, double set of suspenders, strong, light weight boning. Sizes 18 to 30. Regular price as above, $1.00 value, at 69c

Cambric Drawers

No. 5 Made of extra good quality cambric, trimmed with 7-inch ruffle embroidery, umbrella ruffle, banded with cluster of fine tucks. French band, in open or closed style, all sizes. The value, at 49c

White Underskirts

28 dozen, trimmed with two-inch embroidery, 13 distinct styles to choose from.
$2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 values, at 1.39
$3.00, $4.00 and $5.00 values, at 1.95

Silk Petticoats

A splendid assortment of Summer weight petticoats, including checks and stripes and a complete and brilliant assortment of colors. Priced at 1.95, 2.95
3.95 and 4.95

Dress Goods

Black Voile—Imported crispy weave, even mesh, rich 36 black. Regular price $1.00 yard. Sale price..... 63c

Black Tropical Panama—Extremely light weight, made of selected yarns, rich finish, standard black, 60 inches wide. Regular price $1.38 yard. Sale price..... 1.00

Black French Voile—Strictly high-grade goods, close mesh, the best value in Boston, 46 inches wide, regular price $1.00 yard. Sale price..... 1.00

Girls' Wash Dresses at.. 1.98

Made in a variety of styles from finest Dundee ginghams

Girls from 6 to 14 years of age may profit by this sale. Hundreds of garments of newest design, neatly trimmed, with full kilted skirts. All of the newest colorings, among them we picture one of the many styles at the left. They go on sale Tuesday at 1.98

Upholsteries

Canvas Weave Hammocks—In a beautiful assortment of colors, strong valance and stretcher, good width, 2 specials.
Regular price $2.75 each. Sale price..... 1.98
Regular price $3.50 each. Sale price..... 2.49
Regular price $4.25 each. Sale price..... 2.98

Couch Bed Hammocks—Our famous "Solid Comfort," special grade of white duck, cactus mattress and guaranteed frame, with spreader. Regular price $10.00. Sale price.. 6.98

Boston Couch Beds—In two parts for Summer camps and cottages, complete with mattresses and pillows. Regular price $10.00. Sale price 6.98

Muslin and Fish Net Curtains—For cottages. Regular price 65c per pair. Sale price 49c

Fly Screens—Size 24x33 inch, made adjustable to fit any ordinary size windows. Regular price 35c each. Sale price 25c

Colored Scrims—For Dutch cottage curtains. Sale price, per yard..... 19c and 25c

Remnants of Colored Scrims—Sale price, per yard 12½c

Bungalow Rag Rugs—A large assortment to select from. Sale price..... 70c to 10.00

Scotch Lace Curtains—In the new Beige color, rare design. Sale price, per pair..... 1.95 to 5.00

Irish Point Lace Curtains—Regular price $3.50 pair. Sale price..... 2.50

Manufacturer's Stock of Parasols Goes on Sale Tuesday At About 1/2 Price

They come from one of the best parasol makers in this country. Every one of them authentic in design, fabric and detail; not a soiled or damaged one among them. You'll find these on sale on special counter, Washington street store.

Pongee Parasols (Plain or with Colored Borders), Taffeta Parasols, Dresden Parasols and Parasols of Linen and Silk Muslin, Some With Ribbon Insertion, Others Beautifully Embroidered

Every Parasol worth $1.50. Sale price is 75c

Every Parasol in this lot is worth $2.50 Sale price .. 1.49

$3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 Parasols on sale at 1.98

$5.00 to $7.50 Parasols are going into this sale at .. 2.50

Rajah Silk Pongee Ties and Pumps at 3.00

The Very Newest Thing in Women's Summer Footwear

Made from handsome quality of Rajah Silk Pongee, in natural color only. Materials have been especially prepared for shoe service. Made in popular Oxford tie and dressy, snug-fit pumps as shown here in every wanted size and width. Very Specially Priced at..... 3.00

Children's Sneakers

Boys' and children's sneakers in all sizes, with dependable rubber soles, strongly made and perfect fitting. Regularly sold at 65c and 75c. Our Vacation Sale Price 45c

Tan Outing Oxfords at 2.59
Positively Worth 3.00 and 3.50

Women's and girls' tan Russia Oxfords with red rubber soles, for tennis, yachting and all out-door athletics; sizes 2½ to 8½, in all widths. Worth $3.00 and $3.50. Sale price 2.59

Women's White Canvas Oxfords, Ties and Pumps

Made of white sea island and fine Egyptian canvas, and with welt and turn soles, heels covered with white canvas or in plain leather, B to E width, in all sizes. Priced at 1.50, 2.00 and 2.50

Women's Oxfords and Pumps at 1.69
Regularly Worth 3.00 and 3.50

600 pairs of womens' Goodyear welt and hand-sewed turned Oxfords, pumps and ties, factory countermand orders; also broken sized lots from our own stock; all this season's styles and most popular leathers, in splendid assortment of sizes and widths 1.69

400 Pairs Women's Canvas Ties and Pumps 98c

This is a special factory purchase, four hundred pairs in all, sizes 2½ to 7, on D width lasts, made with both leather and covered heels. Positively $1.50 values. Sale Price 98c

Barefoot Sandals

Boys', girls' and children's barefoot sandals, with closed sides and heavy stitched soles, warranted not to rip; all sizes up to 2. Regular $1.25 and $1.50 values, at.. 89c

Suit Cases and Bags

Matting Suit Cases—Linen lined with straps, leather corners. Regular price $2.50. Sale price..... 1.29

Matting Suit Cases—Same as above, with two straps instead of one. Regular price $3.00. Sale price 1.69

Traveling Bags — All sizes, extra quality leather, three pockets. Regular price $7.00 and $8.00. Sale price 5.98

Matting Traveling Bags—Size 16, cloth lined. Sale price 1.50

Sale of 1.50 Wash Suits at.. 98c

Made from high-grade galateas, in fancy stripes and plain colors; in sailor and Russian styles.

There's a splendid assortment to choose from—in every size from 2½ to 10 years. Colors are strictly fast and every suit in the collection is positively worth $1.50. Vacation Sale price..... 98c

Vacation Sale of Stamped Linens

Needle work is an ideal Summer pastime. This sale brings the cost of materials to the lowest point.

19c Persian and Lustrous Flo Ball Cotton..... 9¢

35c Stamped Colored Linen Ties and Belts that can be matched 25c

Your choice of any 50c Tinted and Stamped Pillow Top or Centerpiece and 1 dozen skeins of Belding's Wash Embroidery Silk for..... 75c

All package Embroideries Marked Down.

75c Stamped India Linen Shirtwaists..... 49¢
$2.00 Stamped Irish Linen Shirtwaists..... 1.49
Pillows, Centerpieces, Table Covers, Scarfs, Waists, Hats, Underwear, etc.
All 25c packages on sale at..... 19¢
All 50c packages on sale at..... 39¢
All 75c packages on sale at..... 59¢
All $1.00 packages on sale at..... 79¢

Vacation Sale of Coat Sweaters

Women's and Misses' All Wool 2.50 and 2.98 Sweaters 1.59

Plenty of cool evenings, even during the height of the Summer season. Not cool enough for heavy wraps yet too cool without protection of some sort. A sweater "fits in" admirably.

These sweaters are made of pure zephyr yarns, with or without pockets, and closed with big pearl buttons. Colors white, gray and cardinal, in fancy or plain weaves. Here in all sizes and regularly sold at $2.50 and $2.98. Sale price 1.59

Vacation Sale of Fancy Linen Covers

Doilies, Sharns, Scarfs and Centrepieces of Newest Designs

Renaissance Doilies
With plain and lace centers—Round and squares.

15c 9-inch Doilies at..... 10¢
20c 12-inch Doilies at..... 15¢
29c 18-inch Doilies at..... 25¢
29c 12-inch Doilies at..... 21¢
50c 18-inch Doilies at..... 39¢

Sideboard and Bureau Scarfs

$1.25 20x54-inch Scarfs at..... 75¢

Japanese Scarfs

35c 20x54-inch Scarfs at..... 39¢
50c 30x30-inch Scarfs at..... 39¢

Imported Scarfs, Shams and Table Covers

Embroidery centers and borders and edges of torchon lace. $1.25 value, at..... 75¢

Vacation Sale of Embroideries

Millinery Embroideries for Lingerie Hats

38c 18-inch Embroideries at..... 25¢
50c 18-inch Embroideries at..... 35¢

Corset Cover Embroideries

25c Corset Cover Embroideries at..... 19¢
35c Corset Cover Embroideries at..... 25¢
45c Corset Cover Embroideries at..... 35¢

Allover Embroideries

75c Nainsook Flouncings at..... 49¢
$1.25 Nainsook Flouncings at..... 77¢
$3.00 Nainsook Flouncings at..... 95¢
25c Bands, Beadings and Galloons..... 19¢
35c Bands, Beadings and Galloons..... 25¢
$1.00 47-inch Flouncings at..... 49¢

Vacation Sale of Lingerie Waists

2.50 Batiste Waists, exactly as pictured at the right. Sale price 1.79

Made of fine quality batiste, with beautifully trimmed yoke of imported medallion and filet lace, back trimmed with six clusters of tucks, alternated by lace insertion to waist line. Sleeves are finished with two full length rows of lace and finished with trimmed cuffs.

Shown in either Dutch or high neck styles. Sleeves ¾ length. Positively worth 2.50. Vacation Sale price 1.79

Women's Underwear

Women's Lisle Vests—Low neck, sleeveless, hand crocheted yokes, extremely neat patterns, pure white. Regular price 50c each. Sale price 3 for 1.00, each..... 35c

Women's Lisle Vests—Low neck, sleeveless, pure white and extra cool. Regular price 25c each. Sale price 3 for 50c, each..... 19c

Women's Jersey Lisle Vests—Low neck, sleeveless, pure white and extra cool. Regular price 35c each. Sale price 3 for 1.00, each..... 25c

Women's Lisle Vests—Low neck, sleeveless, hand crocheted yokes, extremely neat patterns, pure white. Regular price 50c each. Sale price 3 for 1.00, each..... 35c

Women's Lisle Vests—Low neck, sleeveless, pure white and extra cool. Regular price 25c each. Sale price 3 for 50c, each..... 19c

Women's Jersey Lisle Vests—Low neck, sleeveless, pure white and extra cool. Regular price 35c each. Sale price 3 for 1.00, each..... 25c

Women's Lisle Union Suits—Low neck, sleeveless, lace trimmed, with tight knee, fine gauge, soft finish. Regular price 50c each. Sale price..... 39c

Women's Union Suits—Summer weight, thin and cool, regular and extra sizes, with perfect goods, various styles. Regular price 65c and 75c each. Sale price..... 49c

Women's Hosiery

Women's Imported Silk Hose—In black, fine plain and fancy stripes, first hand embroidered, extra fine lisle. Regular price $1.50 pair. Sale price 79c

Women's Thread Silk Hose—Drop stitch, heels and toes, reinforced tops, very fine, black and tan. Sale price 69c

Women's Silk Hose—Seamless foot or reinforced heels and toes, plain or clocks and transparent. Sale price 45c

Women's Imported Hose—4th toes, tightly mercerized, bright lustre, double tops and soles. Regular price 50c pair. Sale price, each..... 35c
3 pairs for 1.00

Women's Imported Lisle Hose—Lace boot pattern. Hermsdorf dye, most elegant designs. Regular price 35c pair. Sale price..... 25c

TAFT'S FOURTH HERE BIG WHIZZ AROUND GREATER BOSTON

President Will Do a Skyrocket Trick, Visiting Eight Cities and One Town Tomorrow.

YOU can see the President of the United States tomorrow by just stirring your head out of the window.

At some time or other during the day for President(ial) scheduling are hardly to be depended upon on the Fourth of July, Mr. Taft will be on view to the people of eight Massachusetts cities and one town.

The chief executive of this the greatest, freest and most glorious republic since the dawn of time, (those who like spread eagle talk can go as far as they like and do this out to suit themselves), will be a feature of the Fourth of July exercises in Beverly, Salem, Lynn, Revere, Chelsea, Everett, Somerville, Cambridge and Boston.

He'll Surely Whizz Some.

President Taft will simply whizz into some of these places and whizz right out again, but he is expected to stop in Chelsea long enough to say "Howdy," and "Mighty how well you're looking," to the school children; is scheduled to slow up in Everett and smile his compliments on the good folk of that sprightly city before they're been getting up for months; will be the top liner of the biggest day Somerville ever has known, and is down as an extra added feature of the widely advertised old and sane Fourth, in Olston.

Mr. Taft won't go down to Woodberry Point again, indeed, until he has journeyed out to the Stadium to deliver a message of dress to the thousands and thousands and thousands of schoolma'ams, schoolmarms, pals, superintendents, and so on, who have come to Boston for the annual convention of the National Educational Association.

The President will be up tomorrow bright and early. He will probably make his appearance at the breakfast table as early as 7 o'clock, for he has to say goodby to his brother, Henry—Henry W. Taft, the big New York lawyer—who will be leaving for home just as the President's "holiday" is beginning.

There may be an hour or two of work, also, for Mr. Taft comes back to the city tomorrow evening to plunge, heart, sea and goldstick, into ten days of real vacation, during which he will see no politicians and send no important letter. To that end his is shipping Charles D. Norton, the secretary to the President, down to St. James, Long Island, to spend ten days with the other Nortons. Secretary Norton is glad to go, for his own sake as well as for the President's. But there must be a few details—a few last details—of work tomorrow morning.

Start on the Dot.

At 8:30 o'clock to the dot Secret Service Agents Joe Murphy and Jimmy Sloan will give the signal and the presidential automobile will sputter out of the Point, into Ober street and off through Salem and Lynn to the Revere line, somewhere. The way will be pretty well lined with policemen.

Revere, when first the Taft program for the Fourth was made up, Secretary Norton, wasn't on the Presidential map except as a way to Somerville. For that matter, neither were Chelsea nor Everett.

But you couldn't expect to do anything of that sort to a town named after Paul Revere, and it isn't going to be done. Through the corner of Broadway and the Parkway Mr. Taft will be greeted by 1,000 Revere school children. They will be dressed in white, the boys in black, and everybody will have an American flag to wave to the gentleman who is the principal caretaker of that flag at the present time.

Harry D. Chittenden, director of music, will swing his baton, and as Taft approaches the voices of the youngsters will be burst forth in "The Star Spangled Banner."

Some of the town officials of Revere, headed by Chairman Roscoe Bonython of the Board of Selectmen, with Chairman Ernest Acker of the Safe and Sane Fourth Committee, will be out to doff their hats to the distinguished visitor. But I expected that Mr. Taft can do much more for Revere than be lifted by it.

But, oh, you Taft smile!

Then, almost before he knows it, the President will be in Chelsea. He may find himself wondering, before the day is done, just why we don't knock down all these imaginary walls and call it all Boston.

In Chelsea the automobile will come to a full stop at the corner of the boulevard and Washington avenue, and Mr. Taft will speak for a minute or two to the school children, who will give him a "hag" salute.

Big Doings in Everett.

This will have to be pretty early in the morning, for the time-table calls for the President at 9:15 in Broadway, Everett. Here he will motor slowly through a great avenue lined with the school children of the city government, brass bands and the city's military and fraternal bodies of the Fourth of July parade will also be lined up to cheer him.

Next comes Somerville, which has been planning the biggest time in its history for Taft, and which is dressed so beautifully in red, white and blue, together every summer, with the American flag to such an extent that the new municipal decorations are afied and the like, that she can hardly be beat, under it all.

But it wasn't for the preliminary Taft procession over pretty much all of Somerville that city fathers and mothers decided the President plans to remain there not much longer than an hour. He is scheduled to big Fourth of July parade—or as much of it as he can stay for without getting tired.

The time card brings Mr. Taft into Boston at 10:05. Only 10:05, mind you. You can gamble whatever you have left from that Reno matter that the time card is at least correct in placing the Hon. John F. Fitzgerald at the Boston side of Charlestown Bridge at that hour ready to receive him.

President Taft will see the Boston parade from a stand in Charles street. Then he will motor to Beacon and Tremont street, go to the home of President A. Lawrence Lowell at Harvard for luncheon, and at 3:30 address the teachers in the Stadium.

After that home, and ten days of loafing.

TIZ--For Tender Feet

A new, scientific medical toilet tablet which Draws Out All Inflammation and Soreness.

This remarkable foot tablet is a Superior to Powder, Plaster or Salve, and is guaranteed. Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nail, Tired, Aching, Swollen, Sore, Perspiring Feet Instantly Relieved.

Smaller Shoes Can Be Worn by using TIZ because it puts and keeps the feet in perfect condition.

TIZ for sale at all druggists, 25c a box. Write us if you wish from Walter Luggage & Co., Chicago, Ill.

TWELVE THOUSAND PLATES OF FREE ICE CREAM FOR THE CHILDREN OF BOSTON

Distributing Free Ice Cream Tickets to little children by a representative of the Safe and Sane Fourth of July Committee.

OCEANS of free ice cream for the Boston kiddies to-morrow.

That's what it means, now that the Free Ice Cream Fund collected by the Boston Sunday American for the Safe and Sane Fourth Committee, is all in and counted up.

The fund totalled exactly $701.66, which the last dollar was received last night.

As enthusiastic preliminary to the free treat, a meeting was held yesterday afternoon of three thousand ice cream tickets in the South End. The tickets were distributed by representatives of the Safe and Sane Fourth Committee.

Nine thousand more tickets will be given out to-morrow. That makes twelve thousand tickets. With the ice cream, which is to be given to children taking part in the Fourth of July parade and choral singing, it is expected that at least fifteen thousand plates of frozen sweetness will be given away to the youngsters.

And how will it be known as "The Free Ice Cream Fourth," so far as the kids are concerned. They may not all be able to read, but they can read. But "free ice cream" needs no guessing.

Where to Get Free Ice Cream.

The tickets call for a plate of ice cream each, in Boston Common to-morrow afternoon from 2 o'clock to 4, in the big tent of the Floral Emblem Society, near the reviewing stand.

Other points at which ice cream will be given out in exchange for the free tickets are:

Pierce's School, Hudson street, Ward 7, to-morrow, 2 to 4 p. m.

Sherrill-Hyde schools, Hammond street and Hudson Square, Roxbury.

Distribution of tickets in the South End will be made from an auto truck, to-morrow afternoon.

Free Ice Cream Tickets.

One can imagine the excitement the sign by which the tickets were made, form a theatre, or, as Messrs. Charles H. Bellamy and Frank A. Kemp, the two principal Dowd, publicity representatives, had the idea at first, a circus. Anyhow, had the tickets been free theatre tickets, or circus tickets, the distribution hundreds of little lads were started on toward the meeting in Dudley street, together with not a few of their mothers. Mister—one "Mister" to a dozen "Mothers"—was in charge of the meeting and matters when it was all over, Mister and Mothers alike declared that they had never seen anything that they enjoyed more. They showed interest in what was going on, they applauded when it stated, and girls knew what I'm talking about when I say that the whole lot of small humans seemed to be a full tide toward ice cream.

Some Laughable Frauds.

Of course some laughable frauds were perpetrated. There is a great while, yes, indeed, be sure of that. Some children had the permission of the longer game to get by with it. Some had contributed card, particularly when they were dirty and had the grimy hand and told the story of his sister, so it at home and the need of her having the ice cream recovered in time for that ice cream festival.

Others went so to one side of the car, secured a ticket, and then made another round to the other side for another. But no matter how ingenious telegraphy they were found out, and the ticket was taken away from them. It had to be satisfied, with what they had received over the side of the auto at first, and shouted for more. The distribution street was reached. Then it was decided that this would be too much trouble to start upon. Little blacks and girls were among the boys and girls were among the eyes danced with delight and the rows of white teeth showed how they were greatly pleased.

Blind Boy's Plight.

One woman brought a blind boy up as close to the table as could get when Emerald street was reached. Before her stood a boy clamoring for tickets. The child from the eyes the sight had gone was caught in the throng. He was in a low of about twelve years, saw the blind boy and the woman made by his mother to reach his side. In an instant the sturdy child was after the fragile one without a thought.

"Don't—don't—anything," he shouted, "take way here for this kid. He's er blind kid, too. Give them er slices."

It was the spirit of human feeling that was speaking from within him and the throng caught the infection for boys and girls alike. Hands made way for the blind boy. Hands led up for his ticket.

Then the boy was restored to his mother and both walked away, the boy smiling, but the woman with traces of tears in her eyes.

The latest list of contributors to the Free Ice Cream Fund of the Boston American:

FREE ICE CREAM FUND.
Mayor John F. Fitzgerald	$10.00
Governor Eben S. Draper	5.00
Boston American	50.00
R. B. Walmsley	5.00
F. P. Abdnich	5.00
J. J. Flood, Advertising Agency	5.00
C. S. Osgood Co.	5.00
H. Wilson	5.00
Gray Hood & Son	10.00
Hugh Dunn	5.00
Clarence W. Barron	5.00
Thomas Been	5.00
Houghton & Dutton	10.00
Thomas Been	5.00
H. N.	1.00
Collected by members of "Up and Down Broadway Company at the Colonial, Philadelphia game	131.61
Ralph S. Bauer	20.00
Ralph S. Bauer	20.00
Friend	2.00
Chas. S. Rice	5.00
Ziegel, Ehman & Co	5.00
Fisher & Fraser	5.00
Brusendorf & Co	5.00
Joseph Holman	5.00
Alex Zilg	5.00
Ice Boston Mfg. Co	5.00
Dr. J. M. Machode	5.00
Dr. Wm. Lee	5.00
"Dod and the Duchess"	5.00
James H. Doyle	1.00
"Unknown"	1.00
Boston Seminary	1.00
Gertrude F. Smith	1.00
Wm. Goldman	1.00
"Eva"	1.00
Robert Henry Mitchell	1.00
Annie Been	1.00
Alice Parker Lesser	1.00
George L. Berlin	1.00
Globe Printers' Roller Co	5.00
Henry Hall Sons	5.00
Edgar P. Benjamin	5.00
Thursby Smith Co	5.00
A. A. Rebello	5.00
Boston Commerciale Italiana	2.00
Frank S. Mason	2.00
Worcester Ice Co	2.00
Myron E. Pierce	1.00
Thomas J. Kenney	1.00
Josefita	1.00
Mrs. A. B.	1.00
L. F. B. and M. A. P.	1.00
Mrs. E. B.	1.00
E. R. Peckerman	1.00
Thomas Gossman	1.00
Moulton	1.00
Hub Theatre	1.00
Ibis Theatre	1.00
Hennessey Bros. & Co	1.00
Pritchard, Hubbard & Co	1.00
H. H. Hooke & Co	1.00
Mrs. Alonzo Forbes	1.00
D. S. Burke	1.00
A. Andrews	1.00
A. F. Bliss	1.00
"A friend"	1.00
"W. P. H."	1.00
"W. P. H." for a friend	1.00
Mary Lee	5.00
C. H. Anderson and J. C. Black	2.00
"Three Country Tickets"	2.00
Mrs. A. A. Hewett	1.00
A. W.	1.00
A. W.	1.00
C. V. Hyland	1.00
Charles Bradley	1.00
Previously acknowledged	207.55
Total	$701.66

LEXINGTON MINUTE MEN MARCH TO SCENE OF FAMOUS BATTLE

Yesterday afternoon the newly organized military company, the Lexington Minute-men, were presented its company colors, the gift of Mrs. Hayden. The company had short story strong, under the command of John Hughes, left the Lexington Armory and marched to the scene to the north green, where the Battle of Lexington was fought. The company marched to the Lexington end of the green, where it met a platoon front, advanced across the common to the line, where the minute-men met the British 175 years ago.

In the immense square formed by the three sides of the platoon, the school of Hancock School, under command of Robert Fiske, marched forth to escort. They were then taken by Adjutant Reed, who had charge of the affair for the organization, to the company, addressed the soldiers, while color guard of the Minute-men advanced at the end of the speech and received the colors.

The flag is a reproduction of the Betford Historical Society. This banner was the only flag that was in the famous battle.

The music for the Minute-men was furnished by three men of the Lexington Drum Corps, dressed to represent the Spirit of '76. They appeared for the first time on the 19th of April, when they were taking Paul Revere's route awaking the people. The Minute-men together with the "Spirit of '76" will march in the big 4th of July parade in Boston.

OFFICIAL PROGRAM FOR BOSTON'S JULY FOURTH

9 A. M.—Bonfire on Bellevue Hill, West Roxbury.

9 A. M.—Parades of Antiques and Horribles by different clubs

9 A. M.—City of Boston Amateur Athletic games in Boston Common.

9:30 A. M.—New England Rowing Association Regatta in Charles River Basin.

9 P. M.—Patriotic address in Faneuil Hall by John M. Wolf.

10 A. M. Reading of Declaration of Independence from Old State House.

10 A. M.—City of Boston Regatta on City Point.

10:30 A. M.—Military and Civic Parade in Back Bay, Beacon and Tremont streets.

11 A. M.—President Taft escorted by Mayor Fitzgerald to meet City Reception Committee on reviewing stand.

12 M.—Addresses on National topics in the different school buildings.

2 to 4 P. M.—Distribution of 15,000 plates of ice cream to children on Boston Common by Boston American.

3 P. M.—Athletic football game in Boston Common.

Concert on Boston Common by Perkins' Band.

5 P. M.—Grand Choral and Band Concert on the Common—300 to 500 voices.

7:30 P. M.—Band Concerts at Marine Park, Wood Island; Meeting House Hill, Franklin Field, and Jamaica Plain.

8:30 P. M.—Illuminated regattas in Charles River Basin followed by fireworks in the Basin, Franklin Field, Jamaica Plain, Wood Island, Marine Park, Ralsford and Long Islands and West Roxbury.

HOW TO BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR JULY 4

Read This and Know What to Do If You Burn Yourself.

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Dr. Lincoln has drawn up the following simple directions for treating Fourth of July wounds:

Bleeding Not Harmful.

Unless an artery is severed, the bleeding of a wound is an advantage, inasmuch as the oozing blood will help wash away germs of blood poisoning or lock-jaw. Bleeding, then, unless excessive, should not be stopped at once.

Sources of Danger in Wounds.

The origin of the blood poisoning or lock-jaw from explosives lies not in the powder, generally speaking, but in the wadding, but in the fact that the explosion drives portions of the skin, which always contain many germs, into the interior of the wound. Therefore the first important thing is to cleanse the wound thoroughly.

How to Clean a Wound.

The wounded member should be held under running water, preferably hot, and the surrounding parts as well as the wound itself should be scrubbed with absorbent cotton and water for from five to ten minutes, the running water constantly being used to wash away the dirt from the wound. The wounded part should then be wrapped in absorbent cotton and the patient taken at once to a surgeon. No blank cartridge powder burn, however, no surgeon is sure there is no wadding still buried in the deepest part of it. To be certain this the wound must be enlarged and thoroughly cleansed. Then and only then should be injected as a prophylactic in standard doses. Never use carbolic acid or iodine on wounds from explosives.

May Save Many Lives.

It is fair to say that of the 130 cases of lock-jaw due to blank cartridges in the United States last year, every one of the 84 per cent. of fatal cases could have been saved if the wound had been treated as here directed.

TOWNS AND CITIES TO HAVE ELABORATE PROGRAM FOR DAY

Greater Boston and all Massachusetts are preparing for the most elaborate celebration of the Fourth of July for years. In several of the cities and towns near Boston the Safe and Sane program has been adopted and for the first time in the city limits.

Chelsea, Revere and Everett are prides themselves that they will, in some measure, share President Taft and Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, for on his way from Boston to these cities he will pass through their streets, where enormous crowds are expected to gather to hear the first words of the Nation sifting tribute.

Revere is to celebrate with athletic contests and concerts and fireworks at the beach and Beachmont. A thousand Revere children are to greet the President, as his automobile passes along the Boulevard.

Children's Flag Salute.

Chelsea's school children are to greet the President with a flag salute. At Washington square and the Parkway Mr. Taft and Mayor Street Playground and field and track events with a fireworks display on the East Side.

Quincy will have athletic games, a parade, band concerts and fireworks. Leo P. Quinn, president of the Quincy Council, will read the Declaration of Independence from the steps of the Quincy Church, when John Adams and John Quincy Adams worshipped.

Brookline is to have four band concerts, athletic sports and two entertainments for children in the Town Hall in the afternoon. Children in the city will be entertained at the Brookline Reservoir, where there will be a swimming. Chief Inspector Hall will be in charge of the sport. A baseball game between the champion nine of the town is to be played. The day is to end with fireworks at the Cypress Street Playground.

Bonfires at Winthrop.

Winthrop intends to have a big day. Big bonfires are to be lighted on Shirley Hill, Crest Hill and Point Shirley. A flag raising is scheduled for 8 a. m., the declaration of Independence is to be read and there is to be a sing national songs. A general ride of Horribles is another attraction. The Winthrop Watch Company Band is to give a concert in Triton avenue in the afternoon. A display of fireworks is to end the day. Prizes are to be distributed to the winners of the day's athletic sports.

The business men of Dedham and the Avery Social Club have arranged a big day program for Dedham. An exhibition drill by the fire department, athletic sports, band concerts, swimming races, field sports and a grand display of fireworks will be on the program.

Hyde Park has arranged for a big day. Plenty of money has been appropriated. Plenty of noise of all kinds, on exhibition at the Hyde Park Fire department, baseball games between Hyde Park and Roslindle and the boys of St. Raphael's and Juniors of the Y. M. A. A., ending with fireworks display, promises a busy day.

Middleboro is to have a Safe and Sane Fourth. The laws against explosives are to be strictly enforced. There are to be parades of Horribles, automobile processions, field sports, band concerts and fireworks.

HOW BOSTON WILL CELEBRATE ITS FIRST SAFE AND SANE JULY FOURTH

President Taft to Review 15,000 Marching Men and Boys in Great Parade.

Continued from First Page.

are to be distributed to the children through a fund started by the Boston American. The distribution is to be from tent of the Floral Emblem Society in Boston Common, the Pierpont School, Ward 8 wardroom, Hancock School, and from the Sherwin Hyde School.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a great Gaelic football game is to be played between Tipperary and the Galways in Boston Common for a prize of $50.

At 3 o'clock in the Common, Perkins' band of thirty-five pieces is to give a concert. At 5 o'clock an adult chorus of 300 will sing patriotic songs, accompanied by Perkins' Band, will sing. This is expected to prove one of the gems of the day. Special and artistic features of ten dress Safe and Sane celebration of Boston's Fourth of July.

At 7 o'clock seven other band concerts are to be given in different parts of the city, at Marine Park, South Boston; at Wood Island Park, East Boston; Eaton Square in Meeting House Hill, Dorchester; in Franklin Field, Dorchester, and at Jamaica Pond, Jamaica Plain.

Elaborate Fireworks.

The last and most spectacular display of the whole day of merriment and celebration is to be a mighty display of fireworks in Charles River Basin, Franklin Field, Jamaica Plain, Wood Island Park, Marine Park, Ralsford Island, West Roxbury and Long Island.

Thousands of dollars have been spent to insure the most imposing spectacle of the day being worthy of its important mission. The displays of fireworks in all of the places where they are to be made will be most imposing. On the Charles River Basin the display will be made by two great fireworks manufacturing companies—the Pain Fireworks Company of New York and the American Fireworks Company of Boston.

As a prize of $50 has been offered to the company giving the best display the most magnificent pyrotechnic exhibition ever given in New England, a search for each of the rival fireworks concerns is to give a Safe and Sane program for a day in the band. The advantage of giving this great display of fireworks in the Charles River Basin is apparent at once. There is naturally almost a thousand places from which an almost numberless crowd of people may view the greatest display of the day.

Arrange Police Work.

Over one thousand Boston policemen will be on duty all day to insure order, to protect life and to care for those who may be in need of attention. One hundred and twenty-five policemen are to be at Boston Common during the morning and afternoon. One hundred and fifty policemen are in charge of the parade, under Chief Charles Hiver, while 400 policemen and fifteen sergeants are to care for the crowds while the military and civic pageant is passing through the streets.

At night 350 policemen will preserve order in the Charles River basin, under the direction of Patrolman Frank S. Harrington will journey to the Somerville line and will accompany the head of the parade reviewing stand in Boston Common.

The laws governing the Safe and Sane Fourth of July will be in full force. The giant cracker, the dangerous torpedo and fog-horn will be barred. Only the old and harmless blank cartridge and those other explosives which are allowed on the Safe and Sane Fourths a measure.

The giant cracker is a firecracker is not to be over two inches in length and three-fourths cartridge measure. Explosives are not to be placed on street car tracks. Fireworks are not to be thrown from the windows or from a roof or by a building in which a patriotic meeting is in progress. Bombs, fog-horns and other explosives for making instruments is forbidden. The use of detonating caps is also forbidden. Exceeding three-quarters of an inch in diameter is also forbidden.

MILITARY AND CIVIC PARADE WILL BE THE DAYLIGHT FEATURE

Greatest by far of the daylight features of the Fourth of July celebration will be the Military and Civic Parade in which it is estimated fifteen thousand men and boys will march through Boston's flag-draped streets.

The different arms of the United States military and naval defense will be well represented by the Massachusetts Naval Volunteer Militia and the Naval Brigade will also be included in the military division of the parade.

Major General William H. Oakes is to be the Chief Marshal of the Pageant, with Colonel Charles H. Taylor, Chief Aide, and Captain Frank E. Webb, Assistant Chief Marshal.

General Oakes's staff is to consist of Colonel Frederick W. Rolfe, Colonel Henry H. Hennessey, Captain George E. Lovett, Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Jenkins Storrow and Frank C. Rowell. Lieutenant John Hall Wheelock, Lieutenant Walter F. Allendorf, P. J. Kyle, Edward H. Cartier, Edwin Farnsworth Atherton, Hiram Hall, Jam. B. Barter, John B. Bryant and Frank P. Shepard.

The parade will form on Commonwealth avenue between Berkeley and Dartmouth streets, and will march down Commonwealth avenue to Arlington, to Beacon, and will continue over Beacon to Park street, to Boston, to Tremont street, past the President's reviewing stand in Tremont street, to Charles, to Beacon and disband.

General Oakes in Charge.

The first division under the command of Brigadier General William H. Oakes, will be entirely military, while the second division will be under the command of Colonel A. Hosley, junior vice-commander commanding the Grand Army of the Republic. This section will contain fleets and figures of historic interest. Many floats and civic bodies will be under the command of Captain John Lawrence Company D, Ninth Regiment M. V. M., and will represent the different wards of the city.

Scattered throughout the long line of marching men will be the bands and drum corps that will play in the afternoon and evening at the various stops in the city.

Hundreds of children will take part in the parade, and societies and schools about the city have interested themselves in this great event. They draw the children's attention away from the glitter of fireworks and to help them enjoy the day in better, more instructive and a better safer way.

The various parents' associations have offered their aid in making the floats and in the general work. Teachers are carefully rehearsing their parts.

The order of the parade follows:

First Division.

Mounted police.

Chief Marshal, Brigadier-General William H. Oakes and staff.

Battery A, Coast Artillery, U. S. A., four companies.

Band from battleship Vermont, U. S. N.

Five company of marines, U. S.

Band from Naval Training Station.

Naval department, consisting of sailors from bat-tleships.

Cadet's Band.

Ninth Regiment Infantry, M. V. M., Colonel John J. Sullivan commanding.

Fifth Regiment Infantry, M. V. M., Colonel Frederick W. Rolfe commanding.

George J. Whitten Camp No. 3, Spanish War Veterans, Commander James A. Molloy.

Roger Wolcott Camp No. 29, Spanish War Veterans, Commander Peter J. Kyle.

Society of Army of Veterans.

First Corps of Cadets Band, Consolidated field and staff, Ninth and Fifth Regiments.

Regiment of Boston School Cadets.

Battalion Drum Corps.

Second Division.

Colonel George A. Hosley, junior vice-commander

DON'T'S FOR SAFE AND SANE FOURTH

Don't carry fireworks on cars or ferryboats; don't transport them in automobiles or in any vehicle with other explosives of inflammable articles.

Don't sell fireworks in any building used as a dwelling, factory or school; don't let children set off a rocket, bomb, roman candle or Italian battery. This "don't" applies to adults who are inexperienced in handling explosives.

Don't sell or keep blank cartridges or toy guns for firing them; don't sell or keep toy cannons; don't explode blank cartridges or bombs.

Don't sell or keep firecrackers exceeding two inches in length and three-quarters of inch in diameter. Cannon crackers are barred.

Don't sell or keep torpedoes larger than three-quarters of an inch in diameter; don't set off serpents, bombs, rockets or set pieces in the street.

Don't sell fireworks or firecrackers, except toy caps and toy torpedoes, to children under thirteen years old.

Remember that in celebrating the Fourth in Boston last year three persons were killed and one hundred and sixty-seven were injured. In the last three years eleven persons were killed, while one and four hundred and sixteen were injured.

In this century in six years nine hundred and one persons lost their lives because of lockjaw resulting from Fourth of July wounds, and the loss of life from other causes on that day was six hundred and thirty.

Concerts, Athletics and Fireworks, Patriotic Meetings on Day's Program.

and beautiful. There will be a number of interesting trade features.

In different sections of the city there will be sports to interest the boys and girls.

In the evening there will be band concerts at Cambridge Field, Ringe Field and on the esplanade near Harvard bridge. There will also be special neighborhood fireworks exhibits for the benefit of the smaller folks who will be unable to go to the display on the Charles.

The big fireworks display will be held on the Charles River Basin in connection with the City of Boston, the Metropolitan Park Commission having withdrawn its objection.

QUINCY WILL HAVE A GREAT CELEBRATION DAWN TILL MIDNIGHT

With the rise of the sun Somerville Quincy will start one of the greatest July 4th celebrations ever held in the history of the city. "Keep moving," is the motto of the energetic committee in charge of the arrangements. Something doing from early morn till late at night.

The exercises will begin with a big parade. It will start from City square, pass a reviewing stand, where it will be reviewed by members of the Argentine delegation now at Quincy, city officials and others. Colonel Henry L. Rhoades will be chief marshal, assisted by Captain Joseph E. Wardwell and staff. Prizes will be given.

Water sports will be held in the morning at Hough's Neck, while a big athletic carnival will be held in Merrymount Park under the direction of F. Gifford Cox. The children of the city will be entertained in the afternoon on the grounds of the old Adams Academy, with games and sports.

In the evening there will be fireworks in Merrymount Park.

All the stores and residences have been decorated.

The committee consists of Mayor William T. Shea, Eugene R. Stone, James F. Burke, Alfred N. La Breque, C. F. Gifford, Charles W. Hanscom, Rupert F. Chadbourne, George F. Elcock, Councilman John B. Richards, Colonel Henry L. Rhoades, Archie F. Briggs, Charles H. Johnson, Arthur W. Stetson, James H. Elcock and Galen V. Bowditch.

All the clubs in the city will keep open house, and the military men will be entertained by Major Fred E. Jones, marshal of the military division of the parade.

Milton's Tax Rate $11.90.

Milton's tax rate for the next year is to be $11.90, an increase of thirty cents over the rate of last year. The assessors made this announcement yesterday. The valuation of Boston real estate had increased more than $2,000,000, nearly all on personal property. The total valuation is nearly $27,000,000.

Summer Troubles!

For the many sudden stomach and bowel ills so common in hot weather, nothing is so safe, agreeable or speedily effective as genuine

Sanfords Ginger

If you have a cramp or pain, a sense of chill with aching muscles or cold extremities, an uneasiness in the stomach or bowels, a feeling of nervousness, wakefulness or exhaustion, Sanford's Ginger will give prompt relief and may prevent a serious illness.

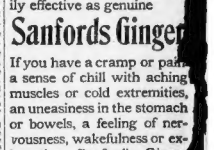
Taken hot, on the spot, it is worth a dozen far-away doctors.

Look for the Old Trade Mark on the package, and you get a clean, worthless or dangerous substitute. Forty years the standard. Alcohol, flavor, strength, purity. Combination of ginger, aromatics and French brandy. Sold by all druggists and grocers.

The Army of Constipation

Is Growing Smaller Every Day.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are responsible—they not only give relief, but permanently cure Constipation. Millions use them for Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Sallow Skin.



SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE

Genuine must bear Signature

Brent Good

FOUND

The Boston American Lost and Found Column will help you find any piece of Jewelry or Article whatever nature.

Keep this in mind if at any time we can be of assistance to you.

BRITISH TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO QUELL RELIGIOUS RIOTS

Soldiers Placed in the Streets of the Principal Cities.

MADRID, July 2.—A renewal of religious rioting throughout Spain is feared, and as a result troops are being mobilized today in all of the main thoroughfares of the principal cities in preparation for what may come tomorrow when the masses turn out for their great religious day of the week.

The steadfast attitude of the ministry in standing a revision of the Concordat in the face of the Vatican's refusals to discuss such a revision until certain prior conditions are settled has aroused great and great unrest in Catholic Spain, and demonstrations are likely from the Catholics against the Government.

Fear also exists that the Republicans will seize upon every opportunity of unrest and dissatisfaction to make it greater and at the same time to destroy property. Those who have denounced the executive of Socialist and Anarchist leaders as inspired by the church in the east and have destroyed church property. It is said in official circles, are again showing signs of activity.

The authorities want to be prepared to deal with the situation in the face of whatever disorder may develop, whether from the Catholic side or from that of the Anti-Clericals. The troops have orders to allow no assemblages, and in Seville have been especially massed to allow no student demonstrations. The gathering together of a mere handful of Catholics would give no opportunity for the Socialists and Anarchists to start disorder which might reach any limits.

Widespread Violence Feared.

It is not expected, however, that the people will submit to these measures without opposition, and bloodshed or at least widespread violence is looked for to-morrow.

As a result of a street fight between Clericals and Anti-Clericals at Cenit, one man is dead and a number are in the hospital. Every Church and convent in Catholic Church during which the village priest made a violent attack upon Premier Canalejas because of the death of Francisco Ferrer, founder of the Concordat. A street fight began and a member of the congregation was killed.

The clash between Spain and the Vatican is the result of the refusal of the latter in giving to non-Catholics freedom of public worship.

The Vatican protested on the ground that the status quo should be maintained until the revision of the Concordat between Spain and the Holy See had been completed. Premier Canelejas replied that if the issue of the Concordat were tried with the revision negotiations, the latter would be broken off.

Vatican Remains Firm.

The Vatican remained firm in its attitude that the subject of the decree must first be disposed of, and Canelejas in announcement that the Papal Council against the decree would be ignored and the Government's program as announced carried out.

The Government policy also embodies a strict Government control of the school system, and the Premier, on June 22, declared against the existence of the Order of Christian Brothers. The action was taken in fulfillment of the powerful decree of May 31, which directed that unauthorized religious orders be dissolved. Authorization under the law of 1887 under both of dissolution of religious establishments in the event of non-compliance.

Many outbreaks have occurred in the large cities of the Kingdom during the past few days, and the Government is said to be engendered between Catholics and Anti-Clericals.

A NEW REMEDY FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES

Stops the Itching and Begins Healing Immediately.

The discovery by a chemist of the new remedy, Cadum, is recognized as one of the most important advances in medical circles in recent years. Cadum is made of one of Nature's medicinal plants, the extract of which has been combined with other ingredients, each possessing in a purified degree valuable therapeutic properties, the proportion of each ingredient having been so adjusted after many careful experimentation and investigation, that a perfected product for the treatment of skin diseases has been the result. Cadum is the most effective agent known in the treatment of eczema, two to four weeks' time being sufficient to cure ordinary cases. From the first moment, when applied, the itching and rapid relief is felt, and there the disease presents an unsightly appearance the thin coating of Cadum almost conceals the sores. This underful compound is equally effective in other skin troubles, such as tetter, ringworm, itch, acne, rashes, itching piles, chafing, prickly heat, boils, inflamed skin, red noses, pimples, blackheads, psoriasis, herpes, tetter, etc. Cadum is entirely free from any mercury or other poisonous mineral admixture or animal fats or greases. Every ingredient of Cadum for which a standard of purity is set by the U. S. Pharmacopoeia complies with that standard, so as to insure the greater efficiency. In short, Cadum so nearly matches that of the skin that an application is scarcely noticeable. An important feature to be noted in connection with Cadum is that it stops the terrible itching of eczema at once, and begins the healing process with the first application. It is, moreover, a scientific preparation and cannot in error the most delicate skin. Many of the results obtained have been truly described as remarkable, and have exceeded the expectations of the proprietors. Now it is found to be a powerful antiseptic that destroys the disease-producing germs, allays irritation and exerts a wonderfully soothing and healing influence on the tissues. It is a regrettable fact that skin affections are still much misunderstood, and often the most common treatment is undertaken at great expense, whereas such a simple but expensive remedy as Cadum will save time and expense. Sold by all druggists at 10c. and 25c.

"BIG BILL" GIVES BOND OF $50,000

Snapshot by Sunday American Photographer at KelliherLeft the Charles Street Jail.

"BIG BILL" KELLHER'S

Bank Wrecker Keliher Leaves Cell to Spend Safe and Sane 4th at Home.

"Big Bill" Keliher, who is a found guilty of aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in wrecking the National City Bank of Cambridge on June 16, and locked up in the Charles Street Jail in default of $50,000 bail, was released yesterday, his bond being furnished by the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company.

The big fellow chafed constantly under the restraint, and he suffered terribly from the heat. Most of the time he sat in his cell in his underclothing. When his lawyers or friends called on him he would invariably remark:

"If you don't get me out of this place I'll die."

It was said yesterday that the work of getting Keliher's bond was largely done by Mrs. Keliher. Mrs. Keliher is a quiet, domestic woman who has been kept in the background during all of her husband's trouble, but remarked brief to him regardless of the accusations that were made in court. Mrs. Keliher, a fine looking woman, called and had been accepted, and said: "Bill Bill" went to their home in Watertown together.

"I have nothing to say about my trial," said Keliher. "I'm glad I'm out. I'm going to Winthrop and spend a safe and sane Fourth with my family."

Daniel H. Coakley, of counsel for Keliher, said that he had obtained a month's extension of time for the filing of exceptions taken at the trial. Harvey H. Pratt, associated with Mr. Coakley in Keliher's defence, said:

"You may take it from me that Keliher will never serve a day in prison for the alleged crime of which he was convicted."

MOODY AT MAGNOLIA.

Supreme Court Justice First Open Air Trip Since Fall.

MAGNOLIA, July 2.—United States Supreme Court Justice William H. Moody arrived at his Summer home at Magnolia at 2:30 o'clock, this afternoon, after motoring over the roads from the Corey Hill Hospital, Brookline. It was Justice Moody's first trip out into the open air since last October, when he first went to the hospital. He enjoyed the trip immensely and felt slightly fatigued when he reached his home.

It is expected that the Summer's stay in Magnolia will do a world of good.

At his home to-night, the family thought the sea air would be beneficial, and it was stated that as the driveways into the country are smooth, motor trips should do much to bring back health to Justice Moody. His auto left Corey Hill Hospital at 2:20 o'clock.

DR. FURNIVALL DEAD.

Famous British Shakspearian Scholar's Long Life nDed.

LONDON, July 2.—Dr. Frederick James Furnivall, M. A., Ph. B., Lit. D., the eminent Shakespearian scholar and leader in the Christian Socialist movement, is dead at the age of 83 years. Dr. Furnivall had a many-sided man. Besides being a scholar and a leader in social reform, he was an enthusiast over athletics, particularly rowing, and was also a vegetarian. He celebrated his 84th birthday on February 4, 1909, by rowing from Putney to Mortlake, the Thames from Putney to Mortlake, the course over which the Oxford-Cambridge races are rowed.

Aviators Want Station.

SPENCER, July 2.—This town may have a flying machine station before long. Postmaster Tripp has received a letter from N. T. Hartshorn, of Sandersfield, who is laying out aviation lines, asking if he would say land suitable for a landing place for aeroplanes and dirigibles. Postmaster has been put up notifying land owners of what is sought.

He'll Be 87 July 4.

WAKEFIELD, July 2.—Edward Huse Walton will observe the eighty-seventh anniversary of his birth in Independence Day. At one time he was chief of police, chairman of the selectmen and served in the Legislature in 1850.

FIELD DAY TO AID CHURCH IN WALTHAM

Parishioners of St. Charles Plan a Novel Athletic Celebration for July 4.

The people of St. Charles Parish, Waltham, will give a field day in Central Park, Waltham, on July 4 to increase the building fund for a new church, school and rectory.

The opening feature of the day will be a parade, which it is estimated will be fully a mile in length. James D. Kelley, the chief marshal, and his aides will follow the mounted police, and he in turn will proceed the carriage containing the pastor, Rev. Fr. Walsh, and Rev. Fr. Callahan.

The Knights of Columbus, Foresters, Hiberalias, and Arcadian Guards are each to present some special feature in the parade while each section of the parish will give a float which will be arranged in the following order: Section No. 1, "The Goddess of Liberty;" Section No. 2, "The Birth of the American Flag;" Section No. 3, "Angels of the Battlefield;" Section No. 4, "Columbia;" Section No. 5, "No North or South To-day;" Section No. 6, "In Congress Assembled."

The Knights of Columbus are also to contribute four floats. The committees are to present a float representing the coronation of the Blessed Virgin, the patron of the parish, under Head Brilliancier Logue, assisted by Brilliancers Quirk and Connolly, have been drilling night after night and their parading will give a military touch to the parade. The line of march through the principal streets and then proceed to Central Park where they will disperse.

The young ladies, and even the little girls of the parish, have worked hard for the success of the Field Day, and under the direction of Miss Donovan of the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics, they have been preparing a flower fete.

The most important event of the day will be an athletic meet between the B. A. A. and the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. The team to be sent by the N. Y. A. C. will include Harry Gissing, the sprinter; Charles Riedgein, Charles Bacon, Jr., Edward Frick, W. W. Wagner and what he B. A. A. will hold their end up with an equally strong team among whom will be E. J. Nelson, W. A. Frost, Fred Bradley, S. Llewellyn, Allen Barth, H. W. Kelley, Fred Burns of Harvard, F. P. Offley, Exeter, P. D. Fogg, Syracuse, W. C. Bingham, P. H. Marveen, Ray Sadler, Hopkinton, Ellery H. Clark, H. A. Gilby and S. C. Lawrence.

ROYAL FAMILY OPPOSED.

Cousin of Late King Edward Weds Miss Silvia Edwardes.

LONDON, July 2.—Count Albert Oldenburg, one of the equerries of the late King Edward, and Sigrid Edwards, a maid of honor to Queen Alexandria, were married to-day. The romance, which resulted in the wedding, despite the strenuous family opposition, has been much discussed at court during the past year. Count Gleichen is a colonel in the British army and is a cousin of the late King Edward's as he is son of the late Prince Victor Hohenlohe. He was British military attache at Washington in 1905. Miss Sigrid Edwardes, of Washington, where her father was secretary of the British Legation from 1887 until 1892.

Miss Money to Talk Horse.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 2.—Newport hears that Miss Ethel Money of England has accepted an invitation by Alfred G. Vanderbilt to come to Newport some time this summer and deliver a lecture on horses at his Oakland farm, out in South Portsmouth. Miss Money is famed as a cross-country rider and all-round horsewoman, and the only woman ever granted a license to ride at Chantilly. She is a granddaughter of Lord Calmsborough.

CASHIER TUFTS HAD SIX OTHER TRADES ON THE SIDE

Steamship Agent, Salesman, Milkman, Chicken Farmer, Rose Cultivator, Etc.

ROCKPORT, July 2—George W. Tufts, cashier of the Rockport National Bank, who is under arrest, charged with misapplication of the funds of the bank, is one of the best known and most popular men in this town. He is Rockport's Jack-of-All-Trades, for he was engaged in a dozen different businesses in an effort to eke out a comfortable living.

He received a salary of $1,000 a year from the bank and made small incomes as a steamship agent, a typewriter salesman, a milkman, a chicken farmer, a cultivator of apple trees and rose bushes and a horse trader. In addition to all these trades he was a director in the Sandy Bay Pier Company.

The examinations of the Rockport finances revealed a shortage of $8,000. This money he got on three notes, the last of which was submitted to the officers of directors of the bank. One note was for $1,500, is secured by property owned by Tufts, and is signed by himself and his wife jointly. This reduced the amount shortage to $5,000, one note for $2,000 and one note for $4,000 and one by a note for $1,000.

What Did He Do With It?

If George Tufts took this money, what did he do with it? This is what everybody in Rockport would like to know. The conduct of Tufts is being discussed in the fish houses, at the quarries and in every home. Rockport would be buzzing to-day were it not for the Independence Day celebration.

He was such a hard worker, he was so unostentatious, he lived so quietly and he tried so hard to make a little money that his friends are said of it.

As cashier of the bank he worked from nine to four. During this time he was a steamship and excursion tickets in addition to his bank business and kept an eye on a little store next door where he had typewriters on exhibition.

When the bank closed he hastened down Beach street to his two acre farm where he raised chickens, ducks and turkeys and all sorts of knowledge about poultry. He farmed and was supposed to be quite a profit from his chicken farm.

A little further down is a large piece of land where he grew young apple trees which he transplanted for the rose bushes he wanted to buy them. He also grew and developed gladioli and knew a great deal about flower culture.

Kept Six Cows, Too.

Near his home on Summer street he kept half a dozen cows in pasture and assisted by Mrs. Tufts he ran a dairy and sold milk to the townspeople and summer visitors.

He knew a good deal about horses and dabbled in the sale of horses. At various times retiring a few days off to go through Vermont and New Hampshire looking for likely colts.

His property is estimated as worth about $10,000 and Rockport people cannot understand why he refused to mortgage every enough property to the directors of the bank to cover the shortage.

The Rockport Bank is sort of family affair. President Lelia Gross is Tufts's uncle by marriage and director J. Irving Norwood is a brother-in-law. Many of the directors are known to have pleaded with him to step over his property and save himself from disgrace.

"I will not dishonor my wife and boy," he answered in the face of all this. Now that Tufts is in trouble the townspeople people are showing the attitude he always took towards bank officials. He is considered the friend of the people, it is said to a prominent Rockport man.

His Opinion of Coleman.

"That Coleman ought to be thrashed or get rid of himself somehow. Anybody who gets into a scrape like that ought to die."

A former town official who was discussed in speculations some years ago as a likely candidate for the office against the advice of the Tufts, who thought he might be "put up to run" by the Democrats.

Tufts is not believed to have speculated often advised townsmen not to buy stocks. "The stockbrokers get you in the end," he would say.

"George Tufts had no expensive habits," said Irving Hodgkins, a Rockport merchant and friend of Tufts. "He worked so hard that he never had time to do it. He and his family was not expensive, and it is hard to see why he did this thing."

The modest little home of the cashier, on Summer street, a few doors from the bank, Mrs. Tufts is prostrated and will see nobody, and her son Harold, who is a student at the Gloucester High School, is heartbroken.

WELLESLEY GIRL WEDS.

Miss Jane S. Eaton Becomes the Bride of Amherst Athlete.

BROCKTON, July 2.—One of the prettiest weddings in this section took place this week, when Miss Jane Sprague Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eaton of Summer street, Bridgewater, and Howard Augustine Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Newton of Whitman, were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dunbar Bartlett Drinkwater, a brother of the bride, assisted by Rev. Augustine Newton, father of the groom.

The bride graduated from Wellesley in 1905, and until recently was a teacher in the Allington High School. Before she met her husband, who is assistant principal in the Bridgewater Normal School, she was graduated from Amherst in 1906. The year following his graduation he was a member of the athletic team at Athens in Greece, where he competed in the high hurdles.

DIAMOND THEFT AT SEA.

Gamblers Suspected of Robbing Woman on Big Liner.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Hoboken detectives are to-day searching the Hamburg-American liner America on her arrival for $3,500 worth of jewels stolen from Mrs. J. C. Stratford of Jersey City and a pair of $1,000 diamond rings owned by a passenger named Martinan. Five professional gamblers were aboard the liner and they had been ordered from the smoking room and kept in their quarters under guard. Many of the stolen jewels could not be found. There were no arrests made, the officers said, as they were not arrested.

Mrs. Stratford lost her jewels on the second day of the voyage. With them she had planned to surprise her sister, Princess to her brother in Jersey City and the rings were discovered by detectives over on hand to search the liner for her arrival.

BALL NINE ON PLAGUE SHIP.

Japanese Team Lands at Honolulu to Give Exhibition.

HONOLULU, July 2.—Suspected cases of bubonic plague was discovered on the steamship Chiyo Maru, which arrived yesterday from Hong Kong. The Waseda baseball team arrived to-day from Japan for a series of games with a nine from Oahu. The team was welcomed by the Mayor of Honolulu and a committee of prominent Japanese residents.

BUSINESS MEN WILL INSPECT BOSTON HARBOR

Excursion on July 12 to See How $3,000,000 Should Be Spent.

THERE will be a trip down the harbor on the steamship South Shore to give the business men of this city and others who are interested in civic improvements a chance to form an idea of what should be done to develop seaport facilities. The sum of $3,000,000 has been appropriated for Boston harbor development.

The outing will be on July 12, and the committee in charge is the Boston Trade Extension Committee and the Retail Trade Board of the Chamber of Commerce.

The South Shore will leave Rowe's wharf on Tuesday, July 12, at 2 P. M. The harbor line proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, the Congressional land, the Maverick Mills and Whitney area in East Boston, and the Commonwealth docks in South Boston, where the fish industry will be relocated, will be pointed out and described in detail.

After harbor inspection the boat will proceed to Nantasket, where a special shore dinner will be served in the Paradise garden. The South Shore will start on the return trip at 8:30 o'clock.

The dinner Senator Lodge, Governor Draper, Mayor Fitzgerald, George P. Lawrence, Congressman John A. Keliher, Admiral Bowles and President Bernard J. Rockwell will be the guests of honor. Among the other guests in the party will be Secretary of the Navy Meyer, Senator Crane, Congressmen Weeks, O'Connell, Gardner, Roberts and Rep. Foss, Collector Curtis, Harbor and Land Commissioner Smith, Harbor and Land Commissioner Smith, Harbor and Mansfield.

This is the second annual trip of business men to inspect the harbor under the same auspices. These trips not only give them very good opportunity to study Boston seaboard conditions but it makes the committee better able to work for better than in any other form of outing.

Shipping Notes

Saturday—Arrived: Steamer Belfast from Bangor; steamer City of Bangor from Bath; steamer Governor Cobb from St. John; steamer Prince George from New York; steamer Bay State from Portland; steamer Yale from Norfolk; steamer from St. John; steamer Prince George from Yarmouth; steamer A. W. Perry from Halifax.

Sailed: Steamer City of Memphis for Savannah; steamer Governor Dingley for Rockville; steamer H. M. Whitney for New York; steamer Governor Cobb for Norfolk and Baltimore; steamer Gresham for Philadelphia; steamer Bay State for Portland; steamer Belfast for Bangor; steamer City of Rockland for Rockland; steamer Saginore for Liverpool; steamer A. W. Perry for Halifax.

Sunday—Arrived: Steamer Camden from Bangor; steamer Ransom B. Fuller, from Philadelphia; steamer Governor Dingley from New York; steamer Governor Cobb from Norfolk; steamer Nacoochee from Savannah; steamer Nantucket from Norfolk; steamer Prince Albert from Yarmouth; steamer Governor Cobb from New York; steamer Ransom B. Fuller for Portland; steamer Prince Arthur from Yarmouth; steamer Governor Dingley for St. John; steamer Governor Cobb for London; steamer Prince Arthur for Yarmouth.

Monday—Arrives, steamer Bay State from Portland; steamer Yale from New York.

Sails—steamer Camden for Bangor; steamer Bay State for Portland; steamer Governor Cobb for Norfolk and Baltimore; steamer City of Rockland for Rockland; steamer City of Bangor for Bangor; steamer Belfast for Bangor. Foreign: Steamer Cabotia for St. John.

The following foreign steamships are overdue at this port: steamer Verona from China; steamer Kilmorey from Manila; the Philippines and the steamer Ripon Forth from Glasgow.

The following passenger liners are due here Monday: Bradford from Jamaica; steamer Ionian from Mediterranean ports; Glasgow; steamer Devonian from Liverpool.

NOTES OF THE CHURCHES.

Dr. Fitch of Andover Preaches in King's Chapel.

In King's Chapel to-day, at 10:30 a. m., Rev. Alfred Gooding Fitch, president of Andover Seminary, will preach. At the Arlington Street Church the service today will be conducted by Rev. Frank Orothingham, who will leave next week for his summer home in Maine.

On account of alleged Socialistic tendencies, the Methodist Church Review, "Methodist," a monthly magazine of that denomination which has been published for 62 years, has refused, it is rumored, to print the October issue of the publication or the months of July and August and, beginning with September, the Methodist Epworth Era will be published.

The Methodist Episcopal Church in Boston and vicinity will attend the annual meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union of America on July 7-10 at Saratoga.

The Chautauqua Assembly will meet at Montwait, Mass., July 19-31.

The annual camp meeting will take place this year, July 24-31.

COUNTING COST OF MAILS.

Task of Compiling Information Received From Railroads Begun.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The work of compiling information received from the railroads in the country concerning the cost of transporting the mails was begun to-day under the supervision of Joseph Stewart, auditor for the Post Office Department. Congress appropriated $10,000 for this purpose and the railroads refused to such form that it might be used as a basis for fixing the rates which ought to be allowed the railroads. A large force of clerks will work several months to complete the task.

HE'S 106; HE SHOULD KNOW!

NEW YORK, July 2.—One hundred and six years old to-day, Joseph Smith has time to tell congratulating friends that he had no secrets for longevity. "I don't let anything worry me," he said, "and I don't eat for it makes one sick. What I say is that if you don't drink you don't live, so I go on drinking."

Smith has been in this country a quarter of a century, but has learned only two English expressions. "How do you do?" and "Get out of here."

New Y. M. C. A. Man Begins Work.

The new educational secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, W. C. Smith, has entered upon his work. He is called to succeed A. H. Bookwalter. Mr. Smith was born in New York City and moved to St. Louis in 1878. Receiving his manual training under Calvin M. Woodward he began teaching in Illinois. He afterward was graduated from the normal school in southern Illinois in 1891 and began teaching important high school. His new duties are those of Wall

GIRL FENCER WHO ADVOCATES SPORT IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

FRANCIS E. TIGHE

FENCING IS URGED FOR SCHOOL GIRLS

MISS FRANCES TIGHE, twenty and pretty, wants girl pupils in Boston public schools taught fencing. She is expected to petition the School Board to add instruction with foils to the curriculum.

Miss Tighe thinks fencing the best of all forms of exercise for girls. She says it makes them graceful, alert and healthy. She lives at No. 18 Dimfield street, South Boston, and is passing now to interest all the young women in the art as well as how to make it taught in the grammar and high schools.

When she attended the South Boston High school she was a member of the "City Point" fencing club. Later she organized a club with foils for the girls of her neighborhood and examined by Fencing Master Lester. Under the auspices of the club she provides for the escape of every man and woman in the building in case of fire. In case she should be sunk by the torpedo of a war or other craft. She also provides for the escape of every man and woman in the building in case of attack by the torpedo of a war or other craft. She also provides for the escape of every man and woman in the building in case of attack by the torpedo of a war or other craft. She also provides for the escape of every man and woman in the building in case of attack by the torpedo of a war or other craft.

"Young women need some kind of interesting exercise," she said, "after they get through their work behind the counters of the stores where they are employed. I am a great walker and I know that walking is good exercise, but to do it well one should train it too much. So some time ago I turned my attention to fencing, for I have noticed the slipping of the muscles. We want something to do to develop nerve and poise, and I think that fencing does this as well as anything could. You can't learn to work for a living, have very little recreation that is not expensive. So I recommend fencing as an exercise which does not cost very much for the equipment.

"I hope that the school committee will see fit to introduce fencing into the schools, for then the girls will like fencing when they get to know a little about it."

EXPRESSMAN SUES.

Alleges Libel in Opposition to His License Application.

WAREHAM, July 2.—There is every reason to believe that the recent action of the selectmen in granting a "no" to the express license to John Zamboni of Tremont street, Onset, and Charles Hall of Onset Bay Grove, will be made a public issue at the next town election.

Zamboni, the "no" express license at Wareham Centre, one at Onset, and one at the Glenwood settlement. Mr. Zamboni and the residents of Tremont will be the issue.

After several hearings had been given the unanimous decision was handed down on account of the protests made by the townspeople, who assailed Zambonis character, but stated that personally they opposed no responsible party who applied for the license. Zambonis attorney, Francis Hurley, threatens a libel suit and his client has no court record whatever.

VOCATIONAL DISCUSSION.

Prominent Educators Will Be Heard on Tuesday Afternoon.

There will be a discussion of vocational education in the auditorium of the Boston City Club on Tuesday afternoon, among those who will speak are W. B. Hunt, director of the industrial department of the Pittsburg High School; Frederick J. Kelly, dean of the Carnegie Technical Schools, Pittsburg, Pa.; Frank A. Fetter, director of the New Bedford Industrial School; Dr. Edward J. Goodwin, of the Girls Trade School in this city; Robert Woods, of the South End House Association; A. D. Dunn, chief of the New York City School of Agriculture; Frank Dudley, principal of the Lawrence Industrial School.

FOR CHILD WELFARE.

Second Annual Meeting of Conference at Worcester Ended.

WORCESTER, July 2.—The second annual meeting of the Child Conference for Research and Welfare closed its two-day session here to-day. Rev. William G. Ballantine, president of the Board of Child Welfare Conference, spoke on "Parental Responsibility for Juvenile Delinquency." The work of the conference was presided over by Rev. Austin K. Gray, secretary of the Worcester Child Welfare Conference. Dr. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, spoke on "The Worcester Idea."

Hoopskirt Man Dead.

HOPKINTON, R. I., July 2.—Joseph Hall, the man who invented the hoopskirt which was popular with the women of (illegible) died in his home here to-day at the age of eighty-three.

NEW SUBMARINE TO TRY 2500-MILE RUN

Salmon to Make Test of Carrying Own Rations for "Over Seas" Trip.

QUINCY-BERMUDA ROUTE

Successful Test, First in the World's History, Means Much in Warfare.

For the first time in the history of the world a submarine is to attempt an "over seas" trip of 2,500 miles. The attempt will be made by the United States submarine Salmon, one of the three largest submarines in the navy. With the approval of the navy department she is to make the trip from Quincy to Bermuda. With favorable weather the Salmon will spend ten days in actual cruising, but will establish different ports she refills will stretch over a period of two weeks.

If the attempt is successful it will be most important in showing the possibilities of such craft in time of war. For, on this trip she will have to be able to prove that a submarine can be self-supporting for a long period as two weeks.

French Now Hold Record.

It is proposed that the Salmon make the trip to Bermuda under her own power and without convoy. She is a craft of the surface class, and will carry a crew of twenty men. But this means that she will submerge for the entire two weeks from the time she leaves Quincy. She might have to coal canned foods for the trip, as fresh stuff will not keep in the heat of a submerged craft.

The fact that the Salmon represents no new type for submerged stability to the extent of 200 feet. The Salmon can submerge to that depth for over ten minutes and not a sign of leakage or strain will be in evidence. The Salmon is the fastest in one of the eight requirements of the United States submarine fleet. The minimum submerged speed ever been submerged more than one of the most wonderful things about the Salmon is the engines of the craft. In case she should be sunk by the torpedo of a war or other craft she provides for the escape of every man in the building in case of attack by the torpedo of a war or other craft. She also

Filene's Washington and Winter Sts. | Filene's STORE CLOSED MONDAY.

Tunnel Bargain Basement

Filene's STORE CLOSED MONDAY. | Filene's Washington and Winter Sts.

TUESDAY You Will Have the Rare Opportunity of Getting One of These Very Extraordinary Bargains from

——'s Sample Lines

(Manufacturers and Importers, New York City)

of SUMMER Suits and Dresses

Who on Wednesday telephoned our New York office that they were ready to dispose of their Sample High Grade Linen Suits and Dresses (we agreed not to use manufacturer's name), and these we shall place on sale

Tuesday—Averaging ½ and Less

¶ These Suits and Dresses are all made of fine FRENCH LINENS, REPPS, etc., in white and summer colors. ¶ Workmanship is of the best (nearly all are HAND-TAILORED), many are hand-embroidered. ¶ Trimmings of fine laces. ¶ Many with Dutch necks and Irish Crochet collars.

¶ IN NO CASE MORE THAN ONE OF A KIND. ¶ One-Piece Dresses and Suits in 2 and 3-piece models. ¶ These being samples, they are about all in sizes 34 and 36. Suitable for Misses and Women.

¶ Remember that every lot is of the very highest grade—in MAKE, STYLE, MODEL, MATERIALS and WORKMANSHIP.

Dresses and Suits Worth 12.50 to 16.50 at	Dresses and Suits Worth 18.00 to 25.00	Dresses and Suits Worth 27.50 to 35.00	Dresses Worth 37.50 and more	Suits Worth 37.50 and more
8.90	10.90	13.75	16.75	14.75

TUESDAY Will Probably be Your Last Chance to Secure Some of the Remarkable Bargains From the

Store Closed Monday, July 4

John W. Watters Stock

At ½ Watters' Price or Less

A lot of House and Street Dresses in dark and light colors.—WATTERS' PRICE 7.90, at 3.65	A SMALL lot of Linen and Linon Suits: in natural colors: tailored models.—WATTERS' PRICE 5.90, at 2.95	Tailored Suits in fine imported materials: WATTERS' PRICES 49.90 to 55.00, at 24.95	Heavyweight Broadcloth and Mixture Coats: suitable for driving and automobile wear—WATTERS' PRICES 29.90 to 45.00, 14.65	An odd lot of Silk Dresses, taffetas, foulards, etc.—WATTERS' PRICES 19.90 to 22.90, at 9.95	Leightweight Worsted Suits; plain and fancy, mannish models: WATTERS' PRICES 21.90 to 25.90, at 10.95	A small lot of odd Worsted Suits: of all-wool materials: WATTERS' PRICE 10.90, at 5.45	Taffeta, Messaline and Net Waists: blacks and wanted colors: dainty models—WATTERS' PRICE 5.90, at 2.95

TUESDAY STORE CLOSED MONDAY

Another of these Sales for Mothers—the Sample Lines and Surplus Stocks of Two New York Makers.

GIRLS' WHITE AND COLORED DRESSES

These are all fresh, clean goods made up for this season—and sold out to us at a big concession, so that this manufacturer could begin his Fall season.

The White Dresses are all Lawns, and the Colored Dresses embrace a wide range of styles and colors; plenty of all sizes—6 to 14.

$1.50 Dresses 95c

$3.50 to $4.50 Dresses 2.45

$2 to $3 Dresses 1.49

$5 to $6 Dresses 2.95

A Sale of Children's Colored Lawn, Linene and Percale Dresses; Russian and French styles; sizes 2 to 6.

69c and 75c DRESSES 49c These are the dresses of which over 300 were sold the first day without any advertising at all.

Look Over the Items On This Page

And realize that Every Item has been sacrificed by the maker for some reason and sold to the Tunnel Bargain Basement for Cash. Every Lot Must be placed on sale at such an extraordinary Price that nothing should remain at the end of two weeks—when the Automatic Price Reductions are due.

End of 2nd Week 25%. If any Remain End of 4th week 75%. If any Remain End of 5th Week 50%. If Any Remain End of 6th Week They Will Be Given Away.

There Is No Other Store in the World that has an Automatic System of Price Reductions which make it necessary for Every Lot to be an extraordinary Bargain at the First Price.

Hundreds of Lots Every Day and Every Lot a Bargain!

Dresses Wash Dresses for Women and Misses, including Bates' Ginghams, Madras and Lawns, stripes and figures; 3.00 & 3.95 values (Tuesday) 1.95

Hosiery Women's 35c and 50c Gauze Black Lisle Thread Stockings, plain and lace patterns; all black, Hermsdorf dyed (Tuesday) 25c

¶These COAT SWEATERS are ready to go with you on your vacation to the Seashore, Country or Mountains—at ⅓ to ½ off!

TUESDAY STORE CLOSED MONDAY

¶ Just received from a New York House doing business by catalog only and representing their Entire Surplus Stocks.

LOT 1—Just 149 "Varsity" Coat Sweaters, in fancy stitches; solid pearl buttons and pockets; white, gray and red; CATALOG PRICE 1.49 . 95c

LOT 2 — Just 212 Coat Sweaters in popular rib stitch; fine worsted, two side and one breast pocket; white, grey and red; CATALOG PRICE 4.98 . 2.95

TUESDAY STORE CLOSED MONDAY.

¶ All Coat Style. ¶ Made of softest selected worsteds or fine Zephyrs. ¶ All plain colors.

LOT 3 — Just 127 Coat Sweaters, 52 inches long, made of soft selected Australian worsted; 2 pockets, full skirt. These sweaters are all WHITE; CATALOG PRICE 9.98, at 4.95

LOT 4 — Just 263 Coat Sweaters of fine worsted, 38 inches long, double-breasted, side pockets; CATALOG PRICE 6.98, at 3.45

Black and Colored Taffeta SILK petticoats; 3.50 to 5.00 values 2.69

Friday Morning we were Busy Unpacking the Hundreds of WAISTS Represented in These 12 Lots and Getting Ready for Tuesday the Big Sale of Waists Described Below!

The results of our buyer's last week's New York trip. Every lot sacrificed for some reason or other. We direct particular attention to the 7.00 to 15.00 Waists at 3.95. A manufacturer's samples and one of the best lots we have had for many months.

69c Outing Waists made of sheer lawn, self rolling collar, side pocket and short sleeves 45c	89c Summer Waists; with wide panel of fine embroidery down front and cluster of tucks 55c	1.00 Dressy Lingerie Waists; of sheer lawn, allover embroidery fronts, high or Dutch neck, lace trimmed short sleeves 69c	1.00 Dressy Lingerie Waists; sheer lawn, dainty yokes of lace insertions and medallions; or solid yoke of fine pin tucks; long or short sleeves 79c	1.25 Dutch Neck Waists; of fine Persian lawn; trimmed with valenciennes lace and embroidery medallions, and short sleeves 89c	A sample lot of 1.50 to 2.00 Lingerie Waists; elaborately trimmed with fine lace or with dainty embroidery; high or Dutch neck 95c
2.00 to 2.50 Lingerie Waists; attractive lace fronts, high or low neck, short sleeves . . . 1.45	A manufacturers' line of Sample 3.00 to 4.50 Waists; lace and embroidery trimmed; also allover eyelet embroidery models at 1.95	5.00 to 6.00 Sheer Batiste Waists; trimmed with imported embroidery in pretty styles 2.65	Cool China Silk Waists, with Persian trimmings, Dutch neck and allover eyelet embroidery, dainty lace insertions, 3/4 or kimono sleeves . . . 3.25	7.00 to 15.00 Lingerie Waists; extremely dressy models, trimmed with Baby Irish, German Valenciennes lace and hand embroidery . . . 3.95	3.00 Lingerie Waists; elaborate front of embroidery and linen lace insertions, or dainty lace yoke and insertion . . 1.65

Many Other Lots for TUESDAY Not Even Mentioned

Boston American
General News
SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910. SUNDAY, JULY

EDUCATORS OF ENTIRE NATION ARE GATHERED IN BOSTON

MAYOR FITZGERALD, THROUGH AMERICAN, WELCOMES TEACHERS TO CITY

To the Delegates of the National Education Association:—

You are holding your convention this year in a community which has from its foundation placed education among its foremost interests second only to religion and well abreast of patriotism and industry.

Over the portals of its numerous institutions you will find inscribed such names as Franklin and Horace Mann, Eliot and Lowell. Besides these establishments of formal learning you will see libraries and museums dedicated to the instruction of the people as well as to the advancement of science.

You will observe what pains have been spent to make our galleries of painting and sculpture, our opera house and music halls worthy of the arts to which they are devoted.

... ill perceive, are fields of study as well as recre... grounds for the multitude. Everywhere in our ... and the dissemination of knowledge are held in the highest ... no profession is more respected than that which you represent.

Our people will follow your deliberations and discuss your conclusions with no perfunctory interest but with a deep conviction of their supreme importance.

I merely voice their sincere and spontaneous sentiments in welcoming you to Boston and to assert that our historic city with its ring of pleasant suburbs, its monuments and institutions, its abundant opportunities for relaxation and study will repay you for the time you spend in its borders.

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor of Boston.

WONDERFUL HOSPITALITY IS SHOWN BY BOSTONIANS, SAYS HEAD OF THE TEACHERS

James Y. Joyner, President of the National Education Association, Says the Mighty Welcome Tendered the Thousands of Visitors in 1903 Is Sure to Be Far Outdone This Year By the Bay State Hosts.

By JAMES Y. JOYNER,
President National Education Association.

ALTHOUGH I have visited many of the most progressive cities of our country where our conventions have been held, I can freely say that none have displayed a deeper interest, a greater enthusiasm or a more heartfelt desire to please than Boston shows on the eve of our ... gathering.

I have ... ted Boston before ... Always ... the hospitality and gracious refinement of our entertainment in 1903 will remain with me. But somehow I feel that even the wonderful record made at that time will be outdone this year.

And I am not alone in this. Upon my arrival at my hotel I found several letters from the State superintendents of the association in the South. Without exception each reported that the delegations this year to the conference would be notably larger than in many years. The South has a wonderful respect for Boston, for her culture and for her educational institutions. They have looked to her in many things for advice, and never have they found other than enthusiastic co-operation.

I like Boston and her people. I cannot help but feel that the city has an atmosphere of culture and of love for the best things in life which many of our younger cities do not boast. But I do not wish to bring to Boston any message which has the least hint of sectionalism. We are a nation, and the South is as national as the North.

All sections of the country have their peculiarities. They are all famous for some trait, some good, some bad. The hospitality of the Southland has been vaunted as a marked trait of her people. But it is my experience that a man is a man a country over and that people at heart are pretty much the same. And I know that Boston has given of her hospitality in the past in no less an open-hearted manner than any Southern city could have shown.

I look for a great gathering here, and those who visit the many conferences so well arranged and which promise to be so ably conducted will find that this convention is to be one of the most helpful we have ever experienced.

Wonderful as was the impression made at our last visit, I am even more surprised at the ... I ... for a ... and ... of ... ours.

Prominent women in the Teachers' Federation of Chicago active ... here at eight ... Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the public schools of Chicago, and president of the National Education Association, 1909-10. Miss Margaret A. Haley, president of the Chicago Federation of Teachers. Miss Catherine Goggin, president of the Chicago Teachers' Federation. Miss Grace Dodge, president of the Chicago Board of Education. Miss Mary C. C. Bradford, principal of the Lucy Flower Technical High School. Miss Ella C. Stewart, librarian of the Chicago Public Library. Miss Jane Addams, head of Hull House, Chicago. Miss Julia C. Lathrop, member of the Chicago Board of Education.

LAUDS SACRIFICE FOR CAUSE OF EDUCATION

In presenting his annual report, Joseph ... Swain, president of Swarthmore College and president for the past three years of the National Council of Education, praised the sacrifices and work done by members of the council for the cause of education.

Professor Swain presided at the council session yesterday in the Old South Church. In opening the morning session he said, in part:

"In pursuing the object of this council, as set forth in the preamble to its constitution and in the several separate resolutions of the council in the past few years in harmony therewith, it is the purpose at this time of its body to take the ... gramme in three parts. First the ... of the educational progress of the year which is required by the constitution. Second, the reports of committees for special investigation and a general discussion of the same. Third, a general discussion of other important topics which may, if the council so directs, be taken up in the future by committees deemed especially fitted by training and experience to make special study and embody their conclusions in a report to the council.

Entails Much Labor.

"The great amount of labor and time expended by our committees without compensation or even money for traveling expense or clerical services is an indication of the fact that our educational leaders are willing to do everything in their power, even though it means much personal sacrifice, to advance the great work of American education.

"These reports are all made with care and with great labor, and they are serving a distinct purpose. They are not only of service to themselves, but they have been instrumental in starting further investigation in the United States Bureau of Education and in private societies and foundations.

For example, growing out of the work of the committee on exceptional children, a new committee has been appointed to present a report to be published by the United States Bureau of Education.

"The United States Commissioner of Education has appointed the chairman of ... committees chairman of another committee to prepare a report for publication by the bureau. This committee in turn has secured the aid of one of the professors of the University of Pennsylvania and one of the members of the Sage Foundation.

Should Point Out Reform.

"Thus the work of the council has been successful in promoting not only its own work, but the work of all these other ... bodies.

"Possibly one of our leading functions should be the testing of the theories and experiences of other workers and the pointing out of needed reform in the public school systems, and investigations to be made by educational bureaus of State and national government as well as all private foundations for education and research.

"Perhaps the time has arrived when one or more additional committees should be appointed to take up some of the many questions which our rapidly developing public school system is creating in order to adjust itself to the changed conditions of our civilization."

RECEPTION TO TEACHERS ATTENDING CONVENTION

Mayor Fitzgerald greeted several thousand teachers yesterday afternoon between 3 and 5:30 o'clock, when he was the central figure at the initial reception of the Boston Elementary Teachers Club, which numbers 1,537 members. The incident part about the whole affair was that it was entirely informal. The Mayor said that the half-hour was one of the finest ever. He welcomed the teachers to Boston, and told them the town was theirs while they are here.

The members of the Elementary Club are the mainspring behind the preparations which make the coming of so great a gathering of teachers possible, and it was given the teachers yesterday to ... "Mayor Fitzgerald! Why, we'll ask him ..." suggested Miss Marguerite L. Lalla, chairman of the ... committee.

The Mayor was ... once invited inside the parlors. He ... introduced by Miss Lalla, who made a short speech. Mayor Fitzgerald bowed ... "You are all welcome to Boston," the Mayor said. "The whole city is yours while you are here. A warm welcome extends to you in its heartiest way, and everybody ... every ... Mayor Fitzgerald was given a chance to meet the teachers, all the way ... The speechmaking over, Mayor Fitzgerald was given a ... and was photographed. The ... Mayor was cheered as he drove off in his ... auto.

WANTS SCHOOLS KEPT OPEN ENTIRE YEAR

Continuous use of school buildings is urged by William H. Maxwell, superintendent of schools of New York city. Mr. Maxwell spoke at the summer session of the Old South building yesterday on "The Economic Use of Education Plants." He said in part:

"That a public school building may be used profitably all the year round is the ... of the time. ... afternoon, evening and ... ought to be ... devoted to the ...

PRESIDENT TAFT WILL ADDRESS MULTITUDE AT GATHERING IN STADIUM

Preliminary Sessions of Great Convention Brings Out Valuable Suggestions in the Papers Read by School Leaders. Series of Visits to Historic Sites is Planned by the Visitors.

THE teachers are here.

Between 80,000 and 85,000 school teachers are in town. More are coming. They are here for the forty-eighth annual convention of the National Education Association ...

But they don't rehearse a ... every time. They just call it "N. E. A." and let it go at ...

Those three letters are ... all over the city now. They will be in evidence till next Friday. Then the ...

At the last Boston convention—seven years ago—over 25,000 delegates were registered. They expect to beat that number this year. The ... attendance is swelling hourly. Thousands more will arrive to-day, ... points. Others will come to-morrow, especially from nearby places.

While there were preliminary meetings yesterday, the convention proper will not begin until to-morrow, which will be Taft Day. The big feature tomorrow will be the address by President Taft to the teachers in Harvard Stadium at 3:30 in the afternoon. The presence of the National Executive is, of course, a tremendous card for the convention management. The big superintendents and supervisors from the important city schools are keenly alive to the interest attaching to the presidential address. But no less eager are the great rank and file of teachers, even down to the conscientious "schoolma'am" from the humble district school in the backwoods. The opportunity to hear and see the President to such advantage is highly prized.

GREAT ATTENDANCE AT OPENING SESSION

Following Taft Day, the convention ... and Technical Education in the Secondary Schools" ... swing busily into the multiple questions ordinary schools" ... of the four following days.

The afternoon session was closed with a ... There were meetings all day yesterday, general discussion of the "Industries" topic in the Old South Church on Cedar Square, by C. G. Scott, State superintendent of ... of the National Council of Ed... Mr. Scott, John G. Thompson ...

The morning session began at 9:30 ... National Council at Fi... a heavy attendance. Joseph ... president ... Valparaiso (Ind.) ... dent of Swarthmore College, ... M. Thomas, principal State ... of the council, was in the ... Boston, N. J.; L. D. Ha... his annual report. James L. ... Pease, superintendent ... superintendent of schools of ... P. H. Dyer, superintendent ... ported for the committee ... Bardwell, John M. ... dress. The discussion ... Western School Journal; ... ared by Superintendent P. ... Superintendent Maxwell, of ... Louis, Superintendent ... Dr. Dyer, Superintendent W. C. ... of Denver, Miss Bertie D... Detroit, Mich.; State Superintendent Robert ... ed, Superintendent W. C. ... Grand Rapids, Mich.; G. M. Phillips, principal ... speaker was Elmer Ellsworth ... mal School of West Ch... United States commissioner of education ... Superintendent Julia ... in the subsequent discussion those speaking included: H. H. Babcock, Rhode Island ... New York, Miss Grace C. ... State Normal School, Providence; Miss Ad... dent Interborough Associates of Women ... Teachers of Brooklyn. ... claids S. Taylor, superintendent of schools ...

"The Economic Use of Education Plants" ... Wabash, Ind.; Miss Anna Tolman, ... was subject of an address by William H. ... bureau of Education, Washington. ... Maxwell, superintendent of New York City ... schools. A general discussion followed in ... which those participating were ... Lewis H. Jones of State Normal ... Saint, Mich.; State Superintendent Robert ... A. ... of Indiana, Superi... ... Brown of Joliet, Ill.; W. F. Cunningham ...

President State Normal School at Springfield, Mo.; Arthur H. Chamberlain, superintendent of schools, Birmingham, Ala.

National Council Meeting.

At 2:30 the National Council ... session to hear the report of the committee on ... The Influence of Universities ... Professor R. H. Richards, ... Lehigh, New York city; ... Director of the Bureau of Research, Philadelphia, ... in the Elementary Schools," ... Industrial Schools" ... Snedden of Boston, ... cation for Massachusetts; ... Keyes, superintendent of ... District, and ... and happy ... where.

The meeting closed with a report on ... Courtenay Progress During the Year," ... Strong, chancellor of University ... Boston has shown a wonderful spirit ... hospitality, a spirit of progress which ... as a distinct surprise to many, and a ... of Tulane University, ... as a result the delegates almost literally have ... been swept from their feet by the welcome ...

For the most part the visitors arrived ... at the South Station and by the ... sight of the railroad officials a number of ... special trains were run every few minutes ... to take them to Trinity Place station, ... which is within a short walking distance ... of the headquarters. Arriving at the old ... Art Museum where the convention ... headquarters the visitors found one of ... the largest buildings ever given over ... exclusive use in the history of ... tion.

Headquarters Are Ample.

To attempt to describe the bu... rooms of the building and give ... a hint of hours. ... But the teachers will ...

WORLD EDUCATORS ARE ASSEMBLED FOR BIG CONVENTION IN BOSTON

Delegates from Many States and Cities Are Given Great Reception

Visitors Greatly Pleased W[illegible] Entertainment That Has Been Offered Th[illegible] and Give Great Praise [illegible]

Continued from Preceding Page.

ment executive [illegible] excursion Information bureau, [illegible] rooms, a rester hospital a[illegible] room, a bootblack's stand and, most popular of all, a large palm garte[illegible] the center of the open cou[illegible] which has been covered by lighted [illegible] of the most popular rest [illegible]

On the [illegible] Dr. Conway [illegible] Club, the [illegible] ed com[illegible] Mrs. Ge[illegible] Dany. [illegible] tables be[illegible] the main floor the [illegible] service [illegible] It is well [illegible] ing room [illegible] ing [illegible] the [illegible] depart[illegible]

The [illegible] to interest [illegible] ing for [illegible] and no [illegible] ter [illegible] is also [illegible] been [illegible]

But the [illegible] has [illegible] ad[illegible] facilities [illegible] They have planned [illegible] to [illegible] may find [illegible] doing [illegible] That phrase [illegible] what [illegible] there [illegible]

[illegible] to Boston, then [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

PRESIDENT TAFT TO ADDRESS TEACHERS IN STADIUM TO-MORROW

Boston Opens Its Gates to Host of Educators for Great Convention

A group of teachers posing for American photographer. From left to right—Miss Josie Hackett, Miss Sara Ennis, Miss M. F. Wiese, Miss Nell Wagen, Miss Alice Goodman, Miss Virginia Makepeace, Miss Bessie Gray, Miss Ina Pollitt, Miss Bertha Wolf, Miss Emma Wolfenstein, Miss Eva Tilton. At bottom [illegible] Miss A. Aubin, Miss Charlotte Pitts.

WOMEN TEACHERS SURE MRS. YOUNG WILL WIN

Vigorous Campaign Carried on by Delegates for Chicago Educator.

IT looks from the outside as though the National Education Association stood a good chance of having a woman for the first time in its history.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, the capable superintendent of schools in Chicago, is the woman in the case.

The election will occur next Thursday. Already the workers are electioneering long and strong.

In this particular person to exemplify what thought is more active than Mrs. Young, who is the mother of seven children, to be sure, even before she was superintendent of schools in Chicago, and who is in charge now of correspondence in connection with the convention headquarters at the Quincy, nature's gentle, motherly way, rather than the weather

Start Boom for Mrs. Young.

[illegible] and [illegible] boom of Mrs. Young fostered that had the very word in mind but prejudiced many [illegible] and almost literally forced her to [illegible]

[illegible] delegates are not only friendly [illegible] but enthusiastic. [illegible] ing of the women out almost to a man [illegible] to cast their ballots [illegible] Thursday. [illegible] Young [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY IS BETTER THAN CRAP GAMES

Lawyer Peckham Makes a Plea for Open Playgrounds on the Sabbath.

POOR ARE HANDICAPPED

Nothing to Do to Keep Them Out of Mischief, Says Philanthropist.

"THE best way to abolish crap games and other vicious practices among the boys and young men of the congested districts is to allow them to play ball, base ball and tennis on public playgrounds on Sundays" declared Alexander I. Peckham, secretary of the Boston Newsboys' Club a prominent attorney and well-known philanthropist.

"I believe that it was should be awarded to allow games on the parks and playgrounds on Sundays and I will do all in my power to bring about such a state of affairs.

"I like to go to church and probably enjoy church services as much if not more than the average [illegible] Mr. Peckham, "but I do not [illegible] people going to church in idleness on Sunday. I prefer to preserve a [illegible] relief for Mr. [illegible] very truthful proverb, and [illegible] is indubitably preferable to [illegible] words.

Dread o[illegible] Sunday.

"The city has [illegible] sums to establish playgrounds [illegible] the congested districts, but the [illegible] boy of this week the poor people have [illegible] these playgrounds [illegible] closed off them by Sunday policemen.

"We walk [illegible] through the poorer districts and I [illegible] what conditions are. The [illegible] to play baseball or other [illegible] except the side open spaces [illegible] doorways, their [illegible] wandering what [illegible] aggressive in character because they h[illegible] to play [illegible] games, know [illegible] during [illegible]

Where To Learn to Drink.

"If [illegible] served [illegible] some of [illegible] elder [illegible] in the [illegible] the [illegible] to drink. I [illegible] a number of young men [illegible] not because they [illegible] to [illegible] is his automobile, [illegible] conduct [illegible] assessments on Sunday [illegible] on the alert to prevent the poor from enjoying themselves.

"What is more pitiful than a squad of [illegible] these players [illegible] one open, most of the people [illegible] have only an hour of [illegible] them, since they have to work all day."

"AUNT DELIA" TALKS.

She Doesn't Believe "Bob" Taft Was to Blame in Accident.

MILLER [illegible] to Tay[illegible] Robert Taft, from home to the accident [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

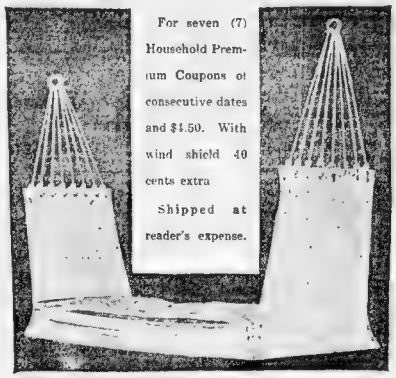
Furnish Your Summer Home With Boston American Household Premiums

The demand for Household Premiums for summer cottages, bungalows and camps is so great, and our readers are so hampered in their efforts by the fact that 30 coupons of consecutive dates have been required, we have decided to afford them a means of securing the premiums at short notice. Therefore, beginning to-day,

Seven Coupons of Consecutive Dates

Will be sufficient, with a small cash payment, to secure any article in our Household Premium Dept.

Here are a Few Seasonable Articles for Your Summer Home



For seven (7) Household Premium Coupons of consecutive dates and $1.50. With wind shield 40 cents extra Shipped at reader's expense.

Bed Hammock

Made of extra heavy Duck, and equipped with exceptionally good mattress; heavy wood frame, galvanized iron rings, heavy ropes and very strongly built.

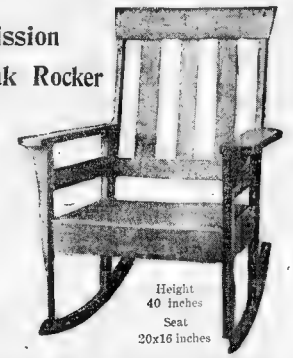
"Best" Gas Stove

A remarkable offer of these two-burner gas stoves, nickel plated throughout. Made of the best material and thoroughly reliable in every respect. Must be seen to be appreciated, for seven (7) Household Premium Coupons and only $1.75; 25 cents extra if delivered by wagon or express.

Living Room Lamp

Exact photograph of Lamp. Stands 19 inches high, mission oak body, 12-inch Square Shade of Opalescent Cathedral Glass, with black frame. When illuminated, the effect is beautiful and very pleasing to the eye. For seven consecutively dated coupons and only $2.50 if called for; 25 cents extra if delivered by wagon or express.

Mission Oak Rocker



Height 40 inches
Seat 20x16 inches

Finished in mission, upholstered in beautiful leatherette which harmonizes with the mission finish, making a most attractive chair. Seven Household Coupons of consecutive dates and only $3.90 Express Prepaid.

Fireless Cookers

Summer Cooking Made Convenient and Comfortable

No fire to watch, no heat in the kitchen, nothing to "boil over." Just put your dinner in the cooker in the morning, spend the day as you will, and at "dinner time" your dinner will be well cooked and "piping hot."

An all-metal Fireless Cooker with Baking and Roasting Combination, easily cleaned and thoroughly sanitary throughout. For 7 consecutively dated coupons clipped from page 2, Daily and Sunday, and $1.95 in cash, if called for, or $2.20 if delivered by wagon or express

This new feature is open to all our readers, but is particularly intended for those desiring to secure these articles for this season's use. Select your premium and secure it at the end of one week.

Numerous other useful and ornamental articles. Call and see them or send for a catalogue.

Boston American Household Premium Department

272 DEVONSHIRE STREET

MELLEN ALARMED BY RIVAL NOW PLANS EXTENSIONS

Grand Trunk's Plans Force New Haven to Propose Traffic Deal.

THE petition of the Grand Trunk way to get into Rhode Island crossing Massachusetts from I to the State line is characterized by J. F. Atchison, counsel for the New H and former chairman of the Massach Railroad Commission, as an "attem. settle difficulties between the Grand T and the Canadian Pacific." In the ei hours of the big railroad fight, the Haven also betrays a fear that the G Trunk has its eye on Boston.

The Grand Trunk petition, together the petition of the New Haven to in substantially the same territory, the hands of Railroad Commissioners of Fitchburg, White of Melrose and Bl of Newtonville.

Attorneys for the Grand Trunk and New Haven have been given until Wed day of this week to submit additional m ments in writing. Within ten days commissioners will decide whether the Haven or the Grand Trunk, either, or are entitled to a certificate of "public cessity" to go ahead and build.

Suspicious of Haye.

That Mr. Mellen and the big financ associated with him in the gigantic tr portation monopoly in New England Haven are suspicious of President Hi and the directors has been made plain every effort the New Haven has made to keep the Grand Trunk out of M. sachusetts.

The New Haven is now so thorough in earnest in its opposition to the Grand Trunk with a new network of ra and roads and steamships that Chairman ... say that the Grand Trunk must be sa tioned to the use these, under some ... day's fair agreement.

The situation developed within th days, few days is that which was fore ... by the Boston Sunday Herald ... Sunday. The contest is the usual ... railroad chess. President Hays of t Grand Trunk has made two moves in ... open. He got a charter to build in Rhod Island. He asks to be allowed to ... struct some sixty miles in Massachusetts ... from Palmer, which is served by the New ... London and Northern—leased by the Gr ... trol Vermont, controlled by the Grand Trunk—through Uxbridge, Southbridge ... Webster and Hartford to Providence ... Backeloe.

Mellen, sitting across the table, pays ... but slight attention to these plays. What Mr. Mellen wants to know is, just what Mr. Hays is driving at. What is in his mind? asks the New Haven president. He thinks he knows, too.

In the discussion that has just been heard by Commissioners Hall, Bishop and White ... James F. Jackson speaks for Mr. Mellen and Judge Thomas W. Kenrick of Palmer for Mr. Hays.

Grand Trunk's Intentions.

Jackson, counsel for the New Haven, gave up the Railroad Commission chairmanship a few years ago to take this new connection. Kenrick, a distinguished Worcester County attorney, was prominent before Jackson left the Legislature.

"The Grand Trunk," says Attorney Jackson to the Railroad Commissioners, "says it has no present intention of extending its line to Boston. The reason for that is that the Canadian people are fearful that an invasion of their business territory might follow the extension of Grand Trunk shipments direct to Boston.

"It is incredible that the Grand Trunk has lost its way. It is incredible that the Grand Trunk is trying to get into Boston by way of Providence.

"It must be clear that the Grand Trunk Railway has not mistaken Providence for a great commercial terminal and route to Mother ... the Providence River ... was laid out. It is found upon some errand ... was not require that.

"If my friends in Rhode Island think it ... accidentally ... but his real purpose will soon not yet been given to the public," ... Chairman Jackson took occasion to point out that the Grand Trunk is a new corporation controlled from London ... the public is made for Mr. Mellen, a new ... Rhode Island ... preparing what the New ... will be ... prepared to do for Massachusetts ... in order ... Grand Trunk in order to keep the ... Attorney ... Trunk from having additional ... The new ... with the Commonwealth ... in brief ... the latest proposal of the New ... Haven to ... Rhode Island. It ... now asking for ... provided the Grand ... Trunk petition is turned down—and the ... same time reconstruct the line from East ... Thompson ... to Southbridge, and apply, ... as soon as it is finally ... for leave to ... extend its line still further, ... to Rockville, there to connect with the Central ... Division of the Boston & Maine.

Deal is Proposed.

"The New Haven," said former Chairman Jackson, "is prepared to enter into a ... traffic or ... agreement with the Grand ... Trunk ... to be fixed by the ... and Commissioner, that will give ... Grand Trunk the joint use of the ... from Southbridge to Palmer. We ... enter into a similar agreement ... the Grand Trunk may enter Boston ... way of Palmer.

"However, while I cannot speak with ... authority for the Boston & Maine Railroad, I give to the Massachusetts Railroad Commission the word of President Mellen of the New Haven that as a director of the Boston & Maine—he will exert all his influence to bring about any reasonable rearrangement of the terms upon which the traffic of the Grand Trunk is brought to Boston over the tracks of the Boston & Maine."

Judge Kenrick, speaking for the Grand Trunk people and in the presence of Earl ... Fitz Hugh, first vice-president on the Canadian road, reminded the Railroad Commission that somewhere in the reports of the Commission in the past the board had "been take no account of the motives of railroad management, except as they express themselves in results."

This was the cue for reference of counsel for the Grand Trunk to the intimation that Hays had been "sounding" Mellen ... here." Judge Kenrick insisted that the ... and only question before the Railroad Commission is whether public convenience and necessity require the construction of a railroad between two points in Massachusetts.

The Demand for "Protection."

"The argument of the New Haven," he said, "is that forever and all times a party should be protected in a position that it occupies. So, in days of old, the stage coach proprietor resented the coming of the railroad.

"The New Haven has considered a kind of competition that involves bad feeling. and temper. There is nothing of that sort in the facts disclosed.

"Mr. Mellen, when he spoke in Rhode Island at the time our charter was granted by the Legislature, labored under the impression that all he had to do was to assure Rhode Island the people would rise up and say, 'Get out, you Canadian pirates. Go and your money in Canada!'

"Strange to say, gentlemen, that, it turns out, is not the attitude of our people."

The Grand Trunk, in the closing hours of the case, put on a score of additional witnesses from the Missouri-Dakota territory interested, all supporting the contention of the Grand Trunk. The New Haven called

Dr. ... Wo... ... heard ... for weeks for ... had been ... the New ... for freight ... New ... Haven. ... CHEMICAL ... Wash.

A MAN ARRESTED AS MARTIN WALSH RELEASED

... Prisoner Taken i... ot Can't Be Identified ... the Faro King.

A ... IN believed to be Martin J Walsh ... Poetry kit in front of ... was used in $2,000 ... United States Commissioner ... Taxes in Pawtucket. After the night in jail, the prisoner was ... Providence yesterday. He denied ... Walsh, and declared that his ... Joseph W. Manning of East ... R. I. He was discharged at 3 ... States Marshal Guy Murchie sent ... to Providence yesterday for ... identifying the prisoner. ... was Police in ... Lowell, who telephoned back ... William H. Watts that ... whatever or not the man was ... seemed to be in doubt also. ... engaged a lawyer, Thomas ... who made the arrangements ... a Mr. Walsh. His name is ... He lives at East ... He was arrested as a ... ...

FINANCIAL

SHRINKAGE IN 38 LEADING COPPERS

Amounts to $334,000,000, but 30 Per Cent. of Th's Is in Two Stocks.

There has been a shrinkage of over $334,000,000 in the selling price of thirty-eight of the more important copper stocks listed in the Boston Stock Exchange from the high prices of 1909 to those reached the last week. Of this huge loss the drop in Amalgamated accounts for $101,000,000, and the drop in [illegible] $41,000,000, these two alone accounting for almost 43 per cent of the total shrinkage in spite of the fact that [illegible]

HALF-PRICE SALE—Tuesday

Room for Only a Partial List On This Page

IN 55 DEPARTMENTS OF THIS GREAT STORE

Room for Only a Partial List On This Page

R. H. WHITE CO.

BUY ENOUGH FOR ALL SUMMER—for not only is every item absolutely half price, or less, but the quality is just as desirable as if you paid full prices.

Our Half-Price Guarantee

WE GUARANTEE each and every item advertised in this Half Price Sale to fully measure up to the following rigid conditions:

WE GUARANTEE ALL NEW PURCHASES for this Half Price Sale to be HALF OR LESS THAN HALF THE REGULAR SELLING PRICE of the same or similar good merchandise as offered up to the day of sale in our store or in any other reputable store.

WE GUARANTEE ALL ODD AND BROKEN LOTS to be HALF OR LESS THAN HALF THE SELLING PRICE of such lots as the ticket marks show the original selling price. This in many cases means that half price is one-third or one-fourth the regular price earlier in the season.

Did you ever know of a great Half-Price Sale conducted under such rigid conditions?

"Ready Made" Wash Dresses

$1.00 Lawn and Percale Dresses—Attractive, button front styles. HALF PRICE SALE 49c

$3.95 to $5.00 Wash Dresses—Pure linen gingham, chambray and linene one-piece dresses, button front or back, all colors and sizes, 8 different styles, 16 dresses. HALF PRICE SALE $1.98

$5.00 to $5.95 Wash Dresses—Lingerie and dotted Swiss appliqué dresses. HALF PRICE SALE $2.45

Women's Gloves

75c Long Silk Gloves—Women's 12-button pure silk mousquetaire gloves, in black only. HALF PRICE SALE 35c

50c Silk Gloves—Women's 2-clasp pure silk gloves, with double finger tips, in black, modes, grays and champagne colors. HALF PRICE SALE 25c

Women's Underwear

25c Lisle Vests—Women's white ribbed lisle vests, low necks, no sleeves, lace trimmed. All sizes. HALF PRICE SALE 12½c

50c Lisle Vests—Women's extra fine white Swiss ribbed vests, low necks and sleeveless, finished with embroidery or lace trimming. All perfect. HALF PRICE SALE 25c

$1.00 Union Suits—Women's extra good quality white lisle union suits, fine ribbed, no sleeves, umbrella knee, lace or hem trimmed. HALF PRICE SALE 50c

WOMEN'S SUITS

$30.00, $35.00, $40.00 and $50.00 Suits—The greatest clearance event we ever held in Women's Suits. The prices quoted above are our regular retail prices. The suits are all new this season. MATERIALS are finest imported serges, beautiful gray worsteds, a few pongees, hairline stripes, serges in various shades, a number of fine men's wear fabrics. STYLES are mostly of the plainer sorts, some with a slight touch of trimming, also a number of beautifully braided models. All are lined with finest peau de cygne. HALF PRICE SALE $15.00

$10.00 to $15.00 Linen Suits—Every linen suit this prominent manufacturer had YOU CAN BUY TWO BEAUTIFUL LINEN SUITS FOR THE USUAL PRICE OF ONE. Splendid assortment of natural linen color and white, including all the new colors. The linen used was imported from Belgium and is the finest quality. All sizes, 34 to 42—but come early, for naturally the lot is limited. HALF PRICE SALE $6.00

Women's Undermuslins

29c Best Cotton Drawers—Deep hem, ruffle; only 30 pairs. HALF PRICE SALE 15c

50c Drawers—Hamburg trimmed, scalloped sides, 300 in the lot. HALF PRICE SALE 25c

98c Combinations—All new garments, some of three lace insertions, others lace edge. HALF PRICE SALE 50c

50c Corset Covers—Wide lace beading, wide wash ribbon and edge, or embroidery edges. HALF PRICE SALE 25c

98c Corset Covers — Lace trimmed front and back, or fine hamburg trimming. HALF PRICE SALE 49c

29c White Underskirts—With hemstitched tucked ruffle; only 240, at HALF PRICE SALE 12½c

50c Underskirts—Lace trimmed, with insertion in ruffle. HALF PRICE SALE 25c

$1.00 Long White Skirt—With tucked ruffle and deep embroidery flounce; only 240. HALF PRICE SALE 50c

69c Long White Skirt—Best cotton, with deep lace ruffle. HALF PRICE SALE 35c

69c Gowns—Hamburg trimmed, chemise style; only 400 in lot. HALF PRICE SALE 35c

Men's Furnishings

$1.00 Negligee Shirts—All our regular $1.00 negligee shirts (fully 5,000 cut to ...). For Tuesday only. They will cost you $1.00 Wednesday and every other day. Splendid assortment, most desirable coloring. Understand, if purchase any of these $1.00 Negligee Shirts remain unsold Wednesday morning they will go back to our regular price, $1.00. HALF PRICE SALE 50c

Women's Shoes

$3.00 Pumps—Women's Gun Metal Ankle Strap Pumps, Goodyear welt; the most popular style shoe of the season; all sizes. HALF PRICE SALE $1.49

Waists

$1.00 Waists—Tailored linen, tailored linene, tailored madras and lawn waists, all new, the best make; come early. HALF PRICE SALE 50c

$2.00 Waists—Sample lingerie waists; 300 in lot; 36 size in the assortment. HALF PRICE SALE $1.00

$2.50 and $3.00 Lingerie Waists—... all new lingerie waists in the lot, many hand embroidered, with lace and lace. HALF PRICE SALE $1.25

Petticoats

$5.00 All Silk Petticoats—... 200 in this lot, colors and black. HALF PRICE SALE $2.50

Read Every Item---

The size of the type is no criterion of the wonderful values in this half price sale for example. THE TAILORED SUITS AT $15.00 and the LINEN SUITS AT $6.00 are worthy of a half-page advertisement in themselves. THE OIL CLOTH AT 15c will bring small dealers from all over New England who will buy thousands of yards, as 15c is way below the lowest wholesale prices. THE $1.00 SHIRTS at 50c are from our regular stock, big value at $1.00, and they go back to $1.00 Wednesday morning.

DON'T OVERLOOK A SINGLE ITEM, NO MATTER HOW SMALL THE TYPE.

THIS HALF PRICE SALE IS FOR TUESDAY AND TUESDAY ONLY. Naturally lots are limited, making early shopping advisable.

MAIL ORDERS filled in the order received TUESDAY ONLY and only while these special lots last.

Dress Goods

$1.50 Dress Goods—Short ends and odd pieces, all colors and makes of this season's goods. HALF PRICE SALE 25c and 45c

59c and $1.19 Dress Goods—Remnants and ends fine jet black goods, novelties and weaves this season's goods. HALF PRICE SALE 29c and 59c

Fine Silks

$1.00 Rich Satin Pongee—An all silk fabric of superfine quality, for shirt waists, in all the oyster white, light and dark Copenhagen, reseda, cafe-au-lait, wistaria, old rose, light and dark navy, natural tan, 24 in. wide. HALF PRICE SALE 39c

Women's Hosiery

50c Lisle Hose—Women's fine ribbed lisle thread hosiery, all first quality, some embroidered styles, lace openwork effects at HALF PRICE SALE 25c

25c Summer Socks—Children's imported cotton socks, plain and fancy tops, to be imported to sell less than 25c. HALF PRICE SALE 12½c

Oilcloth and Linoleum

30c Oilcloth—20,000 yards of floral and tile patterns, suitable for kitchen floors, in different widths, yard. HALF PRICE SALE 15c

38c and 65c Linoleums—... remnants of the best grades of linoleum remaining, suitable for kitchen floors, in different widths, yard. HALF PRICE 29c

Table Linens

12½c Glass Towels, hemmed ready for use, red and blue checks, size 17x36 in. HALF PRICE SALE 6¼c

$6.00 Damask Table Cloths, Irish satin damask, extra heavy, handsome designs; sizes 2x2 yds, 2x2½ yds, 2x3 yds, for round tables. HALF PRICE SALE $3.00

$1.00 Damask Tray Cloths—Extra fine quality, assorted; 21x30 in., plain satin damask. (Only 300 in this lot.) HALF PRICE SALE 50c

White Goods

12½c Lawn—Fine sheer quality white Persian lawn, 36 inches wide, suitable for waists, dresses and underwear, HALF PRICE SALE 6¼c

25c White English Nainsook, 36 inches wide, the best opportunity we have ever offered to secure such fine quality of English nainsook at as low a price, HALF PRICE SALE 12½c

Domestic Rugs

... small mats or odd ... to our knowledge ... ever been able to ... at half the regular ... two prices, come early, as the quantities are limited.

$22.50 Wilton Velvet Rugs—9x12 ft., high ... HALF PRICE SALE $11.25

$37.50 Royal Wilton Rugs—9x12 ft., high grade, only 9 in this lot. HALF PRICE SALE $18.75

R. H. White Co.'s Bargain Basement

Special Sale Tuesday at 8:30 A. M. of

ALL LEFT-OVERS

MANY LOTS ARE VERY SMALL—In some cases only one or two pieces of a kind, as the case may be — But marked WAY DOWN! so as to get all these left-overs sold out before night.

We have a hard and fast rule that all goods that have been in our Bargain Basement one month or longer are Marked Down the Last of Every Month to Ridiculously Low Prices to Close Them Out in One Day

EARLY COMERS CAN EXPECT TO FIND SOME EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS TUESDAY AMONG THESE ITEMS

By this method, although we mark the goods at almost a GIVE-AWAY PRICE, it serves to keep new and fresh lots of merchandise in our Bargain Basement daily.

75c Kimonas Fancy figured lawn short kimonas, at 39c	98c Night Gowns For women; ... necks, short ... and lace trim... also high necks, a... 49c	39c Drawers (Women's) cambric drawers, embroidered and lace trimmed, at 23c	50c Drawers (Women's) cambric drawers trimmed with embroidery, at 29c	50c Shirt Waists (Women's) ... waists, slightly mussed, at 25c	1.00 Shirt Waists Women's); lawn ... terial, trimmed ... lace and embroidery, at 59c	1.98 and 2.98 Shirt Waists (Women's); ... and batiste materials, trimmed with lace, at 98c	50c Corsets Odds and ends, assorted styles, not all sizes, at 25c	59c Corsets ... batiste, lace trimmed; two pair of hose supporters attached at 44c	69c Corsets ... White ... Special (non-rust) ... colors), of ... batiste; an excellent corset for ... or warm days, at 49c	1.50 and 2.00 Corsets Odd lots of American Lady, ... New ... and Redfern makes; ... entire lot, at 94c	15c Neckwear (Women's) neckwear Dutch collars, stocks, jabots, etc., at 5c
25c Neckwear (Women's) ... Dutch collars, ... stocks, jabots, ... tuxedo ... collars, at 12½c	25c Lace (12 yd. pc.) Odd lot of val. lace edges and insert to match, 12 yds. for 10c	5c (Yd.) Lace Odd lot of ... hons, vals, edges ... insertions, 12 yds. for 10c	39c Embroidery Slightly soiled and mussed, at 17c	50c Embroidery Slightly soiled ... mussed, at 29c	50c Velvet ... lot in nearly ... colors, per yd., 10c	5c (Yd.) Ribbon Plain and fancy silk ribbon, ½ to 1½ inches wide, at 12 yds. for 10c	89c Parasols (Women's) white linen parasols with natural wood handles to match, each 39c	10c Squares and Shams Swiss embroidered, excellent designs each 5c	29c Tray Cloths Embroidered, scal... scoped edges, at 19c	2.25 Table Cloths ... hemstitched ... cloths, size 8x10, ... $1.69	50c to 1.98 Hats (Women's) trimmed and untrimmed hats, ... 25c
25c and 50c Flowers ... dahlias and ... of every ... at 5c	12.50 to 18.00 Suits ... mannish ... ...

SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910 AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Boston American

Sporting News Section

JEFF'S OWN STORY--"I'M READY FOR THE FIGHT OF MY LIFE"

"I Know That I am Going to Be Able to Deliver the Goods," He Declares

JOHNSON DECLARES HE IS BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE; CHAMPION POSITIVE HE WILL WIN TO-MORROW'S BATTLE

By JACK JOHNSON.

"I'M right on edge now to meet Mr. Jeffries and I'd like to go into the ring to-day. I have trained in my own way and I'm in just the condition I want to be. I never was better in my life. I have just the right weight for my size and I never was stronger or quicker or felt more satisfied. Do I think I will win? Well, there is no doubt of it at all. I know I've got a harder fight on my hands than I ever had before, but I'm in shape for just that kind of a battle, and you'll see me right there at the finish July 4. I won't say how I'm going to fight. I'll decide that while we are going along in the ring."

JEFFRIES SAYS: "I HAVE NEVER YET BEEN BEATEN AND I WON'T BE ON MONDAY. I NEVER FELT BETTER."

By JAMES J. JEFFRIES.

"Am I ready to fight? Well, you can judge for yourself by the reports of my condition. I never felt better, stronger and more confident in my life. I have never been beaten and I won't be Monday. Ever since I made up my mind a year ago that I could train back into condition, I have been thoroughly satisfied that I would win, and that's the way I am now. I'm going into this battle determined to fight harder than I ever did before, and the people know what that means. I believe that the American public wants this fight, and the public will be satisfied when it is over that it was a fight worth while."

BASEBALL

DOVES SHUT OUT THE PHILLIES 5 TO 0

RED SOX SMASH OUT A CLOSE VICTORY

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

TO-DAY'S GAMES.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

HOW THE CLUBS STAND.

TO-DAY'S GAMES.

St. Louis at Chicago

By Daniel W. Gallagher.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—By winning to-day's games the Red Sox drew even with the Senators in the series, each club owning a victory. The result was ever in doubt in this second contest as the home team was hot after another win to make two straight on the Speed Boys, but the visitors managed to hold on to their lead and took the game by the score of 3 to 2.

With Cicotte in the box the Senators expected to find it troublesome to run the string out in their favor as he has frustrated them before this season but he had narrow escape to-day for his weakened when the Senators came up with a ninth inning rally and nearly cepsted the knuckle ball wonder

It was the jump the Red Sox got on their rivals which counted largely for them to get a strong's hold on the game as the two runs at the outset were a handicap the Senators could not overcome with such a clever pitcher as Cicotte going at his best.

Red Box Hit Often.

When the sluggers on the Red Sox got started they landed on the pelet for keeps and pounded out what runs they secured. But Groome, who was hit safely in every inning but one managed to keep the hits pretty well separated so as not to result in runs.

At the start off the Red Sox threatened to drive Groome from the mound but Manager Lake determined to keep him in and it was not a bad move, for when he settled down he did some fine twirling, but the men behind him could not bat Cicotte with effect.

Outside of the opening round when the Red Sox caused so much destruction Tris Speaker was the only Boston batter to smash Groome's delivery to pieces and he clouted the leather for a circuit of the lapes in the fifth inning which netted the Red Sox their third and last run, and was the one which eventually won them the game.

When two Red Sox batters were quickly disposed of in the first inning it looked like easy picking for Groom, but the unexpected happened when he walked Speaker for Stahl came up with a three-base clip to the right field fence, which scored Speaker with the first run. Then Larry Gardner, not to be outdone, duplicated Stahl's feat.

Continued on Page 7, Column 5.

BASEBALL Results

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boves 5, Philadelphia 0.
Cincinnati 5, Pittsburg 4.
Brooklyn 6, Giants 5.
Chicago-St. Louis (rain)

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Red Sox 3, Washington 2.
Athletics 8, New York 1. (first game)
Athletics 8, New York 1. (second game)
Chicago 3, St. Louis 2.
Cleveland 11, Detroit 4.

EASTERN LEAGUE

Newark 8, Jersey City 4. (first game)
Newark 10, Jersey 8.
Providence 7, Baltimore 0. (first game)
Providence 4, Baltimore 2. (second game)
Montreal 17, Buffalo 7. (first game)
Buffalo 5, Montreal 4. (second game)
Toronto 5, Rochester 2. (first game)
Rochester 5, Toronto 3. (second game)

NEW ENGLAND LEAGUE

Fall River 2, Lynn 0. (first game)
Lynn 7, Fall River 1. (game called in 10th)
Brockton 4, Lowell 2.
New Bedford 7, Haverhill 3.
Lawrence 9, Worcester 4.

CONNECTICUT LEAGUE

New Britain 17, Holyoke 4. (first game)
Northampton 7, Waterbury 0.
Bridgeport 4, New Haven 1.
Hartford 7, Springfield 2.

INDEX OF THIS SECTION

PAGE 1—Jeffries's own story of the Reno fight.
PAGES 2, 3, 4 and 5—Additional news of the Jeffries-Johnson fight told by experts.
PAGE 6—American baseball, tournament games and July 4th sporting programmes.
PAGE 7—Baseball results in the major leagues.
PAGES 8 and 9—Automobile news.
PAGE 10—Yachting, golf, horse racing and other sports.

"I Tell You That I Am Right—Monday Night You Will Be Telling Me the Same Thing," Says the White Champion.

By JAMES J. JEFFRIES.

Written Exclusively for the Boston Sunday American.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Examiner.)

RENO, Nevada, July 2.—When Corbett, Choynski, Burns and my brother Jack saw me getting ready to dictate my story this afternoon they started laughing at me, saying that I was taking my newspaper work too seriously. I wonder if this is true.

One thing I know, and that is that I am taking a pleasure in the work. Where I first looked upon the task as being more or less of a hideous bore, I have now come to regard it as a pleasant sort of a change from my other work. In a sentence, it is a diversion from the usual training camp routine of slavery.

"Just get somebody to say how many rounds you punched the bag, how long you skipped the rope, how far you went on the road and who you boxed with," said one of my newspaper mates at the beginning, "then just stick your name at the top of it and you will be through."

I don't intend to do this. I'm going to be just as conscientious about this as I can. Now, to start with, I have promised to write of my training work.

Have Been Ready for Last Five Days.

There is not anything to write about in this connection, for the simple reason that I have practically stopped work. I got up at 4 o'clock this morning and went fishing.

That doesn't sound like the work of a man in training, does it? Nevertheless, that's what I did and I figured it did me more good than ten miles of road work would have done.

I have been up to the point where I am ready to enter the ring for the past five days. I am ready for the fight of my life. What I am trying to do is to keep right at this notch. I cannot do it by overworking.

Right here I want to answer the criticism that I should do more boxing in the last few days of my training. They make the point against me that I need a sort of judgment which I can only get in actual glove play.

A man sat outside of my screen door yesterday and talked for twenty minutes, telling why I should box from fifteen to twenty rounds every afternoon.

I had the same trouble before I fought Corbett the last time. They said I should box more. I did not want to box and felt that I did not need to box, and if you will recall in that fight all the sporting critics said that I beat Corbett at his own game.

This man said the other day, and I heard him, that I have been doing everything in my training but the one thing I will have to do when I get into the ring.

Appreciates Motives of Criticism.

Suppose you took a race horse out and put him over the Derby route at his top speed on the day before the race. The trainer who would do that would be called a lunatic, and the criticism would be just.

Why, then, should I go out and fight my fight a day before the Fourth? They say that I should do this in order to judge my own pace in boxing. Does anybody think that I have been working a year and a half and reached this point without knowing what I can do?

I appreciate the motive which has prompted all this criticism, and one reason why I answer it is to show that I am not surly and do not resent this proffered advice.

I know the men who have taken this stand are the men who want me to win, yet I want to win more than any one can want to see me win.

I have not trained fifteen times for nothing, and when I trained it was

Continued on Page 2, Column 1, This Section

THOUSANDS BET ON JEFFRIES AT ODDS OF 10 TO 7

By W. W. Naughton.

RENO, July 2—Betting on the Jeffries-Johnson fight began with a rush this afternoon and tonight a fortune had been wagered. Some money had been posted before this at odds of 10 to 6 and 10 to 7, with Jeffries as the favorite, but only a few bets of large amounts were made until today, when the money of thousands upon thousands of dollars began to pour in.

Every kind of money from [illegible] Tom Corbett, the retired pugilist, to [illegible] was kept on the move. The money was placed [illegible] at odds of 10 to 7 on Jeffries, and the backers of Jeffries seemed to get it at that rate.

Promoter Jack Gleason acknowledged that the betting had been heavier than he had expected, although he said he thought enough money to make [illegible] would be placed before the fight.

CORBETT BETS $5,000 ON JEFFRIES.

The rush of money started rather early in the morning, when almost $20,000 was placed. Five bets of $1,000 each were made, one of which was placed by Tom Corbett, who put up $10,000 to go to [illegible] from a New York sportsman. Corbett also placed against $8,500 [illegible] Jim Jeffries. Both of these bets were posted at 10 to 7. Corbett also placed $7,000 that Johnson would knock out Jeffries [illegible] no matter where the fight might [illegible] when the two principals shook hands.

A Rush of Money.

When this money was posted there came a rush that kept the [illegible] busy recording bets of $10 to $1 due to be placed against the big fellow at 10 to 6. The rush of Jeffries money looked on as an acknowledgment of the existing odds which [illegible] until the men enter the ring.

Early in the day there was a perceptible demand for Jeffries money with little Johnson money in sight, but as the day passed Johnson money began to show and the [illegible] odds. It is known that [illegible] thousands of dollars in Reno sent [illegible] champion and on the [illegible] of the day is that the [illegible] have put some [illegible] there.

The betting on the fight is [illegible] to break tomorrow, and there [illegible] bookers on both sides in sight [illegible] really wants to bet can [illegible] placed unless he insists on [illegible]

The End Is in Sight.

The end is almost in sight now that confidence or indoor work can do it is taken for granted that the heavyweights are in good condition and that nothing growing out of the preparation for the big fight [illegible] withheld.

It is the time for naming your men and making your bet, that is if you have a betting man. The excitement has become intense and the public is so sensitive that any kind of opinion influences its impression. On one point there is more unanimity than there was two months ago. It is felt it will be a fight to a finish, a bitter struggle between two men, each of whom victory means more than ever before.

It is felt further that the better man will be not crumpled in his efforts to win. When the match was first made [illegible] hate to be in Johnson's shoes in winning."

The influence was that no [illegible] could stand for seeing the hope of the white race battered down by a negro.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Notice to Newsdealers and the Public

The BOSTON AMERICAN will publish extra editions on the Fourth of July to supply the public with the earliest and best news of the fight in Reno.

The BOSTON AMERICAN Fourth of July extra editions will also contain full reports of the sporting and general news of the day.

As the demand for "Extra" editions will be great, those interested are advised to place orders for the same at once.

ABLE COUPON

Regular E[illegible]

"I'M IN THE BEST CONDITION OF MY LIFE," SAYS

Jeffries Tells His Own Story of His Training for To-morrow's Battle—Says That He Has Been Ready Five Days and Is Absolutely Confident That He Will Defeat Johnson—Answers His Critics.

Continued from First Page.

always done faithfully and well in as good condition as ever in

The average man usually ing it out thoughtfully, and w always plenty of people stand, of a crumb. Once you show a that he may change

Feel Like Whole Country Is With Me.

Take, for example, the incident that early morning crowd. I k they would criticise me yet a dozen letters from men who say

I respect my critics because know when a man is talking to says, and when I look back upon have voluntarily come to me in th it makes me feel that the whole pulling for me won

I realize that Johnson has fr are to me, but I feel that the gre interested in sport or not is beh

The fight is only a few hours to make good for my friends as w

When a fighter starts train how much time he is going to nee give him just enough time to rea day before, but start as to take pla

"I Will Hold Myself on Edge."

In the present instance I have been working over a year. Now, to make my argument get home, here is th you

If one week before my fight with Jackson I find that I have arrived at the nearest point of physical perfec on that I can possibly make, what is the most natural thing on earth for me to do?

Answer the question yourself and you will agree with me that what I should do in order to do myself and the thousands of people betting on me a square deal is to go right on working.

All right! Now, then, how can I best do this? By resting and preserving my strength and energy, or by going out each day and doing a lot of unnecessary work? By resting, of course, and that is just what I am doing.

Would it be foolish in me when I find myself all fit and ready to enter the ring if I was to go out on the road each morning and work in the ring an hour every afternoon just because a lot of curious people want to see me in action? Certainly it would.

I'll Be Able to Deliver the Goods.

As I sit here this minute I feel in my heart that I am as good as I ever was in my life.

You will notice I have not gone away from my camp and say that I am laughing, joking and in good humor all the time. This is because I know now that I am going to be able to deliver the goods, that I am going to be able to show the public that its faith in me has not been misplaced.

If there was a flaw in my make-up I would be the man who would know it and—like one of such a flaw is usually the last person to discover it in himself—I would, I know, be crying up and down that I was all right, when deep down in my heart I would be telling me the same thing.

SCENE OF THE BIG FIGHT AND THE "MAN OF THE HOUR"—TEX RICKARD

The picture at the top—secured from Reno yesterday—shows the battleground as it appeared July 2—one week before the fight. Today the arena is said to be nearly completed. The cross shows where the 22-foot ring will be.

"PUBLIC'S FAITH IN ME NOT MISPLACED. I AM RIGHT"

By JAMES J. JEFFRIES

I am holding myself right on edge.

I feel in my heart that I am as good as I ever was in my life and I know now that I am going to be able to deliver the goods.

I am going to show the public that its faiths in me has not been misplaced.

I tell you I am right.

Next Monday night you will be telling me the same thing.

JOHNSON IS LOAFING AND READY TO FIGHT

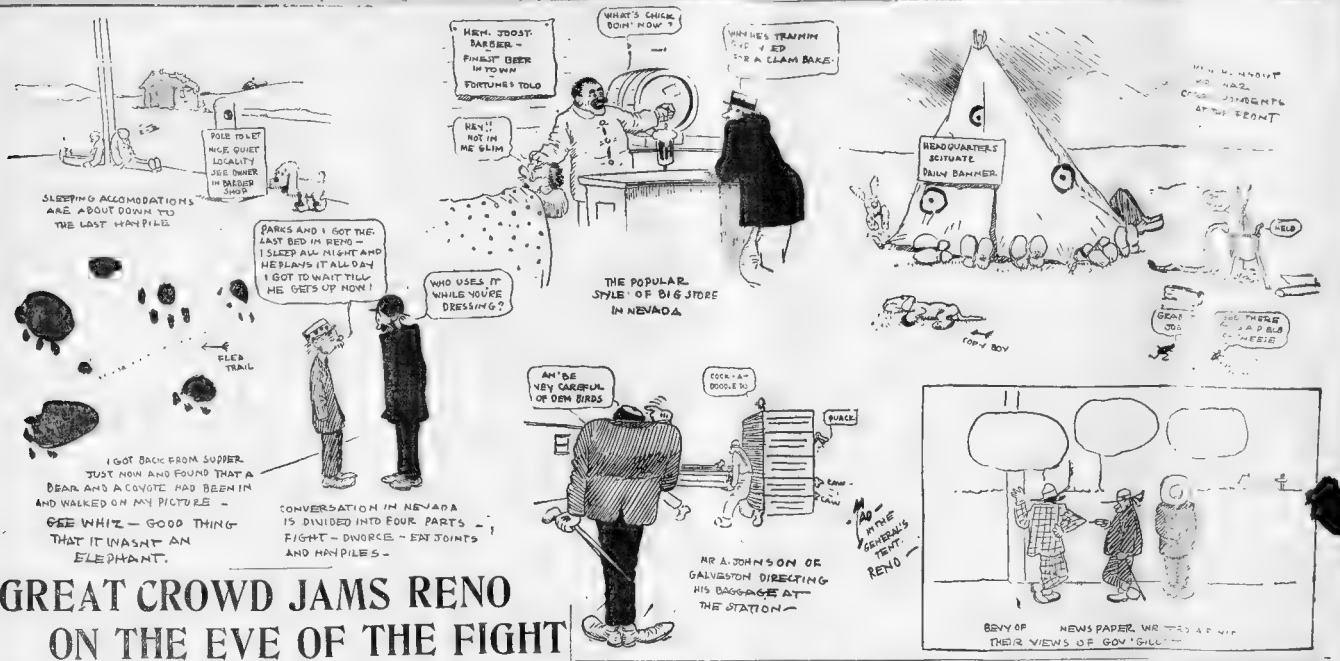
The Champion of the World Claims to be in the Best of Condition and Only Awaits the Ring of the Bell—Says He Is Sure He Will Beat Jeff

By Jack Johnson.

RENO, Nev., July 2.—I am just hoping direct to Chicago and from there to New [illegible] a theatrical engagement [illegible] I am [illegible] I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EFFRIES ON THE EVE OF THE GREAT BATTLE

THIS IS THE BUSY TOWN OF RENO, NEV., ON THE EVE OF THE BIG FIGHT---AS TAD SEES IT



GREAT CROWD JAMS RENO ON THE EVE OF THE FIGHT

Tad Says There Are More Visitors Than Population of the Nevada City.

By Tad.

RENO, Nev., July 3.—With the local fight fans in a fever of excitement over the battle between Jeffries and Johnson, which will be fought at the ringside here tomorrow afternoon, and with the big fight fans from all parts of the country pouring into this city, the population of Reno has been increased to more than double the number of residents who usually call this city their home.

Visitors Equal Reno's Population.

The police force is reported to be overworked, and the hotels are crowded to the doors. Every train that arrives from the East and West arrived and by to-morrow morning it is expected that the population of Reno will be equal to the combined population of Reno and Sparks.

Reno is a wide-open town, and gambling is running full blast, and the sporting fraternity is having a gala time. Every gambling house in the city is crowded to the doors, and the sporting men are betting right and left on the big fight.

Visitors Have Hard Time.

The visitors are having a hard time to get accommodations. Many of the hotels are crowded to the doors, and the sporting men are betting right and left on the big fight.

Beds Worked by Relay Plan.

It's an uncomfortable and inconvenient situation for both visitors and Reno people, but the visitors seem willing to put up with anything so long as they get to see the fight, while the Reno people are taking in so much good hard cash that they are willing to worry along any old way for a day or two.

In many boarding and lodging houses relays are now being worked on both beds and tables. When one man gets enough sleep another jumps into the hay pile. By to-morrow night they may be piling up in layers.

There can't be any kick on the condition of the men at all. The greatest battle between big men that the world ever saw will be fought here to-morrow, and Jeffries nor Johnson wants a shade the best of it. They have been told Rickard that they will not take the fight on a foul, but want to win or lose on fair merits. There is an enmity between the two also, and you can bet your life it will be a fight worth the trip of three thousand miles some of us traveled to see it.

Although there wasn't much serious work on to-day, both fighters drew great crowds to their camps all through the day. I went to Jeff's camp with Battling Nelson, Hugh McIntosh, Bill Lange and F. W. Corbett, a Australian scribe, and the party was immediately at the form despaired by the army mule. He was under some trees on the lawn and playing hearts when we arrived, and after greeting the new comers return to his game. Lil Jeffries, when the moving picture men arrived.

Shaking Hands with Jeff.

The camera men then took the names of all the notables in the crowd and after standing Jeffries, Corbett and Berger in front of the machine had the notables, scribes and other prominent sporting men go the bunch and mill them, then turning face the camera. They must have

LATE BETTING ON THE FIGHT

James O'Leary, the Chicago bookmaker, whose odds on big events have been accepted by sporting men for many years, last night posted the following odds on the big fight, after careful inspection of both Jeffries and Johnson:

Jeffries favorite at 7 to 10.
That Johnson wins, 7 to 5.
That fight goes over 10 rounds, 2 to 1.
That fight goes over 15 rounds, even.
That fight goes over 20 rounds, 7 to 10
That fight will go 25 rounds, 2 to 1

Restaurants Over-run; Fight-Mad People Will Sleep in Open Air.

In the go-it-tonight rush it was going to be a hot go while it lasted and was [illegible] that he was on the scene. Well, [illegible] and Tim Healey. I'll see you later with Tex and we [illegible] a bed up."

McIntosh Wins $25 at Craps.

Big Tim and Tex then took the car back to Reno, but McIntosh got off, and after Johnson was dressed fell for a crap game for the first time in his life. He did not know any more about craps than a rabbit does about the gyroscope. He climbed up [illegible] was before leaving.

Adolph Huff, once a former resident of Nevada, now of Reno, was pumped on the parade getting pits last night. Huff is a great admirer of Reno [illegible] He [illegible] for the pie-eaters contest, [illegible] but was disgusted for the [illegible] and retired upon the all a quiff, [illegible] and turned up.

[illegible] was reckoning on his money [illegible] Johnson was kicked [illegible] of [illegible] all who's Adolph, called bed [illegible] of choice. He dug around [illegible] six days of hard work struck a very [illegible] character shoot. It panned out we [illegible] and now Adolph has more money than Carter has pie. He is a great Jeffries [illegible] and will wager a big [illegible] of Sweitzer [illegible] that Jeffries [illegible].

According to the betting here the public thinks that the big fight will be a long one. Most of the betting is done on the square, calling for the nineteenth to the twenty-fourth rounds. They figure then that either Jeff or Johnson will win at about that time. The betting on the early part of the fight is very weak.

The selection of Charley White as second referee has revived the old rumor that Rickard really means to sidestep at the last minute in favor of a more experienced man. Rickard has again given the rumor the lie, and his denial is strenuous enough to satisfy the majority, but many are still of the opinion that White will be the only referee seen in the ring.

There is no doubt of White's ability, as he has had long experience in the ring, and his honesty has never been questioned. White reached Reno a few hours after his selection, and at once agreed to act.

Jeff Offends Some of the Experts.

In connection with the determination of Jeffries to be the judge of his own condition and direct his own training, several old time boxers, as well as a number of the best of the betting is done on the square, feel that he was coming, and all went out on the porch to watch the little cloud of dust wig-wag the road.

Down the road the fire of them came leaving like a horse race. Kaufman was trying to beat Jack in at the finish, but fell behind second by six feet into the gate of the resort.

Johnson invited the bunch up to his room and there fell in conversation about Australia and his friends there with McIntosh and Burns. Big Tim Sullivan, Tex Rickard and a bunch of New Yorkers came in before the fight, while the Reno people are taking in so much good hard cash that they are willing to worry along any old way for a day or two.

Johnson Weighs 207.

He stepped on the scales for Tex and hit the bottom at 207.

"I've started drying out to-day, and I expect to take on a couple of pounds," he said. "I've finished all my heavy work, such as boxing and bag punching, and will only hit the highway once a day now to keep my wind in shape.

"I tell you that Jeffries runs 'im the softest mark he ever heard of, yet. He's trying harder for me than he ever before."

"You look smaller to me than you did in Australia, Jack," piped McIntosh, feeling the big fellow's arm.

"No," piped Jack, "I'm a lot bigger, but I guess I'm drawn more. O, I worked hard for this fight. You know I've been looking forward to it for six years, and now that I'm here and what I want I certainly took good care to get in right. The little cut on my lip is the only thing that's worrying me. Cotton and I got together mixing it and he pumped me with his head, but I think he will be all right to-morrow.

Oh, yes, I'm as strong as a bull. Jeffries won't rough me much. I know that he will have some weight on me, but if he can push me around that ring he's going to surprise me a lot."

"Big Tim" Sullivan, the stakeholder, thought the black fellow was a marvel. He stood there watching him all the time that he was being rubbed and shook his head two or three times as Johnson rolled over to change his position.

The big fellow did not say who he liked

SECONDS IN THE RIVALS' CORNERS

HERE are the men who will represent Jeffries and Johnson in their respective corners Monday

FOR JEFFRIES.	FOR JOHNSON.
Jas. J. Corbett	Billy Delaney
"Farmer" Burns	Sig Herr
Robert Cornell	"Prof." Burns
Jack Jeffries	Barney Furey
Jim White	Frank Slavin
Van Court	Al Kaufman

as regards his outer body and his internal organs.

"Jeffries is certainly a most remarkable man. I don't believe there is another man in the world to-day that is a perfect athlete with an abnormal physical development and internal organs which respond promptly to every test known to medical science. I have watched him closely for the past few months, and I can safely assert that at present there is no man living who is his equal, and never in my experience have I seen anything like it.

"It seems to me he could easily defeat any four hours against any man or athlete in the world and at the [illegible] of the fifth [illegible] morning about the same physical condition. He should be able to stand any strain upon him within the bounds of endurance, and I firmly believe that his internal organs will go through the test next Monday just as well as [illegible] and [illegible] do."

Jeffries has refused to step on the scales and be weighed. The reason it is impossible to give his official weight. All the newspaper men here have at various times tried to secure the problem without success. The best we can get is just a possibility that Jeffries will be weighed before an official committee of newspapermen previous to the fight, but this is not settled yet.

Scores of men who have been connected with athletics in various forms and who have watched Jeffries during his recent training work have all hazarded guesses as to his actual poundage. Three estimates have ranged all the way from 215 to 230 pounds, with an average of about 223 pounds. It is not official, but is very close to the actual weight, although it may vary a pound or two one way or the other on the day of the fight, such a possibility being in favor of a trifle higher figure.

Put Strength Against Cleverness.

Jeff has heard many reports during the last few days about Johnson's cleverness. Finally he became weary of this talk, and here is what he says about it:

"I hear that Johnson stands with his back to the ropes and picks them off as they are handed to him without moving around. If he tries any of that fancy work with me I will tear into him and knock him through the ropes. Just say for me that it is going to be a rough fight. All the fancy sparring will not count for much."

The big arena was completed to-day, and Tex Rickard now has a ball dozen watchmen on guard to prevent anything happening to it. There are 2,000 $30 seats, the furthest one of these being forty-four feet from the ringside. There are 1,000 $40 seat, the outside circle being fifty-three feet from the platform. The $20 seats, 1,500 in number, are seventy feet away from the edge of the ring, and the $25 seats, to the number of 2,000, are eighty feet away. There are 2,000 $20 seats, at a distance of 110 feet from the ring, and 900 $15 seats, 121 feet from the ring. The greatest number of seats are in the $10 rows, numbering 6,500, the outside line being 137 feet from the stage. The total 16,000 salable seats, and if all the seats are sold the gate receipts will amount to $350,000.

BOSTON EXCITED OVER THE FIGHT; BETS BUT LITTLE

Followers of the Ring at Odds Over Winner and Afraid Risk Money.

NEVER before in the history of the prize ring has Boston taken such an interest in a contest as is now on over the contest between James J. Jeffries and John A. Johnson, at Reno, to-morrow, and yet with the great interest there is probably less money wagered on the outcome than there has ever been on a champion ship fight.

Boston's interest in prize fighting was at its height during the prime of John L. Sullivan, but even in John L.'s palmy days with Paddy Ryan, in 1882, when he won the championship there was nothing like the present interest, although there were thousands of more dollars wagered.

Very little money has been put over the outcome and what has been wagered was in small lots. There have been none of the big bets of past years and at a the sporting resorts very little has been passed.

Both the admirers of the white man and the professional gamblers [illegible] the prevailing odds of 10 to 6 and 10 to 5% or 7, are possibilities and should not a Friends of Johnson are naturally standing out for the odds which prevail at Reno and are getting few takers.

Opinions from sporting men follow:

Lavis Says Jeff in 10 Rounds.

Charlie Lavis—"Jeffries will win the fight and I give Johnson about ten rounds to last. I believe that the white man is in the best possible condition and that he is the superior of Johnson in fighting and will win. Jeffries will be a different man to me. In clinches then the negro man has ever met and the black man will get the worst of every clinch. Johnson is a great boxer and will out box Jeffries some, but the blows will not hurt."

Joe Cleary, of Lambridge—"Jeff for me. It will take at least sixteen rounds for me to feel that the white man will put over and stuff Johnson's style of boxing in the early part of the fight. Then he will get busy and I look to see him win by blows to the body which never have and never will be stood by any opponent. I look to see much of nothing for Johnson will have a good chance in one long fight but I don't think he can stand Jeff's body blows."

Peter McNally—"Jeffries will win in less time than it took him to put Jim Flynn to sleep out. Jeffries will be the biggest and strongest man that the present champion has ever met, and his style will not show as it did against smaller opponents."

Michael Quinn, Revere House. "Jeffries will win in ten rounds or more at most though the fight will be a rough one. Johnson will have a good chance in a long fight but I don't think he can stand Jeff's body blows."

Dr. W. A. Towne, Bowdoin Square—"I will take Jeffries about ten rounds to put Jack Johnson away to dreamland. Johnson is a great boxer, but Jeffries is a great fighter and his blows to the body will be the undoing of the present champion."

Harry Phaggs—"Jeffries has been a friend of mine since his first fight and for a million dollars would not induce Jeffries to go into the ring against Johnson unless he knew he was in perfect condition and that he would win the fight. I look to see Jeffries win by a knockout in about twenty rounds, mainly through his heavy blows to the body."

James Vail—"Jeffries will win in five rounds or less. He will go after Johnson as he never went after another fighter except Moginis, and will handle the present champion as he did Monroe."

Fred F. Doherty, Howard Theatre—"The modern battleship Johnson will sink the old hulk Jeffries in less than thirty minutes. After the second [illegible] Jeffries will enter a complaint that the sun shining in his eyes and then it will only be a matter of time [illegible] A. R. Dow—"Jeffries will win in from two to five rounds. The blows will not stand up under the punishment [illegible] body punch. Johnson's [illegible] Jeffries will not land a clean one. Jeffries will win by a knockout [illegible] Johnson will [illegible] Jeffries will win [illegible] Johnson will [illegible] Jeffries will win [illegible] Jeffries will win [illegible] Jeffries will win

FIGHT EXPERTS GIVE THEIR FINAL OPINIONS

NAUGHTON SHOWS WHY JEFFRIES IS FAVORITE

Greatest Fighter on Record Looks Like He Is in His Old Form.

By W. W. Naughton.

RENO, Nev., July 2.—The fateful hour is near at hand. On Tuesday I will be discussing what has happened instead of speculating on what is likely to happen.

It has been a long grind for everybody and for the camp correspondents probably as much as for the men who did the real work and punched the bag. Everything that can be said about the training of the two fighters has been said. For a few hours that are left all that we can do is to compare the chances of the white man and the black.

Why Jeffries Is the Favorite.

Jeffries and Johnson have come through their work of preparation without accident. It is felt that no man will be ahead to show the very best that is in him. Jeffries still the favorite and the line of money coming which has installed him first choice isn't hard to follow. Here it is:

To begin with, it is not believed by those who are placing their money on Jeffries that his period of retirement has affected either his stamina or his speed as a ring man. It is pointed out that he was comparatively few years at the game when [illegible] and that he did not give up the game for the reasons that most champions [illegible] service.

Jeffries, it is held, was not even at his zenith when he retired—he was still improving and was shooting for further tests of his ability. He only left the ring because there was not a man in sight who was considered a halfway fit opponent for him.

Has Beat Better Men.

The Jeffries [illegible] their man in [illegible] much more a [illegible] than Johnson. They expect to see Jeffries prodded and poked with Johnson's straight lefts and right uppercut. They say he has been slashed and smashed by stiffer hitters than this man [illegible] he has never been [illegible] kind of [illegible] off of a stage [illegible] Sivebreyer.

They say that Jeffries' strong jaw will Nevelsian ribs are proof against any [illegible] Johnson can [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ters and beating the negro down with powerful smashes at both [illegible]

Such is the outlook as the men who [illegible] string their dollars with Jeffries see it. Those who [illegible] while quite [illegible] might be worsted if the mill consisted of nothing but slugging at close [illegible] think that Johnson [illegible] avoid coming [illegible] that of superior [illegible] [illegible] The majority of [illegible] are that Jack will [illegible] until the [illegible] Jeffries has [illegible] wade in and cut down the big white man without much trouble.

Johnson himself, although he remarked not so long ago that there should be little to choose between Jeffries and himself, now [illegible] down in his heart that Jeffries is not by any odds as good a man as he was six years ago. This was made manifest a few days ago when in connection with some favorite [illegible] records from the Jeffries' camp, Johnson [illegible] doesn't [illegible] son when [illegible] or judging of an automobile, and with comfort in point and carriage, make it friends are [illegible] I started out with the idea that he thought it was [illegible] Johnson [illegible] ers [illegible] Jeffries to Blow Up.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [

THE BOSTON ... AN

OF JEFFRIES AND JOHNSON ON

JEFFRIES AND JOHNSON IN THEIR FINAL TRAINING STUNTS AT

These photographs, received from Reno yesterday, show Jeffries and Johnson in the last stages of their training. The photographs were made Wednesday at Reno—practically the last day on which either of the fighters didany serious hard work in preparation for to-morrow's battle

CORBETT SAYS JEFF IS BETTER THAN HE EVER WAS

Denies Emphatically Rumors That "the Big Fellow" Has Been Sick,

By Tad.

Copyrlght, 1910, by American Journal Examiner

RENO, Nev., July 2.—Jim Jeffries is in better shape to-day than ever before in his life. He hasn't a pain, an ache or an ailment. The report that he is suffering from an attack of stomach trouble is another of the many lies circulated by irresponsible persons for selfish purposes. Jeff is just right, and a very short time after he goes into that ring Monday he will knock Johnson through the side of the arena."

That's what Jim Corbett, Jeff's adviser, said when I climbed to him to ask about the report that Jeff had been seriously stricken soon after his return from a fishing trip and was afraid he would not be well enough to make even a fair showing Monday.

Corbett was inclined to be a bit sore over this latest yarn about his big pupil, and I couldn't blame him much for it. This town is full of Ananiases and Sapphiras now, and all of them seem to be devoting their time and talents to Jeff They have had him suffering with everything in the medical calendar during the last few days, from consumption to cold feet, and as soon as one of their bunks is shown up they spring another.

"Jeff's as Fit as a Fiddle."

"Say, I guess you rummies won't be satisfied until we fix Jeff up in front of the house, where you can see him and feel of him for twenty-four hours in the day," said Corbett to a bunch of scribes that came to him on this latest fake.

"Right after Tommy Burns and Sam Langford come out here and pronounce Jeff fit to knock out three Jack Johnsons, one after another, you chase back with a wild tale and want to know if the forces think this last illness will prove fatal. Say, take it from me, once for all, Jeff is as fit as a fiddle right now, and he will be fit Monday.

"As soon as you get back to town you will probably hear that Jeff is down again, this time, maybe, with yellow fever, bird plague, measles and whooping cough, but don't you come chasing out here and ask me about it.

"I don't purpose to waste any more time denying fakes. Jeff has spent over a year getting in condition to whip this Johnson person; he is in condition to do it, and he is going to do it Monday. He's not going to catch any sort of disease or get himself torn up by any accident right at the last moment, and there's no use of any more of this sort of talk. Do I make myself plain?

Town Full of False Reports.

Gentleman Jim, fighter, actor, trainer, social entertainer, etc., did make himself plain, and after the bunch had seen Jeff and exacted from him a solemn promise that he wouldn't get sick or die before Monday, we sneaked back to town and spread the glad news that Jeff was all to the good.

Many of these lies about Jeff are evidently being started to bring down the odds and increase the betting on the fight. There has been a lot of betting here, but not enough to satisfy all the boys who money to risk, and it is believed that a big bunch with money to place on Jeff is simply trying to bring out the Johnson money and reduce the odds.

If the Jeff backers can fool the Johnson crowd with stories about Jeff going stale and being out of condition they may be able to bring the betting to even money before Monday, and that's what they want Then you'll see the very fellows that have been starting the rumors tumbling over each other to get their cash on the white man.

JEFF'S MEASURE MADE YESTERDAY

RENO, July 2—Jeffries was measured to-day by Roger Connell, his chief rubber, for the last time before the fight. This was the result

Height	6 feet 1¼ inches
Weight	218 pounds (approx.)
Neck	18½ inches
Chest	46 inches
Expanded	51 inches
Waist	35¼ inches
Thigh	25 inches
Calf	16½ inches
Biceps	16½ inches
Forearm	10 inches
Wrist	8 inches
Reach	80 inches

MIKE MURPHY CALLS IT AN EVEN MATCH

Great Trainer Declares He Has Never Seen Such Men Brought Together.

By Mike Murphy.

Former trainer, who handled 1ale athletes for years, and is now in charge at University of Pennsylvania.

RENO, Nev., July 2—Any man that goes to the arena Monday will see a fight worth crossing this big country to see In all my life I have never seen two such big men matched against each other. I thought I had had some real big men on football teams within the past, but in all my experience I have never had but two who could compare to those, and they were years apart.

Jeff is tremendous, a real Jan Hidd, big in every way, a real lion of a man that knows he has a hard job to do, and when he once decided to tackle it went about it in his own way, this, may be, will work to the end, strong, sturdy and sure There is no mistake made in his fight. He is making his greatest effort for this battle

I have handled thousands of college men and never had one that had anything on this man, either in brains or muskiness, He is a man it is good to know. The white race have got the best man they could get to represent them in this battle

As for Johnson, he is the finest specimen of his race I ever saw; big, husky, good-natured, the easiest champion I ever saw to approach, courteous to all, more ready to laugh than talk any time; quick, strong and powerful, with an easy disposition that will make him hard to rattle

How Hickard will ever break these men in a church is a mystery to me It will take a Samson to pry them apart, for they are the two strongest, huskiest men that ever met in the ring. We surely will see a fight never to be forgotten. May the best man win

FIGHT GOOD FOR COUNTRY.

Health Authority Declares Jeffries-Johnson Affair a Benefit.

CINCINNATI, O., July 2 Dr. J. H. Landis, president as a health authority of this city, said to-day: "I believe in prize fighting." In this he runs full head on to the Ministerial Association of this city that originated the crusade against the Johnson-Jeffries fight in California.

"Put me off at Reno, is what I would say if I had the time," continued Dr Landis to the newspaper man "I believe such exhibitions as Jeffries and Johnson will put up on the Fourth will be of benefit to the country. How? By stimulating interest in physical culture and courage. If men knew better how to use their fists they would use fewer revolvers and knives."

JEFF MARVEL OF THE AGE IF HE CAN BEAT JOHNSON

So Declares C. E. Van Loan, One of the American's Experts at Reno.

By C. E. Van Loan.

RENO, Nev., July 2 - Reno will sleep lightly to-morrow night with the sporting men of every great city in the country walking her streets, deep in argument Out at Moana Springs will be a few of Jeffries's closest friends—not more than half a dozen—and the men who have worked with him since he began open training There will be no music at the Springs, nothing but the tense quiet which hangs over a training quarter on the eve of battle.

At Rick's, a resort on the meadows, three miles away, merriment will be the order of the night. Jeff will circle it. The hired entertainer will sing "I'm Crazy to Waltz With You, Blondie," and Johnson's old bull fiddle will snort and groan in accompaniment, for the champion has no nerves and never retires before eleven o'clock.

Monday is the big day. Shortly after 1 o'clock two big men will climb through the ropes in the rough plue arena on the outskirts of Reno, there to make the most important page in heavyweight history. For a year and a half the heavyweight championship of the world has been held by a negro, the first man of his race to hold the title The best white man ever developed in the ring in this country is to contest the negro's claim after six years absence from the ring By 2 o'clock (3 o'clock Boston time) we shall see whether it is possible for a man to "come back."

Consensus of Opinion Favors Jeffries.

For more than three months wise men have been making predictions based upon the performance of the two fighters. The consensus of opinion is that Jeffries will win; the weight of money is with the white man

His years ago he was the ideal fighter, with a record never before equaled, no doubt ever been equaled, for cleverness and gameness combined. It is largely on the strength of what he has done in the past that Jeffries has been credited as favorite What he will do is entirely a matter of guesswork. All that can be said with any degree of certainty is that he will be good enough to win in a single round; we are close enough to the battle itself to afford the wild.

The result depends almost entirely upon something which has not yet been put to the test - that invisible, intangible thing known as the vital spark, the situation inside the fighting hulk of the white man. Jeffries In the old days this hairy, brown giant drew the fire of every big-gun in the heavyweight line, and if he was ever hurt by a punch he was able to shake off the effect in an instant and resume fighting at the old heart breaking pace.

Johnson, the black man, has never shown that he possesses the punch of a Fitzsimmons, but his right hand is a dangerous weapon, always corked and ready for instant use. Will Jeffries be able to take the punishment as he did eight years ago, shake his head and continue fighting?

Appears Same Ideal Fighter as of Old.

To outward appearances and by performances on the road and in the gymnasium is the same old Jim Jeffries, a man who say that he is faster, more the ideal fighter than ever before in his life, if he has weakened it has not been developed during his course of training.

He is fast on his feet, quick and springy as a lightweight in his movements, and in his boxing he whips his powerful left in and out like a flash His has undergone three solid hours of hard work without showing a trace of distress, and expects before him to have his old judgment of distance in the pinching of his blows. He has done everything that he has been asked to do, save meet some big man in an actual fight

If ever a man deserved to return to fighting form it is Jeffries. He is now at

C. E. VAN LOAN.

Result of the Battle Depends On the Vital Spark in Jeffries.

In repose and hard as a rock when fixed Men who make a study of such things say they have never seen a fighter with his muscles in such excellent condition The work of a year and four months is as complete as possible.

To the one Jeffries is more of a fighting machine than he has ever been, the fight must prove the real Jeffries is like a watch long out of service, its case polished until it looks like new. You cannot tell until you wind it up whether its insides are in order.

The strangest thing about this fight is that nobody seems to worry about Johnson's condition. People like to watch him in his training stunts, but he is always interesting and often amusing but nobody seems to figure that there may be a flaw in the big back fellow.

Johnson is a man who can get into perfect fighting trim in one month if he makes up his mind to do it.

In this case he has taken ample time in supplying a great deal of attention on work which shall strengthen his arms and shoulder muscles. Never very fast on his feet, he has trained himself away from fighting trim. Johnson is now as fit as it is possible for him to be, and, like Jeffries, he has trained himself working along lines of his own If Jeffries is 30 per cent the man he used to be, Johnson is in for the roughest battle of his life. The big negro has never fought a man who classed with the retired champion.

A brief summary of the records of the two men is interesting by comparison. In judging fighters they can never be given credit for better work than they have shown, unless it can be proved that they fought "under a pull."

Johnson's record is not at all an impressive one, but his friends claim that there were many instances where he did not do his best. It is admitted that he did his best against Burns and against Ketchel, but on [illegible] are the accounts of the [illegible] Johnson [illegible] fight [illegible] tackle like [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] dropped [illegible] to [illegible] chance grew for [illegible] It was [illegible] chance to defeat the [illegible] before Johnson [illegible] in this country Jeffries was at once receiving superfluous flesh and the [illegible] which lay over his immense [illegible] softened by Lack of hard work

For a man [illegible] over 200 pounds the task of coming down to [illegible] and fighting that weight is a severe [illegible] the only man who [illegible] what an endless contract it was [illegible] at engagements made the effort not worth his while. Stage hands all over the country know that Jeffries would accept [illegible] and [illegible] fulfill the engagement. [illegible] chance grew for Jeffries [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

...N THE DIAMOND BY FAST AMATEUR TEAMS

...e Roger Walcott A. A. Nine

FASTEST AMATEUR NINE ABOUT BOSTON

Roger Walcott A. A. of Dorchester Bats for .308 and Fields for .947.

The Roger Walcott A. A. of Dorchester is, without doubt, the fastest amateur nine in this part of the State. They have defeated all comers this season, and all the papers have helped to keep up the fine ten-a average that it has maintained since the start of the season, batting for .308 and fielding for .947.

The team is composed of the fastest high school and amateur players around Boston, and a better man than Captain Gallagher would be a hard one to find, for he is working for the game from start to finish and keeps his players to the best of spirits at all the time by his humor.

In Janvrin, the interscholastic third baseman, the team has a boy who can play the game as well as many of the "million" players in the States and many managers are trying to sign him, but he prefers to stay with a winning team.

Calvin is work at short has been first-class and his ability to get the hits when needed is remarkable. The second sack was been looked after in the best of style by Foster, who is also a classy hitter and baserunner, while the first corner has been played by "Big" Ryan, formerly of the Manhattans of Cambridge. Ryan is a fair hand hitter and thrower and is going a few...round game.

Too much cannot be said about the playing of Cannon behind the bat. He is a real catcher in the position and his throwing arm is deadly. With Burrell, Bennett and "Chan" Jansein on the mound, the team has a trio of box men of the first water.

The outfield is well taken care of by Flanders, Gallagher and Johnson. These boys are on their toes all the time and are a fair sticking trio. Manager "Bill" Byrnes, who takes care of right field, has the power over the boys and is directing plays all the time. He is a great student of batting rallies and the club owes much to him for his success during the last two seasons.

HURRAH FOR KITTY.

Cheer Leader for Medford High Receives Honrs.

Miss [illegible] and Medford paid homage to their fair cheer leader of the Medford High School, who did valiant work in assisting the team to win the Suburban League baseball pennant this Spring, by selling her automobile yesterday and presenting her to the team. Kitty is small and chic, and to see her you would not think she could do the [illegible] work. Kitty, there's no leader, M. H. S.

The [illegible] of the merchants by Warren H. Rose. Miss "Kitty" being known widely as a [illegible] in a graduate of [illegible] class at the high school and resides at No. 45 Forest street, Medford.

SAVIN HILL GOES DOWN BEFORE DORCHESTER

Pitcher Besaulners Allows the Losers but Three Hits in Exciting Game.

At Savin Hill Playgrounds yesterday Dorchester A. A. gave the Savin Hill A. A. their second defeat of the season in the Dorchester team batting them 5 to 1. The features of the game were the pitching of Besaulniers, who allowed the Savin Hill but three hits, and the batting of Borkowski Nelson played well for the losers. The score.

DORCHESTER A. A.										SAVIN HILL A. A.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Dooley r.	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Nelson c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	6
Burrell l.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Borkowski p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Ash ss.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Shaw 1b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Bennett 1b.	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	Sullivan ss.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Sundl'n c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Hinchey 2b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hinchey 2b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Schena 3b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Schena 3b.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Dee lf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Lewis c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Lewis c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	Totals	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	6

Dorchester A. A.	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—1
Savin Hill	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0

Two-base hits—Both were singles. Stolen bases—Lewis 2. Left on bases—Dorchester 3, Savin Hill 1. Base on balls—Off Besaulniers 1, off Borkowski 1. Struck out—By Besaulniers 6, by Borkowski 6. Passed balls—Lewis 2. Time—1 hour. Umpire—Mahoney.

MAKE TRIPLE PLAY.

Feature in League Game at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—Not even a brilliant triple play in the third [illegible] by Moore and Quest could save [illegible] from defeat at the hands of Hartford this afternoon. Christopher came in for a hard pounding by the Champs and Hardy, who replaced him, could not stem the execution. The White suffered a broken nose while sliding to third and had to leave the game. The score:

HARTFORD.										SPRINGFIELD.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Moore rf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Quest 2b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2
Quest 2b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	Hardy p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Cunningh'm cf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hoffman cf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Cotter 1b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	11	Hogan 1b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	11
Mahoney lf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hoover lf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mitchell ss.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Lavigne ss.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
Pasley 3b.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Ward 3b.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
Christopher p.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Mason c.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	6
Totals	7	12	27	12	1					Totals	7	12	27	12	1

Hartford	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—1
Springfield	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0

Two-base hits—Quest, Hoover. Left on bases—Hartford 3, Springfield 3. Base on balls—Off Christopher 1, off Hardy 1. Struck out—By Christopher 3, by Hardy 3. Passed balls—Mason 2. Time—1 hour and 30 minutes. Umpire—Ward.

Read Team Downed.

The Reading town team met defeat yesterday at the hands of Houghton & Dutton's mill team. The score:

H. & D.										R. I. E.
Reading	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0—	1 0
Batteries—Hoagland & Dutton, Merry and Conley; Reading, Simpson and Stark.

Glenwood A. A. Win Handily.

The Glenwood A. A. of Cambridge defeated the Allston Barnes Club at Barnes field to the tune of 12 to 7. The features of the game were the batting of Leland and [illegible]. Mahoney for Barnes. Score:

BARNES.										GLENWOOD.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Mahoney p.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	Peterson 1b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	11
Mahoney 2b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Mahoney p.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Leland ss.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Leland ss.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney 3b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Mahoney 2b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney lf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Mahoney 3b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney cf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Mahoney lf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney rf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Mahoney cf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney c.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Mahoney rf.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Totals	32	7	27	11	2					Totals	32	12	27	12	2

Barnes	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0
Glenwood	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0

Two-base hits—Mahoney, Leland. Left on bases—Barnes 3, Glenwood 3. Base on balls—Off Mahoney 1, off Mahoney 1. Struck out—By Mahoney 3, by Mahoney 3. Passed balls—Mahoney 2. Time—1 hour and 30 minutes. Umpire—Mahoney.

PLYMOUTH CORDAGE WINS OVER WINTHROP

Local Team Defeated by Nine at the Pilgrims' Landing Place.

PLYMOUTH, July 2.—Plymouth Cordage defeated the Winthrop team here today, 6-4. Each team used two pitchers, Lynch being knocked out of the box in the fifth, while Shaw was forced to retire from the game owing to tearing a ligament in his knee, which will probably result in his being out of the game the remainder of the season. Johnson, who succeeded Shaw, pitched effective ball, but fell down when his opponents began to hit and in the eighth the Winthrops scored the winning pair. Score:

PLYMOUTH.										WINTHROP.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Lynch p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Hall 2b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2
Johnson p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Hall lf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Hall 2b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	Hall cf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Hall lf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hall 1b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	11
Hall cf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hall ss.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Hall 1b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	11	Hall 3b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Hall ss.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hall rf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1
Hall 3b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hall c.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	6
Hall rf.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	Hall p.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hall c.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	6	Hall p.	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	6	27	12	1					Totals	36	4	27	12	1

Plymouth	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—6
Winthrop	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—4

Two-base hits—Hall, Hall. Left on bases—Plymouth 3, Winthrop 12. Base on balls—Off Lynch 1, off Johnson 1, off Hall 1. Struck out—By Lynch 3, by Johnson 3, by Hall 1. Passed balls—Hall 2. Attendance 800.

GREAT GAME AT PEABODY.

High School Beats Salem, and Davies Allows but One Hit.

PEABODY, July 2.—Fifteen hundred people turned out this afternoon to see the greatest high school baseball battle in the history of Essex County. Tied for the championship of the Essex Interscholastic League, Peabody and Salem High fought through ten innings, Peabody was a winner by a score of 1 to 0. Pitchers Davies of Peabody and London of Salem had flawless support, and Davies pitched his mates, allowing but one hit to Salem, passed one man and struck out fifteen men averaging the hill which scored [illegible] in the tenth [illegible] Salem [illegible] Peabody [illegible] Davies [illegible] Attendance 1,500.

"THE GLORIOUS FOURTH" IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

THE Fourth of July still be a festival for sport fans of all kinds. Following is the day's schedule:

BASEBALL.

American League—Boston at Washington (2), Philadelphia at Cleveland (2), New York at Chicago (2), St. Louis at Detroit (2).

National League—Philadelphia at Boston (2), Brooklyn at New York (2), Chicago at Cincinnati (2), St. Louis at Pittsburg (2).

New England League—Fall River at New Bedford (2 ea.), Lowell at Lawrence (2), Lynn at Haverhill (2), Worcester at Brockton (2 ea.), Brockton at Worcester (2), Haverhill at Lynn (2), Lawrence at Lowell (2 ea.), New Bedford at Fall River (2).

Eastern League—Providence at Baltimore (2), Buffalo at Rochester (2), Toronto at Newark (2), Jersey City at Richmond (2).

Connecticut League—Bridgeport at Springfield (2), Hartford at Middletown (2), Meriden at New Haven (2), Waterbury at Hartford (2), New Haven at Meriden (2), Middletown at Bridgeport (2).

New York League—Albany at Amsterdam, Jamestown at Johnstown, Gloversville at Utica, Schenectady at Troy (2 ea.), Williams council, Rondout, Mechanicville at Albany.

Tri-County League—Hopedale at Milford, Holliston at Upton, Mendon at Bellingham, Franklin at Blackstone, Millville at Uxbridge.

Bay State League—Morning: Woonsocket at Attleboro, Taunton at Newport, Conn. Pawtucket at Manchester, afternoon: Attleboro at Woonsocket, Manchester at Pawtucket, Newport at Taunton.

Inter City League—Morning, Broadways at Woodlawns, Hillsides at Highlands, Highlands at Hamiltons, afternoon: Holy Trinity at Immaculate Conceptions, Hamiltons at Valley Forge.

OTHER BASEBALL.

Hosiery Typos vs. Malden Athletics at Malden.

Page Class vs. New Dorchester A. A. at Dorchester.

Clark Hosiery Co. vs. Wm. H. Gray Co. at Franklin Hosiery Co.

Boston Elevated vs. E. E. Gray Co. at Wrentham.

Boston Athletic Association vs. Cambridge Athletic Club, scheduled race, 10 singles and 5 relays, at Cambridge.

Boston Athletic Association vs. Cambridge Athletic Club, scheduled race (single), at Brookline.

Brookline Field Association vs. Cambridge Athletic Club, scheduled race (single), at Brookline.

Boston A. A. vs. North Dakota A. C. at Medford.

GOLF.

Belmont Spring Golf vs. Belmont—Morning: Belmont Spring will play a competitive afternoon handicap match with Belmont, the winners of any two games to count.

Hilltop of C.—Open mixed foursome.

Club tournaments throughout New England.

YACHTING.

American Y. C.—Newburyport, cruise to Marblehead.

Corinthian Y. C.—Open Fourth of July regatta.

Club tournaments throughout New England.

HORSE.

Kelleher Herring Club matinee at Combination Park, Medford.

Medford Driving Club meeting at South Weymouth.

Lynn Driving Club at Peabody.

BOXING.

Jeffries vs. Johnson, world's championship battle at Reno, Nevada.

Young Nelson, of Roxbury, vs. Young O'Neil of Woonsocket at Arlington A. A.

Packy Flynn vs. Bill Dunphy, Bay Harbor, Mc Keesport, Pa.

Young Mealey vs. Kid Mario, Hamilton, Mass.

Bill McKinnon vs. Battler Connolly, Fitchburg, Mass.

Tommy Moore vs. Tommy O'Toole, Philadelphia.

Kid Goodman vs. Johnny Oliver and Fighting Stewart vs. Mike Cunningham, Baltimore.

Young Nixon vs. Bert Dorsey, Albany.

AUTO.

Indianapolis—Cobe Race.

CRICKET.

Fast Boston vs. Needle Island A. Wood Island Park, East Boston, at 2 p.m.

Tamaques of New York at Philadelphia.

Merion vs. Germantown Cricket Club, at Philadelphia.

Wanamaker vs. Pastoral, at Philadelphia.

TENNIS.

Quincy Tennis Club, Quincy, Mass.

TRACK ATHLETICS.

Open Boston games on the Common, 9 a.m.

Cambridge Y. M. C. A. games at Cambridge.

Lynn Y. M. C. A. games at Lynn.

Scottish clans' amateur games at Lawrence.

SHOOT.

Shirreffs—B. A. A. Gun Club.

Wellington—Fiderlers Gun Club.

ROWING.

Annual Fourth of July regatta on the Charles River.

SWIMMING.

Brookline Swimming Club, open air carnival on the Charles River.

FOOTBALL.

Galvez vs. Roxbury team at Boston Common, 1 p.m.

KENNEL.

Whippet Club of America, whippet race at Lynn.

CANOEING.

Medford Boat Club regatta on upper Mystic Lake.

ROGER WALCOTTS BEATEN.

Amateur Champions Beaten by Roger A. C., 6 to 2.

The Roger A. C. of Ho... defeated the Roger Walcotts of Dor... yesterday afternoon at the latter's grounds by the double score of 6 to 2. The features of the game were the fast fielding of McCarthy and Cain and the heavy hitting of Sundell and Howard for the winners. Bridges and Bates excelled for the losers.

ROGER A. C.										ROGER WALCOTTS.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Cain s.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Bradbury m.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Howard 1b.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	11	Bates 1b.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	11
Sundell c.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	6	Bridges c.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	6
Corrigan l.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Bates 2b.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
McCarthy 2b.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Bates ss.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney lf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Bates lf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney cf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Bates cf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Bates rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1
Mahoney p.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Bates p.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	27	6	27	16	0					Totals	27	2	27	8	2

Roger Walcott	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—2
Roger A. C.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—6

Two-base hits—Howard, Sundell, Bridges, Bates. Left on bases—Roger Walcott 3, Roger A. C. 3. Base on balls—Off Mahoney 1, off Bradbury 1. Struck out—By Mahoney 3, by Bradbury 3. Passed balls—Sundell 1, Bridges 1. Time—1 hour and 30 minutes. Umpire—Mahoney.

FISHERMEN WIN.

Cambridge Colored Team Defeated at Gloucester.

GLOUCESTER, July 2.—The Washington A. C., a colored team from Cambridge, was defeated by the Gloucesters at Webster's field today by a score of 13 to 0. The score:

GLOUCESTER.										WASHINGTON A. C.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Salvo 3.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	Brown 1.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Ward 2.	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Kerwin 1.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown 2.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Gardner c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown 3.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Mahoney c.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown s.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley 1.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown m.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley s.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley m.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown lf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown cf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley lf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown rf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley cf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley rf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown lf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Curley p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	Brown cf.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	11	18	27	0	0	0	0	0	2	Totals	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Gloucester	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0
Washington A. C.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0

Two-base hits—Salvo, Ward. Left on bases—Gloucester 3, Washington A. C. 3. Base on balls—Off Curley 1, off Curley 1. Struck out—By Curley 3, by Curley 3. Passed balls—Gardner 1, Mahoney 1. Time—1 hour. Umpire—Mahoney.

Maches Found Easy.

CLINTON, Mass., July 2.—Allowing [illegible] North Grafton a easy mark winning out by 6 to 0. McLaughlin and eleven strikeouts and unbiassed [illegible]. The score.

CLINTON.										NORTH GRAFTON.
	AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO		AB	R	1B	2B	3B	HR	SH	SB	PO
Sullivan 3.	3	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Jeffery r.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Smith 2.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes s.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes m.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes p.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes lf.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes cf.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hughes rf.	3	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	[illegible]	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	27	6	27	11	0					Totals	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Clinton	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—6
North Grafton	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0

Two-base hits—Sullivan, Jeffery. Left on bases—Clinton 3, North Grafton 3. Base on balls—Off Hughes 1. Struck out—By Hughes 11. Passed balls—Hughes 1. Time—1 hour. Umpire—Mahoney.

Wins Game in 9th Inning.

The crack Wakefield Association team turned defeat into victory in the ninth inning yesterday, trimming the Hamiltons of Lynn 11 to 10. With one man down, two doubles and three singles in succession netted three runs. Cann, although taken from the box in the third, redeemed himself by great stick work, hitting the ball in two doubles and three singles and five times at bat. The score by innings:

Wakefield	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	8
Hamiltons	0	0	1	5	0	0	0	0	0	10

Batteries—Wakefield, Cann, Credon and Rogers; Hamiltons, Cavanaugh, Demoster and Ferry.

The crack Norfolk A. A. would like to hear from some of the strongest teams in or around the State. Henry F. Danner, No. 10 Bennett street, East Dedham.

The Weldon A. C. of Roslindale would like to arrange a game with some fast team for July 16 at home. W. R. Hayes, 6 No. 74 Kittredge street, Roslindale.

The Walton A. C. would like to hear from fast teams for [illegible] on the [illegible]. Keily, 53 Maverick street, East Boston.

The Holons would like to hear from strong teams for July 23 and 30. Ward, No. 51 Bristol street, Roxbury.

The Pothurst White Sox would like to arrange games with some strong aggregations for July 16 to [illegible]. Would like to hear from [illegible] Allouth[illegible] Hamberg of Quincy, Arlingtons of Brighton, A. A. of South Somerville, the Linden Indians of Portland [illegible] Jones, No. 849 Parker street, Roxbury, Boston, care Lamson & Hubbard [illegible].

The Fenno A. C. would like to arrange games with teams in and around Boston. Will give own park for ten men [illegible] John O'Neil, No. 349 Pearl street, Chelsea.

The City Points would like to arrange games with first out of town teams. W. Cotter, No. 1068 Dorchester, South Boston.

The South Boston White Sox cancels games arranged owing to a change of park and would like to arrange for [illegible]. William E. Joyce, No. 111 Ninth street, South Boston.

15-16-YEAR-OLD TEAMS.

The Saracen A. C. would like to arrange games with fast teams in the State. Thomas Ryan, No. 2223 Hamilton street, Dorchester.

The [illegible] A. C. would like to arrange games with fast uniformed teams for July. Harry Bowman, No. 15 Granger street, South Medford.

14-15-YEAR-OLD TEAMS.

The [illegible] would like to arrange games with fast teams. Alfred Edwards, No. 1 Pleasant street, Dorchester.

The Ambons would like to arrange games with the Fairmont A. C. preferred and the Harvard A. C. preferred. Joseph Kania, No. 19 Vinton street, South Boston.

The Imperial A. A. would like to arrange games with fast teams in the State, at home or away from home. Half faces will play at Whitehouse, No. 689A Fifth street, South Boston.

The Centrals of South Boston claim the 14-15 championship and would like to defend it against strong teams. [illegible] No. 19 Dexter street, South Boston.

The [illegible] A. C. would like to book games with teams around Boston. Would like to hear from the Rosbury Hyde Park, Brighton and Dedham A. C. of East Boston. [illegible], No. 73 River street, Cambridge.

IN THE FACTORY LEAGUE.

Manville Company Beats Berkeley, the Leaders, 2 to 1.

WOONSOCKET, July 2.—The Manville Company [illegible] a surprise this afternoon by beating the league leader, Berkeley, William Sweeney did [illegible] Berkeley while winning 2 to 0. Jack Lowery pitched for Whitinsville and won over Woonsocket 6 to 2. The Draper Company [illegible] Hecla of Uxbridge, 8 to 0, and goes into the lead. The score:

Manville Company.	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0—2
Draper Company.	3	0	0	2	0	2	0	1	x—8

Batteries—Wilson and Nickette, Rivard and Beaumont. Runs—Duff and Wilson. Hits, Manville, 7; Berkeley, 1. Errors—Manville.

Batteries—Taylor and Crosen, McCarthy and Killivan. Runs—Stank, 2; Cochrane, 2; O'Neil, O'Donnell, Kramen and Taylor. Hits—Draper, 8; Hecla, 2. Errors—Draper, 2; Hecla, 2.

Whitinsville..... 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—3
Woonsocket..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0—2

Batteries—Chasbro and Norris, Drohan and Hennessy. Hits—Whitinsville, 13; Woonsocket, 7. Errors—Whitinsville, 1; Woonsocket, 1.

The Atlantes would like to arrange games with fast teams in the State. Joseph S. Welder, 97 James street, Hamiltondale.

17-18-YEAR OLD TEAMS.

The Richfield Club of Dorchester would like to arrange games with any fast team in the State giving a fair guarantee. John J. Sullivan, No. 76 Union street, Lowell.

The Westland A. C. would like to arrange games with fast teams. [illegible] August. Will give [illegible] Cohan street, Boston.

The fast South Ends of Lowell would like to hear from fast teams throughout the State giving a fair guarantee. John J. Sullivan, No. 76 Union street, Lowell.

The Westland A. C. would like to arrange games with fast teams. [illegible] August. Will give [illegible] Cohan street, Boston.

SEMI-PROFESSIONAL TEAMS.

The Needham A. A. would like to hear from fastest teams, playing a fair guarantee. William A. Ahern, West street, Needham Heights.

The strong Bay Roster A. A. would like to hear from fast [illegible] Brant [illegible] Bay Roster M. [illegible] Nash, 31 [illegible] Bay

3 HAVE REVENGE ON PHILLIES, 5 TO 0.

Trim the Visitors About as They Please at the South End Grounds.

Continued from First Page.

been ab knamed as murky (the big smoke), such as one might see on a cigar at a fund for endurance properties. Thereupon Shaw Stark had his [illegible] third in the fourth inning being taken out in favor of his head. [illegible] and Addison "Dick" Dooin, who [illegible] as his second, rubber, and battle-[illegible] If the four last men had likened the [illegible] contest to what they hope to see or hear of as being enacted at Reno.

There was a 2:30 process around the [illegible] is, the fans [illegible] the fight—rather the game—was begun. At the sound of the gong the men shook hands. (Expert [illegible] white of Reno. Let me repeat) The players shook hands. They did nothing of the kind.

True, the Doves tied up their gloves. Tullus took a dangerous gleam in his eye as he faced Brown, who was to twirl for the home of sport. He landed the ball on the plate of Brown. The blow was beyond the [illegible] a foul one but [illegible] the last ball came to the grandstand thought that Brown [illegible] to have taken it for. Any [illegible] a strike was called with this right, sending it over to Sharpe, but Thomas was there before the ball. That was the only time the Phillies got to the eighth, when Grant put out another, and all through the nine rounds Brown was master of the situation.

After Miller and Graham had scored for the Doves in the second, Tullus and Sharpe [illegible] Dooin [illegible] Hoffer had earned two shots by putting the ball over the right field fence in the fourth, but a game was to a man named Shettler who [illegible] it, that [illegible] Doves were kept in their corner. If Shettler had replaced Tullus in [illegible] the start, then the fight might have ended differently.

There was nothing to speak of concerning the mill in the first [illegible] of the fourth [illegible] Titus, who earned a 3:50 notice by [illegible] out a home run at Philadelphia the [illegible] [illegible] over the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

AUTOMOBILES

PREMIER LEADS THE FIELD OF CONTENDERS IN GLIDDEN TROPHY

Most Exacting Reliability Contest in American Motoring History.

By J. C. KERRISON.

THE A. A. A. endurance contest, more commonly known as the Glidden tour, has always been prolific of great results in more ways than one.

Never, however, has it brought forth such experiences as the one just closed; experiences which fairly discount all previous work, establishing new standards of hardships and heartburn, eclipsing even the famous run to Pittsburg, which it will be remembered was before the days of the Glidden tours. There have been times in years gone by when contestants in the famous Glidden believed themselves and their cars sadly used, but those experiences were "play" indeed in comparison with what was encountered during the run which came to a conclusion in Chicago Thursday last.

This is the first Glidden in history which finished without a single car free from penalization, and it is likewise the first time that the trophy has passed into the hands of a second owner.

Conditions encountered on the run in a great portion of the run were H [illegible] were by far the most trying imaginable. [illegible] the rules being stringent in the e[illegible] and the character of the greater portion of the roadbed so bad that the average self-cranking motorist would be ashamed to start his car to negotiate the same. But the manufacturers' representatives felt different. No road was too steep, too [illegible] hilly or undefined as to cause [illegible] man to hesitate to drive cars over same, even though they themselves [illegible] they were to ruin a car in the event of the [illegible] good car, against such obstacles. They were on the tour for a purpose. They did their duty. Some of them were forced to finish out in the open night after night. Some were forced to give up the struggle as shown by the fact that only about half the cars that started from Cincinnati was in the finishing line [illegible] Chicago some days later.

The surprise of the tour was not seen [illegible] that there were no road scars at the end of the run as it was that so many cars came through and finished in such strong shape after being reduced to a condition [illegible] capable of doing even more extensive work. The work of the cars and likewise of the men on this tour was decidedly praiseworthy. No greater encomium on the constructive ability of the American automobile manufacturer could possibly be desired or secured.

Chairman Absent.

This was the first tour in history where the chairman of the competition was not present at all times. But then things change as time goes on. There was a referee and unexpectedly ready no need of the chairman's presence. He had other duties to perform, fully as important to the speedy finishing of the Glidden tour, as in all other. There was more or less friction as regards the interpretation and enforcement of the rules. Again history repeated itself, as the chairman had [illegible] on occasion at least changed his decision. But that is all really against [illegible]

[illegible] six-cylinder Premier, which has always been a strong, capable and consistent performer, won [illegible] road conditions were concerned, and that too, after having been called upon to do a great portion of the official work in addition to his regular duties. Honors are due for the trophy Ray M. Sawyer, who drove the winning Premier, had not only the driving experiences, he having for seven years driven the Chalmers-Detroit on the annual tour. This year, however, he declared much to his surprise that he was a result thereof he has the satisfaction of seeing it go to Indianapolis, the home office of the company.

The Premier cars captured secondary honors and received them well and gloriously. Not only did the Premier, being called upon at different times to assist in the [illegible] work, but the Premier Chalmers substantiated its reputation as a car of enduring ability.

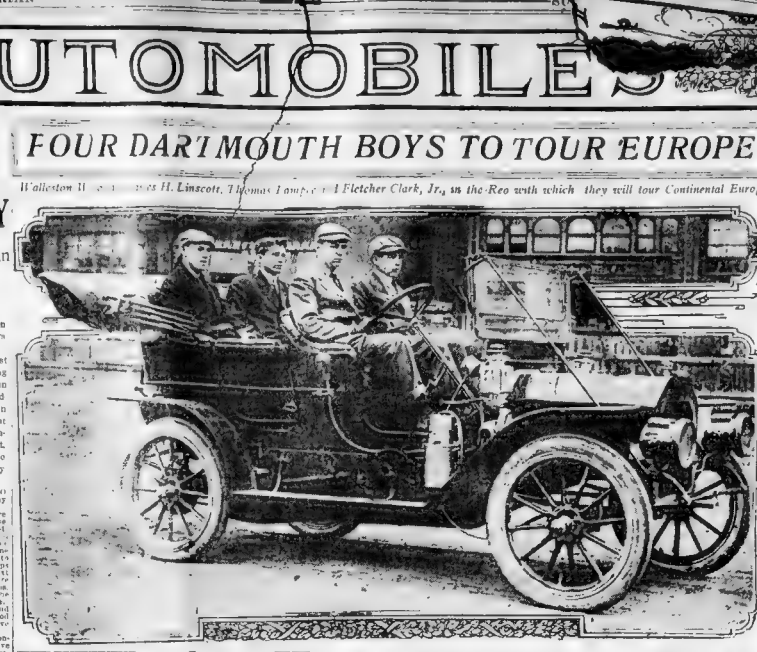
The Maxwell, which captured third place, was equally as brilliant, and even though nothing may separate the leaders it would really be hard to differentiate between them on their road showing at least.

One car not a contestant deserving of great praise is the Rapid Truck, which from start to finish was right up with the band wagon, spreading the gospel of motors and good roads which go hand in hand, and incidentally demonstrating that the commercial vehicle is a practical thing of to-day and not an experiment.

One of the most interested contenders [illegible]

FOUR DARTMOUTH BOYS TO TOUR EUROPE

Walleston H. [illegible] Thomas Lamp[illegible] and Fletcher Clark, Jr., in the Reo with which they will tour Continental Europe.



BIG CONTRACT IS NOW IN EFFECT

Alfred Measure Establishes His Retail Headquarters in Boston.

Alfred Measure, who has the agency for Cadillac automobiles for Boston and vicinity, exclusively, under the firm name of the Cadillac Automobile Company of Boston, announces that his contract with the parent company in Detroit is now in effect, and that he has taken [illegible] of his finely appointed salesrooms [illegible] Huntington avenue. The new [illegible] is located in the heart of Boston's retail commercial district, [illegible] Arlington and Berkeley streets, [illegible] a few minutes' walk from the [illegible] Public Garden. The new [illegible] is one of the most perfect and [illegible] salesrooms in this city. [illegible] large show windows and every [illegible] space for the display of the various [illegible] of this well-known and [illegible] of car. A [illegible] of the offices [illegible] department, [illegible] trade in the [illegible] Owners of [illegible] purchasers are [illegible] the new Cadillac [illegible] the handsome [illegible] fort will be used [illegible] prompt and efficient [illegible] patronage. [illegible] ished on the second floor of the Motor Mart in Park square.

[illegible] Cadillac dealer [illegible] been in business [illegible] now associated [illegible] manager for the Cadillac [illegible] pany of Boston.

FOUR STUDENTS IN A REO MOTOR CAR

Walleston W. and Charles H. Linscott and Friends Start to Tour Europe.

Four Dartmouth boys are now on their way to tour through continental Europe, the trip having been a reward of merit earned during the past few years as the winged an entirely new profession—that of route finding. Seven years ago when the official automobile blue book was established all the information on routes published was contained in one small, [illegible] book describing a few hundred miles around New York and Boston. This [illegible] Directory Bureau of the Motor Registers [illegible] Boston has developed year by year until, when the 1910 edition was required in four leather bound [illegible] 900 pages each, [illegible] approximately 150,000 miles of routes [illegible] of North America, [illegible] in every part of the country was [illegible] and corrected.

The material contained in these books is collected by a corps [illegible] trained in the work of route description. [illegible] high-powered cars were fitted [illegible] equipped with [illegible] as he describes, which, [illegible] enabled him to cover [illegible] per day without any [illegible] and have [illegible] a motor [illegible] engine [illegible] in each [illegible] will receive as [illegible] reference that one of the [illegible] addition to that of [illegible] with the world and to [illegible] of the Highway [illegible] car stock Reo without the slig[illegible] whatsoever from the regular [illegible] to every purchaser thereof.

ADVICE OF ENGINEERS.

Society Tells Autoists How to Select Materials.

Announcement has just been made that the Society of Automobile Engineers has completed the preparation of and is shortly to issue its [illegible] complete list of materials specified [illegible] made for motor [illegible]

The engineering and [illegible] creating this list of [illegible] new [illegible] adherence to [illegible] principles [illegible] spells safety [illegible] motor car [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

AUTOMOBILES

CARE NECESSARY FOR CONTEST TEAMS IN RELIABILITY RUN

Drivers and Mechanicians Must Keep in Training Like Athletes.

By H. O. SMITH.

Those who have not participated in a modern reliability contest cannot appreciate the test they give a car and the strain on the drivers and their assistants. Experience teaches that the driver must be kept under as strict regulations as any athlete preparing for a contest. It has been found necessary to lay down rigid rules as to diet, and the time for rising and retiring. The men accompanying contests are allowed only a limited choice for breakfast, and for lunch only sufficient to keep them from becoming uncomfortably hungry. We limit them at noon because we have found that a hurriedly eaten meal, or eating while driving, which has heretofore been the case, is sure to produce indigestion, and in addition to this the worry of maintaining a schedule and the anxiety as to roads ahead is not conducive to proper assimilation of food.

At the evening meal they are provided with the best and most wholesome foods obtainable, and are then allowed to eat without restriction, though the use of liquor of any kind is strictly forbidden throughout the contest.

CONTEST BRINGS TERRIFIC STRAIN.

One might naturally ask why so much pains, but it has been proven that a consistency of 25 miles per hour, or 2,500 miles in 100 hours becomes an enormous strain upon the driver as well as the car. Being compelled to cover at least a mile in every three minutes on the road may seem easy, but the average driver will not find it play to maintain such a strenuous schedule for 200 miles over roads taking them as he finds them if he is to do it, keeping his time mark down to the fifth of a minute which certainly is the most count in striking his average. In a contest every minute or fraction thereof over the schedule is made a penalty, whether it be voluntary or involuntary stops or delays.

Sent Over Rough Roads.

I think the time made in some of the reliability runs is often more remarkable than the time made in track events for on the track the course is smooth and the motor is subjected to a comparatively uniform load. The best of tires, springs, etc., in track events cannot be compared to road contests since in the former the cars are confined to the dirt and all possible weight is put on the rear axle, while in the latter it is distributed by the wheels more or less evenly. A road reliability contest is the only means by which motors can be subjected to the strain they will receive over a road, and the only means by which all kinds of roads and tracks, for even if the whole is over dust roads it can properly be termed a road. The motors are subjected to varying grades over smooth roads, new stones and other rough roads in part. It is a recognized fact that a stationary engine will develop more horsepower with a steady maximum load with uniform effort than with the abrupt changes from minimum to maximum and vice versa as in this abrupt and radical change of conditions which is most trying on the mechanism of a car.

Must Keep Schedule.

Another reason why road contests are more trying than track events on both driver and car is because of the speed, distance, and the driver in a reliability contest knows that if he is compelled to grind or replace a valve, or a part of any kind, or even so much as tighten a bolt that he will be penalized. The strain on the car and the credit due to it if it finishes with a good score in a reliability contest can be appreciated by any one who has witnessed the car or our speed events on a smooth course and noted how many cars required adjustments and repairs before going a hundred miles, and how few go through without attention of some kind. The driver in a reliability contest also knows that he must not only reach every control on schedule, and that he cannot make the slightest repair or adjustment, and in addition to this car cannot have a broken or bruised part or even a loose, or lost bolt or screw if he expects a perfect score, as a technical penalty within a limit of a few points and every derangement is charged up against the car. Time the final report of the technical committee not only shows how every car performed, but it also shows what happened to the car and how much of the car was left, or broken, would not know it cost in the way of deterioration to accomplish the feat. Since the cars are under the care of observers from the start to the finish and all tools and parts are sealed, these reports are absolutely final and can be relied upon.

Demand for Race.

I am not against racing. There is no doubt a demand for motor car races. They are interesting, and instructive in a way, but do not furnish the same information as does the reliability contest. In a mere square cars can be made to work over a course, and yet the first car over the line in the manner in spite of its condition is proclaimed the winner. In competition no technical examinations are provided as to the condition of the car at the finish of the best condition. The car which won one of our most important middle west road races during 1909 finished on three cylinders, and its nearest competitor incurred in the fourth cylinder. Other cars in the race, however, were running at their perfect but a few seconds slower, yet the car which was partial speed was the winner. If the results are taken as information Mr. Lay has made these results might be misleading as they might be taken to indicate that was the best car. With reliability events, however, the final findings are upon the basis of performances and general conditions as revealed during the course and by the technical examination at the conclusion.

NEW MANAGER OF THE FIAT AUTO CO.

One of the most important business changes that has occurred in local motor circles for some time took place in the retirement of Mr. R. B. Ross as sales manager of the Peerless Motor Car Company of New England, and his acceptance of a position at the head of the Fiat Automobile Company in New England. Mr. Ross is one of the pioneer automobile salesmen of Boston, having started in the industry years ago, when the number of motor dealers and salesmen could be counted on the fingers of one hand. In the early days of the industry, Mr. Ross established records and did great work with the old four-cylinder single cylinder. Some six or seven years ago, when Alvan T. Fuller secured the Packard interests, Mr. Ross became associated with him. He has made a name and reputation for himself, and in a couple of years or so, he became associated with the Peerless Company. It can honestly be said that the great success and the great popularity of the Peerless Car Company in this section was due to the main to the scientific and progressive work of Mr. Ross, who for several years past has been the sales manager of the local company.

The Fiat Company announced simultaneously with the appointment of Mr. Ross the resignation of Mr. S. H. Baker as its New England manager. The present Fiat office at 849 Boylston street will be discontinued upon the completion of the new building being erected for the Fiat Company at 822 and 841 Boylston street. The show room in this new building will have a frontage of fifty feet and a depth of 110 feet, and will probably be one of the finest in this city. The new service will be up to the newest and largest increased facilities due to the action of the Italian company of increasing the output of Fiat cars. The Fiat company has stated that it will not only endeavor to keep the New England territory for the Fiat cars, but will permit of a substantial reduction in the selling prices of the Italian built Fiat cars. It is proposed to sell the new cars completely equipped at prices approximating those of the leading American makes, but the product will be of a quality never put out heretofore in this country either as regards material or workmanship.

On the subject of design and other interesting details as well as the prices on the 1911 models, a full announcement will be made within a few weeks.

Mr. Ross will assume the direction of Fiat interests in this territory, Monday, July 11, and his many friends and clients in Boston are sure to call shortly to offer their congratulations since hearing of the change he has just made.

CHANGE IN NAME ONLY.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company Is Now Incorporated.

To fulfill the provisions of the will of Mr. Thomas B. Jeffery, it has been deemed advisable to incorporate the Rambler business.

This necessitates a slight change in the name from Thomas B. Jeffery & Company to the Thomas B. Jeffery Company.

The ownership is vested in the Jeffery family. No change in management and the policies along the lines formulated by Mr. Jeffery will be maintained.

GOOD INFORMATION REGARDING ROADS

Interesting and valuable information regarding road and legal conditions in the State is sent out by N. A. A. as follows:

Watertown. Main street, between Hammond and Nick streets. Arrests being made for violation of speed laws and for not sounding horns at intersecting streets.

Cohasset. Owing to complaints, the Selectmen of this town have been requested by the citizens to strictly enforce the automobile laws. "Traps" will be established and operated next week.

Massachusetts State Highways Now Under Construction.

Ashland. Road between Ashland and Framingham.

Barnstable. From West Barnstable to Barnstable Village.

Becket. From point sixteen hundred feet west of Chester Inn, westerly.

Blackstone. From end of 1902 layout easterly.

Bourne. Falmouth road from southerly end of present State highway, southerly.

Chester. From Huntington line to Becket line.

Chilmark. From easterly end of present State highway, northeasterly.

Dedham. From end of 1909 layout, northeasterly.

East Longmeadow. From Springfield line toward end of present State highway.

Falmouth. From Bourne line to Mashpee line.

Greenfield. From end of present State highway towards Bridge street.

Harvard. From Bolton line westerly.

Hatfield. From Whately line southwesterly.

Haverhill. On road between Haverhill and Merrimac.

Holyoke. From Easthampton line to present State highway.

Ipswich. From Rowley line on road from Ipswich to Rowley.

Lowell. From easterly end of State highway easterly to Mulpus road.

Marshfield. From 1907 layout to 1909 layout.

North Andover. Haverhill road from Lake street towards Haverhill.

North Brookfield. From Ward street to Brookfield and Paper.

Pepperell. From near the Groton line northwesterly.

Phillipston. From end of present State highway to Templeton line.

Palmer. From easterly end of present State highway southerly.

Quincy. From easterly end of 1902 layout northwesterly.

Salisbury. From Salisbury square towards the New Hampshire line.

Spencer. From Leicester line to Brookfield line, via Main street.

Templeton. From end of 1908 layout, southerly.

Uxbridge. From Blackstone river northwesterly.

Whitman. From southerly end of present State highway southeasterly to Farrington line.

Ft. Lyndon. From 1908 layout southeast-towards Woburn.

FLANDERS "20" SETS MODERATE PACE IN 3-FLAGS RUN

Pilot W. J. Lane States Car Will Harm No Living Thing on the Trip.

One of the features of the Quebec-Mexico City trip of the Flanders "20" "Under Three Flags" car has been the complete absence of that process which the average motorist denominates "beating it." On this subject Pilot W. J. Lane has very pronounced views. In fact he doesn't yet know how fast the car will go. He simply has never asked her for her limit in the speed way, nor does he intend to do so at any stage of the 4,000 or so miles that remain. On long, closely safe and time-saved stretches he has let the car do from five even thirty miles an hour with her heavy touring load of trunks, tires and other added equipment besides her load of two rather heavy men.

We'll probably travel 5,000 miles before this trip is over," said he, "and I don't mean to harm a single living thing on the run. There is no telling at what moment a cow, a pig or some other domestic animal may rush out from nowhere in particular, into your way. Children do silly things and unforeseen and high speeding don't often see. A thousand possibilities confront the man who goes scorching through the country, even if he has a car like ours, that can be handled with a twist of the wrist and stopped in five times her length by a few pounds of pressure with the foot.

"Personally, whenever I hear about some man traveling a day or more at a rate of faster than twenty miles an hour, over all running time, along a country road I know he has been placing not only himself in danger of others in grave danger a score of times, but has also become a menace to himself a road hog and a common menace. Horses, often driven by women, have taken fright and run away behind him. Mothers, whose children are out of sight as he passes, rush out almost scared to death. Stock and poultry are sure to suffer and automobiling in general has been made unpopular among those who should be its best friends and whose interests and those of the motorist are so closely connected.

Acting on this, the "Under Three Flags" car has already come almost or entirely to a full stop easily a dozen times, and help past some wandering piece of poultry or a slight stiffness even usually marks the trip of the Flanders "20" up hill or down, barring only mountains. The process of "beating it" is entirely unknown with the present control now in every way possible the "Under Three Flags" car is making friends of the many populations through whose territory she is passing.

Already a lovely time Nero could have had if he'd only had an automobile," remarked Mr. Lane, as he passed a farmer in Ontario one afternoon and undeavored unsuccessfully to hold his own. A mere team, without causing the horses to overturn the wagon, they were drawing.

CADILLAC ON LONG TOUR.

Garrett D. Cooper Uses Motor Car for Comfortable Globe-Trotting.

Traveling leisurely across the continent from Seattle to New York, stopping where fancy dictates and loitering at the picturesque spots, Garrett D. Cooper and his wife are making a rather out-of-the-ordinary tour in a Cadillac Thirty.

Mr. Cooper is of Siegel-Cooper Company of New York, and has spent much of his time since 1903 in touring the interesting countries of the world in automobiles. During the winter he and Mrs. Cooper covered Southern California in their Cadillac and then headed north from Los Angeles. At Seattle they first visited Vancouver and made all the popular trips in the Pacific region; then started on the long journey East.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper do not carry with them the impedimenta of shovels, axes, camping equipment or luggage carried by transcontinental tours, and Mr. Cooper explains this departure as follows:

"We aim to demonstrate that the country can be covered without all this outfitting and that tourists can travel as comfortably as they do by train, with the additional advantage of stopping whenever and wherever they desire and being always away from the routes of railroads and without dirt, dust or any kind.

"For all this kind of traveling I prefer a car such as I have, a Cadillac Thirty. I have found its maintenance cost very reasonable and it is really easier for the tourists that a heavier car."

J. E. Savell in Aviation.

With a view of getting in closer touch with the actual working of heavier than air flying machines, J. E. Savell, local manager of the Rainier and Parry agencies in this city, has made a trial trip in a new biplane of the Technicery Aeronautical Club on the Charles River Speedway one evening last week. The biplane used was designed and constructed by H. S. Fales and B. C. Hubert, M. I. T. '11. Will Mr. Hubert as aviator and Mr. Fales in the car with Mr. Savell to tow the machine, two extremely successful flights were made. The first flight was low, the machine going only ten or fifteen feet from the ground, but on the second occasion it was more successful, the machine rose to a height of about 75 feet and continued at this height to almost the end of its flight.

The Rainier car used to tow the biplane demonstrated very clearly this car's smoothness and flexibility, gaining speed rapidly after the start and slowing down smoothly and easily to the stopping point with no shock or jar to the aviator. Mr. Savell was so pleased with the results of this trial, that he announces his intention of doing considerable more and will probably announce the handling of some of this aeroplane in the advertising columns at a little later date.

Brookline Buys Buicks.

During the past week the selectmen of the town of Brookline placed orders for Model 17 Buick cars, which will be assigned to the chief of police, street department, and the light and wire department.

The local branch of the Buick Motor Company is greatly pleased over this order as the competition was keen and the selection was made only after the most careful investigation by experts and the weighing pro and con of the points advanced by the various representatives in their favor.

The use of Buicks by municipalities is pretty general throughout the country and in Massachusetts alone over twenty cities and towns use them.

The fact that the Buick Motor Company has a large, well-equipped warehouse and carries at all times a large stock of repair parts was taken as a strong point in its favor as none of the departments which will use the cars could afford a delay in case of breakdown.

AMERICAN AUTO ASSN. DELEGATES TO I. L. T. A.

Two delegates of the ... automobile association are to journey to Saratoga ... of the International Association ... Aug. 1st, the exact ... which ... Secretary ... matter is ... ranked with the ... made ... Tom ... Hill and ... A. ... The ... participate in the ... Hill ... A. ... This ... the ... shin ... 300,000

BAY STATE MEMBERS TO HAVE BIG OUTING

No end of interest is taken by members and friends of the Bay State Division of automobiles are constantly being made. It not until recently has any manufacturing at Belt 1 Springs on Saturday endeavored to compute the ... Secretary A. A. Gilmore, who has amount of time necessary to the making ... matter in hand is decidedly well finishing and fitting of the parts of a ... of the highest quality ... Statisticians employed by Thomas B. Jeffery & Co. accurately determine the ... even greater accuracy, more ... and additional ... in the process ... improved 1911 Rambler ... building at a ... which produces every ... which goes ... Rambler with giant ... the hub ... which make all ... which produces every ... which ... with a factory automatically

FINE YACHT RACING IN BUZZARDS BAY DRAWS CROWD

Hundreds of Society Pe See Contests of Bevert Club Off Wing Neck.

BUZZARDS BAY, July 2 Hun of society people were present afternoon at the regatta and r races of the Beverly Yacht Club from Wing Neck. The start of the disadvantages of transportation to the race was transferred from Marion to the Wing, which is of the best along the coast.

The wind was from the southwest fore the time for the start and a fre sporting gale was blowing when the starting gun was fired a quarter of an hour later. Some time elapsed before all the 27 boats in the 1st class were over the line, and by Josiah Low's yacht the limit after a hard, close race with the Beverly boat Rebekah, these two sailing it out unt finish.

In the 2d class the Tuna crossed the line first, followed closely by the Merry Maid, the latter finally winning by a few seconds. The Tuna was the first to cross the line in the 3d class, followed by the Bess, which also finished first in her class. The Puritan won in the 4th class, with the Rebekah second.

The summaries:

1st class—Josiah Low, Beverly, Rebekah, 1 1 1

Boston American Foreign News

SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910.

CAVALIERI GIVES HER FIRST FUNCTION AS SOCIETY MATRON

William Astor Chanler, Her New Brother-in-Law, Attends Her Dinner Reception.

SHE DANCES FOR GUESTS

Robert Braxton Henry on Quest for a Milk-White Donkey in Spain.

By VANCE THOMPSON.

Special Cable to Boston American.

PARIS, July 2.—Madame Cavalieri-Chanler has given her first dinner reception. It was at the Champs Elysees home of her husband. It was a family affair, as all the guests were members of her husband's family or friends of her husband. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gatti-Casazza, Mr. and Mrs. Tosenelli, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell, Miss. Jeanne Granier, the charming actress; Henry Clews, Jr., the author artist; Isidora de Lara, the composer; William Astor Chanler, Cavalieri's new brother-in-law; Prince Mantiachoff, Commandant d'Ifanelle and Mrs. Baskerville.

Late in the evening Mlle. Granier gave some of her famous recitations; M. de Lara sang songs of his own composition, Henry Clews, Jr., recited an original poem and the bride did a dance which enchanted everyone. The bridegroom's part of the evening's entertainment was to look happy and he did it to perfection.

Robert Braxton Henry of New York and Virginia left Paris to-day on a quest which promises to be as romantic as that once fabulous search for the golden fleece. Mr. Henry, who is the son of a well-known Virginian judge, inherited the Henry estate near Richmond.

A Quixotic Donkey Hunt.

He has given much attention to breeding in recent years and has gone in for raising mules. A few weeks ago Mr. Henry heard of a marvelous white donkey in the province of Andalusia, Spain, and he decided to go to Spain in order to breed a perfect donkey.

Taking the first steamer for Cadiz, he set out on the quest of the white donkey. He does not know what part of Andalusia the donkey is to be found, but he will tour the entire province in a motor car questioning farmers, innkeepers and travelers until he discovers and purchases the unique white animal.

The Opera Comique closed its season this week with Signor Scotti and Geraldine Farrar in "La Tosca." Miss Farrar created a furor by the wild abandon with which she threw herself into the part. At the Opera another American singer closed the season, where Mary Garden's Salome scored the biggest success in opera Paris has had in years.

Oscar Hammerstein has been anything but idle. He has signed the Russian dancers, probably in conjunction with the Metropolitan management. He has also virtually closed an engagement with Sybil Brandt, whose last American success was in "The White Person." He will present her in an English version of "Flute Player." His plans for a season of comic opera in English in New York are well advanced, and to-day he said he expected soon to give out a complete statement of his projects.

A New Republicsie Alliance.

The young Prince Ferdinand Rospigliosi of Rome has been buying costly presents at Boucheron's in the Rue de la Paix for his new fiancee, the Baroness de Villenfagne d'Ingihem. The Prince is a brother-in-law of the former Miss Bronson of New York, that distinguished lady being the wife of his elder brother, Prince Gellie Rospigliosi. He is also a nephew of the Princess Rospigliosi, formerly Miss Mary Jennings Reid of New Orleans and Washington and later Mrs. Frederick Dala Parkhurst of Bangor, Me.

Prince Ferdinand is one of the six children of the captain of the Noble Guards of the Vatican, Prince Gellie, who is also Miss Bronson's mother-in-law, is the Princess Helena Marie de la Concepcion, a blood descendant of the Emperor Justinian.

It was believed the approaching marriage might be made the occasion of a reconciliation of the noble guardsman and his former wife, Prince Rospigliosi Reid and his American wife, the ex Mrs. Parkhurst. Since the latters marriage to Prince Rospigliosi a bitter war has been waged against her by her sister-in-law with the blood of an Emperor in her veins, but the decision of the Papal tribunal against the American Rospigliosi will probably nullify this amicable intention.

DETESTED WORK; FIRED.

Subordinate Drafted Sancy Letter; Lazy Governor Signed It.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 2 —His Excellency, the Governor of one of the provincial districts, has been asked by Premier Stolypin to resign in consequence of a practical joke perpetrated by one of the Governor's subordinates. Beyond signing documents which he never read, this Governor fulfilled none of his duties. He frankly owned that he detested his work, which he left entirely to his subordinates, merely signing the documents and letters mechanically.

One of his young men conceived the idea of drafting a angry letter to the Prowower and getting the Governor's signature. The Governor fell into the trap, and M. Stolypin was astonished to read that the Governor declared his official business was "silly work."

U. S. College Girl Praised By Duchess of Marlborough

Enormous Possibilities for Intellectual Women in America, She Says.

LONDON, July 2.—At a meeting in aid of the Bedford College for Women held at Sunderland House, which was lent for the occasion by the Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess, in the course of a witty speech, spoke of the splendid type of college-bred woman which America produces.

Men, she said, had not found that college-bred girls made less devoted wives and mothers than others. If women were tactful enough not always to worst their husbands in argument and to keep any superabundance of knowledge up their sleeves, there seemed to be little opposition on the husband's part to his wife being well educated. It was difficult to comprehend why there should be such a de-pointed objection on the part of Englishmen to the higher education of their wives. There must be some secret fear that, hard as they found it to understand woman now, it would be absolutely beyond them if her men were she highly educated.

There were, the Duchess continued, enormous possibilities open to intellectual and highly trained women in America, and there would be in time just as good opportunities for women in Canada and other overseas dominions—perhaps even in England; one never could tell. It was certainly not a fact to be proud of that England, for want of funds, could not provide the training ground required to prepare its young women to enter useful and successful careers.

WORSHIP DECLINES.

Percentage of Churchgoers Less in England.

LONDON, July 2.—The decline in the custom of Sunday worship in England has now become so pronounced that it is a source of great worry to the ministers of the land, who declare that statistics show that only one of twenty-five adults goes to church now.

Rev. Dinsdale Young said that one of the saddest things to be found to-day was the decline of the worship of God in our churches. People often said that they worshipped God in the fields, in the garden and in the open country. That certainly could be done, but the question to ask the people who asserted this was, "Did they do it?"

The Bishop of Lewes took a more optimistic view of the question and said: "The Church of England, I believe, is renewing its youth. The future is full of hopefulness, and I think we members of the church have cause for thankfulness."

REMBRANDT IS SHOWN.

$300,000 Masterpiece, "The Polish Rider," to Come to U. S.

LONDON, July 2—Rembrandt's only equestrian portrait, "The Polish Rider," which has been bought for $300,000 by Mr. C. T. Frick, is on view in Wallace gallery, before being shipped to America. A comparatively small canvas, measuring twenty inches, the picture represents a young Polish cavalryman on a gray horse, riding through a hilly landscape at dusk.

Mr. Frick, as is well known, acquired "The Polish Rider" from the collection of Count Tarnowski, near Cracow. The masterpiece was acquired by unknown until it was shown at the Rembrandt exhibition in Amsterdam two years ago.

CONDEMN CHURCH.

Funds Needed to Repair Historic Edifice.

LONDON, July 2—The historic Church of St. Nicolas, Deptford, has been condemned as unsafe, and an effort is being made to raise $25,000 to carry out the needful repairs, an appeal which has met with the support of the Bishop of Southwark.

The rectory dates back to 1180, the present structure having been built in 1697. The tower was restored some years ago, but in order to render the building safe it will be necessary to rebuild the walls some five feet down as well as to strengthen the arches.

NOTABLES IN LONDON.

T. F. Ryan Developed Lazy Desire for Sleep.

LONDON, July 2.—Thomas Nelson Page has been dining a number of literary folk, while E. F. Hyde has been gathering such high brows as Sir Clement Markham and Sir Edmund Poynter.

During his few days in London T. F. Ryan developed a lazy streak, as did the usually active J. B. McDonald and Philip Brett, his travelling partner, all remaining abed until noon. Mr. Ryan took golf at the Sunningdale links on Thursday and declares he is in better health than he has been for years.

MRS. LEEDS HOSTESS.

Millionaire Widow Says, "It Almost Bankrupted Me."

LONDON, July 2.—Mrs. Leeds, the uncaptured millionaire widow, gave a big dinner Thursday under the guidance of Lady Paget, her social pilot. Mrs. Leeds kept her party thoroughly amused with the simulated pathos of her tedious issues to France through backing the English horse Lemberg in Grand Prix.

"It almost bankrupted me," she exclaimed, but nevertheless appeared relieved the fears of several who imagined that she was speaking seriously.

Jewels from Charles II.

LONDON, July 2.—Among the prices recently paid at Christie's for jewels belonging to a lady of title were for two pairs and a pair of earrings formed of emeralds and brilliants and for a hair ornament that was once given by Charles II. to Nell Gwyn.

ASQUITH SUPPORTERS FEAR HE MAY BE OUTWITTED

Conference With Balfour Over Lords Veto Likely to Result In a Fatal Blunder.

KING GEORGE GETS BUSY

Ruler Is Warned to Study the History of the Other Two Georges.

Special Cable to Boston American.

DUBLIN, July 2—There is no use in screening the fact that unrest and suspicion are growing in Irish Nationalist and British Radical circles because of the protracted conference between Premier Asquith and Arthur Balfour, the leader of the opposition. Fired and steady eyes are being directed towards the door of the conference chamber. And there is growing to be an uneasy feeling among Asquith's supporters that when the time arrives for the door to be opened the prime minister may emerge a much overpledged conferee.

For his own sake, Asquith's best friends hope this will not prove true. For a liberal minister, a prolonged parley with such astute bargain drivers as Balfour and Lansdowne, is rather a dangerous enterprise. There is a growing fear that Asquith is likely to yield on the Lord's veto question more than will be accepted by his party when the time comes for him to rise in his place in the House of Commons and tell the story of the conference. If this fear be grounded Mr. Asquith will be out of office before Autumn is over.

Leaders Not Worrying.

The Irish leaders are not worrying. They know well that this fight against the Lords' veto is now no longer their fight only. They feel confident that the great masses of English, Scotch and Welsh radicals ably led as they are, will be willing to back down from their stand on the peers' veto. This veto is the key to the whole political future of the British nation. The people, through Redmond and his eighty votes and their staunch allies, the advanced liberals of Great Britain, hold possession of the key at this moment.

Should Asquith be cajoled by the clever and adroit Balfour into making concessions which would, in any material sense, weaken the present superb situation, a new party will certainly be born into Parliament.

It will be composed of disgusted and rebellious Liberals and Laborites. These, with the solid wedge of the Irish party, would be strong enough to change the whole face of the politics of the British Kingdom.

King Takes Busy Hand.

Rumors are heard every day that King George V. is taking a very hand in the conference between the leaders. Of course there is no means at this time of knowing what part the King is playing in the momentous negotiations, but as much can be said, the British democracy of today is not the democracy of the days of George III. or George IV. As a distinguished Scotch Liberal, who is also a clergyman, said a day or two ago:

"King George would be wise to make a close and careful reading of the lives and times of his namesake predecessors and govern himself accordingly."

As events are moving in England at this moment, with social reforms of the most crying nature pushing their way into Parliament from all parts of Britain, and with the Irish party held firmly in the foreground of battle by the strongest party Ireland has had at Westminster since the days when Parnell first "made John Bull listen," students of history are turning backwards to the pages of England's history which tell of Charles II. and of Oliver Cromwell.

The masses to-day are demanding that there be no doubt as to the future power of the People's House, as the House of Commons is now being significantly called, and far-reaching revolutionary changes may be brought about by mistaken resistance to this claim.

OFFICERS ESSENTIAL.

British Board Criticised for "Letting Down Bars."

LONDON, July 2—The Army Council is being severely criticised for letting down the bars at Sandhurst and Woolwich in order to relieve the serious shortage of officers in the army.

Sandhurst and Woolwich are England's West Point, and the entrance examinations have generally been so severe that only about 15 per cent. of the candidates succeeded in getting in.

For some time, however, it has been public knowledge that a commission in the English army was becoming daily more unattractive to the youth of England, and the shortage of officers became a serious question. The Army Council admitted between two and three hundred candidates to Sandhurst and Woolwich this year without competitive examination of any kind.

AEROPLANE SASH.

Effect of Newest Paris Adornment Not Always Agreeable.

PARIS, July 2.—The newest variety of sash is called the "aeroplane." It is a wide, voluminous scarf of any soft and brilliant fabric used to tie in the skirt at the ankles. In some cases, the effect is not altogether pleasing, for it narrows the gown at the feet and bulloons it above. It is not always tightened, however, and in a modified form is a drapery, tied in a large bow, with fringed ends at the back. It is usually of a color that contrasts violently with the gown. Bright green red, for instance, will be used on a black frock, peacock green on a blue one, and blue on a grey frock.

SUFFRAGISTS IN SECURING HEARING

Two Days' Debate on the Bills in Parliament.

NEW BUDGET

Thousand Million Dollars by Britain Will Be Taxed.

Special Cable to Boston American.

LONDON, July 2 [illegible] have scored again [illegible] secured from the [illegible] promise of two days [illegible] a debate on the [illegible] franchise bill.

If the ministers had [illegible] one day at the beginning [illegible] lament for a serious [illegible] revolt would never have [illegible].

If the debate ends [illegible] the bill may be referred [illegible] committee, and as it [illegible] session there is no [illegible] not be sent up to the [illegible].

But its enemies in [illegible] obstruct it to death [illegible] sent up it would be [illegible].

The budget has become [illegible] a thousand million [illegible] imposing any taxation [illegible] settlement. The [illegible] Lloyd George [illegible] trade is believed to be [illegible].

Drunkenness Decreases.

One of the most [illegible] budget speech was the increase in duty [illegible] lished their consumption [illegible] drunkenness. In the [illegible] has been a [illegible] of [illegible] in the country [illegible] and wine have made [illegible].

This improvement is [illegible] consequent increase [illegible] of the citizen has [illegible] the exchequer for the [illegible] yield of the spirit [illegible].

The Irish Nationalists [illegible] shillings and nine [illegible] whiskey would [illegible] that his consumption [illegible] decreased [illegible] spending decrease in [illegible] sense, led Lloyd George [illegible] declaring that [illegible] crime against the [illegible].

Death Duties.

Another new [illegible] duties, which are [illegible] entirely upon the [illegible] $10,000,000 a [illegible].

The fact that [illegible] increase of [illegible] well for the [illegible] five war vessels [illegible] authorized to send [illegible] cuss how to reduce [illegible] armaments.

MANY [illegible]

French Comte [illegible] Hard Legal [illegible]

PARIS, July 2 [illegible] friend of the [illegible] consul-general [illegible] who died two [illegible] valued at $600,000 [illegible] The deceased [illegible] aristocratic [illegible] ing codicils [illegible] which is dated [illegible] ing at [illegible] forms the two last [illegible] others.

But she drew [illegible] Nine of the [illegible] above codicil [illegible] the same date, M [illegible] appear to [illegible] to in the codicil, [illegible] far been for [illegible] six are the [illegible] wrote them at [illegible] day, but there [illegible] them of the [illegible].

"PORSEN [illegible] ORE.

German Empress [illegible] Old Ho[illegible]

BERLIN, J[illegible] is no more and [illegible] consolable. He [illegible] great events [illegible] casions was also [illegible] spectacle. [illegible] immense pile [illegible] years a devoted [illegible] then, currently [illegible] facial career he [illegible] came a fine [illegible] goers, even [illegible] heard. Now he [illegible] honor, at the right [illegible] his much-loved [illegible] another steed, the [illegible] about for another [illegible] company.

AVIATION [illegible]

Thousands to [illegible] Flyers at [illegible] English Meet.

LONDON, J[illegible] aviation week [illegible] next. On the perfect [illegible] Southbourne has [illegible] lotment field and [illegible] amphitheatre [illegible] Two miles of [illegible] appeared. Each [illegible] first class [illegible] principle of [illegible] enable the watchers [illegible] at any height [illegible] speed. It seats [illegible] Housemaids on Wednesday [illegible] aerodrome at [illegible] from an al[illegible] ground into an [illegible] greensward, [illegible] completely dis[illegible] 9 yards is a [illegible] on the new [illegible] to the rear to [illegible] the flying men [illegible] feet and [illegible] feet above [illegible].

BRIDE FOR PRINCE OF WALES ★★★★★★★★ KAISER'S DAUGHTER PROPOSED

Kaiserin of Germany and her daughter, the Princess Victoria Louise.

EMPRESS OF GERMANY AND HER DAUGHTER, PRINCESS VICTORIA LOUISE.

LONDON LEAPS TO GAY FROM GRAVE

Hotels That Were Empty Are Jammed; Restaurants Once Gloomy Now Brilliant.

By CHARLES P. NORCROSS.

Special Cable to Boston American.

LONDON, July 2—The sensational aspect [illegible] books which obtained [illegible] at Potsdam to the effect that [illegible] Kaiser and Kaiserin think of a matrimonial [illegible] between their only daughter, Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia, and the eldest son of the King of England, who became Prince of Wales this week.

The Princess, who will be eighteen next September, is a year and three-quarters older than the Prince, but that would not be recorded as a handicap from parents' standpoint.

The Kaiser's wife is several months older than himself, and their second son, Prince Eitel Friedrich of Prussia, is married to a Princess nearly three years his senior.

It is hoped in Potsdam court circles that when King George and Queen Mary pay their first official visit to Germany they will be accompanied by the Prince of Wales, and that the latter may then [illegible] an agreeable opportunity of forming [illegible] acquaintance with his fair third cousin, who may some day ripen into affection.

The number of European Princes related to the Kaiserin consider [illegible] for their only daughter's hand is limited. A marriage with the future King of England would suggest political advantages of far reaching importance.

DUKE IS SPECIFIC.

Millionaire Refuses to Pay Cab Over Actual Bill.

LONDON, July 2.—A plump [illegible] American stood at the cashier's desk [illegible] Berkeley Hotel [illegible] an hour questioned every item of [illegible].

"Why am I charged nine pence [illegible] on it should be six pence," he [illegible] "I can explain this six shillings [illegible] I never had any cabs. And [illegible] what's this three pence for?"

The cashier offered a general [illegible] the customer would not accept the [illegible] clerk was obliged to go through [illegible] produce each item and explain [illegible].

The amount in question figure [illegible] something less than $10. The man in question was not a poor American, but [illegible] J. B. Duke, the [illegible] Trust.

PEERS INCENSED

Earl of Yarmouth Is Severely Criticised by British Society.

LONDON, July 2.—The staid [illegible] are incensed beyond words at [illegible] antics of the Earl of Yarmouth [illegible] time with the acting [illegible] abolition of the Lords going [illegible] question of the Lord's vote to the [illegible] and the peers, endeavoring to [illegible] fiction of their divine right [illegible] conquers, Yarmouth is not only [illegible] and composer of a musical [illegible] has taken the principal part [illegible] Cardiff.

He has been severely cut by [illegible] since his marriage was annulled [illegible] latest caper has settled him forever.

Pink for Hats.

PARIS, July 2.—Pink, as a color [illegible] trimming hats is immensely popular [illegible] ially when used for linings. A [illegible] by straining and pretty hat w[illegible] "bottle of flowers" during the d[illegible] was of a very delicate light straw [illegible] color, faced with velvet of the same [illegible] and trimmed with tiny bunches of [illegible]

German Emperor Sees a Good Matrimonial Match in Thus Uniting With Britain.

BERLIN, July 2.—Interesting rumors are in circulation in military circles [illegible] at Potsdam to the effect that the Kaiser and Kaiserin think of a matrimonial alliance between their only daughter, Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia, and the eldest son of the King of England, who became Prince of Wales this week.

The Princess, who will be eighteen next September, is a year and three-quarters older than the Prince, but that would not be recorded as a handicap from parents' standpoint.

The Kaiser's wife is several months older than himself, and their second son, Prince Eitel Friedrich of Prussia, is married to a Princess nearly three years his senior.

It is hoped in Potsdam court circles that when King George and Queen Mary pay their first official visit to Germany they will be accompanied by the Prince of Wales, and that the latter may then [illegible] an agreeable opportunity of forming [illegible] acquaintance with his fair third cousin, who may some day ripen into affection.

The number of European Princes related to the Kaiserin consider [illegible] for their only daughter's hand is limited. A marriage with the future King of England would suggest political advantages of far reaching importance.

DUKE IS SPECIFIC.

Millionaire Refuses to Pay Cab Over Actual Bill.

LONDON, July 2.—A plump [illegible] American stood at the cashier's desk [illegible] Berkeley Hotel [illegible] an hour questioned every item of [illegible].

"Why am I charged nine pence [illegible] on it should be six pence," he [illegible] "I can explain this six shillings [illegible] I never had any cabs. And [illegible] what's this three pence for?"

The cashier offered a general [illegible] the customer would not accept the [illegible] clerk was obliged to go through [illegible] produce each item and explain [illegible].

The amount in question figure [illegible] something less than $10. The man in question was not a poor American, but [illegible] J. B. Duke, the [illegible] Trust.

PEERS INCENSED

Earl of Yarmouth Is Severely Criticised by British Society.

LONDON, July 2.—The staid [illegible] are incensed beyond words at [illegible] antics of the Earl of Yarmouth [illegible] time with the acting [illegible] abolition of the Lords going [illegible] question of the Lord's vote to the [illegible] and the peers, endeavoring to [illegible] fiction of their divine right [illegible] conquers, Yarmouth is not only [illegible] and composer of a musical [illegible] has taken the principal part [illegible] Cardiff.

He has been severely cut by [illegible] since his marriage was annulled [illegible] latest caper has settled him forever.

Pink for Hats.

PARIS, July 2.—Pink, as a color [illegible] trimming hats is immensely popular [illegible] ially when used for linings. A [illegible] by straining and pretty hat w[illegible] "bottle of flowers" during the d[illegible] was of a very delicate light straw [illegible] color, faced with velvet of the same [illegible] and trimmed with tiny bunches of [illegible]

TESTING PLAYS.

Gladys Unger Is Lending Aid to Charles Frohman.

LONDON, July 2.—Miss Gladys Unger, daughter of [illegible] New York [illegible] Francisco, and a member of many of the best known clubs in those cities, as well as of London, is an American girl who is making her personality felt in Paris and London, too. She has undertaken the [illegible] of French plays for the American and English stages. Charles Frohman has great confidence in her judgment, and her [illegible] is to be [illegible] great events [illegible] at New York [illegible] Paris.

RIBBONS IN FAVOR.

Collarless Gown Makes Them Fashionable in Paris.

PARIS, July 2.—The prevailing fashion of collarless gowns and waists has brought into favor again the wearing of a more or less wide black velvet ribbon or more ribbon around the neck, a style much affected by our grandmothers. Those worn to-day are often encrusted with diamonds or precious stones set in some artistic design, or in the form of a slide. These beads add a very becoming touch to the toilette.

AID SOLDIERS.

New Society in Paris Will Wean Them from Drink.

PARIS, July 2.—"Le Cercle National pour le Soldat de Paris" is the name of a very useful and practical institution which has just been opened in the immediate neighborhood of the Ecole Militaire.

The object of the institution is to keep the soldiers attached in Paris away from the public house by offering them healthy relaxation in their leisure hours.

Paris Social Leaders Administer Rebuke to Karputhala.

PARIS, July 2.—Some of the social leaders [illegible] have [illegible] a severe rebuke to the Maharajah of Kapurthala [illegible] in that [illegible] present [illegible] witness the [illegible] of the Passion, without seeing, as in [illegible] the reflection of contemporary [illegible].

NEWS AND NOTES OF CATHOLIC CHURCHES AND IRISH ASSOCIATIONS

CHARITY FUND IN PRELATE'S MEMORY

Widespread Interest in Motherless "Williams Farm" for Mothers and Children.

COMMITTEE ISSUES APPEAL

Archbishop Approves Tribute to His Illustrious Predecessor.

There is strong and widespread interest in Boston in favor of establishing the "Archbishop Williams Fund" which would be used to buy and maintain a suitable estate where children of the poor may be provided a healthful vacation during the Summer and which may be used as a place where indigent women may convalesce from illness during the rest of the year.

Archbishop O'Connell has approved the appeal for funds for this purpose made by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, which George R. Bryan, of No. 36 Chauncy building, is treasurer. Thomas Dwight is president of the Central Council, and Dan F. Tilley is president of the Particular Council.

The committee in charge of the movement also includes Dr. John G. Blake, Dr. John J. Bottomley, Thomas F. Doyle, Henry V. Cunningham, Dr. William H. Devine, James H. Devlin, Jr., William Dooley, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, Henry E. Hagan, Patrick M. Keating, Edward Kelley, Jr., James V. Kenney, John F. Leahy, Charles D. Magnolia, Edward F. McSweeney, James S. Murphy, Henry P. Nash, Francis P. O'Connor, P. O'Loughlin, Stephen O'Meara, Joseph C. Pelletier, James J. Phelan, James M. Prendergast, Edmund B. Rooney, Dr. John P. Sautry.

The fund so will be brought with the Archbishop will be known as the "Archbishop Williams Fund," and the property so purchased over this amount will be made the property of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, New England District. Here it is intended to provide for those in poverty in the Summer, but it may be utilized in Mr. Regan

SHANAHAN A DELEGATE.

Rockland Man Going to A. O. H. Convention.

BROCKTON, July 2.—At the quarterly A. O. H. meeting, held Saturday night, with Division 10 as host, County President Andrew Shanahan of Rockland, was elected a delegate to the national convention, Dan J. Driscoll, Jr., being named as alternate. It was also voted to have the county's share of the expense paid in Lowell, August 21 to 27, when the State convention will be held there.

Patrick F. Brady of Division 1 and John J. Ryan of Division 3, both Brockton, were elected delegates to the district convention to be held in Quincy, July 17, to fill the vacancies caused by the death of the late Patrick F. Brady and Michael Cafrey of Division 11 of this city.

The next convention will be held with Division 11, this city, and will be on September 1. Delegates to the convention were Patrick F. Brady, John J. Ryan, Dennis F. Brady, Division 1; Michael Cafrey, Division 11; John Sullivan, Division 3, Brockton, and Alternates John Sullivan and William J. Mahoney, Division 3; Frank Crimmins, Jr., and Mike Jack L. Mahan, and M. Frank Lewis of Division 11.

PARISH SCHOOL DIPLOMAS.

Large Number of Children Graduate at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, July 2.—Graduations among the parochial schools of this city have been held in the last few days. Large classes received diplomas. Rt. Rev. Daniel Feehan, bishop of this diocese was present in the morning at the Sacred Heart Academy, where the graduating exercises were held. The address was delivered by Rev. Mark A. Cummings, pastor of the children at the graduation of the Sacred Heart Academy.

Rev. Rev. M. J. Cook and Martin Fitzgerald, both of St. Peter's church, were in attendance this week at the retreat conducted at Bellevue.

TWO PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS.

To Be Opened in Dorchester with September.

The district is to witness the opening of two parochial schools, the enrollment of the children attended the public schools in this district. The new schools are to be opened on Monday, September 5, by Rev. John McKeon, is the pastor of St. Mark's parish, and Rev. Father Ryan, of the district of Rev. Father Ryan.

U. H. RIFLES AT CIRCUS.

Silver Tented Show Proves a Big Success.

FALL RIVER, July 2.—The big circus parade given by the J. M. Company at Pocasset for the Second Battalion Rifles of this city, this morning, was a great success. The parade was attended by a great crowd. The Rifles passed through the principal streets of the city, and were followed by a large crowd. The parade was attended by a large crowd. The Rifles passed through the principal streets of the city, and were followed by a large crowd.

E. WARNER, CHIEF RANGER

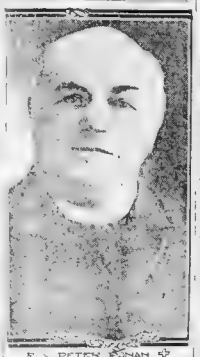
Services Rewarded by Re-election by Brockton F. of A.

BROCKTON, July 2.—John E. Warner was re-elected chief ranger of Court General Lafayette, Foresters of America, at the meeting held in this city last night. The other officers elected for the ensuing year will be: Past chief ranger, William Hooper; vice chief ranger, Thomas Hennessey; senior woodward, James Hughes; junior woodward, Patrick McGrory; M. Louis Donovan, T. F. McSweeney, Thomas Hughes, installation committee; L. F. Harvey was nominated for deputy.

Pretty Lawn Dance.

A very pretty lawn dance was held on the grounds of the Newton Catholic Club, on Friday evening. A platform was erected and a full orchestra furnished the music. The entire Japanese interns.

DR. CHESTER RECTOR WHOSE CHURCH HAS A FESTIVAL TO-DAY



REV. PETER ROHAN

FEAST OF ST. PETER CELEBRATED TO-DAY

Services to Be Held in Many Catholic Churches.

M

Part no of the Friends.

Elevated by Leo XIII.

Address to the Throne

A curious incident which took place after Edward VII. became King personally for interesting a stranger

Reason for Precedence

Consideration for Sovereign

PRAISES IRISH METHODS.

Dr. Bailey Sees Lesson in Co-operative Dairy Societies.

Dr. J. [illegible] Bailey, director of the New York and Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Stations, and Dr. Mr. Roosevelt's secretary from Ireland, spoke on the subject of the Irish Co-operative Dairy Societies. The address was delivered by Mr. Bailey at the Sacred Heart Academy, where the graduating exercises were held. The address was delivered by Mr. Bailey at the Sacred Heart Academy, where the graduating exercises were held.

FORESTERS TROLLEY PARTY

Benefit Society Goes to Mosley's-on-the-Charles

A trolley party from the Boston University Law School, to the Harvard Law School, and the Cambridge Law School, to the Boston University Law School, and the Cambridge Law School, to the Boston University Law School.

FIELD DAY ON 20TH.

Big Somerville Church Fete at Combination Park, Medford.

Committees [illegible] Sacred Heart parishioners of Somerville [illegible] Hill, Somerville, are busily engaged in the details of the parish field day and outing to be held on Combination Park, Medford, on the 20th inst. The Hill school and the Sacred Heart parish have been engaged for the day, and a beautiful [illegible] has been secured. James Hughes is in charge of the [illegible] and has [illegible] of the [illegible] and has [illegible] of the [illegible] and has [illegible] of the [illegible].

HOUGH'S NECK PARTY.

Dorchester Catholic Club to Dance in Open-Air Pavilion.

The Catholic Club of Dorchester is to hold its third annual dancing party in the Hough's Neck pavilion on Nantasket next Monday evening. A platform has been erected and a full orchestra will furnish music for the dancers. The committee in charge of the arrangements is headed by Walter Doyle, president of the club.

NOTED CAREER OF CARDINAL VAUGHAN, WHO KNELT TO KING, IS REVIEWED BY SNEAD-COX

L

Distinguished Catholic Group

WILL BUY ESTATE FOR POOR CHILDREN

"Williams Farm" Movement Is Started by St. Vincent de Paul Society.

M

Field Day a Success.

To Complete Building.

To Attend in a Body.

NEWS of IRISH COUNTY CLUBS

BIG ATTRACTIONS FOR GARDEN PARTY

Out-of-Door Entertainment for Benefit of the Daly Industrial.

SISTERS ARE IN CHARGE

Special Features for the Children on Saturday Afternoon and Evening.

The program of events announced as attractions for the annual fete of people who will attend the charity party of the Daly Industrial School, to be given on the grounds of the institution next Saturday afternoon and evening, will start at the passing hour of [illegible] o'clock on that [illegible]

[illegible] Sisters of St. Joseph, in charge of the [illegible] and [illegible] and quilt [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Boston American
Theatrical News
SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910.

MR. SHUBERT IS SAD AT CALM BEHAVIOR OF BOSTON CROWDS

Though the Dollars Come in Just the Same Here, He Misses the Wild, Tearing Excitement of the Frenzied New York Seekers After Show Tickets---Carter De Haven Tells All About Modern Actoring.

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

The sudden invasion of the town by the Shuberts with a regular Broadway review has brought more than chorus girls within the tranquil limits of Tremont and Boylston streets. It has given us a few brief but agitating moments with J. J. Shubert, the oratorical member of the firm that has been making over theatrical history during the last twelve months.

For several nights last week Mr. Shubert was a patron of the arts at his own theatre, and while to those near him in the audiences he gave unmistakable signs of being bored by his excellent company, it was really quite another matter that annoyed him. He was discouraged at Boston; the chill of the local temperament ruffled his natural contentment.

"Now, what do you think of that?" asked Mr. Shubert with mist in his voice, as early comers to the Shubert Theatre began crowding the doorman.

"Why, it looks pretty good," I suggested, timidly, thinking that was my cue: "you'd need another doorman in a minute."

Another doorman?" and the mist in the voice had given way to scorn. "Why, man, with a show like this and with the notices in the newspapers we ought to be facing a stampede in which ten doormen could not check the rush of people or stifle the excitement. It's awful; I can't understand it. Think of what would have happened in New York if we opened a new piece there that had the quality and strength of 'Up and Down Broadway.'"

It was suggested that Boston was not New York, and anyway business was turning vigorously toward the Shubert. It was not a dull evening by any means.

SHUBERT LIKES HIS SHOW.

"But look at the show," he persisted. "Here is the biggest and most expensive musical production of the season and you Bostoneses are taking it as a matter of course. Business is good, to be sure, but there is no throbbing rush to be the first through the gate; we are selling all the seats, but everything is orderly and proper. With this show in New York we would have needed the police reserves to keep the crowds on the sidewalk."

I attempted to sooth Mr. Shubert with the observation that Boston was a well-balanced place, that we kept ourselves under control at all times and that it was exceedingly bad form to display hysteria at hot weather follies, whether they came in the shape of musical comedy or serious drama.

But Mr. Shubert was not to be comforted. "But consider the show," he repeated. You could almost feel his great longing for New York.

Mr. Shubert's astonishment at the moderation in conduct exhibited by our own dear playgoers as compared with the less dignified behavior of New York's hit-or-miss public during the early performances of a big new musical production was a fair example of the difference in the character of those who live in the two cities. I am compelled to declare strongly for the Boston type of citizen who takes his work and his amusement with due regard for his nervous system. You not only live longer, but get more enjoyment out of the journey.

But Mr. Shubert should not lose his confidence in Boston or its playgoers. He will find that "Up and Down Broadway" will not get through its engagement at the Shubert without stirring up a good deal of noise in our quiet Chautauqua way. There may not be the physical excitement that manifests itself on Broadway—and, so far as I know, on Broadway only—but there will be plenty of box office activity.

AND SO DOES THE REVIEWER.

In looking back over the musical productions that have attempted to divert us from the worries of a July temperature, none since "Peggy from Paris" has in any way approached 'Up and Down Broadway.' And in the face of the success that attached itself to "The Prince of Pilsen" and "Wonderland," there is no sound reason why the lofty-minded men interested in either the present or the future of "Up and Down Broadway" should display any signals of distress. All three of these former successes played to dull business for several weeks before their real quality had sunk itself into the minds of the people who pay full prices for theatre tickets.

Boston was then, as it is now, willing to be shown, but it declined to rush into needless furor over the coming of a new production when it was just as easy to walk up to the box office quietly and respectably.

"Up and Down Broadway" will more than hold its own with any of the recent Broadway reviews that have appeared.

* * * * *

Carter De Haven, who is old enough to vote, but who looks like a boy actor and who has broken the speed laws with his boy's size automobile, told me the other afternoon that this is the day of opportunity for the young actor as well as the young man in other branches of business. Mr. De Haven made this statement a few moments after Mr. Shubert had plastered himself all over with signs of unrest at the complacent mildness of Boston playgoers, and I instantly recalled that what Mr. De Haven said must be true, for Mr. Shubert, who is the active man in the office that bears his name, is still in his early thirties. Both sides of the footlights are eager for young men with brains.

While waiting for Mr. De Haven hitch himself to a fresh cigarette I showed him the discourtesy of letting my mind wander back to the time when Sam S. Shubert began the work that is now represented by millions of dollars in theatrical investment. Sam Shubert, who laid the foundation of the present Shubert interests and who shouldered responsibilities that would have staggered men of wider experience, was only twenty-eight years old when he was killed in a Pennsylvania railroad wreck. Yes, it is the day of young men.

But Mr. De Haven was blowing blue smoke and I listened:

GOOD ACTORS ARE VERY SCARCE.

"Good actors are scarcer than hen's teeth, and there is much more room at the top than at the bottom of the ladder." He spoke decisively. "The country is being flooded with theatres, and everyone able to write the English language—and many who are not—are turning out plays by the ton. The great need is for actors with sufficient brains and talent to create the hundreds of roles outlined in the piles of manuscripts on the desks of the producing managers. Count the number of artists to whom the adjective 'great' may be truly applied and compare the total with the 80,000,000 of people in the country. The result is disheartening, isn't it?

"A manager in New York recently was compelled to 'try out' a dozen or more leading women before he found one capable enough to portray a certain role in a new production. Another leading producer declared that he would have sent out more plays last season had he been able to secure actors who were able to depict certain parts in the side-tracked productions. There are more chances and brighter prospects for players to-day than ever before—but where are the players?

"Do I advise youngsters to go on the stage" Assuredly—if they have talent. When I made my debut as an actor I was so young that my mother had to lead me by the hand to the managers. And from that moment I made up my mind to get to the top just as fast as I possibly could. I was smart enough to know that the specialist in the theatre as well as in other lines of endeavor is the person who commands the money. So I decided to be a specialist.

"I learned to sing and dance and, thus equipped, started out to conquer the world. My career has not been a very long one, but I succeeded from the first and while still under twenty was offered salaries which took my breath away. But I never stopped working. My spare moments, even to-day, are taken up by composing new songs and inventing new dances."

Mr. De Haven talked along with the ease of a United States Senator. The actor who is also a good stage manager has the advantage over his associates. Sir Henry Irving was a great stage manager than actor, and consequently he could cover his shortcomings in acting with his infinite knowledge of stagecraft. There are many such actors to-day, and it is their preference to remain actors that loses us so many capable directors. When my present play was produced I pushed myself forward with suggestions so often that the staging of the piece was finally turned over to me. But I shall never give up acting."

SOME STARS PLAYING AT THE BOSTON THEATRES THIS WEEK

GEISHA GIRLS AT KEITH'S

OLIVE REA TEMPLE AT THE MAJESTIC.

FREMONT BENTON AT THE TREMONT

THEODORE FRIEBUS AT THE AMERICAN MUSIC HALL

ALICE JOHNSON AT THE PARK.

DONALD MEEK CASTLE SQ.

VIDA WHITMORE AT THE SHUBERT.

BILLS AT BOSTON THEATRES

Keith's Theatre.

For the week beginning with Independence Day at Keith's a typical program has been arranged, one that is bound to attract attention. In the first place it will include the Old Soldier Fiddlers, a remarkable company, who will be seen in Boston for the first time. In it are four men, two of whom served in the Southern armies and two in the army of the North, all of whom are remarkable fiddlers. Another picturesque feature will be the Geisha Girls from Japan, who make their first appearance here. These eight little maidens from the land of the Mikado have been the sensation of New York. Also on the bill are Lawrence's Six American Dancers, Porter J. White and company, Conlin, Steel and Carr, the Hawkworks and McPhee and Hill.

American Music Hall.

Determined to give its patrons the very best of the season's biggest dramatic successes, Lindsay Morison with this week present at the American Music Hall Will Lackaye's successful vehicle, "The Battle." The leading role, which in the original was portrayed by Milton Lackaye, will be taken by Wilson Melrose, who may be depended upon to handle it in a thoroughly satisfying manner. The supporting cast will be assumed by Miss Rosalind Coghlan (Perhaps the most welcome feature will be the appearance of Theodore Friebus who will handle the juvenile role of Philip Ames.

Majestic Theatre.

The offering at the Majestic Theatre for the week beginning to-morrow will be that famous old play, "East Lynn," and in it Miss Charlotte Hunt and her company will have many opportunities to revive memories of famous players who have appeared in the piece. On Tuesday afternoon a souvenir matinee will be given, and for the occasion Miss Hunt is to present a handsome photograph of herself autographed, to each lady attending the performance.

"East Lynn" first gained vogue as a book, and in its day it had a tremendous sale. Eventually it came to be presented in dramatic form, and for many years held place in the repertory of the most famous English-speaking actresses.

Norumbega Park.

Norumbega Park will begin the coming week with a number of special features for the Fourth of July celebration on Monday, including the band concerts all day in Music Court.

In the new open air theatre there will be a musical comedy presented every afternoon and evening, "Hope and Glory," said to be even better than "The Explorer," which so delighted patrons two weeks ago here.

Shubert Theatre.

"Up and Down Broadway," with Eddie Foy, Emma Carus and the big aggregation of clever players has settled down as a big hit at the Shubert Theatre, where it begins its second week with a special holiday matinee to-morrow. The usual Wednesday matinee will be omitted this week, on account of the extra performance to be given to-morrow afternoon. There is so much that is good in "Up and Down Broadway" that it is impossible to pick out any one incident to which to give special praise. Eddie Foy as Momus, the janitor of the Highbrow apartments on Mount Parnassus, has the funniest part in his whole career.

Park Theatre.

To-morrow night William Hodge will enter upon his twenty-seventh and farewell week in "The Man From Home," thus bringing to an end one of the most remarkable engagements ever recorded in this section. "The Man From Home" came to the Park Theatre on January 2, and ever since the opening the theatre has had its seating capacity tested at every performance.

Tremont Theatre.

All Boston has taken "The Girl in the Taxi," with Carter De Haven and his all-star cast, to its heart as the ideal en[illegible] ing audiences which [illegible] ecstatic to [illegible] formance.

Bowdoin Square Theatre.

Woodford's animal [illegible] Consul II and the trick [illegible] seem among the leaders [illegible] at the Bowdoin Square [illegible] who's the Hairy [illegible] be heard, and Mlle. [illegible] refined musical act [illegible] of moving pictures is [illegible]

Waldron's Casino

There can be no doubt of the [illegible] of Waldron's Casino. [illegible] be home of the only [illegible] the city. Mr. Willi[illegible] one of the attractions [illegible] in burlesque, and with [illegible] girls there is very good [illegible] unless some extraordinary [illegible] ladies will entertain [illegible] ably. The pictures will [illegible] entertaining.

Hub Theatre.

The bill at the Hub [illegible] week is one which [illegible] magnet to all who appre[illegible] class entertainment. [illegible] some exceptionally [illegible] interesting due of pan[illegible]

Scenic Temple.

Fourth of July will be [illegible] the Scenic Temple. [illegible] bill of holiday attr[illegible] pictures appropriate to [illegible] Independence Day."

Austin & Stone's.

Those famous wizards of [illegible] ne, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kin[illegible] are again merry this [illegible] Stone's museum. The [illegible] disguised champions of [illegible] and their will fascinate [illegible] come with their master[illegible] cob.

Sunday Concerts.

Sunday night concerts are announced at the Castle Square, the [illegible] Majestic, Globe and Bowdoin Square Theatre.

Paragon Park.

Nothing like the success of Paragon Park and the Palm Garden this season has been known at Nantasket. [illegible] which an extra addendum is [illegible] treat indeed, and well worth [illegible] does not care to [illegible] perhaps lingers too [illegible] Palm Garden, there [illegible] especially strong [illegible] conveniently from the [illegible] verandas.

Lexington Park.

The past week at Lexington Park has been the largest in its history, and it seems to be gaining patronage [illegible] day.

The restaurant and casino are filled to [illegible] For the coming week the bill at the [illegible] one of the features of the Horseshoe Trio in their comedy sketch, "His Colors Saved Him."

Wonderland Park.

Mary Hesson, who accompanied Peary in his famous dash for the North Pole, is at Wonderland Park entertaining visitors with his stories and pictures of the frozen North. A feature of the talk is his recitation of assisting his audiences to ask questions.

King Philip Trips.

You can escape the oppressive heat of the city any day by merely making the trip to the fishing grounds on the steamer King Philip, and you can add to your pleasure by pulling for deep sea fish out of the waters of Massachusetts bay. You might get a prize, too.

Satellite Trips.

The coming week promises heavy traffic for the steamer Satellite in its trips to the fishing grounds. There is no safer way of getting away from the city's heat than by joining the merry throng of deep sea fishermen. Prizes are given for the biggest catches.

Gloucester Trips.

Whether it is the fine, large, newly equipped steel steamer Cape Ann, or whether it is the rocky seacoast to which the smooth-sailing, comfortable boat, daily or Sunday, may take you, everybody is thoroughly in love—and more as this season than ever—with the boat and the Cape itself.

Provincetown Trips.

Upon a newly built wharf, extending out into the waters of Provincetown harbor, is rapidly arising a pretty structure, erected by the local Board of Trade. Visitors to Provincetown will center on the structure and Cod will find it interesting.

Condit's Ballroom.

Condit's Summer Ballroom at Revere is being patronized more this season than ever and no matter how hot the day it is always cool at this popular resort. There will be dancing on July 4.

FIGHT PICTURES JULY 11.

Quick Work on the Moving Views of Jeff-Johnson Go.

Nine men and nine cameras are at Reno to take moving pictures of to-morrow's fight for the Vitagraph Company. Immediately after the fight the men will take the first train back to New York. The films will be developed at the plant of the Vitagraph Company in Brooklyn.

On July 11 the films will be distributed and moving picture houses in New York and vicinity will be able to display pictures of the fight on that day.

Arrangements have been made by which the films will be distributed to every country in the world except two.

The Week's Amusements At the Theatres and Parks

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL—"The Battle."

AUSTIN & STONE'S—Freaks, Curios, Vaudeville and Pictures.

BASS POINT—Musical Comedy and Novelties.

BOWDOIN SQUARE—Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

CASINO—Waldron's Stock Company.

CASTLE SQUARE—"The Bohemian Girl."

GLOBE—Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

HUB—Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

KEITH'S—The Geisha Girls and Vaudeville.

LEXINGTON PARK—Vaudeville.

MAJESTIC—Charlotte Hunt in "East Lynne."

NORUMBEGA PARK—Vaudeville.

PARAGON PARK—High Diving and Circus Acts.

PARK—William Hodge in "The Man from Home."

SCENIC TEMPLE—Motion Pictures and Vaudeville.

SHUBERT—Eddie Foy in "Up and Down Broadway."

TREMONT—"The Girl in the Taxi."

VAUDEVILLE NEWS AND GOSSIP

James Morton and Frank Moore, [illegible] stars of "The Merry Widow," will e[illegible] vaudeville some time in August under [illegible] direction of Max Hart.

Two former members of Sir He[illegible] Irving's company, Laura Burt and He[illegible] Stanford, are booked for Keith's in [illegible] week in a light comedy called "[illegible] Order of the Bath." A society girl and [illegible] assistant English nobleman are mobi[illegible] ally locked in a bath room, and the re[illegible] is some of the funniest complications [illegible] agination.

* * *

According to Oriental notions, the [illegible] Girls at Keith's this week ha[illegible] Anna Held beauty chorus in the down[illegible] cast. While playing in San [illegible] isco, the press agent issued passe[illegible] newspaper interviews to fourteen dif[illegible] Hearst's Reporters of Japanese ir[illegible] Then he woke up to the fact that [illegible] were but three Japanese publication[illegible] so each of smiling brown-skinned appl[illegible]

Coming Events

For the week beginning Monday July 11, Miss Charlotte Hunt announces that she will make a production of Alphonse Daudet's much-talked-of "Sapho."

Among the strong attractions booked for Keith's in the near future are Brown & Nevins, Bassinelli's, Viola Gillette & George MacFarland, Augusta Dolores, Burton Elizabeth Brice and Charles Burt and Henry Stanford and [illegible] Holmes.

Shore Dinners.

Automobile parties are finding the shore dinners at Kimball's Hotel, Cohasset, satisfactory in every way. The hotel is easily accessible to motorists and the roads to Cohasset are in splendid condition. One can make the trip by trolley, too.

IN THE MOTION PICTURE FIELD

The Stars and St[illegible] A patriotic motion picture story, will be the chief[illegible] feature of the first half of the current week.

* * *

Ray Boyd is departed for a moment from the [illegible] Nickel" for the Edison [illegible] which will be resumed July 14. [illegible] Boyd, however, will be [illegible]

* * *

[illegible] Thomas [illegible] Mer[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [

9 MOVING PICTURE CAMERAS AT FIGHT

Over 60,000 Feet of Film to Be Used in Recording Contest at Reno.

When the big fight is held in Reno tomorrow there will be nine moving pictures stationed about the ring, so the ghastly struggle from every The cameramen will be the Film Manufacturing Company's scene cameras, and the work of these machines, the battle over, will be of the greatest interest to the fight fans of the country. It is estimated that over 60,000 feet of film will be used in the making of the picture.

FIDDLE CONTEST PUT OFF

Rivalry of Aged Soldiers Postponed Until Veterans Are Less Feeble.

The story of how the "Old Soldier Fiddlers" who appear at Keith's Theatre this week became a vaudeville attraction is a touching one. Several years ago two veterans of the Civil War met at a reunion in Vermont and began to talk over old times. Each had been a fiddler in the army, and each had brought his fiddle to the reunion. They began to play the old tunes they had played around the camp fires, and soon a crowd had gathered to listen to them. Among the crowd was a vaudeville manager, who saw in the two old men a novel vaudeville act. He induced them to go on the stage, and they made a hit. Since then they have been playing in vaudeville, and have added to their number until now there are four old soldiers in the act.

READ NOT THIS TALE

UNLESS YOU'D WEEP

Close Friends a Dozen Years of Childhood Days.

"Names always mean a great deal to me," said Annette Kellermann, the diving girl, who is now appearing at the Colonial Theatre, "and I could tell you why I chose the name of Annette for my stage name. I had two of my dearest friends in my childhood days by the name of Annette, and I loved them both so much that I thought I would like to have the name myself. I have been known by it ever since."

BESSIE WYNN IN SCHO

Was Teacher's Favorite Be She Could Speak Pieces

MISS HOLLAND FOR DOLLS

Fosters Sacred Idea of Mother hood, Explains Actress.

"CAPT." COUNTISS, PLEASE.

Actress Once Drilled Company of Texas Confederates.

NEW JOB FOR WOMEN.

Chauffeurs, Is the Advice of Annette Kellermann.

MR. DRAGON WAS WISE.

Manager Who Knew How to Answer Name.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

HOME GOWNS ON STAGE.

Personal Dresses Worn by Noted Actresses.

Amusements

PARK

FAREWELL!!

Tomorrow We Celebrate With a Special Matinee

The Beginning of the 27th and GOOD BYE WEEK

Positively LAST PERFORMANCE Sat. Night, July 9th, of

WM. HODGE

In the new piece of the Century Too

MAN FROM HOME

Make a Note of This! Only nine more chances to see this play that has caused the whole world to talk. PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW.

Amusements

10c GLOBE 10c

RUSH LING TOY AND CO.

Musical Tremaines

SACKS & HARDING

WALDO WHIPPLE

Jack O'Donnell—Jimmie Maxwell

JUST THE BEST PICTURES IN TOWN

10c—Concert, Vaudeville, Pictures, for 10c—10c

Amusements

KEITH'S

Enjoy a Sane Fourth

Absolutely the Greatest Bill of All New Features Shown in Years.

Only One Act Has Been Seen in Boston

To Visiting Teachers: "You haven't seen Boston, if you haven't seen Keith's."

First appearance here of the Patriotic Sensation.

FOUR OLD SOLDIER FIDDLERS

Combined ages over 300 Years—Blue and the Gray.

8---JAPAN'S PRETTIEST GEISHA GIRLS---8

With Songs, Dances and Fetching Novelties.

6——AMERICAN DANCERS——6

Charles Lovenberg's Great Company of Steppers.

PORTER J. WHITE & CO. In "The Visitor"

MARSHALL MONTGOMERY Greatest of All Ventriloquists

CONLIN, STEELE and CARR Singing, Talking, Dancing—Fun

THE HAVELOCKS Comedians and Jugglers

BARRY and HALVERS Dancing Comedians

McPHEE and HILL Acrobatic Clowns

ALWAYS COOL AT KEITH'S——DON'T MISS THIS SHOW

OVERTURE AT 1:45 AND 7:30 DAILY

Attendants Will Show Visitors Through the Theatre, Including the Marble Engine Room.

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL

10° COOLER THAN THE STREET

Summer Stock Season----Week of July 4

DAILY MATS., 2 P. M. 50c, 25c, 10c NOTHING HIGHER

LINDSAY

EVENINGS, 8 P. M. 50c, 25c, 10c NOTHING HIGHER

MORISON STOCK CO.

In a New and Elaborate Production of Wilton Lackaye's Biggest Success

"THE BATTLE"

A stirring story of the struggle between Capital and Labor, with WILSON MELROSE, THE GOOD, FRIGHT'S, ROSALIND CRAIGHAN and full strength of stock cast.

TOMORROW MATINEE—SOUVENIR CHOCOLATE BON BONS TO EVERY PATRON

NEXT WEEK—"THE GIRL IN THE TAXI," A LAUGHING HIT.

WALDRON'S CASINO

Hanover St., Near Tremont Row

Waldron's Stock Co. ONLY BURLESQUE SHOW IN BOSTON

JEFFRIES JOHNSON

Full returns of the fight by direct wire will be read from the stage by JACK SHEEHAN "Boston's Premier Referee," with all preliminary details.

CONCERT TONIGHT VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

Prices 10-20-25 MATINEES DAILY

10 BOWDOIN 10

SQ. THEATRE. 10c—ADMISSION—10c

800 Seats Free Continuous 1 till 10:30

VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

MOVING PICTURES

Independence Day Show

Ringside Report of the JOHNSON-CHANDLER FIGHT

Also 4 WOODWORTH'S

BERT & JOLLY PRICE'S

THE HANGING BARRETTS

JOLLY PRICE'S

All the most moving pictures of the fight at Reno. Jack Johnson, Sam Langford, Fireman Flanagan, Stiff, Field, Jeffries and Sullivan.

TONIGHT

This Sunday at the Bowdoin Sq. Theatre.

Vaudeville Features and Fascinating Moving Pictures

Three-hour show—Nothing repeated.

ADMISSION 10 CENTS. 10

"Festivity is the Watchword"

PARAGON

Park and the PALM GARDEN

NANTASKET BEACH

4th of July Fireworks Tomorrow Night. New England's Greatest Specialty. Vaudeville Dance Hall. 2 Scenic Temple Roller Coaster. Human Roulette Wheel. "The Haunted Scenic Railway." Cars Swing Rounds of Arabia. Famous Japanese Village. Fun Factory. Laughing Gallery. Etc.

Palm Garden Seating 1000. Best Cuisine on the New England Coast. Pyramid Dining Rooms. Restaurant's Famous Orchestra. Assisted by the Parsons Male Quartette. FREE FEATURES Marinari Mandolin Orchestra. Band. Electric Illuminations. Famous Patriotic Songs. Band Concerts. Dancing Every Evening.

FREE CIRCUS Special Tents. LA DIVA VENUS Perilous Diving Sensation. DEMON In a Fiery Thrilling Slide Trips Life. STANLEYS In Feats of Equilibrium. EUREKA Man Diver. AROZA In Balloon Ascensions and Fiery Parachute Drops. Carrying a Passenger.

FREE PARKING FOR AUTOMOBILES

SCENIC TEMPLE

Berkeley St. and Warren Av.

Mats. 2.30. Eves. Con. 7 to 10.30

Refined Entertainment

Admission 10c. All Seats Free

AUTOMOBILES FOR HIRE

BY HOUR, DAY, week or month; 7-passenger touring cars, skilful drivers, machines always ready. Tel. Back Bay 4460. N. E. MOTOR VEHICLE CO., 696 Boylston St.

Follow the FLAG

NORUMBEGA PARK

The Most Wonderland Amusement Resort of America

OPEN DAILY AT 10 A. M.

SPECIAL FEATURE 4TH OF JULY TO-MORROW

Concerts all day in Music Court

BATTERY B BRIGADE BAND

NEW COVERED THEATRE NEW OPEN-AIR THEATRE

FINEST IN THE WORLD

Performances 8:30 and 8:00

THIS WEEK

J. W. GORMAN PRESENTS

ANOTHER BIG MUSICAL HIT

BOYS AND GIRLS

Done in typical Gorman style.

Best Trolley Ride in New England

Wonderland REVERE BEACH

Free Admission —AND— Many Attractions

Open Today at 1 P. M.

Tomorrow, July 4th, 11 O'Clock

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN

Amusements. Amusements.

EXCEEDING THE SPEED LIMIT AT THE COOL TREMONT

Jos. B. Schoedel, Prop. and Mgr. Chas. Frohman and William Harris, Direction

9th WEEK! Extra Matinee Tomorrow at 2

THE GIRL IN THE TAXI

WITH CARTER DE HAVEN And an ALL-STAR CAST

The Season's Laughing Winner!

A MARATHON OF MIRTH !!!!!!

The Real Reason! Jeffries and Johnson Are Going to Fight—

BOX MAN: They can't get to Boston in Season. "THE GIRL IN THE TAXI"

Take Your Girl for a Joy Ride--Fares 25, 50, 75, $1, $1.50

Best Seats $1.50 SHUBERT SECOND WHALEN WEEK

EVENINGS 8:00, MATINEES 2:00. REGULAR MATINEE SATURDAY

EXTRA HOLIDAY MATINEE TOMORROW

THE MESSRS. SHUBERT PRESENT THE BIGGEST AND BEST SUMMER SHOW EVER SEEN IN BOSTON

AN INCOMPARABLE ARRAY OF TALENT AND BEAUTY

EDDIE FOY In a Passing Review of All the Events of 1910

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

Music and Lyrics by Jerome and Schwartz—Book by Edgar Smith

Assisted by a Company of 70 Persons, Including EMMA CARUS

VIDA WHITMORE, MARTIN BROWN, HANS ROBERTS, JAMES DIAMOND, PHYLLIS GORDON, ANNA WHEATON, GUS ANDERSON, RUTH ALLEN, HARRY McDONOUGH, FRED POWELL, JAMES CARSON, MAY DONOVAN and 200 OTHERS

16 Scenes of Stunning Spectacular Splendor

Most Captivating Chorus Ever Seen In Boston

MAJESTIC MATINEE EVERY DAY 25c

Evening Prices 25c, 50c, 75c

WILBUR SHUBERT CO., Props.

ONE WEEK ONLY

EVENINGS 8:00 MATINEES 2:00

Beginning Tomorrow

SOUVENIR MATINEE TUESDAY

Each lady attending the matinee will be presented with a handsome AUTOGRAPHED PHOTOGRAPH OF MISS HUNT

CHARLOTTE HUNT

AND HER OWN STOCK COMPANY

AN ELABORATE PRODUCTION OF THE POPULAR DRAMA EAST LYNNE

MONDAY, JULY 11th——SAPHO

PAIN'S FIREWORKS

Best display ever seen in Boston will be given at the American League Grounds Saturday evening, July 9, at 7:45.

SPECIAL FEATURES

HARRY LORD AT THE BAT

Roosevelt in the Jungle
The Grounds Ablaze
Jacob's Ladder
Jewelled Palms
Manhattan Beach Bombs
The Mikado Fan
Mammoth Prismatic Whirlwinds
Fountain of Light

Pain's Yankee Rockets
Aerial Rose Garden
Hailey's Comet Rockets
Fiery Spider Bombs
Passion Flower Rockets
Electric Sunbursts
Acres of Scintillating Stars
Hudson Fulton Batteries

THE BATTLE IN THE CLOUDS

And hundreds of other latest novelties in fireworks. Grand concert by

TEEL'S BAND of 50 Pieces AMERICAN LEAGUE GROUNDS

Saturday Evening, July 9, at 7:45

Admission 25c. Grand Stand 25c Extra

BASS POINT NAHANT

The Most Popular Shore Resort on the Coast

Band Concerts, Dancing, Open-Air Theatres, Vaudeville Attractions

GOV. ANDREW—SPEAKERS—GOV. LINCOLN

Leave Otis Wharf 9:00, 11 A. M., 12:45, 2:15, 3:45, 5:15, 7:15 P. M.

Return From Bass Point 10:45 A. M., 12:15, 1:45, 3:20, 4:15, 6:15, 7:30, 9:45 P. M.

RELAY HOUSE E. H. BRANN, Prop. Visit the Dutch Room FISH, STEAK & CHICKEN DINNERS Today, Stiles' 8th Regiment Band Continuous Music

KNICKERBOCKER THEATRE FRONTING RELAY HOUSE Ware & Cann's Musical Comedy Co. Prelude (at 8 p. West) A JAPANESE HONEYMOON Full of Original Plans etc Catchy Musical Jester Specialties Up-to-Date Novelties Prices 10, 20, 30c

Bass Point House A. C. FULLER, Prop. Planked Steak or an Innocent Shore Dinner in Private Dining Rooms TODAY—Am. Cadet Band and Orchestra

HOTEL BRENTON —NEW— Frank Keezer, Prop. FISH, STEAK & CHICKEN DINNERS PRIVATE DINING ROOMS THAYER'S ORCHESTRA Miss CORINNE SIMONDS, Soloist E. McCANN'S, Baritone

Plays and Travels.

See "The Pilgrims' First Landing Place"

Provincetown AND RETURN

Cape Cod

Leave Wharf, 400 Atlantic Ave., Boston, daily at 9 A. M. (except Sundays) for Provincetown, Wellfleet, Orleans, Chatham, Hyannis, Woods Holl, Vineyard Haven, Oak Bluffs, Edgartown, Nantucket. Send for booklet. H. E. MOODY, G. P. A.

HOTEL GRENOBLE, 58 St., & 7th Ave., CARNEGIE HALL NEW YORK CITY

Located in the midst of beautiful Central Park and residential district. Only one square from Columbus Circle. Subway and surface cars pass the door. Every room has outside exposure. Rates $1.50 per day and up. Send for booklet. THEO. W. O'HARE, Mgr.

EUROPE

A Few Vacancies in These Tours. JULY 9, $375 JULY 23, $569 JULY 30, $525

Send for Booklet of Itineraries. The BOSTON TRAVEL SOCIETY Berkeley Bldg., Boston, Mass.

Boston American Society News
SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910.
SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910.

SMART SET QUIETLY AWAITING THE DAWN OF GLORIOUS FOURTH

Parties at Country Estates and Beach Resorts Are Forming, for All Society Has Now Shifted to Realms Where Cooling Breezes and Somnolent Shade Abound Near Surf or Stream.

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

SUMMER suns and sea winds are already working their witchery and the wine of life is fairly dancing through the veins of the countless pleasure seekers who throng New England's coast. The bare sands of beach and harbor have blossomed into tropical kaleidoscopic gardens of color and life, and July, with alluring hints of the gayeties ahead, has brought to its fulness the charm of it all.

The "rapture of the lonely shore" has given way to the revelry of riches, and habitues of these haunts of the elect—this great campground of American aristocracy—are deep in the excitement of the search for amusements which really entertain.

"The Glorious Fourth" which is the occasion for much entertaining, and this year gives opportunity for a delightfully long week-end, marks the dividing line between the long, lazy period of country home life, which begins so early in the Spring, and the fashionable Summer season. So from now on there will be no end to the gay doings of our smart set.

EVERYBODY NOW AT SEASHORE.

Everyone is at the seashore now. Even those who remained latest for the Harvard Class Day festivities were careful to be established in their Summer abiding places before the boom and din of our patriotic Fourth.

But amid all the incessant attendant upon a Summer season, Boston society does not forget the less fortunate. "little sisters and brothers of the poor," and more is being done for them this year than ever before.

Miss Helen Cox, who has recently come to the North Shore, is busy with her vacation hours for working girls and devoting every spare moment of her time to fixing things for the comfort of her guests.

Mrs. William Patten (nee Thayer), who last year purchased the Mead farm in Natick, which she transformed into a Summer refuge for the poor children of Boston, is planning to do more this year than last for these children. As she is a friend of the lad. Our women are not living the butterfly existence that are supposed to live, but are contributing their mite and doing untiring work.

Among those who are to entertain large house parties over the Fourth are Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gardiner, who kept their Beacon street home open over Harvard Class Day and who are now at their beautiful country place, "Oaklar[illegible]

At all the resorts the smartest of our smart set are arriving and establishing themselves for the season.

General and Mrs. Stephen M. Weld of Dedham have arrived at their beautiful country home on the ocean front at Wareham, where they will remain until early Autumn, when they will sail for Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Frothingham have closed their town house and are at Beverly Farms for the Summer, where they have taken the George Lee's small cottage. L[illegible] the Frothinghams were at Marion.

CURTISES ARE AT "CROW ISLAND."

The Misses Amy and Clara Curtis, who have been in England for several years, are now at their handsome North Shore Summer home, "Crow Island," at Manchester-[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morse Channing have deserted their all-the-year-round home at Chestnut and are established in their Summer home at Wareham. Mr. Channing's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Channing, are in Europe for the Summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Channing of Marlboro street and his son, who sailed recently, [illegible] Italy will remain abroad for some time and return to the North Shore early in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mason, who have been at their estate in Dublin, N. H., since closing their town house, are now established at their Rhode Island [illegible] villa in Newport.

Mrs. Alurson Tucker, who has been at the Somerset since her recent return from abroad, is now at Sea Croft, her cottage at Bar Harbor, where she will remain throughout the Summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wildings Jr. of Walnut place, Brookline, have again [illegible] are occupying the same house as they did last season. Mrs. Wildings was, before her marriage, Katherine Crane.

Miss Mary Shreve Ames, who has been abroad for the greater part of the [illegible] North Easton. Later in the season she will [illegible] Lowe and Mrs. John S. Ames.

MRS. PENNETT AT YORK HARBOR.

Mrs. [illegible] Lowell Cabot and family are at their cottage at York Harbor for the [illegible]

Miss Grace Hooper, who spends her Winters at the Oxford, has sailed for Europe. Miss Hooper will be among the Bostonians who will go to Obermammergau to witness the Passion Play.

Mrs. Francis Scarglick Watson of Clarendon street has sailed for her annual visit to relatives [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill Thorndike are guests of Mrs. Thorndike's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gurnee of New York, at their Bar Harbor villa, where they will likely remain for most the month of July.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cabot Jackson and Mrs. Gardiner Greene Hammond are at their respective cottages at Beverly, N. H., for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Winslow of Clarendon street are at their pretty villa at Nahant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Sherburne of Brookline, with their children, have gone to their Summer home in New Haven. Mrs. Sherburne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hall Harris of Buffalo, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr and Mrs. W. Hall Harris, Jr., of Buffalo, are also at North Hav[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Thomas and Mrs. John Hanson Thomas have arrived at their cottage at Nahant, coming from their home in Baltimore in their own touring car. Miss Alice Lee Thomas, who arrived a couple of weeks in advance, is [illegible] guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Douglas H. Thomas, Jr. Who has now sold of her family for the remainder of the season.

Among recent arrivals at Falmouth are Miss Emily Beebe and her brother, Franklin H. Beebe, who have closed their Beacon street residence and are established at Highfield Hall. The nearby estate of the J. Arthur Beebes of Commonwealth avenue, "Pungiewood," has also been opened for the season. The H[illegible] are a few weeks.

Mrs. Chester [illegible] Anderson has gone to Magnolia for the season. Other Bostonians who have [illegible] at their resort are Mrs. William Atherton and her son, [illegible] and Dr. [illegible] Atherton

Mrs. C[illegible] Miss Curtis and Miss Gladys Munn, who re[illegible] stay in Europe, are at their North Shore cott[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Spaulding are at their magnificent Summer home, "Sunset Rock," at Pride's Crossing. They have recently been the guests of Mrs. Spaulding's parents, the Fairfields, at their home in Kenilworth, Ill.

Miss Dorothy Draper, Society Queen of Debutante Set

MISS DOROTHY [illegible]

Among the last of the season's weddings was [illegible] Thursday of Miss Dora Moore [illegible] daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. [illegible] Wood [illegible] Mass. [illegible] Rev. [illegible] Miss [illegible] was [illegible] Miss [illegible] Miss [illegible] Miss

NEWS OF THE BEACHES AND SUMMER RESORTS

CLUBS ON NORTH SHORE CENTRES OF SMART SET LIFE

In Summer Days Society Leaders Are as Devoted to Their Social Organizations as They Are in City During Winter Season.

FASHIONABLE society a[l]ong the North Shore is quite as much to its clubs during the summer days as in the Winter season when etiquette is naturally a leading factor in the life of a member of the smart coterie. True, at this season there are theatricals which call forth the best efforts of the matrons of the Virginia Crane, the fashionable affairs at the Algonquin and the great Clubs are not matters of paramount interest. These are exclusively country clubs for Bostonians, and the public are now from outside, who are included in membership.

In July, August and September fashion decrees that shore and country clubs supplant those of the city, and that it be thus along this beautiful stretch of beach there are many famous [w]hites play a most important part in social life of the cottage colony. Pre[e]minently Bostonese in its manner and atmosphere is the Myopia Hunt Club at Swampscott, where social shepherd and hospitable Nathaniel Thayer, hunting are the chief hosts. The membership is composed chiefly of the Brahmin aristocrat princes, who have come here with the life of swampy old Massachusetts for years. The situation is most interesting and the homelike, effort is that characterizes the place is most delightful for those entertaining there. Connected with the club is a golf course, where the feminine enthusiasts take their exercise during the hours when tennis courts are among the best in the country, and the tournaments are the life here.

Perhaps the most attractive feature of the club life is the program of concerts given weekly, when the club members give luncheons and dinner parties, motoring from all along shore for these delightful treats. The sociability of the Tedesco is notable, it being more a family affair than the other clubs nearby.

Nahant, perhaps, enjoys the distinction of possessing the most exclusive population of any resort of the shore. Cliques of the members of Boston's most select families, all of them residents here only the Summer, the most exclusive Nahant Club is of necessity small. On these of the most approved discrimination must be admitted, and such an air of eminent respectability pervades this city is not duplicated in any of those on the bay. Tennis courts are kept in splendid condition, and they are the centres of the [s]uper set at such times as they are not [u]sed for golf. The interclub tennis matches at the club and the fortnightly concerts are the other events of the Nahant season. Every member of the colony looking to a special point to be present at the latter. Members of the families are quite as well as the generous, and those who know assert that more of the pretty romances of this exclusive settlement are born during the Saturday meetings than during the Winter season.

The Misses Fay, Lodge, Curtis, Johnson, Lovering and Wendell families with their connections form the list of members, and with their numerous households make a delightful coterie.

Quite a feature of this same settlement is the school [w]hich stands on the right [h]and [s]ide [o]f the road [a]s one enters the village. At this school the boys and girls may be members of this little society, and [i]nvite the other members of the younger set [t]o participate in such games as they are [i]nterested in. And the [c]hildren in the [v]icinity of the [s]chool [h]ouse [a]re [a]lso [i]nvited [t]o [j]oin [i]n [t]he [s]ports [o]f [t]he [y]ounger [s]et. [T]his [s]chool [h]as [b]een [o]pened [f]or [t]he [s]ummer [s]eason [o]nly [a]s a [c]onvenience [t]o [t]hose [w]ho [h]ave [c]hildren [t]o [s]end [t]o [s]chool [d]uring [t]he [s]ummer [m]onths, [a]nd [t]he [s]ession [i]s [c]onducted [o]n [t]he [s]ame [l]ines [a]s [t]he [s]chools [i]n [t]he [c]ity [d]uring [t]he [w]inter [s]eason.

Nahant has the most exclusive golf club on the shore, and the [m]embership [l]ist [i]s [s]trictly [l]imited. [T]he [c]lub [h]ouse [i]s [a] [c]harming [l]ittle [b]uilding, [a]nd [t]he [g]olf [c]ourse [i]s [o]ne [o]f [t]he [m]ost [p]icturesque [o]n [t]he [s]hore. [T]he [m]en [o]f [t]he [c]olony [a]re [a]ll [i]n [t]he [h]abit [o]f [g]oing [t]o [t]he [c]lub [h]ouse [a]t [t]he [c]lose [o]f [t]he [a]fternoon's [s]ession [o]n [t]he [l]inks, [a]nd [t]he [s]cene [a]t [t]hese [t]imes [i]s [o]ne [o]f [g]reat [g]aiety. [T]he [m]en [o]f [t]he [c]olony [a]re [a]ll [i]n [t]he [h]abit [o]f [g]oing [t]o [t]he [c]lub [h]ouse [a]t [t]he [c]lose [o]f [t]he [a]fternoon's [s]ession [o]n [t]he [l]inks, [a]nd [t]he [s]cene [a]t [t]hese [t]imes [i]s [o]ne [o]f [g]reat [g]aiety.

MRS H. W. BAKER.

MARBLEHEAD.

[illegible]

NAHANT.

SENATOR AND MRS. HENRY CABOT LODGE were of those from the North Shore who were bidden to the Alexander wedding festivities at [illegible] Harbor, which were the headquarters at [illegible]

[illegible] Pride's Crossing [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Forbes Watson [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Bennett Wyman [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Thomas Nelson [illegible]

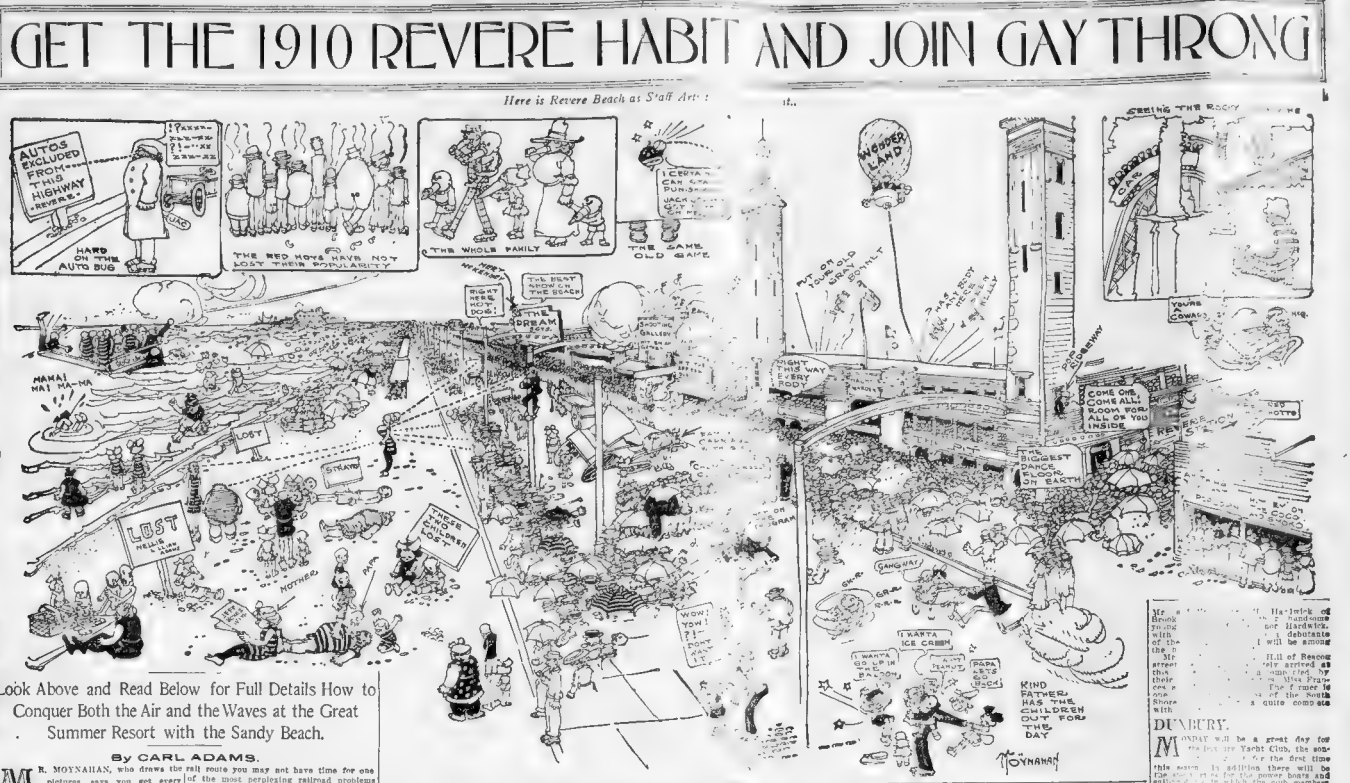
[illegible] Mrs. Joseph Peabody [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Frederick Prince [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Arthur Scott

GET THE 1910 REVERE HABIT AND JOIN GAY THRONG

Here is Revere Beach as Staff Artist



Look Above and Read Below for Full Details How to Conquer Both the Air and the Waves at the Great Summer Resort with the Sandy Beach.

By CARL ADAMS.

MR. MOYNAHAN, who draws the rail route you may not have time for one of the most perplexing railroad problems of this generation. That's the box they call the Crescent Beach deppo.

A man had me paper, and he's a homely man who pays his grocery bill, and lives his wife and a gang of little children, this man told me yesterday that sometimes there are 15,000 people out on the grounds around the Crescent Beach depot.

All of a sudden it begins to rain. Comes right down in cats and dogs and things, and 15,000 people try to get in out of the rain at once.

The depot will hold about 225 of them. This is the problem.

Needless to say, it is not the people's business to keep up the Revere Beach & Lynn railroad, but the said man was a person of courage, and great will power. She said that here was certain people goin' around evenings swinging the Missouri compromise, with none of the dangers. Makes it safer.

Talk about your Alaska soldiers!

So I quit, said words over and sat down with a young woman who looked over the palm of my left hand and told me that I wouldn't have to wait much longer to be appointed as my assistant. She said I was a person of courage, and great will power. She said that here was certain people goin' around evenings swinging the Missouri compromise, with none of the dangers. Makes it safer, with none of the dangers. Makes it safer.

Talk about your Alaska soldiers!

So I quit, said words over and sat down with a young woman who looked over the palm of my left hand and told me that I wouldn't have to wait much longer to be appointed as my assistant. She said I was a person of courage, and great will power. She said that here was certain people goin' around evenings swinging the Missouri compromise

HAPPENINGS ALONG THE SOUTH SHORE

THE distinct[ion] that has [been] marked during the l[ast] between the North Shore seems even m[ore] this Summer than in previous Cohasset, the mecca of the w[ell] aristocratic visitors, there is [a] celebration and feverish eag[er] social honors list, characteristic of shows from Swampscott to At all the resorts in that re[gion] the multi-millionaires, who ha[ve] laid sufficient wealth to pub[lic] in holding, such as the [ex]pensive relics of court beau[ty] fashion days of the knee b[reech]es and powdered wigs, by [ex]hibitions of principles [and] ideals which are the real [ex]hibitory there is the keenest [ri]valry in the leadership in the entertainment [of] exclusive, for entertainments of [the] style, for dinners that [are] more or some other function. There [is] a quiet simplicity that is [en]joyed, the retreats along the South[ern] shore the shore residents really [re]joy the charms of the country a[nd] their offspring are all bent in t[he] idea. They live very close to na[ture] morning can be a few games on th[e] a round of golf, a spin in a m[o]tor boat, a plunge in the [o]cean, just a little informal call, with [no] fancy or preparation, is the life typical society maid or matron of [the] elements about here.

During the winter term the r[e]sidents particularly those of Cohasset, are [pre]sent at all the functions of the [se]ason but rarely are they much in evidence during the shore months.

The one exception is the horse s[how] now an established thing, which is [held] at the Henry M. Whitney farm. [A]mong the leading matrons of the [re]sort is Mrs. John Lewis Bremer of [Ma]lboro street, who as Mary Bigelow was [one] of the successes of her debutante year. Mrs. Bremer is very fond of her country home and during her long stay here entertains her friends in the saddle, be it stag or otherwise. Another charming girl of athletic tastes is Mrs. Hugh Bancroft, who, we say, is [a] rabbit hunter par excellence. North Scituate [is] famous. [The] first was the at[tack] on Jane Pearl, and dying [a] hero here [to] [re]call the dire [ef]fects [of] the curse of [the] [ra]bbit [in] connection with her sister, Mrs. Walter Barron, are the two [la]dies who go ashore and [row] boats in the [ri]ver [in] the course races, way [in] the [ha]rbor, of the [vi]llage is [a] Mrs. Lilla [is] an expert in [the] of athletic [ac]tivities. Mrs. Dobord in the [ti]me-honored [a]musement, hiking and [ri]ding. She is [a] [re]markable [ho]rsewoman [a]nd [is] going [to] [ri]de in the [ho]rse [sh]ow. Miss [Ja]ne Knowles is a [de]ep rowing [en]thusiast and [is] [a] [fa]vorite [wi]th the [ma]ny [ga]y girls [of] the [co]lony.

Miss [Ja]ne Knowles is a me[m]ber of the [Co]hasset [ho]use [pa]rty here and [re]cent [ar]rivals [in] the [co]lony [in]clude Mr. and Mrs. [Ch]arles [Ha]rris, Miss [Ma]ry Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. [Ma]tthew Le[e] and Mrs. [Ch]arles [Ha]rris, Miss [Ma]ry Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. [Ma]tthew Le[e] and Mrs. [Ch]arles [Ha]rris, Miss [Ma]ry Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. [Ma]tthew Le[e]

OCEAN BLUFFS

F[illegible]

GREEN HARBOR.

JOHN MACELROY of Lowell was [a] guest of friends over [Sun]day here.

George MacCarty and fa[mily] of Boston [are] [oc]cupying [the] [Ha]rris [co]ttage [on] Pine [Po]int.

WOMEN WIN SUCC[ESS]

Plymouth County A. O. H. Auxiliary in Convention.

MARSHFIELD.

ST. PATRICK'S WILL CELEBRATE IN FALL

[Gen]eral Is

LONG SERVICE OF WOMAN REWARDED

Miss Margaret Desmond, President of A. O. H. Auxiliary for Twelve Years.

BROCKTON, July 2.—Miss Margaret Desmond, president of the A. O. H. Auxiliary for twelve years, was [ten]dered a reception by her associates at the residence of the sixteenth anniversary of the [da]y when she was presented with a [ga]vel in gold by Miss Nellie F. Whitten. [Ad]dresses and music [for] the occasion were [fur]nished by [Mi]ss Mary A. [Ma]rtin, Miss Mary [Ma]rtin, Miss Mary [Ma]rtin, Miss Mary

SUNDAY, JULY 2, 1916.

Boston American SUNDAY DIRECTORY

Real Estate, Apartments and Want Ads

Real Estate Mortgages

July Money Must Be Placed!

SWIFT & JOYCE

Want Good First Mortgages.

$10,000 TO LOAN, NOW!

Call 806 Kimball Bldg., 18 Tremont.

BENJ F BADGER

MONEY TO LOAN

MORTGAGE MONEY

B. P. SANDS.

1051 OLD SOUTH BLDG.

Plenty Money

Special Announcements

BOSTON INSTITUTE.

Typewriters.

$1.00 $1.00

ALL MAKES TYPEWRITER

REBUILT BLICKS

For Sale—Miscellaneous.

A Woman's Specialty Business

Garden Hose 4c Ft. Guaranteed

PANAMA HATS BLEACHED

HOLIDAY HOLDS MANY OPPORTUNITIES FOR REALTY INVESTORS

Some of the properties bought and sold last week are pictured h...

Brokers Now Look for Smiles of the Weather Man To-morrow.

MANY DEALS DURING WEEK

Investors Find Tempting Bargains in All Sections of the City.

By FRANK A. LAVELLE.

ALL that is needed to-morrow to make it the big real estate day of the year, especially for suburban brokers and operators, is fine weather. Be good weather, for should the weather prove favorable there will be big crowds at all these open air gatherings and lots of profitable business.

Practically, this season has been very poor for the real estate men, for the weather has been a great deal of the time cold, with a lot of rain and generally speaking a very disagreeable month.

June has been a fairly good month, and there have been through the [illegible] that the [illegible] to [illegible] A number of [illegible] way [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] were the [illegible]

Buys for Investment.

[illegible] of the Boston [illegible] at No. 1008 [illegible] of Asylum [illegible] Harrison ave. [illegible] to [illegible] Dorchester [illegible] Par. [illegible] property at [illegible] and [illegible] Hyde [illegible] and [illegible] Sales by Henry W. Savage's Office

WITHINGTON, Henry W. ... [illegible] ... sale by his office at the [illegible] ... bought of the trustees [illegible] A. Clarke, and was [illegible] ... [illegible] ... conveyed on [illegible] ... trustees of the [illegible] ... [illegible] ... recorded on [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ...

LAND BROKERS READY FOR GREAT CROWDS

City and Suburban Tracts Bring Out Investors and Home-Seekers,

MANY SALES REPORTED

With Good Holiday Weather a Record-Breaking Business Is Looked For.

THOUSANDS of city dwellers are now turning their thoughts to the delights of a suburban home, and each week finds many of them investing in one or more house lots for the start of their future homes. There are plenty of such opportunities for investment in the suburbs, and the prospective buyer can be satisfied, no matter what his choice may be, thus giving the lowly the same chance as the rich.

It all depends on how much one wants to invest and how large a place he desires; also how far from the city and in what direction he seeks to go.

These land companies and operators have done a fairly good business the past week, and the fair weather has been appreciable for this. Among the many sales reported are the following:

Sales By Frank W. Coughlin.

At Colonial Heights, Mr. Coughlin reports the following sales: Lots 305 to 313 on Wood avenue to H. Kenney of Watertown, 169 to 175 on Hamilton avenue and 168 L. 197 on Harrison avenue, 305 and 1107 Truro to Mary E. Mahoney of Boston; 1 and 3 on Hamilton avenue and 304 to 312 at corner of Harrison avenue, 304 and 306 Truro, to Theodore Mahoney of Boston; 313 Hamilton to Mary E. Mahoney of Boston; 303 Hamilton to Chester A. Ingalls of Hyde Park; 307 Hamilton to Frank Brownell, 164 Linn, to Horace St. Lawrence.

Sales by the Edward T. Harrington Company.

The Edward T. Harrington Company reports a continuance of good business at Squire Park, A. Ingalls, 30 Tremont street, reports the sale of the past week, and the fair weather has been appreciable for this. Among the many sales reported are the following:

Sales by J. W. Wilbur.

J. W. Wilbur reports the following lots as during the week: In Highland Park, Lots 10 and 11, Block 1, to D. A. A. Sullivan of Dorchester; lot on Tacoma avenue, 478 on Truro, to E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 479 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 480 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 481 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 482 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 483 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 484 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 485 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 486 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 487 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 488 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 489 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 490 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 491 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 492 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 493 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 494 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 495 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 496 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 497 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 498 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 499 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 500 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 501 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 502 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 503 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 504 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 505 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 506 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 507 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 508 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 509 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 510 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 511 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 512 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 513 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 514 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 515 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 516 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 517 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 518 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 519 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 520 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 521 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 522 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 523 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 524 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 525 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 526 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 527 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 528 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 529 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 530 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 531 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 532 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 533 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 534 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 535 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 536 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 537 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 538 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 539 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 540 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 541 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 542 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 543 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 544 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 545 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 546 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 547 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 548 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 549 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 550 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 551 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 552 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 553 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 554 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 555 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 556 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 557 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 558 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 559 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 560 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 561 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 562 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 563 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 564 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 565 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 566 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 567 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 568 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 569 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 570 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 571 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 572 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 573 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 574 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 575 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 576 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 577 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 578 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 579 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 580 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 581 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 582 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 583 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 584 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 585 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 586 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 587 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 588 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 589 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 590 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 591 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 592 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 593 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 594 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 595 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 596 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 597 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 598 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 599 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 600 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 601 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 602 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 603 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 604 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 605 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 606 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 607 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 608 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 609 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 610 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 611 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 612 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 613 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 614 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 615 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 616 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 617 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 618 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 619 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 620 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 621 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 622 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 623 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 624 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 625 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 626 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 627 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 628 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 629 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 630 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 631 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 632 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 633 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 634 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 635 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 636 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 637 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 638 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 639 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 640 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 641 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 642 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 643 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 644 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 645 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 646 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 647 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 648 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 649 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 650 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 651 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 652 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 653 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 654 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 655 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 656 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 657 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 658 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 659 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 660 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 661 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 662 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 663 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 664 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 665 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 666 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 667 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 668 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 669 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 670 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 671 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 672 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 673 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 674 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 675 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 676 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 677 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 678 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 679 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 680 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 681 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 682 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 683 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 684 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 685 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 686 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 687 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 688 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 689 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 690 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 691 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 692 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 693 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 694 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 695 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 696 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 697 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 698 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 699 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 700 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 701 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 702 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 703 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 704 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 705 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 706 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 707 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 708 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 709 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 710 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 711 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 712 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 713 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 714 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 715 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 716 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 717 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 718 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 719 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 720 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 721 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 722 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 723 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 724 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 725 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 726 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 727 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 728 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 729 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 730 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 731 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 732 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 733 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 734 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 735 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 736 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 737 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 738 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 739 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 740 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 741 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 742 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 743 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 744 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 745 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 746 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 747 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 748 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 749 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 750 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 751 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 752 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 753 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 754 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 755 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 756 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 757 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 758 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 759 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 760 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 761 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 762 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 763 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 764 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 765 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 766 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 767 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 768 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 769 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 770 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 771 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 772 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 773 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 774 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 775 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 776 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 777 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 778 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 779 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 780 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 781 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 782 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 783 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 784 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 785 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 786 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 787 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 788 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 789 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 790 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 791 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 792 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 793 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 794 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 795 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 796 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 797 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 798 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 799 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 800 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 801 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 802 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 803 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 804 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 805 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 806 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 807 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 808 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 809 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 810 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 811 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 812 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 813 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 814 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 815 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 816 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 817 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 818 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 819 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 820 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 821 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 822 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 823 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 824 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 825 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 826 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 827 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 828 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 829 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 830 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 831 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 832 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 833 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 834 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 835 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 836 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 837 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 838 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 839 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 840 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 841 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 842 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 843 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 844 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 845 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 846 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 847 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 848 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 849 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 850 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 851 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 852 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 853 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 854 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 855 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 856 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 857 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 858 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 859 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 860 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 861 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 862 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 863 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 864 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 865 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 866 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 867 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 868 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 869 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 870 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 871 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 872 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 873 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 874 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 875 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 876 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 877 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 878 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 879 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 880 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 881 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 882 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 883 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 884 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 885 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 886 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 887 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 888 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 889 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 890 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 891 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 892 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 893 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 894 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 895 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 896 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 897 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 898 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 899 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 900 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 901 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 902 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 903 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 904 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 905 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 906 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 907 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 908 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 909 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 910 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 911 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 912 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 913 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 914 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 915 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 916 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 917 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 918 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 919 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 920 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 921 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 922 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 923 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 924 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 925 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 926 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 927 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 928 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 929 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 930 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 931 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 932 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 933 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 934 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 935 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 936 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 937 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 938 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 939 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 940 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 941 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 942 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 943 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 944 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 945 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 946 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 947 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 948 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 949 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 950 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 951 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 952 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 953 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 954 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 955 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 956 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 957 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 958 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 959 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 960 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 961 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 962 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 963 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 964 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 965 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 966 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 967 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 968 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 969 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 970 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 971 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 972 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 973 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 974 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 975 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 976 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 977 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 978 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 979 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 980 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 981 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 982 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 983 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 984 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 985 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 986 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 987 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 988 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 989 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 990 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 991 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 992 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 993 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 994 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 995 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 996 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 997 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 998 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 999 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston; lot on Truro, 1000 to Mrs. E. Smith of Boston.

OSSAMEQUIN PINES,

An [illegible] of every reader at [illegible] Fatter, has been [illegible] Great [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE BOSTON AMERICAN SUNDAY, JULY 3, 1910.

Read the Home, Land and Farm Bargains in This Section

COME TO

Nuttings Lake Park, Billerica

Free Excursion Today From Track 17 North Station At 12:30

Monday, the 4th Special Train From Track 17 At 9:30

GET FREE TICKETS OF AGENTS IN FRONT OF TRACK 17.

We Give No Cheap Presents, but "Value for Money."

Once, spend the day at this splendid lake property and bring your wife and children.

Four miles of water frontage—good fishing, canoeing, motor boating. Good trains and car service—can come and go as you please.

Every lot has water front privileges—one of the finest lake properties in the State.

Desirable neighbors, near stores, schools, etc.

Free use of tricycles, boats, fishing lines.

LOTS $29 AND UP

Terms to Suit.

Lots staked out and numbered, streets all laid out; 15 bungalows built, many more going up.

Those not able to come by train may take Lowell car at Sullivan Sq., to Arlington, get off at Turnpike road, car at via Woburn, get off at Lexington road and walk a few minutes to lake. Free rides refunded. See map above. Open on land at all times. Free excursion every day from office.

BILLERICA LAND CO. 834 Old South Bldg. Tel. 6331-1 Main

If You Want a Summer Home on the Seashore, or for all the year round, go to

North Weymouth Bluffs

Thirty Minutes from the Boston Business District

MONEY ADVANCED FOR BUILDING

HOW TO GET THERE—Go to Quincy, only fifteen minutes from the South Station, and take our special Fore River Shipbuilding Co. car marked "North Weymouth Bluffs." Free car carries Bridge and Saunders streets. Send us your name and address and we will send our automobile to take you to see the property free of charge.

LOTS $10 DOWN $5 A MONTH

Every lot has water front privileges—one of the finest lake properties in the State. Desirable neighbors, near stores, schools, etc. Free use of tricycles, boats, fishing lines.

GERALD J. SAVAGE, Sole Agent BOSTON

Pinedale Park

BILLERICA

TENTS GIVEN AWAY FREE

TODAY AND TOMORROW, JULY 2 & 3 WITH EACH PURCHASE OF 4 LOTS

BUNGALOW LOTS $20 TO $40

EASY TERMS

FREE! FREE! INTEREST ON

Free Tents! Free Lunch! Free Fares!

SPECIAL TRAINS from North Station at 9 A. M. and 1 P. M. See our agents at Rail Station. Follow the Band. Or take car marked "Pinedale Park" on front at 9:30 A. M. on the hour.

Pinedale Park Land Co. 1030-1031 Old South Bldg. Boston PHONE FORT HILL 2003

PETERS & CO.

BOSTON OFFICE

FREE RIDES

CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE

EAST CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE

WINTHROP

OWNER, who must sell, has placed for sale 2 cottages, 6 and 7 rooms; lot 60x100; only $2,700.

FOR SALE—Cottage, 6 rooms, modern conveniences; lot 50x100; only $2,700.

FOR SALE—Cottage, 6 rooms, modern conveniences; lot 50x100; only $2,700.

WINTHROP HIGHLANDS—Choice LOT, corner, 50x100; only $350.

WINTHROP—Cottage, 6 rooms, all modern conveniences; lot 50x100; only $2,700.

Winthrop

Male Help Wanted.

SALESMEN
Experienced in following lines, viz.:
WASH GOODS, FURNITURE.
WOMEN'S SHOES,
CARPETS, LINOLEUMS
KITCHEN GOODS.
Apply 7:20 A. M., Nov[illegible] entrance, to Supt.
R. H. WHITE CO.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY
Mechanical draftsmen, 1 detail man. Permanent position at highest salary. Splendid opportunity.
RAPID MOTOR VEHICLE CO.
Pontiac, Mich.

THE ROBERT APPLETON COMPANY wants two good men to work from leads on the new Encyclopedia. W. J. CORBETT, JR., R. 712, 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

WE want a man of experience, capable of taking charge of stamping and pressing ladies' satin and velvet hats. Liberal arrangements. [illegible] treated with confidence. A 548, Boston.

FIRST CLASS, all-around inside woman at lasts, RED-PROOF, well known families with strictly high grade work; steady year's work to the right party. Apply at once, 126 Ferdinand st., Roxbury, Mass.

FACTORY OFFICE MANAGER CAPABLE of setting machine and repairing machines, one having experience in [illegible] state experience, age and salary wanted. Address A 570, Boston American.

Power Fur Machine Operators WANTED, FULLER & SULLIVAN, 16 [illegible] st.

FIVE MEN WANTED
To work in basement part of store. Apply to Mr. Abrams.
AT RAYMOND'S Mill Entrance, [illegible] foremen, operators, mechanics, weigh[illegible] and others for washes, dyeing and finishing plants. CHAS. RAYMOND, 1 Washington st., Boston.
WANTED—STRONG YUNKMITE WANTED at once. THE LAKE FURNACE CO., Marine Engine Dept., BODY BUILDER, experienced on [illegible] Apply C. F. NICHOLS CO., 27 Chandler st., Boston.
BRIGHT BOYS & GIRLS wanted to work [illegible] 220 Dorchester st.
BOWLING ALLEY MEN WANTED for personal [illegible] to connect [illegible] Apply to Manager, 1 Boylston pl., Boston.
CUTTERS wanted on [illegible] Call 9 to 10 a.m., Sunday, at 1 Ashburton pl., Boston.
CUTTER wanted on [illegible] Apply to ALEXANDER & SAYLES, 62 to 70 Essex st., Boston.
MAN wanted on [illegible] Apply to [illegible] st., Roxbury.
PIPE CUTTER WANTED—An experienced man to [illegible] Apply A 52, 3 American.
RUBBER CUTTERS—Men and women to learn rubber cutting; [illegible] to start; [illegible] to [illegible] Apply to CLINTON MFG. CO., 65 Broad st., Jamaica Plain.
THE NAVY is a great organization requiring [illegible] of 900 men. It has vessels of [illegible] are built each year; it requires more men; means excellent opportunities for [illegible] comfortable all round [illegible] of the [illegible] Navy [illegible] engineers, carpenters and men for [illegible] corps are needed; [illegible] to [illegible] and called an apprentice seaman. The [illegible] healthy, and clothes [illegible] and [illegible] assigned. The food is wholesome and [illegible] Medical attendance and [illegible] Liberal [illegible] for [illegible] Recruiting [illegible] Harrison rest [illegible] and [illegible] will be sent [illegible] of [illegible] Apply at [illegible] recruiting [illegible] Washington st., Boston. Investigate the advantages of [illegible] training in the Navy is a [illegible] experience and [illegible] you are [illegible] Apply at once at the U. S. RECRUITING STATION, 70 Washington st., Boston. Mass. Or [illegible] Navy Recruiting [illegible] Washington st., Boston.
WANTED—Able bodied men for the U. S. Navy between the ages of 21 and 35 years; [illegible] citizens born or have [illegible] papers. Must [illegible] [illegible] Additional recruits [illegible] [illegible] Apply at the U. S. Recruiting Station, 70 Washington st., Boston, Mass. [illegible] of the Navy is one of the best [illegible] and [illegible] is a [illegible] of the world. Apply at [illegible] Recruiting Station, 70 Washington st., Boston.
WANTED—Furniture all round machinist, all [illegible] [illegible] last; [illegible] [illegible] good men. Apply the STANLEY WORKS, [illegible] Co., 600 Hewett st., Roxbury.
WANTED—A strong young man to work in a cutter of duck clothing, overalls, etc. one with some experience preferred. Address WHITE SEWING MACHINE AGENCY, 445 Main st., Malden.
WIRE AND GRILLE workers wanted. Apply to NATIONAL MANUFACTURING CO., Worcester, Mass.

Employment Agencies.

AT GRAHAM HOTEL and [illegible] AGENCY, 166 Boylston st. Work every [illegible] Hotels, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Male Help Wanted.

SALESMEN
Experienced in following lines, viz.:
WASH GOODS, FURNITURE, WOMEN'S SHOES, CARPETS, LINOLEUMS KITCHEN GOODS.
Apply 7:30 A. M., Norfolk place entrance, to Supt.
R. H. WHITE CO.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY—Mechanical draftsmen, 1 detail man. Permanent position at highest salary. Splendid opportunity.
RAPID MOTOR VEHICLE CO.
Pontiac, Mich.

THE ROBERT APPLETON COMPANY wants two young men to work from heads on the Cabot Encyclopedia. W. J. CORBETT, JR., R. 712, 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

WE want a man of experience, capable of taking charge of stamping and pressing ladies' satin and velvet hats. Liberal arrangements can be made. Address treated with confidence. Address Americus, box 1, Boston.

FIRST-Class, all-around insider wanted; must be familiar with electric block system; steady employment for competent man; state wages expected, etc. Address Electric, box 1, Boston.

FACTORY OFFICE MANAGER CAPABLE of entering into the details of shipping, and understanding that experience in Boston, state experience. Address Manager, box 1, Boston American.

Power Fur Machine Operators WANTED. FULLER & SULLIVAN, 18 to 30 Ferry st., Somerville.

WANTED—Experienced man to work on wagons. Apply to Foreman, 1 to 3 Amesbury st.

AT RAYMONDE Mfg. Co., Somerville, experienced operators, mechanics, pressers, machinists and others for making, finishing and finishing parts. CHAS. RAYMONDE, 1 Washington st., Somerville.

LOOK AROUND THE WHITE WAY—Apply WHITE MFG. CO., Watertown.

BODY BUILDER, experienced on trucks. Apply to NICHOLS & LAWRENCE, Cambridge.

BRIGHT CANVASSERS wanted to sell a specialty to 10c. 2-20 Devonshire st.

BLOOMING ALGEBRA—Tutor by the hour for personal retail trade, to connect immediately; young graduate preferred; references required. Write to M 858, Boston American.

CANVASSERS wanted, experienced preferred. Call 9 Dix st., Room 10.

DRIVER—Boy, with reference, wanted to run small route on wagon; must live in Jamaica Plain. Apply 3 Bickford st., Roxbury.

MAN wanted on Compton calendar in rubber shop. Apply to COMPTON BROS. CO., 60 Brookline st., Jamaica Plain.

PIECE-WORKERS WANTED—Experienced to run pipe cutting machines. Apply to Americus.

RUBBER COATS—Men and women to learn trade; pay while learning; from $10 to $20 a week; no experience required; steady employment. Apply to Jamaica Plain.

THIS NAVY is a great organization employing a staff of 7,500 men. Its force renews at greater rate than is built and it offers to young men of ambition constant opportunities for advancement, and to those who prove good men, permanent employment. Its hospitals, firemen, carpenters, engineers, machinists, electricians, pharmacists, engineers, and other corps are needed. Men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are ambitious to become efficient, healthy, and different forms of skilled labor employed. The food is good, the pay is liberal, and the opportunity to save money is exceptional. Applicants must be physically perfect, between 5 feet 4 inches and 5 feet 11 inches in height, between 120 and 190 pounds in weight, and must have a fair education. Take advantage of the opportunity to enter the service at the beginning of a career for life. Apply at the Navy Recruiting Station, 10 Custom House, Boston, Mass., or at the Navy Recruiting Station, 1 Thirteenth st., Washington, D. C.

TAILOR—Coat tailor wanted on pants; steady work for good man. Apply to 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

WANTED—First-class all-around machinists, also screw machine hands and helpers; steady work for good men. Apply the STANLEY WORKS, 1 Union st., New Britain, Conn.

WANTED—A strong young man to work with us on a cutter of brick grinding, etc., also one with experience on brick machinery. Address, stating wages expected and experience, T 524, Boston American.

WANTED—Experienced position in small box factory; can run circular saw, dado and does own repairing; must be sober, industrious and good mechanic; don't use liquor or tobacco in any form; steady position to right man. Address, stating wages expected, Box 1, Boston American.

WANTED—Experienced man to work in restaurant; lay or night. Apply 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

WANTED—Reliable man to work in grocery store; must be sober and reliable; wages $15 per week. Address Box 1, Boston American.

WANTED—Young man to learn the printing business; $12 first year. Apply to 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

WANTED—Young men and women to learn the barber trade; tuition $25; position guaranteed; catalogue free. MOLER BARBER COLLEGE, 11 Hanover st., Boston.

WANTED—Young men for railroad firemen; transportation furnished; $75 first month; experience unnecessary; pay increased rapidly; write at once. Address Railroad, box 1, Boston American.

WANTED—Young men to learn the electric business; $12 first year. Apply to 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

WANTED—Young men and women to learn telegraphy; $50 to $100 per month salary assured when competent; write for free catalogue. MORSE TELEGRAPH SCHOOL, 125 Washington st., Boston.

YOUNG MEN for railroad firemen; transportation furnished; $75 first month; experience unnecessary; pay increased rapidly; write at once. Address Railroad, box 1, Boston American.

YOUNG MEN wanted to learn the electric business; $12 first year. Apply to 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

YOUNG MEN and women to learn telegraphy; $50 to $100 per month salary assured when competent; write for free catalogue. MORSE TELEGRAPH SCHOOL, 125 Washington st., Boston.

Male Miscellaneous.

Learn to Drive Automobiles and Taxicabs
BIG DEMAND FOR EXPERTS

this is the largest and oldest school of its kind in the world. Write for catalogue.

PROVIDENCE AUTO SCHOOL
20 MARKET SQ., PROVIDENCE, R. I.

BOYS
of baseball, Indian, scouting or bugle fifes write your name and address plainly and we will send you free our illustrated booklet telling you how to get one.

LEARN TO BE A CHAUFFEUR

MEN WANTED AT ONCE
TO LEARN to drive and repair automobiles; no experience necessary; we have calls for graduates; tuition $25; position guaranteed; catalogue free. MOLER BARBER COLLEGE, 11 Hanover st., Boston.

MECHANICS! MACHINISTS
WANTED to learn a Diamond and save time by attending the Boston School of Tel., 18 Hopkinton st. Telegraphy taught day or evening. Positions secured when trained. Write for catalogue.

Male Situations Wanted.

A JUNIOR client of DAY, V. E. Vermont st., wishes position as office boy or errand boy; can furnish best of references.

BOOKKEEPING—Private instruction, $40 a month; evening classes, $5 a month. Call or write for circular. BOSTON BUSINESS INSTITUTE, 334 Washington st., Boston.

A GIRL or lady of 20 to take care of children. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

A YOUNG GIRL or lady of 20 to take care of children. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

WANTED—Work by the day, by a reliable woman, to do housework. Address 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

WANTED—Position by a reliable woman to do housework. Address 1 Bickford st., Roxbury.

GENERAL WORK—American woman, age 30, wants position in small family; good home more object than wages; references. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

GENERAL WORK—Wanted, by middle-aged woman, position as housekeeper in family or apartments; references. Address with particulars, A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

GENERAL WORK—By man of 28 wants position in family; willing worker; wages no object. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

HOUSEKEEPER—Position wanted, would like to go with lady or gentleman; good home more object than wages; can furnish best of references. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

LADY SALESWOMAN desires position in ladies' or gents' furnishing goods store; best of references. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

PLUMBER—Plumbing foreman, with license, wants steady work or jobbing; any distance. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

POSITION is desired by by middle-aged woman as housekeeper in family. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

Female Help Wanted.

WANTED—Two sewers on girl, Protestant, for family of two in Brookline; must be neat and capable; wages $5 per week. Call 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 1 Cottage st., Chelsea.

WANTED—Young woman to assist in housework and care of baby; wages $5 per week. Call 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 1 Cottage st., Chelsea.

BOOKKEEPER—Young lady, good penman, quick at figures, wanted by wholesale house; state salary expected. Address A 1, Box 1, Boston American.

E. P. BARNARD & CO.

GIRLS WANTED—Experienced hand folders. Apply to BENJAMIN F. DINGLEY, 210 Devonshire st

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MASSACHUSETTS BUSINESS CHANCE CO. 209 WASHINGTON ST., ROOM 20.

Boston Real Estate Co. 6 BEACON ST. TRUCKING BUSINESS.

MASS REAL ESTATE BUSINESS CHANCE CO. 209 WASHINGTON St. Room 18.

AUTO TIRES HIGHER. LAST CALL AT OLD PRICES
Diamond, Fisk, Imperial, Firestone
1916 BLEMISHED CASINGS

2ND TIRES Will Advance 20%

A BARGAIN. $250 Cash Buys White Steamer COST ME $2,500 SOLD FOR NO FAULT

PATENTS
SEND FOR MY FREE BOOK, "HOW TO GET THEM."

JOSHUA R. H. POTTS
Attorney and Counselor at Law

PATENTS $55

A RARE OPENING

USED CARS AT LOW PRICES

AUTO TIRES OLD PRICE
Supplies at Jobbers' Prices

Frayer-Miller and Randolph TRUCKS
D. P. NICHOLS CO.
18-20 AMES STREET, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

We Have In Stock a Few Second-Hand Touring Cars
in good condition. Also new Limousine & Landaulet Bodies
Ready for immediate delivery.
D. P. NICHOLS,
18-20 Ames St., Cambridge, Mass.

Packard Touring Cars & Taxicabs
TO RENT AT LOWEST RATES
1910 Cars at $6.00 per hour.
TEL. 400 TREMONT
Office at Cadillac Am.
COMMONWEALTH AND TAXICAB CO.
41 Stanhope Street.

Reliance Light Delivery Truck
THE TRUCK THAT IS A TRUCK
Solid or Pneumatic Tires.
CHASSIS, $950.00
RELIANCE MOTOR TRUCK CO.
OF NEW ENGLAND
944-960 MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE.

TRUCKS and DELIVERY CARS

FOR SALE CHEAP.

AUTOMOBILES FOR HIRE

GENERATORS.

TIMERS.

SPEEDOMETERS.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

Picture Theatre Managers SAVE MONEY

EMPIRE EXCHANGE.

PICTURE MEN,

CAPITAL NEEDED.

CHARLES T. SENAY, REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE, 6 BEACON STREET, ROOM 808.

GEO. A. PROCTOR, Over Puritan Trust Bank, 86 Court St., Scopa Block.

Great Bargains in Lodging House

MORTGAGEE SALE.

V. J. MULHERIN, 818 COLUMBUS AV., Boston, Mass.

New England Auto Co., 509 TREMONT ST.

New England Auto Co., 509 TREMONT ST., BOSTON. TEL. 1338-2 TREMONT.

1909 VELIE 30 ROADSTER

1910 VELIE 40 ROADSTER

1909 VELIE 30 BABY TONNEAU

4-CYLINDER 40 H. P. MARMON

Packard Touring Cars & Taxicabs
TO RENT AT LOWEST RATES
TEL. 400 TREMONT
COMMONWEALTH AND TAXICAB CO.

Pluck Entitles You to Another Try

By Herbert Kaufman

—Copyright, 1916, by Herbert Kaufman.

Of course it isn't easy to climb to the top. Think of the odds against you. Consider the army arrayed on the other side—the uncounted mass of struggling, eager, earnest, restless, watchful, self-sacrificing humans—just as anxious as you for a better lot—just as ready to pay for it in hard, steady, laborious effort—a vast horde straining at the leash of environment—confident of fitness, fired by determination, spurred to the limits of strength and of brain by the call of Success.

Your proportionate share of goods and chattels is something like $\frac{1}{90{,}000{,}000}$ of the negotiable assets of the continent. In the face of this relentless equation, unless you demonstrate by action and merit that you deserve a greater fraction, you can't and won't secure it.

Pining and whining won't help. Opportunity despises men who complain to her. The sorehead and the pessimist bore her—she bestows her gifts upon the strong and bold who ask no odds nor favors.

You must be prepared for setback and disappointment—maintain optimism in the very teeth of disaster—cleave to principle without discouragement or retreat—and be content to wear more than one mark of suffering before you reach your mark.

Temporary failure played its part in almost every great career. The victor in a worthwhile fight always bears a wound.

Now and then a man stumbles into prominence or affluence, but he doesn't last if he lacks the ability to maintain his place and his pace.

The rare exception does not weaken the rule of "quid pro quo." Fortune seldom changes her terms—her standard price is fixed in years and tears.

The human struggle is a handicap race. Society has little sentiment—the world is readier with the brick than with the bouquet. We do not cheer half so quickly as we hoot.

We refuse to acknowledge a leader until he has exhibited by deed and daring his fitness to rule.

You may be brilliant, but intellect alone is futile. Enduring works are the outgrowth of doggedness as well as plan.

Permanency is not the fruit of impulse. It springs from thrift and foresight and patience.

What you build in haste soon falls to waste. The pyramids were not erected in a hurry, nor by quitters.

Cato continued his cry for the destruction of Carthage for twenty years before Rome heeded his slogan.

Great results require time. Patience is half the secret of accomplishment. Once you start, you cannot waver. When you begin to doubt yourself, you'll soon justify the doubt. You must believe in your own prowess until you earn the faith of others. You must survive by your own means.

If you are weak—if you falter—if you surrender, you'll go down under the heels of millions of other self-seekers—you must be brave enough to meet the whole universe in competition.

But no miss can count against you if you refuse to be counted out. If you keep your manhood whole and your honor clean and your backbone straight, no matter how often you lose, pluck will always carry you another try to-morrow.

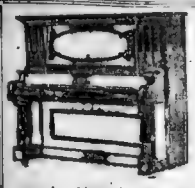
Pianos and Musical Instruments. Pianos and Musical Instruments. Pianos and Musical Instruments.



WHY YOU SHOULD BUY YOUR PIANO NOW

It is now the dull season—but we must have [illegible] sequently the sacrifice knife must cut the prices deep—the dollars are sliced off the price shamefully. S[illegible] lest pianos made will be sold this week at prices that be quoted again. If you are thinking of buying a pia[illegible] some day this week. The sooner you get in the best piano you will get. An examination of the pianos coming to the sacrifice floor this week shows that they are the finest instruments made in the United States—the price to be paid for some would not cover the expense of the hand-carving of the cases. Take our word and come early.

NOTICE

No matter what make you are thinking of the Roxbury Storage S[illegible] price on the same instr[illegible]

$5 DOWN, $1 A WEEK

FREE Delivery Anywhere in Unmarked Wagons

Three years are allowed to test the pianos. If not satisfied, same amount allowed on any of our 300 new pianos in stock.

Bargains in the World's Best Pianos on Credit

Mason & Hamlin Upt...$107	Ivers & Pond Upt.....$110	Schumann & Sons Upt[illegible]
H. P. Miller Upt..... $74	Knabe Upt..... $79	Merrill Upt.....
Huntington Upt..... $69	McPhail Upt..... $87	Jacob Doll Upt.....e
Kranich & Bach Upt.... $37	Emerson Upt..... $60	Hallet & Davis Upt $1[illegible]
Everett Upt..... $98	Chickering Upt..... $51	Steinert Upt.
Webber Upt..... $87	Chickering Upt., mah... $79	Vose Upt..... $[illegible]
Steinway Upt.....$117	Haynes Upt.....$175

ROXBURY STORAGE SALESROOMS

2111 Washington St., Roxbury Boston, Mass., cor. Williams St.

[illegible] A. M. and P. M.

[illegible] P. M.

A Rare Opportunity to Procure an Elegant Piano at the Lowest Price Ever Offered in Boston for

HIGH GRADE PIANOS

EITHER USED OR SHOPWORN

A FEW BARGAINS

Interior Player, piano mahogany case, latest production, used in demonstrating, about one-half the regular price.

Elegant, Chickering Grand, $250; a splendid value for concert, stage or home.

Mason & Hamlin Upright, as good as new, used only a few months, about one-half the regular price.

Henry F. Miller, Colonial Style Upright, has been carefully used, no better bargain ever offered; $135.

Mahogany Upright, mahogany case, elegantly carved. Piano is in perfect condition; $115.

Small Fischer Upright, a little gem for a den or summer home, $75.

Other upright pianos, from $40 upwards, taken in exchange for the celebrated Stieff Piano.

Squares and organs from $10 upwards.

Every piano is fully guaranteed by one of the most reputable houses in the piano industry.

Trial in your home of any instrument without charge or obligation. When you are thoroughly satisfied, you may buy on satisfactory terms. Write for full list of bargains or description of any of the above pianos, or Tel. 158 Oxford.

STIEFF 122 BOYLSTON STREET
E. C. CARR, Manager

AT THE

HENRY F. MILLER

Piano Warerooms

395 Boylston Street

[illegible]

$10 Down and $5 Per Month

Henry F. Miller & Sons Piano Co.

Clothing.

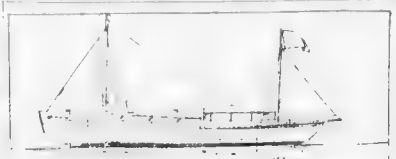
MARKS & CHESTER,
89 and 91 Dudley St.

[illegible] BE MISLED BY ANY OTHER [illegible] but Look for Marks & Chester. [illegible] YEARS OF HONEST DEALINGS. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

NEW CITY BUREAU FOR "KICKS" SOOTHES MANY VISITORS

Of Course ... but ...

YACHTS and POWER BOATS



POULTRY MEN ... HOLIDAY TO MEET IN ... SHAW...

GREAT ... TO SHOW ... ASK

REV. A. H. GARDNER

LOOTER DARK CREEKS WITHIN A MONTH

"T...

I...

Ready for B...

Demand for E... The Amer...

...LOWED AWAY.

...of Bread ... Letter Home.

...The Post ... following in...

...SMOKE FAR AT SEA.

Cards Seker in America Against His Will.

NEW YORK, July 2—When the steamer ... arrived here from Liverpool and Queenstown she brought a passenger with her from the last named port who had made the trip much against his will.

NEW SCHEME TO DEFRAUD.

Revere M... and Ac... ...ceed ...

LOCKE KILLS HUGE SHARK.

Sea Monster Thirty Feet Long ... Ram Vessel.

Queries from Everywhere.

Co... ...ter...

...German Fire.

BEGIN SERIES OF OPEN AIR SERVICES

Beginning this afternoon the churches of ... report ... carry on open air services at the end of Magazine street, near Nantasket Beach. The schedule and speakers follow:

July 3 Rev. William M. Macnair of the ... street church.
July 10, Rev. J. C. Simpson, D. D., of ... Presbyterian Church.
July 17 Rev. L. W. Staples, Ph. D., of ...
July ... Rev. H. H. Wallace of the ...
July ... Rev. H. B. Boyer of the First ...
August ... Rev. ... Richeson of the Immanuel ...
August 21 H. T. Waller of the Y. M. ...
August 28, Professor Cox ...
September ... Rev. R. F. Fewelling, Ph. ... on preaching ... the Forest street ... The school ...
September ... Rev. R. F. Fewelling, D. D.
September 17, Rev. Ralph F. Fewelling, Ph. D.
September 24, Rev. Davis W. Clark, D. D., ...
October ... Rev. H. F. Durgin, D. D., Rockport.
During the month of August the services ... Proctor street Congregational ...
August 7, Rev. Charles F. Baylis, D. D. ...
August 14, Rev. Charles F. Baylis, D. D.
August 21, Rev. Albert M. Hyde, D. D., Dr. ...
August 28, Rev. John E. Le Bosquet, ... Falls.

BALLOON SAFEST ... CRAFT, SAYS ...

"The safest way of ... is in a balloon. ... The dirigible ... safe and the aeroplane ... for all but the most ... "For those reasons ... a while longer before ... to operate aircraft ... New York ... Mr. ... is promoting ... company with ... general ... aeroplane ... not ... aeroplane ... is ... ...

CLAN-NA-GAEL PICNIC.

Big Attendance Looked for at Tomorrow's Event.

Fifty thousand persons are expected at ... coast ... grounds in ... row at the ... National field day and athletic carnival. Gaelic sports will predominate. Supervisory, Carlow, Mayo and Kilkenny will ... contests for football honors and for the ... matches all the crack teams of ... Dunn, ... entered. Dancing in the ... and on all day with prizes for the best ... and ... dancers. ... the ... attractions. A number of the ... of the Irish-American ... of ... will ... for the events and fireworks ... Weight throwing, jumping, lifting ... and the tug-of-war will be among the other ...

NO NOISE AT LOWELL.

"Safe and Sane" Fourth Rules to Be Enforced.

LOWELL, July 2 ... lowell expects to have a "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July ... and ... city itself ... not make much noise on the endorse... ... 2 ... ...

VETERAN OF 98 GIVES LEMON'S CREDIT FOR HIS LONG YE

Col. Goldsmith of Lynn G. A. R. Man in C Tells Longevity S

LYNN, July 5 [illegible] Gathered [illegible] ...ers, says he owes [illegible] to lemons. [illegible] ...These he says he [illegible] ...years ago. He [illegible] ...to bed early, [illegible] ...man, together with [illegible] ...never used liquor [illegible] ...his formulae for [illegible] ...tury milestone with [illegible] ...fair.

He is Lynn's most remarkable [illegible] ...woman and also the oldest living [illegible] ...within the city limits during [illegible] ...of 1813. He takes a walk daily [illegible] ...though compelled to exercise [illegible] ...on his cane, he believes he will [illegible] ...100th year and start on his [illegible] ...century.

Telling the men of to-day [illegible] ...needs of living and [illegible] ...petite for late suppers [illegible] ...such life would [illegible] ...a man will be out [illegible] ...women body, fat [illegible] ...by getting in their [illegible] ...busy social affairs [illegible] ...light of the night [illegible] ...retire before their [illegible]

"Get Up Early in Morning."

"Men should smoke less. They [illegible] ...to bed at least 10 o'clock [illegible] ...stirring, and get up [illegible] ...ing ready for their day's [illegible] ...daily duties. [illegible] ...People should also [illegible] ...stick to old [illegible] ...used to take.

"I attribute my present [illegible] ...entirely to the free [illegible] ...I finally believe that [illegible] ...acid of the [illegible] ...to the stone. A [illegible] ...should have been [illegible] ...ago.

"I began eating [illegible] ...for a little [illegible] ...them ever since [illegible] ...during [illegible] ...spoon [illegible] ...ing hardly [illegible] ...stirring in [illegible] ...dances girls [illegible] ...and work out [illegible] ...some quite get rid [illegible] ...can produce [illegible] ...into bodies.

Colonel Goldsmith was born in [illegible] ...May 26, 1813. He was [illegible] ...by General [illegible] ...brother of the [illegible] ...on his staff and [illegible] ...district. He [illegible] ...Lynn.

He served in the Town [illegible] ...chusetts Legislature [illegible] ...that act of [illegible] ...and [illegible] ...button. He [illegible] ...been a Democrat [illegible] ...it thinks and [illegible] ...party which [illegible] ...he considers [illegible] ...Lincoln.

He has been a member [illegible] ...Masonic fraternity [illegible] ...He has been [illegible] ...a familiar figure [illegible] ...on the streets during [illegible] ...riding around [illegible] ...giving the Congressional [illegible] ...some of these.

HOT WEATHER GOSSIP FROM THE CITY HALL

[illegible] somebody had predicted six months ago that [illegible] ...ago that Mayor Fitzgerald and George A. [illegible] ...Ernst would ever [illegible] ...and discuss [illegible] ...hot wea[illegible] ...for the best interests of the city, [illegible] ...would have been deemed a fit subject [illegible] ...a lunacy commission. And yet [illegible] ...as a matter of fact [illegible] ...the development of [illegible] ...

[illegible] ...

THERE was an important conference of a number of Dorchester politicians on Friday and the result of the discussion is the announcement that ex-Senator John A. [illegible] ...be a candidate for Congress [illegible] ...the latter is going in the [illegible] ...matter be wise or [illegible] ...Hall leaders [illegible] ...and administration [illegible] ...Hall [illegible] ...

H. Janitors [illegible] ...trying to get [illegible] ...who hanker [illegible] ...week they expect [illegible]

SUPERINTENDENT [illegible] ...announcement that [illegible] ...work in the Street [illegible] ...now rather than [illegible] ...system [illegible] ...

WHEN the city [illegible] ...Superintendent of Streets [illegible] ...list of those who successfully passed the examinations for the various [illegible] ...tions in the street [illegible] ...big shake-up of the administration [illegible] ...vested to take place. The list will [illegible] ...by be read [illegible] ...times have been "pound [illegible] ...disinfectant in one of the [illegible] ...and Watering division, [illegible] ...not for the orders from [illegible] ...a man. For that reason [illegible] ...Only Mr. Wise [illegible] ...We want a [illegible] ...and we will get it anyway! That's [illegible] ...outlook [illegible] ...

[illegible] ...

HUB HAS YOUNGEST GIRL PRESIDENT OF LABOR UNION

She Is Mary Glennon, Who Heads the Drumroom Workers in Carpet Mill.

BOSTON has the distinction of having the youngest girl-president of any trade union in the country. She is sixteen-year-old Mary V. Glennon, residing at No. 88 Bradlee street, Roxbury, head of Drum-room Workers Union Auxiliary No. 1. While the organization she presides over is termed an auxiliary, the union counters its own business without any outside assistance.

Two years ago other more noted leaders among the 8,000 women trade unionists of this city—Mrs. Sara A. Conboy of the Boxmakers, Miss Annie Barry of the Shoepacks Workers, Miss Lenia McFeeters of the laundry workers, with the Misses Agnes T. Brown and Sadie Levy of the cigar strippers, being classed among the most widely known women in the trade union world. But despite their additional experience and national reputations, the rank and file of the women trade unionists of the city say, "those of them has anything on little Mary" when it comes right down to business, either as a parliamentarian or a downright hustler."

Has Fifty Members.

The union presided over by Miss Mary has fifty dues paying members. It is a mixed local boys as well as girls being included in the list. They are assigned to four sections at the Roxbury carpet mill, and average making $10 to $15 a week. Mary is one of the most skilful and expert girls in the mill. She has been a member of the most ambitious committees of the union, being chairman of the committee which secured the present agreement with the mill.

It is not a very hard thing to be president of a union like Mary's, as when the boys stop cutting "the meat" at noon time they are pretty well through for the day. Mary is one of the few girls who can boast of a high school education. She graduated from the Dearborn Grammar school in the class of '13. Her father, Thomas Glennon, is employed in the same mill as well as they would a stranger. Neither he nor Mary will work all the week. They are nightly at union meetings and the social affairs. The girls' motto is, they are all right, too.

Her Views on Strikes.

"We don't want to strike if we can help it. It's a good deal easier to settle things when there is no trouble on. Unless we call a strike unless they are going to. We'd much rather settle our grievances with a boss while at work. All we want is what we deserve. I suppose we will have to call a strike, we will get it anyway! That's only the way it is.

"We want a square deal, and we will get it outside of a strike if we can. When we cannot get it we will strike. Either thing helps us. I have been a member of the union for [illegible] years, and have never had to strike. I have been [illegible] ...ham Grammar school [illegible] ...she has been employed as a [illegible] ...of the Roxbury Carpet Mill. [illegible] ...as president of the union was unanimous

MISS MARY V. GLENNON

PLAYGROUND SPORT TO BEGIN TUESDAY

The ninth season of the Summer playground work in Cambridge, under the auspices of the Ladies' Playground Committee, will commence Tuesday, July 8, and continue for eight weeks. Four playgrounds are to be maintained with swimming floats and national apparatus, and sections of the parks are to be specially fitted for the younger children.

[illegible] ...located at Rindge Field, [illegible] ...Field, [illegible] ...Field, [illegible] ...and in addition [illegible] ...at Rindge Field [illegible] ...The [illegible] ...

[illegible] ...

[illegible] ...

[

LET ★ THE ★ EAGLE ★ SCREAM!

Copyright, 1910, by the Sunday American-Journal-Examiner

ONE hundred and thirty-four years ago, on the day that American independence was born, there was sent to the British King a document which concluded:

"We, therefore, representatives of the United States of America, in general Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the States of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce and to do all the acts and things which independent States may of right do.

"And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

To that declaration there were fifty-eight signers, and the pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor was no empty phrase.

Hope and determination inspired every one of those representatives; but there was no man there who did not understand that by placing his name on the document he swung his life on a very slender thread.

Benjamin Franklin, one of the greatest of that company of great men, said grimly: "We must all hang together or we shall all hang separately," and the truth of his epigram was fully appreciated by his brethren.

The heroism, the devotion of the men who wrote their names beneath the Declaration of Independence, together with the struggles and the sacrifices of their fellow countrymen, made a handful of helpless colonies the greatest nation that the world has ever seen.

We to-day have a right to be proud of our country, of the men who fought and died to make it great, of the long line of patriotic citizens who have kept it great.

It is a right and a duty to celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration. And if every citizen of the country that came into being on the Fourth of July, 1776, tries to-day to remember what he owes to the men of the past, and resolves to do in peace a very small part of what they did both in peace and in war, Mr. Roosevelt's fears that we shall one day crumble into ruins will seem very flimsily founded.

The pledge of the Declaration was not easily carried out. Even after the long, bitter warfare that secured the blessing of liberty there were trials and troubles and vexations. To cope with them required the highest statesmanship, the noblest patience. The formative period, when the colonies, freed from the British yoke, but quarrelling and bickering among themselves, learned to unite in a stable government, and established a Constitution which served to bind them together forever, was a period of doubt and uncertainty.

And even after eighty-seven years the future was by no means secured, the outlook for the forward progress of a united nation by no means bright.

Standing on the Gettysburg battlefield, where had been fought the critical engagement of the Civil War, Lincoln said:

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

"But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract.

"The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

How Abraham Lincoln dedicated himself to the task remaining before him is history. "Government of the people, by the people and for the people" did not perish from the earth.

The pledge of the signers of the Declaration of Independence had been renewed. The country, once more blessed by peace, became stronger and greater, till sectionalism was obliterated, and the whole citizenship was united in its patriotism.

It is a great, a wonderful country, blessed with resources without a parallel, peopled with brave, earnest men and women, proud of their country and its glorious history, and eager to do their share in "advancing the work" left unfinished, even after the last gun of the civil war had been fired.

But liberty is a prize that must be defended. And even on this day, when we glory in the achievements of our forefathers, it is well that we should remember that only by devotion like unto theirs can the greatness and the peace of the nation be maintained.

Free we are from the tyranny of kings, but not yet free from the tyranny of Greed.

In our hands we have the ballot, a weapon more effective than the musket until we learn to use it effectively it will avail but little against the forces that seek to undermine the liberty that has been so dearly bought for us.

In the Continental Congress of 1776 was not one man who did not put the welfare of the nation above his own, who was not willing to die if necessary that those who came after might enjoy the blessings of peace and liberty.

In our Congress to-day are men who would sell their souls for a certificate of deposit, who would betray their countrymen for the favor of multi-millionaires.

Resting easily on the past, we often forget that we have a duty to the future.

No man who is now living may be called upon to lay down his life for his country. But if he need not die for his country he can at least live for it, dedicating his life to its service, and pledging himself to struggle as valiantly against its enemies as he has the strength to struggle.

They are not kings or foreign powers, the enemies that to-day most threaten the future.

In the cities you will find them, in the centres of business and trade, conspiring against free representative government, free press, turning elections into auctions, meddling with the honesty of the courts—and all to pile up a heap of dishonest dollars in the private vaults of a few dishonest corporations.

So far they exist merely by sufferance; but unless their power is checked in time they will have a hold on the nation that nothing save a terrible struggle can loosen.

You who will hear the Declaration of Independence read on the Fourth of July, who will experience an annual thrill of patriotism and gratitude for the liberty that has been bequeathed to you—it is your part to fight against these slimy, sordid, sinister despoilers.

If Washington and Jefferson and Franklin and the rest of the fearless founders of the nation could offer to die to make this country free, you can at least offer to work to keep it clean.

In your hands they have placed the instrument—your vote. You at least can use it.

No longer is there excuse for any American to say that he knows not of the existence of the enemy.

Not a day passes but revelations are made of the sinister purpose to corrupt the courts and the legislatures, to make thieves of the people's big and little representatives, to take the power of law making and law enforcing out of the hands of the people, where it belongs, and place it in the hands of those whose trade it is to rob the people.

The Archbold letters, the Sugar Trust disclosures, the petty grafting in the legislatures of New York and other States, the rascality of public service corporations in a dozen cities are all matters of common public knowledge.

Fitting it would be were a nation founded so nobly fought for so gloriously and preserved so valiantly were to fall into the hands of a little company of grand larcenists, not because of the weakness, but because of the indifference, of the people!

In the name of Lincoln, on this day of re[illegible] pride it is "rather for us [illegible] to be dedicated to the great [illegible] before us—that we highly [illegible] that the dead shall not have died [illegible] that this nation, under God, [illegible] birth of freedom, and that [illegible] people, by the people and [illegible] not perish from the earth."

Try These New Recipes for Cool, Dainty Summer Desserts

WITH the hot weather with us in good ear and put between and on top boiled fifteen minutes in milk earnest and the family demanding cool desserts and dainty ices instead of pastries, and when the loose mother must have an endless variety of things to tempt the jaded appetites of the members of her family there is a crying demand for dainty cake recipes.

A splendid little cook book called "Cake and Candy," by Miss Nellie E. Ewart, is just off the press. In it are all sorts of recipes for light cakes and dainty cookies to serve with Summer desserts and a sorts of delectable confections. The book is by the same author as "Daily Living."

Following are selected some of the best recipes for tempting dainties:

Eat These Angel Drops.

Angel Drops—Beat the whites of five eggs stiff and dry; add one-half cup flour; sift four times with one-half teaspoon cream of tartar and one-half cup of sugar. Then add one-half teaspoon vanilla extract. Bake in small tins in moderate oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

Butter Cake—Cream one-third cup butter, add one cup sugar gradually, and two beaten eggs. Mix and sift, and add one quarter cups flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder and add to the mixture alternately with one-half cup milk. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla and bake in moderate oven forty-five minutes.

Hermits—Cream one-third cup of butter, add one cup sugar gradually, and two beaten; add one-third cup molasses and one cup of flour; then add one cup of nuts, dates and raisins in pieces. Bake in small tins.

And Chocolate Jumbles.

Chocolate Jumbles—Cream one-half cup of butter, add one cup of sugar, two cups squares of grated chocolate, one tablespoon of milk, two eggs well beaten, two cups flour sifted with two teaspoons baking powder and enough flour to stiffen. Chill, shape with a doughnut cutter, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven.

Colonial Cake—To two cups of bread dough, ready for shaping, add one-half cup butter, two cups of sugar, two eggs, one quarter teaspoon clove, one-half teaspoon each of cinnamon, mace, nutmeg, nearly a cup of seeded raisins, one-quarter cup sliced citron. Mix and beat with the hand. Turn into a deep cake pan and when not quite doubled in bulk, bake in moderate oven.

Chocolate Cake—Cream one-half cup of butter; add one cup sugar gradually and the yolks of two small eggs well beaten. Then add whites of two eggs beaten until stiff. Add one-half cup of milk, one and one-half cups flour mixed and sifted with two and one-half teaspoons baking powder. Then add two ounces of chocolate melted and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Bake forty minutes in a shallow cake pan.

Cream Sponge Cake.

Cream Sponge Cake—Beat the yolks of four eggs until thick and lemon colored; add one cup of sugar and beat two minutes; then add juice tablespoons cold water. Put one and one half tablespoons of cornstarch in a cup and fill cup with flour; sift and sift with one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, and add to first mixture. Fold in the whites of four eggs beaten until stiff, with one teaspoon vanilla. Bake in moderate oven forty minutes.

Macaroons—Work together on a board one-half pound almond paste and three-eighths pound powdered sugar. When smooth add gradually the whites of three eggs and work until perfectly smooth. Shape on a tin covered with butter paper, and bake from fifteen to twenty minutes in a slow oven.

Marguerites—Beat two eggs slightly, add gradually one-half cup brown sugar, then add one cup brown sugar, one cup walnut meat cut in small pieces. Fill small buttered tins two-thirds full of mixture. Some nut meat on top of each and bake in moderate oven.

Marguerites—Beat two eggs slightly, add one-half cup brown sugar, then add one cup brown sugar, one cup walnut meat cut in small pieces. Fill small buttered tins two-thirds full of mixture. Some nut meat on top of each and bake in moderate oven.

Devil's Food Cake.

Devil's Food Cake—Cream one-half cup butter, add one cup sugar gradually, and the yolks of four eggs well beaten. Sift and sift one and one-half cups flour with two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, and add alternately with one-half cup milk to first mixture. Then add two squares melted chocolate, and one-half cup nut meats. Bake about forty minutes.

Cream Cakes—Put one half cup butter and one cup of water in a saucepan, when boiling hot add one cup of flour, and when well mixed remove from fire and add four unbeaten eggs, beating between each one. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered pans and bake in a moderate oven.

Devil's Food Cake—Cream one-half cup butter and add one cup of sugar gradually, and the yolks of two eggs well beaten. Add one-half cup of sour milk, one teaspoon cinnamon and clove, one-half teaspoon each of nutmeg and allspice, one cup of chopped raisins, one teaspoon soda dissolved in one tablespoon of hot water, one cup of flour sifted with one teaspoon baking powder, and the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. Bake in a sheet about fifteen minutes.

Chocolate Cake—Cream one-half cup of butter, add one cup sugar gradually and the yolks of two eggs well beaten. Then add one-half cup of milk, one and one-half cups flour sifted with two teaspoons baking powder, and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Bake in a sheet about fifteen minutes. Fill and cover with frosting.

German Crisps—Cream one cup butter, add one cup sugar, the grated rind and juice of one lemon, the yolks and whites of three eggs beaten separately, and flour to knead. Chill thoroughly, roll out in a thin sheet, brush over with beaten white of egg and decorate with nuts and candied fruit. Bake in a slow oven.

Lady Fingers—Beat the whites of two eggs stiff and dry, and one-third cup granulated sugar and beat until stiff; then add the yolks of three eggs beaten until thick; sift in one-third cup flour mixed with few grains salt, and when cut and rolled in add one-quarter teaspoon vanilla. Shape and bake.

Mocha Cake, Too.

Mocha Cakes—Beat yolks of four eggs until thick and lemon colored; add one cup of sugar and beat two minutes. Then add three tablespoons cold water. Put one and one-half tablespoons cornstarch in a cup and fill cup with flour; mix and sift cornstarch and flour with one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt and sift to first mixture. Fold in the whites of four eggs beaten until stiff, with one teaspoon vanilla. Bake in moderate oven forty minutes. Put between layers and on top of rounds made from cake.

Mocha Frosting—Wash one-third cup butter and add one cup powdered sugar gradually and beat until creamy. Then add one cup cream that has been cooled, and one cup sugar, one-half cup cocoa, one and one-half squares chocolate, melted, one and one-half teaspoons vanilla. After frosting sprinkle with shredded cocoanut.

Here's a Chocolate Dainty.

Mock Chocolate Cake—Cream one-half cup butter, add one and one-half cups sugar gradually, and the yolks of four eggs well beaten, then add three ounces of chocolate melted, and two cups flour sifted with two teaspoons baking powder and enough flour to stiffen. Chill, shape and bake in moderate oven. Put together with boiled frosting.

Marshmallow Filling—Put in a saucepan one cup sugar and one-quarter cup water and boil without stirring until it spins a thread; pour it slowly over the whites of two eggs beaten stiff and dry, and add one teaspoon vanilla. Mix and sift two cups sugar, one cup cornstarch, one-quarter teaspoon cream of tartar, one-half cup butter, add one cup milk alternately with one and three-quarter cups flour mixed and sifted with two teaspoons baking powder. Then add the yolks of four eggs beaten, stiff. Bake in a sheet about fifteen minutes.

Spiced Cookies.

Spice Cookies—Cream one cup butter, add one and one-half cups sugar, then add three eggs beaten until light, and one cup molasses mixed and sifted with one teaspoon each soda, nutmeg, cloves and cinnamon. Add one cup flour if needed. Chill, roll and shape. Bake in slow oven.

Shrewsbury Cakes—To one cup butter creamed, add one-half pint sugar gradually, then add two eggs well beaten, one and one-half pint flour and one-quarter teaspoon mace. Roll one quarter inch thick. Shape and bake in moderate oven.

Spice Cakes—To the unbeaten yolks of two eggs, add one-third cup each molasses and sugar, and one-quarter cup melted butter. Mix and sift one and one-quarter cups flour with one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cream tartar, one-half teaspoon each cinnamon, one-quarter teaspoon each clove and ginger, nutmeg, and add alternately with one-half cup milk to the first mixture. Roll one-fifth inch thick, cut in rounds and bake in moderate oven.

Nuremburgs—Beat the whites of two eggs until stiff, add slowly one pound sugar, beat well beaten. Sift three-quarters of a pound of flour with one-quarter teaspoon each cinnamon and cloves, and add to first mixture with one cup pounded citron, one cup chopped almonds and one-half lemon. Bake in pans slightly buttered and dusted with corn starch and powered sugar.

Peanut Cookies—Cream one-quarter cup of butter scant, add one half cup sugar, yolks of two eggs or one whole egg well; then add two tablespoons of molasses alternately with one cup of flour sifted with one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon ginger, two teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons cup peanut meal, one-half cup peanuts chopped fine. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a buttered tin and bake in a moderate oven.

Pecan Sticks—Beat two eggs slightly, add one cup brown sugar, one cup walnut meats broken in flakes granulated and one teaspoon vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered sheets and bake in a moderate oven.

Soft Fondant—Cream one-half cup butter, add gradually one cup sugar and one egg well beaten, then add one-half cup milk and one-half cup flour mixed with one-quarter teaspoon cream tartar and two tablespoonfuls of corn starch and sift into it two cups sugar. Put over the fire and stir constantly until it boils, then boil without stirring until a soft ball will form when tried in cold water. Remove from the fire and beat until it begins to thicken, then pour into a buttered pan and when cool mark into squares.

Fondant Frosting.

Fondant Frosting—Melt one cup sugar and one-half cup water and boil without stirring until it threads two inches from the spoon. Pour slowly on the white of one egg beaten stiff, and two teaspoons cold water and one-quarter cup confectioners' sugar. Beat thoroughly and add one-half tablespoon lemon juice. Use more sugar if needed.

Maple Frosting—Break one pound maple sugar in pieces, add one-half cup cold water and boil without stirring to the spinner degree, and pour slowly on to the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, beating until stiff.

Maple Frosting—Boil one-half cup maple sugar and one-half cup water to the spinner degree, and pour slowly on to the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, beating constantly.

Marshmallow Frosting.

Marshmallow Frosting—Boil together until it threads two inches one-quarter cup water. Pour gradually on to the beaten white of one egg until stiff; beat over hot water one-quarter pound marshmallows with one tablespoon hot water and add to the meringue, beating until of desired consistency.

Orange Filling—Take one-half cup sugar, two and one-half tablespoons flour, grated rind one-half orange, one-quarter cup orange juice, one-half tablespoon lemon juice, one egg well beaten and one teaspoon butter. Cook ten minutes over hot water.

Orange Frosting Mix one-half tablespoon corn starch, one cup sugar, one tablespoon lemon juice, grate fine one orange in a saucepan. Bring to the boiling point. Let and boil until a soft ball will form when tried in cold water. Turn onto a buttered plate and when cool enough to handle work until creamy. Let stand twenty-four hours before using.

Coffee Creams.

Coffee Creams—Melt fondant over hot water and drop from tip of spoon onto buttered paper.

Creamed Mints—Melt the fondant, color and flavor as desired, and drop from tip of spoon onto buttered paper.

Fruit and Nut Confections—Chop very fine one pound each of figs and English walnut meats and one-half pound each of dates and candied cherries. Work with the hands until well mixed, roll out into a thin sheet on a board, well dredged with fine confectioners' sugar. Shape with a small cutter then roll in sugar.

Fondant Put four cups sugar, one cup water, and one half teaspoon cream of tartar in a saucepan. Bring to the boiling point. Let and boil until a soft ball will form when tried in cold water. Turn onto a buttered platter and when cool enough to handle work until creamy. Let stand twenty hours before using.

Walnut Candy—Put in a saucepan two cups each brown sugar and white sugar, two tablespoons melted butter, two-thirds cup milk and two squares chocolate. Stir until the chocolate is melted; then boil without stirring until a soft ball will form when tried in cold water. Add one quarter pound marshmallows cut, and stir until nearly melted. Turn into buttered pan and when cool mark into squares.

Marshmallow Glaze—Stir one half cup sugar over the fire until it melts. Then dip into it one by one marshmallow. Cover them with melted sugar and set on buttered paper to cool. Reheat the sugar as it becomes cold.

Walnut Candy—Put in a saucepan two cups brown sugar, one-half cup water, one-half tablespoon butter, one cup milk and two tablespoons each vinegar and water. Boil fifteen minutes, or until a firm ball will form when tried in cold water. Add one cup nut meats broken in pieces. Beat until stiff, turn into buttered pan, and when cool, mark into squares.

CARAMEL FILLING — Take three-quarters of a cupful of cream, one-half cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, six tablespoonfuls of extra sugar, one tablespoonful of vanilla, and a pinch of soda. Add just as much soda to the cream as can be taken up between the thumb and forefinger. Put into the stew pan with the sugar and butter; stir only until the sugar is dissolved. Then boil until it spins and put it into a spider, let it boil, stirring to make a caramel; then add four tablespoonfuls of this to the finished syrup. Beat until cool and spread between cakes or on top. Maple or brown sugar may be used instead of white sugar.

Test a Marshmallow Feast.

MARSHMALLOW PUDDING — Take three dozen marshmallows, one tablespoonful of granulated gelatine, one cup of sweet cream, one tablespoonful of sugar, one tablespoonful of vanilla, two eggs and one tablespoonful of brandy. Take the thirty five marshmallows and cut each in three pieces, mix with these enough powdered sugar to prevent them from sticking together; one tablespoonful of granulated gelatine dissolved in boiling water; take one cup of sweet cream, one tablespoonful of sugar, and one tablespoonful of vanilla; whip until stiff; add the yolks of two eggs beaten light and mix together with beaten whites of two eggs; add

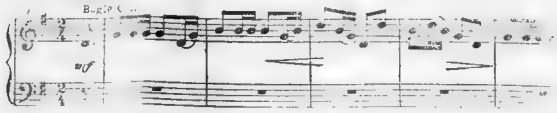
Johnnie Was A Drummer Boy.

Words by FELIX F. FEIST
Writer of "L-O-V-E spells Trouble to me," "If you won't be good to me," "I could learn to love you, if you'd only let me try," etc.

March-Song.

Music by HARRY BENNETT
Composer of "In Woodla[nd]," "Fill up y[our]," "K[isses]"

Moderato



Tempo di Marcia

John-nie was a sol - dier, a drum-mer - boy was he;
John-nie loved his sweet-heart, but coun-try's call came first,

Copyright MCMIX by LEO FEIST, "Feist Building," New York.
International Copyright secured and reserved.

Publisher of "That Italian Rag," The Season's Biggest Hit.

beat the drum in bat - tle, far a - cross the sea; He tho' a - round him oft - times can - non shells would burst; He told his lit - tle sweet-heart that he'd re - turn per - haps, When had no fear, not John - nie, he knew 'twas do or die, And for the fray, he march'd a - way, and loud ly beat - ing taps.

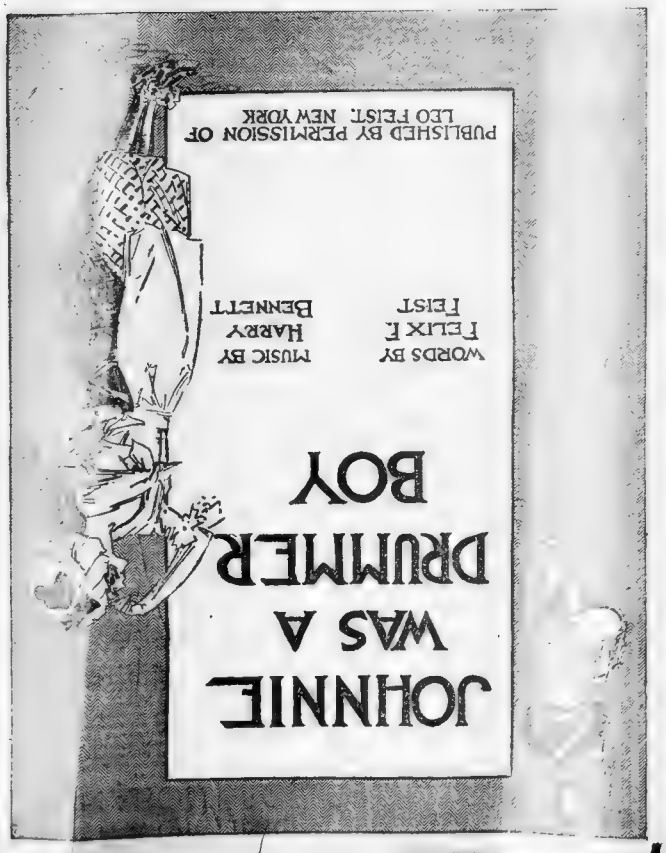
on the field, to naught he'd yield, death too, he would de - fy.

Drums

CHORUS

As his



ALL NEWS OF UNION LABOR ABOUT BOSTON

To avoid a general strike in the commercial shops in Greater Boston, although the employers have issued a [illegible] ing for the "open shop" [illegible] Union will [illegible] when its new agreement [illegible] go into effect [illegible] a settlement [illegible] There was no way they would [illegible] by the Boilermakers' Union [illegible] era Union.

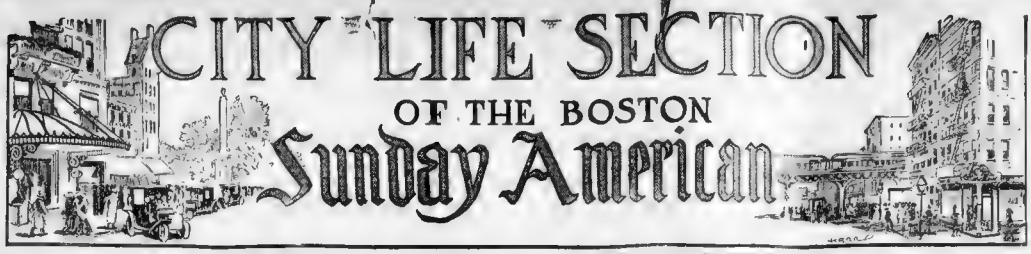
Application for [illegible] the thousands of [illegible] said to have struck [illegible] cable to the American [illegible] Representatives [illegible] of the Federation [illegible] era Union.

Odd age pensions [illegible] final report [illegible] given [illegible] Board of [illegible] masers. Jerry [illegible] sion home for [illegible]

Although in other [illegible] months ago [illegible] out the whole [illegible] Helpers Union [illegible]

Thirteen new locals have [illegible] by the International [illegible] Union [illegible] on by the [illegible] the general [illegible] of this office [illegible] Boston [illegible] Lynn [illegible] Lawrence [illegible]

In addition to serving as [illegible] the largest [illegible] Labor Day [illegible] elected [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

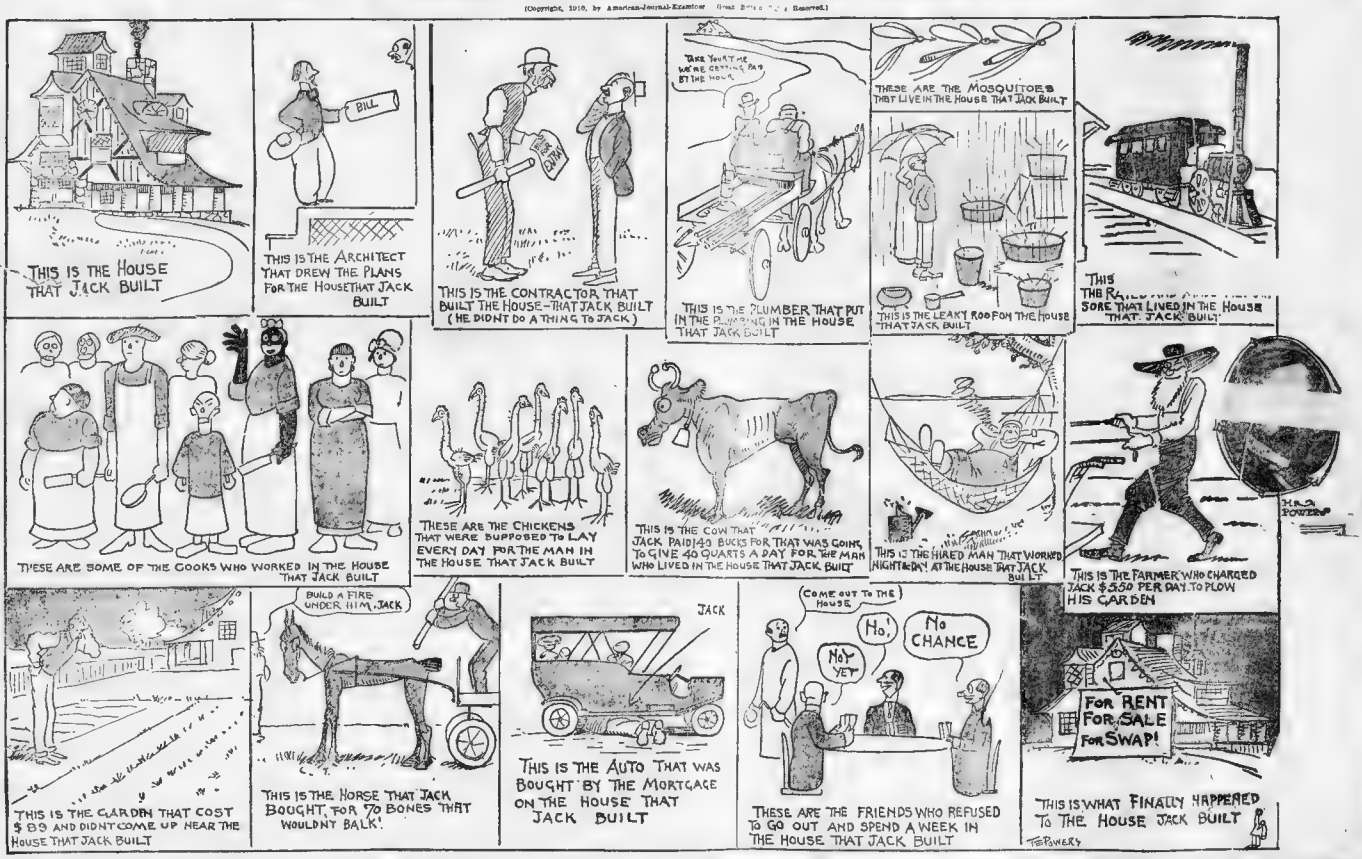


See the Society Section for Latest News and Personals of Boston and The Beach Resorts

The House That Jack Built

By T. E. POWERS, the Famous Cartoonist of the Evening American

(Copyright, 1915, by American-Journal-Examiner Great Britain. All Rights Reserved.)



THIS IS THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
BILL
THIS IS THE ARCHITECT THAT DREW THE PLANS FOR THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THIS IS THE CONTRACTOR THAT BUILT THE HOUSE—THAT JACK BUILT (HE DIDN'T DO A THING TO JACK)
"TAKE YOU AT ME WAGE GETTING PAID BY THE HOUR"
THIS IS THE PLUMBER THAT PUT IN THE PLUMBING IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THESE ARE THE MOSQUITOES THAT LIVE IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THIS IS THE LEAKY ROOF ON THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THIS IS THE RAILROAD THAT RAN SORE THAT LIVED IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THESE ARE SOME OF THE COOKS WHO WORKED IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THESE ARE THE CHICKENS THAT WERE SUPPOSED TO LAY EVERY DAY FOR THE MAN IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THIS IS THE COW THAT JACK PAID 40 BUCKS FOR THAT WAS GOING TO GIVE 40 QUARTS A DAY FOR THE MAN WHO LIVED IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THIS IS THE HIRED MAN THAT WORKED NIGHT AND DAY AT THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
THIS IS THE FARMER WHO CHARGED JACK $550 PER DAY TO PLOW HIS GARDEN
THIS IS THE GARDEN THAT COST $80 AND DIDN'T COME UP NEAR THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
BUILD A FIRE UNDER HIM, JACK
THIS IS THE HORSE THAT JACK BOUGHT FOR 70 BONES THAT WOULDN'T BALK!
JACK
THIS IS THE AUTO THAT WAS BOUGHT BY THE MORTGAGE ON THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT
COME OUT TO THE HOUSE
HO!
NO CHANCE
NOT YET
THESE ARE THE FRIENDS WHO REFUSED TO GO OUT AND SPEND A WEEK IN THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT FOR RENT FOR SALE FOR SWAP!
THIS IS WHAT FINALLY HAPPENED TO THE HOUSE JACK BUILT
T.E. POWERS

BEST STORIES TOLD LAST WEEK IN BOSTON

Had Her Doubts

By John E. Daniels, Singer and Dramatist.

YOU know that the real old Scottish people on the other side of the water imagine that they are God's own chosen people. The English, the Irish, the Germans, or any other may be second, but they are first, they believe, in God's favor.

A clergyman in one of the mill-side settlements devoted a sermon one Sunday morning about all men standing on an equal footing with God. He was a young minister, fresh from the city, and he didn't understand the peculiar ideas of his congregation. His sermon created profound surprise among his parishioners.

Some of them held an excited debate outside the church after the meeting was over. "He dinna ken what he talks about," said one old man.

"Hush yer tongue," admonished his wife. "Since it cam fra the pulpit, it maun be so, but," she thus consoled herself, "mind ye, I'm tellin' ye, the Almichty'll live tae see the day he'll rue it."

Send for Quincy

By a Friend of Josiah.

YOU understand that Josiah Quincy is a good friend of mine and that I wouldn't have him know for the world that I'm telling this story. You know also that Josiah is popularly known as "the human icicle." Six years ago, when we were out to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis, another good friend of Jo's and myself tried hard to induce him to leave the sweltering convention hall and adjourn to the ante-room where the punch bowl was the centre of attraction. "Come on out and have a drink," we suggested. "No, thank you," said Josiah. "Aw, come on; it's too hot in here." "No, thank you." That was all the answer we could get out of the ex-Mayor.

The two of us went outside and left Josiah in the hall. Around the punch bowl we found nearly all of the Massachusetts delegation. They were complaining about the lack of ice to cool the punch. The steward couldn't get ice anywhere. The complaints against the warmth of the beverage halted while we told of fruitless efforts to get Quincy to join us.

When we had finished, one of the Massachusetts men sang out: "So he wouldn't join you? The old human icicle! Well, if he won't have a drink, ask him if he won't be good enough to come out and walk around the bowl and cool this stuff off."

Yes and No!

By the Roxbury, Correspondent.

THERE is humor and humor, but when all is said and done there is no humor that is more spontaneously and laughably comic than an Irish bull. We have all heard of the Irish member of Parliament who in the course of a speech exclaimed: "The chariot of revolution rolls on, gnashing its teeth as it rolls," and there are many others equally as historic and equally good.

I was the fortunate hearer of a good one last Winter, just as the days were at their shortest. Reaching home earlier than usual, I was greeted by the autocrat of my kitchen with: "Good evening, sor; it be getting late early."

I gasped for a moment and then responded meekly with no sign of a smile: "It certainly is."

His Geography

By Albert Tanyane, well-known newspaper man and commercial agent.

THE other day when I was returning by rail from a business trip to the western part of the State a bright-appearing young fellow dropped into the seat beside me and opened the conversation something like this, after confiding to me that he was a traveling salesman from Philadelphia and was "making" this "territory" for the first time:

"Can I make headquarters in Boston and take daily side trips to do business in the nearby cities?"

I told him that he could if his business in each was of brief duration, and he didn't choose them at too distant points.

"Could I make it to Providence?"

"Yes," I replied.

"Could I go to Rhode Island?"

"That depends," I answered.

"Well," he asked again, evidently being in search of definite information, "how big a city is Rhode Island and how far is it from Boston?"

Thousands Strong, But---

By Senator "Jim" Donovan, former President Democratic City Committee.

THIS happened. Hon. Patrick A. [illegible] the late ex-Mayor, used to tell [illegible] General, as they used to call [illegible] a trip to Ireland when he was [illegible] for the United States at Lon[illegible]nt into a Dublin barber shop [illegible] for a shave. "That's General [illegible] America," the head barber [illegible] the fellow lathering Collins's [illegible]

[illegible] immediately got chummy with [illegible] didn't know that Collins got his [illegible]ral" from being Consul-General. [illegible] that he had been a warrior.

"[illegible] a General?" he inquired. Colonel [illegible] have some fun, and nodded [illegible] was. "My, that must be fine," [illegible]er. "And do you know what? [illegible]e here at just the right time. We [illegible] just like you, one who has seen [illegible] the battle field."

"[illegible]?" said Collins. "Tell us about [illegible]

Well," said the barber, "we're eighty [illegible] the sand strong and we're ready to rise up [illegible] a minute's notice and drive the British [illegible] from the island. And we're armed, every [illegible] gun of us."

Collins's eyes twinkled. "Eighty thousand [illegible] why don't you rise up now and [illegible] off?"

Thunderstruck the barber, "[illegible] the one might hear us. We'd be rising up this very minute, only the constabulary won't let us."

She Sang It

By an Unknown Press Agent.

A BOSTON singer was rehearsing, and a Boston impresario, who hoped to make her fortune and his own by his astute management of her work on the stage, was seated in lonely state in one of the orchestra chairs listening to her. He seemed to be pleased, but all of a sudden, an idea occurred to him.

"Sing 'Home, Sweet Home,' will you, please. I have a fancy for it, and I know how divinely you can sing it."

"Oh, no, I can't now," was the reply, "I'm not in the mood."

"Please," came back from the impresario.

"No, indeed, it's impossible. I can't sing it, positively."

"Ah! I know you can't sing it positively. But you can sing it superlatively."

Satisfaction

By Zeno Scudder Smith of Field's Corner.

WHEN a boy in my home town, down on the Cape, there lived near me an old fellow named Josh Simmons, who was of a very quiet disposition, and would not be ruffled at whatever was done by the boys, who tried hard at times to get him vexed. One day I was sitting in the old town store, when Josh was being considerably plagued by all hands, and some of the remarks made to him certainly were a fair test with a saint.

I walked home with him out of curiosity, to see if the old man had any blood at all. I asked him how he could put up with all the [illegible] he did without losing his temper, [illegible] so. It is like this," he said. "I [illegible] as a hornet at times, and the [illegible] or no one hears me grumble is [illegible] I see them the very devil in me, [illegible] toward my conscience and at the [illegible] pick no quarrel."

Not a Bigot

By Rev. Robert Walker, chaplain at the East Cambridge Jail.

A FRIEND of mine who had heard several complaints about a man in his [illegible], reference to hard drinking called [illegible] one day.

"[illegible]," said the clergyman, "they tell [illegible] I have been a drinking hard lately."

"No [illegible] that's not so; in fact, I'm a tee[illegible]," replied the man.

"Well, well," said the clergyman. "I'm [illegible] I hear you say so. I have evidently [illegible] informed."

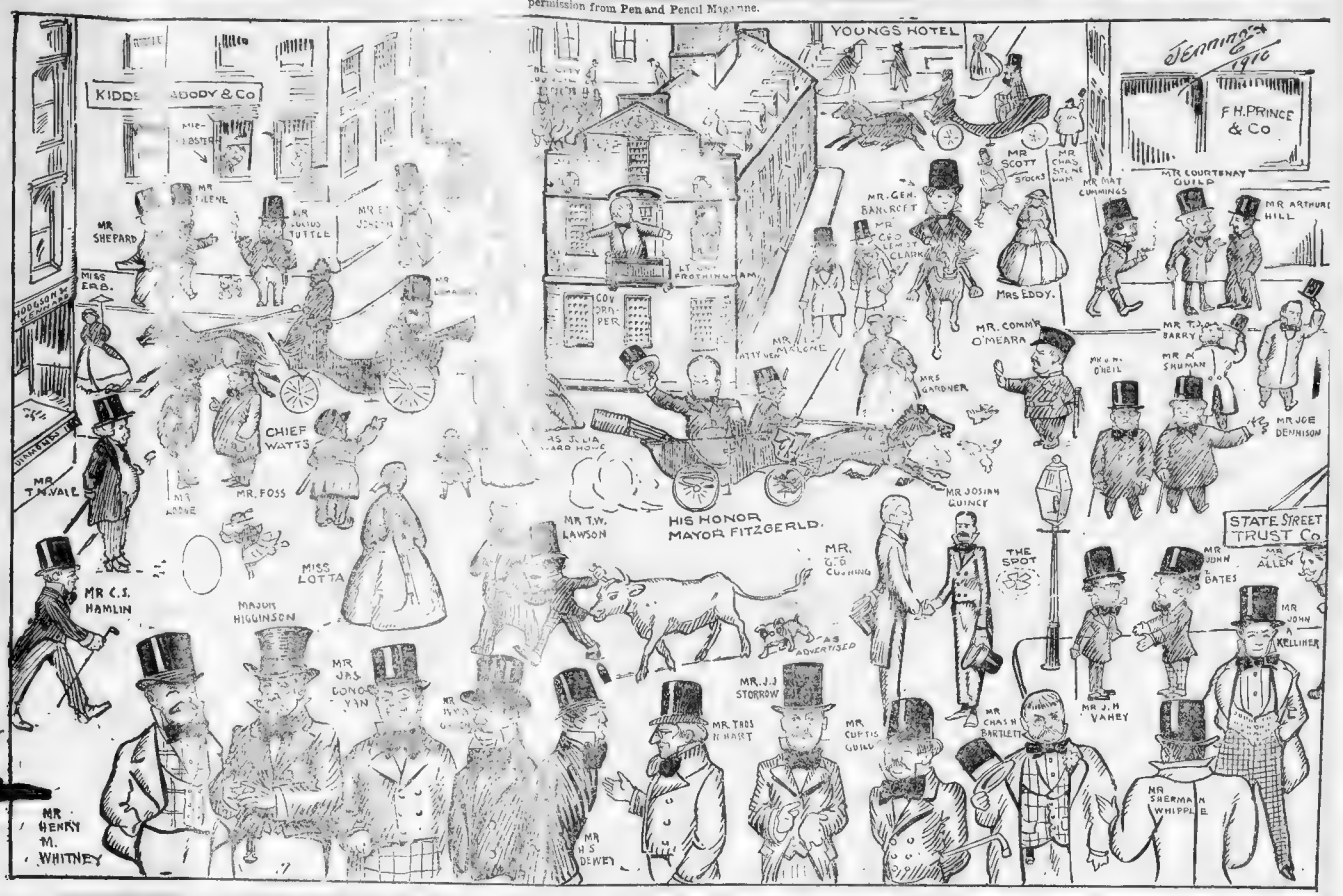
Several days later the clergyman called [illegible] Patrick at the latter's home. He found [illegible] sitting at a table, a bottle of whis[illegible] him and a glass full of whiskey in his hand.

Patrick, I'm surprised," said the clergyman. "I thought you told me that you were a temperate."

"I am," replied Patrick, "but I'm no bigoted one."

MODERN BOSTON IN STATE STREET 50 YEARS AGO

Reproduced by permission from Pen and Pencil Magazine.



THE NEWEST JOKES TOLD BY THE COMEDIANS

TWO Irishmen were talking on the street corner the other day and one of them asked the other if he thought that the changeable weather had anything to do with the comet.

"No," replied the other, "I think it is only a coincidence."

"A what?" asked the first Irishman.

"A coincidence," repeated his friend. "Don't you know what a coincidence is?"

"Sure. It's twins."

* * *

THIS same Irishman was entering a saloon one morning when a Salvation Army lass tapped him on the shoulder and said:

"Sir, don't you know that the dwril is with you?"

"Well," answered the Irishman, with an air of unconcern, "if he is he'll pay for his drink."

* * *

AND it was this same Irishman, too, who got tired of working for small pay and decided to become a highwayman. Meeting a man on the street late one night he stopped him with:

"Your money or your life," leveling a revolver at his nose.

The man could see that Pat was new to the game, and he answered:

"I'll tell you what I'll do; I'll give you all my money for that pistol."

The Irishman agreed, received the money and handed over the pistol.

"Now," said the man, pointing the pistol at the Irishman's head, "hand back my money or I'll shoot you full of holes."

"You'll do nothing of the sort," answered the Irishman, "there's not a bullet in it," and off he went.

* * *

A BLIND man standing in front of Grace Church was asking assistance. A benevolent lady came up and asked:

"Are you blind?"

"Yes, lady," answered the beggar, "I'm a blind man; please give me ten cents."

"I believe," said the lady, as she looked more closely at him, "that you can see out of one eye."

"Then give me a nickel."

* * *

NOT far from there I came across a man with a sign hung about his neck, which read, "I am deaf and dumb." I gave him a nickel, and he said:

"Thank you, sir."

"I thought you were deaf and dumb," I said to him, in surprise.

"Oh," he said, "I'm only minding the place until the other fellow comes back."

"Well, where is the other fellow?" I asked him.

"He's in the beer garden around the corner, listening to the music."

* * *

I WAS standing on the street one day and saw an Irish lady trying to ring the doorbell of a house on [illegible] first out of his [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] steps [illegible] you."

"All right, mister, you ring it," said the boy.

The minister gave the button a push, and then the little lad said with a grin:

"Now run like blazes, mister," and took to his heels up the street.

* * *

JEFFRIES has sold a whiskey firm the right to name a rum brand after him. No doubt it will be good liquor to blaze strong punches with.

* * *

EVER since I've been in Boston I've had to pick my watch, and watch my pocket all the time.

* * *

BOSTON is a great town, though. Got some pretty high buildings here. No getting over them.

OH, publishing has over five hundred stories. It's a big publishing house. It would be great to climb it to the top, and I reckon the climate is great at the top, too.

* * *

I WENT to one of the new hotels to put up for the night. It was the worst place I ever saw. The rooms were even smaller than the landlord. I couldn't get into my room alone—had to get the bell boy to squeeze me in. There was a peep-hole for a window.

The room wasn't big enough to put a bed in, so they had one painted on the wall, and you had to get a permit to [illegible] for a light, either, so they had one painted on the wall. I couldn't get to sleep until I had rubbed it out.

* * *

IT was while staying at this hotel that I found a lot of fly specks on the menu card, and I said to the waiter:

"Here, there's a lot of fly specks on this card."

"Well," he replied, "if you don't like 'em you don't have to order 'em."

* * *

THEN I went out and saw a place where a sign read, "Turkish Baths." I'd never had one of those things, so I thought I'd get one. A fellow laid me on a slab and started rubbin' and scrapin', and when I asked him what he was doing that for, he said he was scourin' the country for money.

BY

"YANKEE" BOWMAN

THE "RUBE" COMEDIAN.

(Copyright, 1916, by American Journal-Examiner, Great Britain Rights Reserved.)

"YANKEE" BOWMAN.

I TOLD a hotel waiter I guessed I'd have a couple of chops and he brought me a hatchet and a chunk of wood. I told him that was funny; then he started to laugh and I had to split.

* * *

I MET a friend of mine on the street one morning, but at first scarcely recognized him because of a black eye which he was nursing with a handkerchief. It certainly was a hard-looking eye.

"Where in the world did you get that eye?" I asked him.

"My wife hit me," he answered.

"Well, that is the first time that I have ever heard a woman hitting what she aimed at," I remarked.

"Well," he explained, "she wasn't aiming at me. She was aiming at the cat and I was standing behind her."

* * *

I ONCE knew a deaf mute, and he used to sleep with his hands under the pillow—so he wouldn't talk in his sleep.

PRETTY nearly every store I went into had signs on the doors: "Push," and "Pull." That's what does the business here, all right.

* * *

I WAS standing on a corner waiting for a car. Pretty soon one came along. A tipsy man got in first, and a fussy old lady came next, and she says:

"Conductor, do you allow drunkards to ride on this car?"

"Sutt'nly," says he, "get right in."

* * *

I MANAGED to squeeze in with the rest, and that car was certainly loaded. It was fuller than the tipsy man. I saw the number it would hold on the outside—963—but I wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen 'em in there myself.

* * *

I WAS standing on the depot platform and heard an engine whistle, and I says:

"There she comes."

"You're wrong," said a feller standing near by, "here it comes."

"Yer both wrong," spoke up another chap, "here he comes."

I says to the ticket man:

"Here, now, which is right?"

"The last one," he answered, "this is a mail train."

* * *

I ASKED the ticket man when the first train left for Philadelphia, and he said it was a good many years ago; he couldn't just recollect the year.

* * *

I WAS walking along by the side of a brook near my place in the country one Sunday afternoon and found a boy fishing. I said to him:

"My boy, I'm surprised to find you fishing here."

"Do you know any place where they bite better?" he said.

* * *

I WENT to a church sociable one Friday evening and lost my umbrella there. I didn't say anything, but the following Sunday I went to the morning service, and while it was going on I got up and told of having lost it, and announced that if it wasn't returned immediately I would get up in church the next Sunday morning and speak out the name of the party that took it.

The following morning my back yard was full of umbrellas.

* * *

I WAS at one of them summer parks one afternoon and saw a sign at the side of a little pond which read:

"Ride in the swan boats. A trip clear around the pond—five cents for ladies and gentlemen. Children thrown in."

I hung around all afternoon, but there wasn't a single child thrown in.

* * *

WHEN Lent came some one told me I ought to give up something. So I gave up work and took an ocean trip. Then I proceeded to give up everything else, including secrets. When the boat would go up, I'd go up and my stomach would go up, and when the boat would go down, I would go down, but my stomach would stay up.

* * *

NEXT time I go across I'm going to take a novel called "To Have and To Hold," and read it after every meal.

* * *

NEXT I went into a store and told the clerk I'd like to get some stockings for my wife.

"What color?" says he.

"What be the latest colors?" I asked him.

Well, he just shouted "Hats!" and I got the greatest assortment of colors ever.

* * *

I WAS engaged to a girl once and she made me give up smoking, drinking and golf.

"Why didn't you give up something on your own account?"

"I did."

"What was it?"

"The girl."

* * *

"I'VE just run across the champion lazy man."

"How's that?"

"He said that the only job that he would really enjoy would be that of calling out stations on an ocean liner."

* * *

A PERFORMER in vaudeville was telling a man what an easy life it was and of the fabulous salaries that are paid.

"Why," he said, "I get $1,000 a week."

The man looked at him a minute and asked;

"What's the difference between you and a man who dyes lamb's wool?"

"I don't know. What is the difference?"

"Well, one is a lamb dyer, and you—well, you don't get any thousand a week."

* * *

AN Irishman went into a drug store one day and asked for some pills. When the clerk had got them he said, "Shall I put them in a box for you?"

"Well," said the Irishman, "you don't suppose I want to roll them home, do you?"

WHAT I DID of the YESTERDAY

ON MY SATURDAY AFTERNOON OFF.

(Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal-Examiner. All Rights Reserved.)

IT WAS Nantasket yesterday afternoon—good old Nantasket! And one thing that Billy and I did set me to dreaming—that I was no longer a saleslady at six per, but one of those enormously rich Commonwealth avenue girls. It was such a funny place to dream. Billy and I paid our dimes and mounted a pair of those galloping hobby horses, thinking to have a good laugh. But really the motion was so natural and thrilling that it set me to dreaming from the very start. We were rich, oh, so rich, Billy and I. And we were mounted on thoroughbred Arabians, and our saddles and bridles shining with gold filigree, and mine the very latest fashionable cross-saddle, patent leather boots to match, simply out of sight! We flew with the wind, over the hills and along the marshes by the sea. Oh, wasn't it just grand!

DRAWN BY NELL BRINKLEY

THE MEGAPHONE MAN AT THE NORTH STATION

Noise like thirty Boston & Maine engines letting off steam. Smoke, dust, cinders. Bellowing of announcers, shouting of commuters, general racket.

MEGAPHONE MAN—We are now in the North Terminal Station of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

FRESH YOUNG MAN FROM HARTFORD—Hurray!

TEN OR A DOZEN TOURISTS—Ssssshhhhwhisbuzzzz!

MEGAPHONE MAN—This is headquarters of the Boston & Maine Railroad system.

MAN FROM NEW YORK (incredulously)—Say, mister, is this the Boston & Maine?

MEGAPHONE MAN—That's what I said.

NEW YORKER—That's funny. I thought the B. and M. was a narrow gauge.

MEGAPHONE MAN—You are thinking of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn, of which my friend Mel Adams is president.

TEACHER FROM CAIRO, ILL.—What section of the country does this railroad embrace?

MEGAPHONE MAN—The B. & M. covers Northern New England. It takes pride in the fact that it keeps things exactly where they used to be. It's advertisements read "Take the railroad your grandfather patronized."

MAN FROM PORTLAND (sadly)—That's richa, and they're using the same old cars.

MEGAPHONE MAN—The B. & M. is conservative and doesn't believe in changes. Abraham Lincoln once said: "Twenty-five miles an hour is fast enough for anybody to travel," and Lucius Tuttle is a firm believer in A. Lincoln.

PRETTY GIRL FROM ALBANY—Lucius Tuttle is an awfully pretty name. Is he a nice man?

MEGAPHONE MAN—He is the president of the B. & M. and gets away with it.

ANTI-MERGERITE—Say, look here, I didn't pay a half a dollar to hear you abuse one of the finest railroads in the United States. How much are you getting from Colonel Mellen to knock this road? Hey?

MEGAPHONE MAN (hastily)—You ought to be with me when I visit the South Station. Honest, I don't show any partiality.

SCHOOL TEACHER FROM CAIRO—This is sure an awful big depot.

MEGAPHONE MAN (glad to get onto neutral ground)—Yes, marm. The Union Station is nearly twenty years old, but when it was built it was the wonder of the world.

MAN FROM ST. LOUIS—Well, it isn't now. We got a depot out in St. Louis that makes this look like a water tank. There are thirty-two tracks.

NEW YORKER—Cheese it. We don't come here to hear about St. Louis.

MEGAPHONE MAN—If the party wouldn't interrupt the lecture we would get through quicker.

SCHOOL TEACHER—What is the capacity of the North Station?

NEW YORKER (to St. Louisite)—If she didn't look like a school teacher you could tell it from the questions she asks.

MEGAPHONE MAN—The North Station has twenty-three tracks and a car capacity of 161. It handles about 70,000 passengers a day and during the year 1,500,000 pieces of baggage are handled. The terminal has an area of 732 acres and a frontage of 181 miles.

ST. LOUIS MAN—Hold on there. What yer givin' us. This is a dink beside the St. Louis electrowns mile.

MEGAPHONE MAN—By terminal I mean the yards, sheds, as well as the station.

ANNOUNCER (through megaphone)—Owing to an accident in the Tunnel trains on the Revere division will be run via Lynn. Outbound trains will leave as usual.

RESIDENTS OF ROSE, WOBURN, LYNN AND PLACES Blankety, blank, blank.

MEGAPHONE MAN—Now Haven gets control of Maine such a way from the trainshed into the big main waiting room, which is full of people. Every seat is taken as many are utilizing their grips suit cases.)

MEGAPHONE MAN—Why there's Senator Vahey. Senator, To his flock: When Jim Vahey is elected Governor the Boston & Maine will run its trains on time.

DRAPER REPUBLICAN (who has overhead)—When Vahey is elected Governor the B. & M. will be operating aeroplanes.

Smiling gentleman approaches and bows to Megaphone Man.

MEGAPHONE MAN—That's General Sam Lawrence, one of the best-known men in Boston.

GENERAL LAWRENCE (genially)—Showing some visitors the North Station, are you? Well, show them everything. We are proud of our railroad and its magnificent station.

MEGAPHONE MAN—It's all right. The General owns a lot of Boston & Maine stock.

Woman with package rushes up to window of a booth and attracts the attention of tired individual inside.

MEGAPHONE MAN—That's the Information Bureau. Let's hear what they say.

WOMAN—Say, mister, I've been waiting three-quarters of an hour for a train to Chelsea. What's the matter with this road anyway?

MAN IN LINE BEHIND HER—Same thing that's the matter with Chelsea. It's dead.

INFORMATION MAN—There's a schooner stuck in the drawbridge at the Mystic and there won't be any more trains until they get it out. Come around in about three days.

MEGAPHONE MAN—That's General Sam Lawrence, one of the best-known men in Boston.

GENERAL LAWRENCE (genially)—Showing some visitors the North Station, are you? Well, show them everything. We are proud of our railroad and its magnificent station.

MEGAPHONE MAN—It's all right. The General owns a lot of Boston & Maine stock.

Woman with package rushes up to window of a booth and attracts the attention of tired individual inside.

MEGAPHONE MAN—That's the Information Bureau. Let's hear what they say.

WOMAN—Say, mister, I've been waiting three-quarters of an hour for a train to Chelsea. What's the matter with this road anyway?

MAN IN LINE BEHIND HER—Same thing that's the matter with Chelsea. It's dead.

INFORMATION MAN—There's a schooner stuck in the drawbridge at the Mystic and there won't be any more trains until they get it out. Come around in about three days.

WOMAN—But how do I get to Chelsea?

[illegible] Walk.

Disturbed gentleman with white muscle is observed. Megaphone Man watches [illegible] has passed and then directs location to him.

MEGAPHONE MAN—That is Ferdinand Almy, executor of the will of Doctor Blake Russell.

General rubbering.

SCHOOL TEACHER FROM CAIRO—I think that Dakota Dan was the [illegible] and I am surprised that the [illegible] against him.

MAN FROM NEW YORK—Well, it [illegible] Dan for mine all the [illegible]

MAN FROM HARTFORD—I know both impostors myself.

MEGAPHONE MAN—Ladies and gentlemen, this is a tour of the North [illegible] not a debating club, and [illegible] yourselves in contempt of [illegible] the wisest decisions in [illegible]

SCHOOL TEACHER—I don't care, the Dakota man looked honest.

Flock engages in a general discussion. Megaphone Man makes gesture of despair.

STATION POLICEMAN (bustling up)—Here, you people, you're creating a disturbance. You'll have to get out of here. Starts pushing them out. Megaphone Man assists him energetically and party finds itself on the sidewalk.

MEGAPHONE MAN—All aboard the automobile. We will now continue on to the West End of Boston.

FUNNY THINGS CHILDREN SAY

TWO little girls became involved in a quarrel the other day, which culminated in physical violence. One of the mothers took her daughter to task very severely. Wishing to emphasize the enormity of the offence, she said:

"It's the devil who tells you to do such naughty things."

"He may have told me to pull her hair," came the reply, between sobs, "but I thought of kicking her in the shins all by myself."

* * *

WITH the promise of a candy reward if all went well, Jimmie was left to mind his twin baby brothers, who were asleep in their crib, while his mother went to another part of the house.

She had scarcely left the room when one of the twins awoke and playfully kicked the other one in the ribs. The latter awoke and began to scream. In a few moments they were both in an uproar. The mother rushed into the room and was met by Jimmie at the door. He tearfully wailed:

"Mamma, oh, mamma, why did you get two?"

* * *

MARY'S grandmother had just died. Shortly after the girl addressed a letter to heaven, reading like this:

"Please, God, give grandma a harp to play on instead of a trumpet, as she is short of breath."

* * *

MY small brother was troubled very much with "pink eye." One morning he woke up and couldn't open his eyes. He called loudly for mother, and when she came, he said:

"Oh, mamma, I'se just like a little new born kitten. I can't see."

FIVE-YEAR-OLD [illegible] Hearing two older ones talking turned to her and [illegible] "Well, Dotty, what to do when you get [illegible] After drawing a long sigh [illegible]

"I'm going to tell you are any kids left!"

* * *

LITTLE Jones's [illegible] that Jesus was [illegible] Her nurse was [illegible] when she had a baby. "Jesus is in the [illegible] hear him whistle."

* * *

LITTLE Dorothy [illegible] alone when a [illegible] text, she said: "Don't get scared, quilt."

The [illegible] minister [illegible] on him what her daughter said his text [illegible] she had been.

"Well," he replied, "she had the idea in other words. The text was 'Fear not, for I will send you a Comforter.'"

* * *

WHEN Whitney summered in Ulster County, New York, he usually made a tri-weekly trip to a nearby farm for fresh buttermilk. One evening pail and wearing a disappointed look, for he dearly loves buttermilk. His mother inquired into his trouble and received this doleful answer:

"They haven't churned the cow yet."

* * *

A LITTLE girl was watching some men at work in her grandfather's orchard, putting bands of tar around the fruit trees, and was told that this was done to keep the bugs from crawling up the trees. Some weeks later she saw a man with a mourning band around his left sleeve.

"Mamma," she asked, "what's keep the bugs from crawling up his other arm?"

* * *

I WAS talking to Marie, who has a new baby sister a week old. I asked her how the baby was and told me the baby was eating her dinner.

"What does she eat for dinner?" I asked.

Marie felt very embarrassed at this question and said:

"I don't know what you call it any more. It is such a long time since I had that kind of a dinner."

* * *

"DO you love your teacher?" asked Willie's uncle.

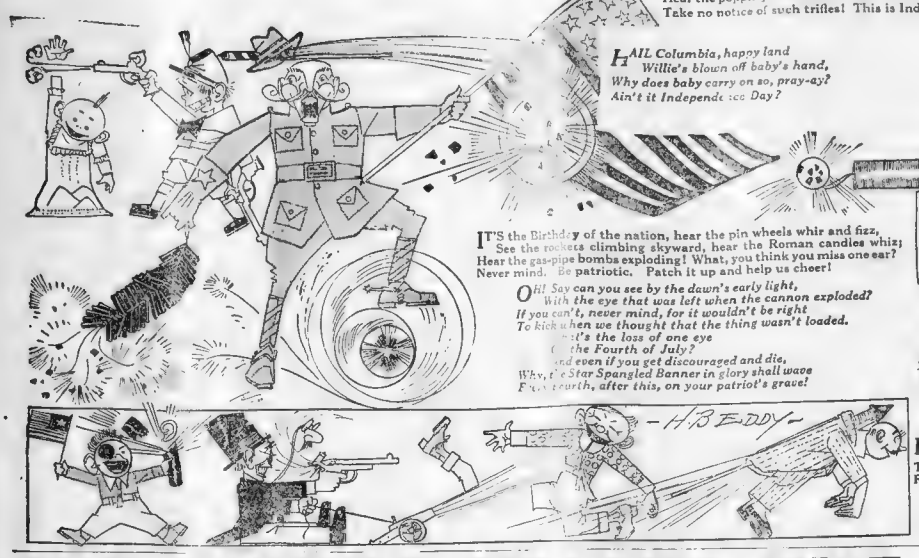
"Oh, dear, no!" replied Willie. "She's too big for me."

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH!

By James J. Montague.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Journal Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.)

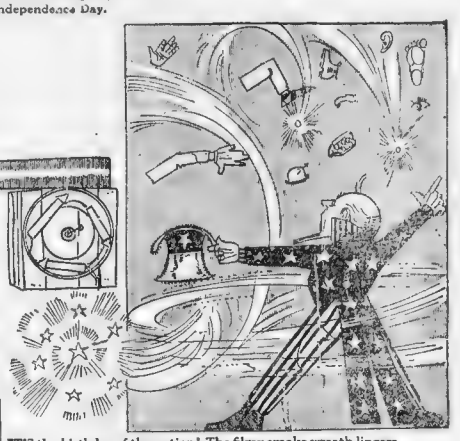
IT'S the birthday of the nation! Hear the cannon boom and roar!
How the glorious celebration rocks the land from shore to shore!
Hear the popping of the rifles! What, you're wounded, did you say?
Take no notice of such trifles! This is Independence Day.



HAIL Columbia, happy land
Willie's blown off baby's hand,
Why does baby carry on so, pray-ay?
Ain't it Independence Day?

IT'S the Birthday of the nation, hear the pin wheels whir and fizz,
See the rockets climbing skyward, hear the Roman candles whiz;
Hear the gas-pipe bombs exploding! What, you think you miss one ear?
Never mind. Be patriotic. Patch it up and help us cheer!

O! Say can you see by the dawn's early light,
With the eye that was left when the cannon exploded?
If you can't, never mind, for it wouldn't be right
To kick when we thought that the thing wasn't loaded.
It's the loss of one eye
On the Fourth of July?
And even if you get discouraged and die,
Why, the Star Spangled Banner in glory shall wave
From fourth, after this, on your patriot's grave!



IT'S the birthday of the nation! The filmy smoke wreath lingers
Above a whirling mass of arms and legs and feet and fingers,
The hospitals and morgues are full, but what the deuce care we,
For isn't this the birthday of the country of the free!

Yankee Doodle came to town
To help the boys make merry,
And now he occupies a plot
In Woodlawn Cemetery!

THE FORTUNE TELLER'S CURE FOR JEALOUSY

BY DOROTHY DIX.

(Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal-Examiner, Great Britain Rights Reserved.)

Scene: A stuffy room in a third-class apartment house. All of the windows carefully darkened, and only the light coming from a lamp with a crimson globe on it. Walls draped with cheap, imitation Oriental hangings. Plaster statue of Buddha conspicuously displayed on stand; also one of the Great God Billiken. The room pervaded by a mingled odor of incense and boiled cabbage.

Dramatis Personae: Mme. Yogli (in real life Mary Ann Delaney), the great Indian psychic and fortune teller, who reveals the past and foretells the future. Mrs. Blank, a pretty, young, married woman wrestling with her first acute attack of jealousy.

MRS BLANK (trembling with fright and awe)—Oh, I never went to a fortune teller before. I am so scared.

MME. YOGLI (reassuringly)—Ah, sure, there's nothing to be frightened of. 'Tis the spirits have kind hearts.

MRS BLANK (cheering up)—Oh, you are Irish, aren't you?

MME. YOGLI (quickly)—Niver was an Irish control that I have at times. Meself, I was born in Bessarec, me mother being a Rajput, which is well known to have the gift of the second sight, and me being born in a caul and the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter, I early showed the power and was taken by a sinard, who taught me how to ruse it well.

MRS BLANK (much impressed)—How perfectly wonderful!

MME YOGLI (in a hurry to earn her fee and be rid of a client)—Sure. Have no fear. It is all right. Hist, now, I feel the power coming.

MRS BLANK (moans)—Oh!

MME. YOGLI (seizing one of Mrs. Blank's hands, on which is a wedding ring)—You are married.

MRS BLANK (with surprise)—Wonderful!

MME. YOGLI—You have a kind father and mother——

MRS BLANK (with awe in her tone)—Wonderful!

MME. YOGLI (apparently in a trance and speaking in a dreamy voice)—And you had a good bringing up and you married and left it.

MRS. BLANK (gasping with astonishment)—Wonderful!

MME. YOGLI—You were never like other girls. Although, perhaps, to the undiscerning eye you were very much such a girl as your comrades, you were very different from them.

MRS BLANK—Wonderful!

MME. YOGLI (making passes in the air with her disengaged hand)—The power is strong. Ah! I see you, different from other girls. You were a creature of sentiment. You acquired love. You had temperament. You were a thing of quivering nerves. The dull might call it temper, but that was because they were blind. It was really because you were so finely attuned that the things of the world jarred on your spirit.

MRS. BLANK (in a transport of amazement)—Wonderful! I could not have described my disposition better myself.

MME. YOGLI—Ah! I see you are cross yours and you are jealous of a man. Wait. I get the power. I see——

MRS. BLANK (frightened as she mentioned her husband's name)—Marvelous. His very name! How could you know?

MME. YOGLI—He is your soul mate, and you recognize him at once. You love.

MRS. BLANK—Wonderful.

MME. YOGLI—I see you a bride in a long white satin gown with a veil on your head. You put your hand in your husband's, and you are sure that you will always be perfectly happy, and that your married life is going to be entirely different from other people's.

MRS BLANK (shrinking away as from something uncanny)—How could you know all this?

MME YOGLI—But I see a black cloud rising on the horizon. Trouble is coming to you. It comes. There are tears.

MRS BLANK (beginning to weep)—Oh, how true; how true!

MME. YOGLI (taking a squint through her half closed lids at Mrs. Blank, and observing that Mrs. B. is a decided blonde)—I see a dark woman coming into your life. She means trouble for you.

MME YOGLI—I feel a tossing about, as if I were a boat at sea. There are storms, thunder and lightning in your home, and always in the centre of it is the dark woman.

MRS. BLANK—Well, I just told John what I thought of their carrying on, and the way he danced with her three times at the Smiths, and walking home with her last Thursday. He needn't tell me it was an accident.

MME. YOGLI (soothingly)—Your husband is under the influence of Venus now.

MRS. BLANK (with genuine alarm)—Great Heavens! What shall I do?

MME. YOGLI (reassuringly)—Don't be alarmed; the danger may be averted. The spell of the dark woman must be broken.

MRS. BLANK (distracted)—But how? I've tried everything before I came here to consult you, and it just makes John furious for me to say a word about her, and he calls me a little fool, and says I am jealous, and——

MME. YOGLI (comfortingly)—Do not fear. Nothing is impossible to your guardian spirit. I see help coming to you.

MRS BLANK (gratefully)—Oh, madam, if you will only bring John back to me I'll be a——

MME. YOGLI (mysteriously)—If I help you, you must do exactly as I say, without question.

MRS. BLANK (fervently)—I will, I will!

MME. YOGLI (apparently falling deeper into a trance)—I see you going from this door and walking through the crowded streets of the city. I see you stopping at a florist and paying money over the counter. You order a bunch of violets to be sent to your house every morning just before 9 o'clock. They must be in time to reach you while you are at the breakfast table.

MRS. BLANK (bewildered)—Me buy violets for myself? And have them sent just at breakfast time?

MME. YOGLI—I see you walk on down the street and enter another shop. Sweets are for sale. You order a box of candy to be sent to your house every day. It comes strangely and mysteriously.

MRS. BLANK (still bewildered)—I order candy sent to myself?

MME. YOGLI (with a rapt look in her eyes and a far-away expression)—It is late afternoon—the time of your husband's return from business. I hear his key rattle in the latch of the front door. You do not run to meet him. Instead, you are stretched upon a couch in the library, apparently in slumber.

MRS. BLANK—But I never——

MME. YOGLI (not noticing the interruption)—Your husband is surprised. He approaches you. You do not stir. He bends over you and kisses you. You smile in your sleep and murmur, "Oh, Arthur!"

MRS BLANK—But my husband's name is John.

MME YOGLI—From time to time during the next few days I see you with a distrait and dreamy look on your face, especially in your husband's presence, and once or twice on a piece of paper you call him "Arthur," instead of John, by mistake.

MRS. BLANK (her eyes twinkling)—Hi-in-ni!

MME. YOGLI—I see your husband look suspiciously at the violets; also at the candy. I see him sitting at his desk, wondering who Arthur is. I see him hastening home of an evening, and when he meets the dark lady he is in such a hurry to reach home that he scarcely speaks to her.

MRS. BLANK (sotto voce)—I love my husband, but, oh, you Arthur!

MME. YOGLI (coming out of her trance and sitting up straight and apparently confused)—That is all. The control was very strong. One dollar, please.

DOROTHY DIX

THE RIGHT LITTLE GIRL FOR ME

ANOTHER POPULAR PARODY

BY WILLIAM F. KIRK.

(Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal Examiner, Great Britain Rights Reserved.)

I.

A NICE French Count who didn't amount to anything at all
Came o'er the sea from dear Paree and made a Newport call.
An heiress sweet he chanced to meet. "Do you like blondes?" she sighed,
"Could you be true to eyes of blue?" The French Count then replied:

CHORUS:

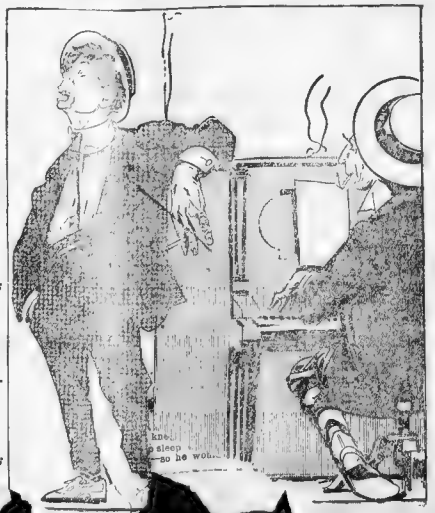
"ANY little girl with the price, little girl, is a nice little girl to me;
I always look in the Bradstreet book for her father's name, you see;
A blonde or brunette I'd love to pet if her dad rates A or B,
Any little girl with the price, little girl, is a nice little girl to me."

II.

THE heiress sweet heard him repeat that chorus o'er and o'er,
His love for gold had turned her cold, she showed the Count the door.
She spurned his hand, his title grand, and as he walked away
To ride back home across the foam, he heard the heiress say:

CHORUS:

"ANY Yankee man that's a big Yankee man is the right Yankee man for me;
I am not the girl for a Count or an Earl, to a Yankee wife I'll be.
I don't want to pay for a title gay and live home in dear Paree,
Any Yankee man that's a big Yankee man is the right Yankee——



Oh, What a City!

The Sad Lament of a Boston Pessimist

BY ELLA COSTILLO BENNETT.

(Copyright, 1910, by American-Journal Examiner, Great Britain Rights Reserved.)

IF you dress well, you are vain and extravagant; and if you do not—you are a frump.

• • •

IF you speak well of yourself or your work, you are conceited and egotistical; and if you do not—you are a nonentity.

• • •

IF you punish your children, you are cruel and vulgar; and if you do not—you are rearing public nuisances, if not bandits.

• • •

IF men admire you, you must be forward and bold; and if they do not—you are a "back number."

• • •

IF you give Christmas presents, you are seeking some favor; and if you do not—you are "stingy" or "grouchy."

• • •

IF you smile, you are flippant and frivolous and have no depth; and if you do not—you are surly and disagreeable.

• • •

IF you marry a rich man, you are a clever schemer; and if you marry a poor man, you are an imbecile, or it was your only chance!

• • •

IF you succeed, you have a "pull"; and if you do not—you have no ability.

• • •

IF you fall in love, you are soft and silly; and if you do not—you are cold, unemotional and phlegmatic.

• • •

IF you are rich, your money is tainted; and if you are not—you are.

• • •

IF you live high, you will have gout; and if you do not—you will have "impoverished blood."

Copyright, 1910, by the American-Examiner Great Britain Rights Reserved

The "White Devil"

THE TRAGIC END OF THE DUCHESS.

RECENT discoveries have excited renewed interest in that extraordinary woman, Vittoria Accoramboni, Duchess of Bracciano, commonly called "the White Devil."

Researches in the ancient palace of the Dukes of Bracciano, at Padua, have brought to light a document which shows that Vittoria was accused of causing the death of her last husband in addition to the other crimes which she is known to have committed.

Vittoria was one of the most fascinating but sinister figures of the marvellous yet crime-stained era of the Italian Renaissance. Her beauty awakened especial admiration among the swarthy Italians, because she had an exquisitely white skin and splendid golden hair. She was born in 1537 at Gubbio, in the hills of Umbria, of an impoverished noble family, and when a very young woman was taken to Rome.

She exercised irresistible charm over all who came in contact with her, and received many offers of marriage. She accepted Francesco Peretti, a member of the Roman ecclesiastical nobility, and was married to him on June 29, 1573. He was a nephew of Cardinal Montalto, afterward Pope Sixtus V.

The great Cardinal supplied the young household with an abundance of money, gifts and honors, but in spite of this the Perettis became deeply involved in debt. It was whispered at this time that the beautiful Vittoria had proved [illegible] ruthless wife.

She had six brothers, generally [illegible] bad character, who made great [illegible] demands for assistance upon her. [illegible] of them, Marcello, a singularly handsome man, but a heinous murderer, was Privy Chamberlain to the powerful Duke of Bracciano. This [illegible] ung scoundrel conceived the idea of advancing his own fortunes with the help of his sister's beauty. He brought her to the notice of the Duke, who immediately became passionately enamored of her.

In order that Vittoria might be free to marry the Duke her brother planned to murder Peretti. Vittoria and her mother both agreed to assist in this villainy. Vittoria, who had separated from her husband, sent him an affectionate letter begging him to visit her at Monte Cavallo, and he, being still in love with her, went there. As the unfortunate man, expecting to embrace his lovely wife once more, tripped eagerly up the hill, he was shot to death by three arquebuses in the hands of her brother and two accomplices, who were lying in ambush.

In less than two weeks after the murder Vittoria was secretly married to the Duke of Bracciano in his gardens at Magnanapoli. He was so fat that he could not procure a charger equal to his weight, and a special dispensation was ob-

(Continued on Next Page.)

VITTORIA ACCORAMBONI, DUCHESS OF BRACCIANO, "THE WHITE DEVIL" — PAINTING BY HON. JOHN COLLIER.

Copyright 1910 by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

REPLACING THE HUMA TUBING TO TURN OLD MEN INTO NEW

How Fresh, Healthy, Youth-Bearing Arteries Are Being Coupled Upon Withered, Diseased Ones Making An Entire Rebuilding of the Body Not Impossible.

By One Side the Wrinkles of Julia Ward Howe, the Drooping Lips and Sagging Facial Muscles Which the Worn Out Arteries and Veins Cause—and on the Other the Fresh Smooth Firm Flesh of Youth to Which Mrs. Howe's Can be Transformed by Introduction of a Young Circulating System

"In this withered old arm the new artery pulsing with fresh blood will rebuild youth."

WHAT seems to be a successful method of transplanting veins and arteries and of reuniting them in the body has been discovered by Dr. Victor D. Lespinasse, of the Northwestern University Medical College.

The blood vessels are joined at the ends by rings of magnesium in just the way firemen couple ends of hose. When the ends have joined the magnesium is absorbed into the body. There is no stitching, with its attendant danger of infection.

If this lung-bane hold be scientists that the true source of senility, or old age, lies in a hardening and other deterioration of the arteries and other blood vessels of the human body. One is as young as his arteries has grown to be an axiom. Professor Ilia Metchnikoff has advanced the theory that if the circulatory system could be kept young old age would be unknown.

Dr. Lespinasse's discovery, carried out in all its possibilities, would seem to offer humanity the gift Ponce de Leon set out to seek—the fountain of eternal youth. Mr. Rockefeller, his old and hardened arteries replaced by youthful ones bought from families whose young had died from causes not affecting the circulatory system, would bloom into a second boyhood. Under the firm pulsing of the arterial walk the blood would go to every part of the body, wiping away wrinkles and the withered touches of age. Legs, arms, and even internal organs, may be taken from a dead body and successfully grafted to living parts. Tubercular diseased arteries can be removed from infected organs and other arteries substituted. Drunkenness can be cured.

In the announcement of his discovery to a number of physicians, to prove that his discovery was not merely theoretical, but had proved successful in practical demonstrations and tests, Dr. Lespinasse brought several dogs out to [illegible] section in which limbs had been [illegible]ged, legs had been cut off and reunited to others, and others [illegible] had been cut up and put together again at the surgeon's will.

"The secret lies in the successful joining of severed arteries," explained Dr. Lespinasse. "For ages this has been a stumbling block to surgeons and vivisectionists. The old method of stitching has never proved successful in any respect and sewing has never given the end desired. After five years of experimenting I found that rings of magnesium, would serve the purpose. Success rapidly followed. The difficulty experienced in sewing was that the stitches would form clots and when these clots reached the brain paralysis or instantaneous death would follow.

"Now, look here," continued the surgeon as a dog was led into the laboratory. "That right rear leg was cut off and rearranged, the arteries sewed together and the arteries joined by rings of magnesium. And that dog is perfectly sound. He has not even a 'pear' leg.

"Here is another dog which has had the carotid artery leading to the brain cut and joined. That dog will never know the difference.

"I have not experimented extensively in grafting however, as most of my work has been devoted to replacing—that is, putting back organs and limbs on the same animals from which they have been cut. My next step will be the taking of a dog with three legs and a spare leg, his needed fourth. Then I will remove his liver or kidneys and provide him with another set. It is all possible."

"Suppose a six-legged man were another limb. Could you take one from a person who had just died and attach it?"

"I believe that would be possible, although I have not experimented with human and have joined them as the dogs and the adhesion has been perfect. I do not see why it should not be as successful with persons."

"What if a man had Bright's disease and he wished to have his kidneys removed and healthy kidneys replaced?"

"It would be a serious major operation, of course, but I have been successful in operations on abdominal arteries in animals and never see why it would not be successful. The unprofessional man does not realize that Bright's disease and cirrhosis of the liver are merely diseases of the [illegible]-lated blood vessels."

Dr. Lespinasse then swung out in [illegible] cases of tuberculous infected limbs, or even in organs, the diseased arteries could be successfully removed and permanent cures effected.

Asked to explain in detail his method of joining arteries, the surgeon said:

"You've seen couplers used by the fire department, have you not? In theory they do not differ from my magnesium couplers. Magnesium I use because it readily is absorbed after the union of the severed ends takes place.

"At first I used but a single ring. But my success was not what I demanded. Then I experimented with two rings, attaching a ring to each of the severed parts. Each ring has eight holes in it and are joined together by means of threads through each of the holes. After the primary lesion is made these silk threads are removed and the wound is sewed together over the treated artery. The arteries then grow together and the magnesium is absorbed and [illegible] normal.

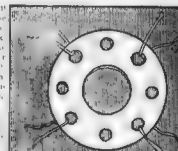
"The attachment to the human is somewhat similar to that of the use of the Murphy 'button' in the joining of severed intestines, but the magnesium rings have the advantage of disappearing after their work is done, while the Murphy 'button' remains in the body permanently.

"Let me explain just what these magnesium rings are like. They are minute rings of paper perforated with eight small holes. When the arteries are to be joined they are split lengthwise at the ends of the ring and turned back the opposite end is treated the same way. The flat sides of the rings or washers are then fitted together with the ends of the arteries between them and, as can readily be seen when sewed together none of the seed comes [illegible] of the channel of the artery.

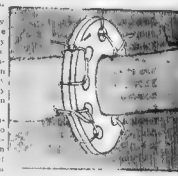
"Great care must be exercised in applying this remedy. The inner or [illegible] ters of the rings must be exactly the same as the diameter of the artery, otherwise the operation will be a failure. The tissues must be treated gently, and all clots of blood removed before the attachment is made. The 'dead' artery to be used must be thoroughly cleansed before use.

"I will not say I am not proud of my discovery and of the success of my five years experimenting. I believe humanity will be greatly benefited when the operation is perfected and the medical profession accepts it. It will make amputation of limbs less frequent, for the difficulty heretofore encountered was the inability of surgeons to successfully attach torn and severed arteries."

According to Dr. Lespinasse, the enlargement of the liver or kidneys due to the excessive use of intoxicants and indulgence of other forms of dissipation has a simple solution through the use of magnesium. A cure will be tried in a [illegible] Bums for Drunkards within the near future, and the surgeon is confident of success.



The Magnesium Ring Ready to Snip Over the Artery.



The Rings Tied in Place at the Juncture of the New and Old Blood Vessels.

The Old Method of Blood Transfusion by Sewing the Arte

The White Devil. (CONTINUED FROM PRECEDING PAGE.)

[illegible] failed to relieve him from the duty of [illegible] genuflexion in the Papal presence. He had been married previously to Isabella de Medici, and, suspecting her of infidelity, had murdered her in 1574. Whatever repugnance Vittoria Accoramboni may have felt for his gross and unwieldy person was overcome by the great size of his fortune and [illegible]

Vittoria was a [illegible] husband's murder, but [illegible] was always suspected of having [illegible] influence of the Duke of Bracciano. He [illegible] openly acknowledged her as his [illegible] and had her installed as sovereign [illegible] dorena. The Pope decured the marriage [illegible] void, and the Duke yielded, but he published [illegible] married her after the death of this [illegible]

The Duke and Duchess lived together [illegible] months in Padua, and then [illegible] died suddenly on November 16, [illegible] was generally believed that Vittoria [illegible] poisoned him, and the newly discovered evidence makes the fact reasonably certain. The Duke's will left all his fortune to Vittoria.

On December 22 forty men broke into her palace in Padua, and three of them stabbed her to death as she knelt before a crucifix. One of them crept up and, [illegible] thrust his dagger into her left breast and [illegible] it deeply [illegible] "Now I have reached your heart at last, you white devil!"

Copyright, 1910, by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

DR COOK'S JILTED SWEETHEART DRIVEN MAD

The Latest and Saddest Echo of the "Explorer's" Bubble of Fame—the Woman He Jilted, Who Fled to the Gold Fields of Alaska, Who Was His Champion to the Last, Must End Her Days in a Madhouse!

Copyright, 1910, by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

"I'LL BE RULER TILL I DIE!"

Will Queen Alexandra Keep the First Place in English Society and Overshadow Her Daughter-in-Law, the Reigning Queen, As Her Sister, the Dowager Czarina, Has Done in Russia?

"There Is a Conflict Between Two Queens. It Is the First Time in Three Centuries That a Situation So Acute and Dramatic Has Arisen in the Royal Hierarchy."

The Czarina of Russia, Who Has Only Been Overshadowed by Her Mother-in-Law, the Dowager Czarina, but Worried Out of Her Mind.

"Queen Mary May Preside Over An Empty Court, While Queen Alexandra Gathers Society Around Her."

LONDON, June 18.—An extraordinary crisis has arisen in the Court of England.

There is a conflict between two Queens. It is the first time in three centuries that a situation so acute and dramatic has occurred in the Royal hierarchy.

The last time there was a serious conflict between Queens was in the era of Queen Elizabeth and Mary Queen of Scots. Queen Mary had claims to the throne of England that some considered superior to Elizabeth's, but Elizabeth established her practical supremacy by cutting off her rival's head.

The present contest will not be marked by the same methods. Beheading has changed, but some say that the feeling is quite as severe as it was then.

The position of Queen of England is hedged about with certain social limitations, but the Queen can be an unlimited social despot, if she has a mind to.

The contest, needless to say, is between Queen Alexandra and Queen Mary. The widowed Queen has shown a determination to retain the exalted position which she has held for so many years, and to which she has an undoubted claim, but the Queen Consort, as Queen Alexandra is called, is contrary to law and custom, and is itself an indication of the conflict between the two Queens.

According, Queen Mary is the only person entitled to be called Queen without any qualification whatever.

There is every promise of a long, desperate and entertaining fight between the two Queens.

"I'll be ruler until I die," says Queen Alexandra in effect.

"Dignified seclusion for you!" retorts Queen Mary.

Especial significance is given to Queen Alexandra's attitude by the fact that she is a sister of the Dowager Czarina Marie, of Russia, who has overshadowed her son and worried her daughter-in-law, the Czarina, almost into insanity. Queen Alexandra and the Dowager Czarina are very near associates. They resemble each other closely in mind and person. Blood will tell, and so will mind. The extraordinary parallel between the two families is completed by the fact that King George is the exact image of his first cousin, Czar Nicholas of Russia.

In the British situation, however, we must take into consideration the undoubted fact that Queen Mary is a woman of strong character and self-assertive qualities. She is not disposed to be relegated out of her lawful position by a dowager. She wisely refrained from provoking a struggle at the funeral or immediately thereafter, but within a reasonable time she will no doubt vigorously assert herself.

The most remarkable act of Queen Alexandra in her struggle with Queen Mary has been to maintain her residence at Buckingham Palace, the principal seat of the court in London, maintained by the nation for that purpose.

It was planned that Queen Alexandra should take Marlborough House, the official residence of the Prince of Wales, so that King George and Queen Mary could move into Buckingham Palace with the least possible delay. Queen Alexandra, however, stared on at the great palace for weeks, and even continued to fly the royal standard, which is an official intimation that the sovereign is in residence. This was almost an outrage on court etiquette.

So much embarrassment did this cause the King and court officials that they adopted the expedient of giving Queen Alexandra a hint through the newspapers. An official announcement was issued to the press in the following words:

"There is as yet no indication when Queen Alexandra proposes to leave Buckingham Palace, but doubtless she will go over on to Copenhagen with her sister, the Dowager Empress of Russia."

When this appeared Queen Alexandra was shocked. She had a stormy interview with her son, King George, and declared that she was being treated with discourtesy and cruelty. Of course, the King had to make concessions to his widowed mother, and, as Queen Mary was not present, she had nothing to say in the matter. Queen Alexandra, it is understood, declared that she would require months in which to remove her belongings from Buckingham Palace.

Queen Alexandra has taken advantage of the extraordinary wave of emotion that swept over England on King Edward's death. The English people behaved as if they had lost a beloved father, who was at once the greatest ruler that ever lived, and a perfect saint. There was not even an echo of the criticisms that had once been passed on him so lavishly by Nonconformist clergymen. Undoubtedly it was a case of contagious crowd feeling, which is well understood by physiologists. Amiable and tactful as the King was, intelligent English people must recognize in time that their emotion was exaggerated.

Queen Alexandra will obtain a knighthood for the editor of the newspaper if her influence proves strong enough.

Immediately after the funeral we were informed that it was entirely Queen Alexandra's idea to give Caesar a prominent place in the procession. It was an excellent idea, and caught the sympathy of the British public as much as any feature of the ceremonies.

The latest news concerning Caesar is that Queen Alexandra is devoting her life to caring for him. The following announcement has been issued with her approval:

"Caesar is slowing overcoming the keep loss he felt at the death of his master, and his welfare is being looked after in the kindest manner by Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria. Throughout the remainder of his life Caesar is to remain in the particular care of Queen Alexandra and will accompany Her Majesty wherever she is in residence."

From time to time we shall have news of Caesar. There is no doubt that the rest of his life will be passed in much luxury.

Queen Alexandra has always enjoyed great popularity, and she will do her utmost to preserve this. She makes a very graceful appearance on public occasions, and in the opinion of many people can easily outshine Queen Mary. She will arrange many ceremonies of a semi-public character, which, if skillfully carried out, may keep her to the front as the foremost royal lady in England.

In her sister, the Dowager Empress of Russia, Queen Alexandra has a valuable coach in the art of keeping a reigning Queen in the background. The Dowager Empress has dominated the court of Russia with such energy that she is sometimes credited with having driven the Czarina into her state of nervous exhaustion that borders on insanity.

The announcement made just after King Edward's death that Queen Alexandra would probably spend a large part of her life in seclusion in Denmark becomes an excellent jest in the light of subsequent occurrences.

Queen Mary will endeavor to make it a serious reality. The reigning Queen is a woman of aggressive character and robust physique. She has brought up her large family with great success and has managed her domestic affairs very capably. But many persons question whether she has the art of making a graceful and impressive appearance in public in anything like the degree that Queen Alexandra has.

Queen Mary may preside over an empty court while Queen Alexandra gathers society about her. With this matter is closely involved the attitude of the rich Americans in English society. Queen Mary is straightlaced, severely English in tone and will frown on a large element of the American set.

The Americans in that case will flock to Queen Alexandra, if she wants them. That will at least provide them with a queen to rally round and worship. At the same time Queen Alexandra will gain the support of the people who have the most money and give the most expensive and original entertainments in London.

The achievement that would establish Queen Alexandra's predominance in England more than anything else would be to keep about her the statesmen, generals and public men with whom she has been on terms of intimacy for many years as Princess of Wales and Queen. King Edward was personally intimate with every politician of importance in the country, and it was thus that he exerted so much influence, although his public authority was narrowly restricted by law. If Queen Alexandra gathers the leading politicians at her salons it will make her a more greater power in the country than Queen Mary. Winston Churchill, who has been severely snubbed by King George, has already joined the party of Queen Alexandra.

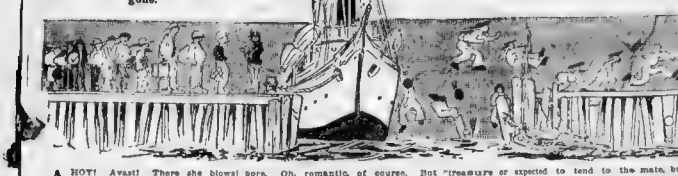
Queen Alexandra and Her Favorite Grandson, Olaf of Norway, Whom She Prefers to [illegible] Children.

The Extraordinary Resemblance Between King George of England and His First Cousin the Czar Nicholas of Russia.

Copyright, 1916, by American-Examiner. Entered at Stationers' Hall. All Rights Reserved.

Life on a Millionaire's Yacht.

Ahoy, Shipmates! Here's the Yarn of the Noble Festetics' Hesitant Cruise, the Vanishing Crews and Their Attractive Trousers, the Commander, the Commanderess, and Humble Cap'n Schlafke with His Nautical Ducks! Heave Ho!



'Before the creases were out of them pants, crew and pants were gone."

AHOY! Avast! There she blows! Belay there!

Here's a yarn of the deep-sea—a yacht. Toina. First Commander, Countess Rudolph Festetics; Second Commander, Count Rudolph Festetics. Crew—one American, one Englishman, one Irishman, one Scotchman, one Norwegian, one Dane, one German, one Chinaman, one Frenchman, one Lascar, one Italian and one warranted fast black African from Wilmington, Del.

"Haw-haw," says Cap'n Schlafke, who thought he was in command of the Toina for a time, "what'll that crowd look like dancin' the hornpipe together? Haw-haw! Like a crazy quilt made up in a lunatic asylum. Haw!"

"Haw!" says Cap'n Schlafke, who has libeled the Toina for $16.50 wages, "the Flyin' Dutchman ain't in it with that craft. Off on a three years' cruise. Took 'em six months to start! Where'll they get there at that rate? Haw!"

Sixteen ducks waddled by Cap'n Schlafke. They belonged to that distinguished artist Louis Moeller, N. A., whose farm Cap'n Schlafke is now navigating instead of a ship on the rolling waves. Each duck had acquired the correct nautical roll. One expected them to reef their pa-rousers and shift their quids. Three cows swung by like able seamen on a tossing quarter deck. Rover, the Moeller St. Bernard, barked, and it was like a foghorn.

"Haw!" said Cap'n Schlafke. "What's life on a millionaire's yacht to this?"

Whirl Shiver our timbers, here's ninety men out of a hundred whose idea of the ultimate Paradise is life on a millionaire's yacht with themselves in the star role! Dreamy cruises in the enchanted isles of the Southern Seas! Hand to hand fights with romantic pirates! Seizing some pearl islands! Tracking down buccaneers' treasure! Sixteen thousand cases of champagne, in the forward hatch, and yo ho ho and a bottle of rum. How extraordinary!

What is it that can possibly make a farm, even a National Academician's farm, preferable to this giddy and glorious phantasmagoria of nautical delight?

Up with the anchor, then Who is Count Festetics? He is the Count Rudolph Festetics de Toina, Hungarian nobleman and cousin to quite an assortment of Austrian nobility. The Count learned advanced navigation after his last marriage. He could not have known it before, because his matrimonial cruise with his first Countess, Ella Haggin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. Haggin, of New York met shipwreck. They were divorced. Then the Count married Alice Vail Wetherbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Wetherbee, of New York whose first voyage with Hymen as stewardess was made with Herr Jean Schopfer, of Switzerland. That met shipwreck too. Whether it was the sympathy of two wrecked seafarers that did it or not when Count Festetics saw the former Miss Wetherbee he fell right in love, and when she saw him so did she.

He wanted me to live all the time on the Toina. I hate the Toina. I won't live there," deposed the first Countess in her divorce proceedings. "When I told him I wouldn't live on the Toina, what did he do? He sailed away and left me stranded in Singapore. Oh, romantic, of course. But treasure or expected to tend to the purp?"

avast, no more for me. I prefer divorces to life on a millionaire's yacht."

She got it. But isn't it strange that her chief complaint should have been the same as Cap'n Schlafke's, watching the nautical duck roll by and the one thousand and odd crew who spent a night or two on the Toina and then disappeared? It is strange.

And then, when Count Festetics started off on his second matrimonial cruise, what happens? Is the Toina in disgrace because the first Countess couldn't bear it? Not at all.

The new Countess and the Count decide to course around the globe—memories even of Singapore dropped over the side. And this brings us back again to Captain Schlafke and the cruise that took six months to start.

It was late last October that the Toina, once the Thistle owned by Commodore Robert E. Tod, swung into New York harbor to give the former Miss Wetherbee a chance to say farewell to her folks before the long journey began. It was early in November that the Toina tried to start. The only other first-class passenger was "Nick," the Countess's black and tan. Down in the Countess's rosewood lined cabin "Nick" had a sybaritic berth, special blankets, special little stanchions for him to hang to when the weather was particularly bad. He had special little everythings.

The Toina was about to start.

"Say," said the chambermate, "say, Count,"—he was an American—"am I expected to make up that purp's berth of every day and take him for a walk on deck like a blooming nursemaid?"

"My treasure," cried the Countess, indignantly. "I mean," she added hastily, "Nick is my treasure. You are."

"Am what," said the chambermate, "I won't sign nothing," said the Count"

"Impertinent," cried the Count, "you are discharged."

Next day the seaman went out into the world with his kit.

"Love," said the Count, "we are a man shy. We must defer our sailing until we can get another."

"Sir," interrupted the first mate, "we are ten men shy. I can't find them."

"——!" said the Count.

"Yes, sir," replied the mate, "and they took their uniforms with them."

"Those uniforms! They cost $25 each," wailed the Count.

"Well, they won't be able to get that for them," said the mate consolingly.

"Ass!" cried the Count.

There was in a few minutes no mate. Began a search for a crew. Each night there was almost a full one. Next day there was far from a full one. Even when the crew was a very full one it marched Captain Schlafke.

"Say," says the captain, watching one of Mr. Moeller's hens taking a roll to starboard, "say, we now take up the anchor, usually with their uniforms, and this from that cruise—real pants. What was the matter? It was a crew that wouldn't accrue. Hawl haw! Some joke that, eh?"

"Sure she crew would ship all right. But before the creases were out of their pants, and them pants that went with the Toina's uniforms were some pants. I'll say that, before the creases were out of them pants, the crew and the pants would be gone. Say, they would leave any address about forwardin' their mail, them fellers. Most of the crew was aboard I was on shore huntin' a crew. Must a been the hundred I engaged in five weeks, and we only needed twenty-one. Say, Herman and I, appearin' act wasn't in it with them fellers. And the uniforms—say they was too.

"After a while when the prospect o' the sailors' boardin' houses put from the lock outs they'd put up shutters. Haw! haw! Herman's act wasn't in it for them crews.

"Not the best nautical astronomer that ever breathed could 'a predicted the odds in' and goin' of them crews," said Cap'n, earnestly.

"When we was moored off the Columbia Yacht Club, there was a steady process of boats to and from the Toina carryin' the comin' and arrivin and departin'. It got to be so bad that the stewards and servants of the clubhouse got up a cocktail that they called the Toina because it made you git so quick.

"You see, the men objected to the food they didn't get all the time. Say, life on a millionaire's yacht! Sure! Fine! Rosewood and mahogany and silver service, and all the trimmin's! Fine ladies and gents o' aboard, and the frou-frou o' silk! Pretty women and all that. Sure! But how 'bout the crew? That's what counts. I have been on a lot o' millionaire's yachts, but how about the crew? That's what I ask. Can't live through your language of eyes, can you?"

Ten ducks swayed past the Cap'n, and he beamed lovingly upon them.

"Say," said the chambermate, "Am I expected to make up that purp's berth?"

"Yes, sir," replied the mate, "and they took their uniforms with them."

"Those uniforms! They cost $25 each," wailed the Count.

"Well, they won't be able to get that for them," said the mate consolingly.

"Ass!" cried the Count.

There was in a few minutes no mate. Began a search for a crew. Each night there was almost a full one. Next day there was far from a full one. Even when the crew was a very full one it marched Captain Schlafke.

"Say," says the captain, watching one of Mr. Moeller's hens taking a roll to starboard, "say, we now take up the anchor, usually with their uniforms, and this from that cruise—real pants. What was the matter? It was a crew that wouldn't accrue. Haw! haw! Some joke that, eh?"

"Sure she crew would ship all right. But before the creases were out of their pants, and them pants that went with the Toina's uniforms were some pants. I'll say that, before the creases were out of them pants, the crew and the pants would be gone. Say, they would leave any address about forwardin' their mail, them fellers. Most of the crew was aboard I was on shore huntin' a crew. Must a been the hundred I engaged in five weeks, and we only needed twenty-one. Say, Herman and I, appearin' act wasn't in it with them fellers. And the uniforms—say they was too.

"After a while when the prospect o' the sailors' boardin' houses put from the lock outs they'd put up shutters. Haw! haw! Herman's act wasn't in it for them crews.

"Not the best nautical astronomer that ever breathed could 'a predicted the odds in' and goin' of them crews," said Cap'n, earnestly.

"When we was moored off the Columbia Yacht Club, there was a steady process of boats to and from the Toina carryin' the comin' and arrivin and departin'. It got to be so bad that the stewards and servants of the clubhouse got up a cocktail that they called the Toina because it made you git so quick.

"You see, the men objected to the food they didn't get all the time. Say, life on a millionaire's yacht! Sure! Fine! Rosewood and mahogany and silver service, and all the trimmin's! Fine ladies and gents o' aboard, and the frou-frou o' silk! Pretty women and all that. Sure! But how 'bout the crew? That's what counts. I have been on a lot o' millionaire's yachts, but how about the crew? That's what I ask. Can't live through your language of eyes, can you?"

Ten ducks swayed past the Cap'n, and he beamed lovingly upon them.

"Say," said the chambermate, "Am I expected to make up that purp's berth?"

"And then the crew would have to get along without the potatoes."

potatoes.

"Say, I signed a big Norwegian named Nillson. He stood six feet two, weighed two hundred and twenty pounds and could do the work of three men. When the Countess sees him, says she to me, 'Schlafke,' says she, 'why do you get such big men when the smaller ones don't cost no more, eat less and don't need such big uniforms?'

"'Countess,' said I, 'I have seen men like shrimps what had the appetite of an elephant and men like elephants what had the appetite of the timid and retiring crab. Do we buy 'em?' says I satisfy. Like, 'by the bulk or by the appetite, for if so,' says I 'perhaps we had better get 'em out of some nice sanatarium, Them people,' says I, 'ain't long on stomachs.'

"But Nillson had to go. Say, the Austrian law requires a yacht like the Toina to carry a hawser 185 fathoms long for use as a towline. We were sailing under the Austrian flag and had to comply with this regulation. I reports to the Count that we'll have to get 'im a rope before we can sail. The Countess was standing by at the time. The Count says 'How much will it cost?' I says, 'Bout $150.' He says, 'that's too much. The Countess says, 'How long is it?' I says, '185 fathoms. She says, 'That's too long. Can't you make 150 fathoms do?'

"I says, 'Countess, if we all had to hawser up to heaven some night I don't think anything less than 150 feet would do us. But they couldn't see the joke. Haw! haw!

"Even the Count wouldn't sign any of it. 'Any fart er loan Marseilles,' as though he said the ship was goin' round the world. When I first went on board I says to him that I wouldn't ship with him unless he'd keep me for the entire cruise. Then he takes me by the button-hole and he says: 'Schlafke,' he says, 'that'll be all right. While I sign you only as far as Marseilles, if you do your duty I'll keep you the entire cruise.' I says, 'that's all right, but what if you land me my discharge papers when we reaches Marseilles?' 'Schlafke, says he, 'you have my word for it, and what more can you ask?' Well, I thought it over for a while, and then I suggests that we put it into writin.

"'No,' says he, 'no, Schlafke, I won't sign nothin.' I give you my word as a gentleman, as a sailor, as an Austrian and as a nobleman, but,' says he, 'Schlafke, I won't sign nothin' because I don't want to be bound.'

"Say, 'Line over that a bit, won't you?'

"Say, that did for me. I've followed the sea all my life. I've shipped on every kind of craft that floats. I've sailed picture yachts and merchant vessels and I've captained ocean liners and war vessels, but when he says to me, says he'll give you my word as a gentleman as a sailor as a Austrian and an nobleman—I don't want to be bound,' y, something broke inside me. [illegible] with the Cap'n Ross dinge and he [illegible] chicken.

"Life [illegible] in it wh[illegible] Cap'n [illegible] quid righ[illegible] duck. Rover [illegible] bark.

But the Toina [illegible] Countess done [illegible] on the Bridge [illegible] pangs of sea [illegible] May 24 A [illegible] Hook and [illegible]

"—— as they commented [illegible]

A few days [illegible] oceanward w[illegible] assorted crew.

One Wallenstein danced on sho[illegible] the departure [illegible] Count owed him $5.80 satisfaction" [illegible] get it from him.

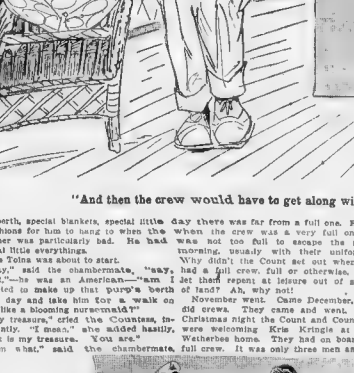
Call at the Austrian-Hungarian consulate office at New York and ring the bell. Before you can speak a flaxen-haired attache will open one of the latticed panels of the front door, poke his head around and exclaim with a sigh of relief, "Dot's gone". If you ask what's gone, he will answer, "The Toina.

If you direct your footsteps to the [illegible] of the Columbia Yacht Club and, not being a member of the club nor the members' entourage, a uniformed attendant will approach you a nautical salute and demand joyously: "It's gone, sir!" and if you ask what has gone, he will answer, "The Toina."

If, then, being brave as we'll be outside, you turn to the waterfront and to the first man you meet who has seen as much of the sea, whether he be an Irishman, Scotchman, Englishman, American, Austrian, Spaniard, Norwegian, Chink, Jap, Lascar or anything else, you whisper the word "Toina," be prepared to execute a quick side step or expect a hearty welcome to a horny fist aimed in your direction. And in the slop shops of the water front the scores of natty Toina uniforms whose pedigrees have been forgot.

Can it be that life on a millionaire's yacht is not the paradise it has been deemed to be? That is, for the crew. Any old millionaire and any old yacht. Avast, messmates! Pipe all hands to grog and talk it over.

"One Wallenstein—crying that the Count owed him $5.80."



Soldiers in Hospital

TRYING IT ON THE ARMY

WHEN the adventurous youth of the United States joins the army he does it, theoretically, with the sound of cannon balls, the whistle of shell, the thunder of guns and the whimper of the rifle ball in his ears. He is filled with patriotism, with love of his country and the desire to live or die heroically.

But his dreams of living and dying are concerned with battlefields, frantic charges and wreaths of bloody martyrdom or heroism. What does the private find after he enlists? There is no war and the prospects of war are growing less—that is, war against his fellow man.

But there is a constant bitter, deadly war going on all the time between humanity and its countless enemies of disease.

Therefore, while dreaming of the bugle blare, he will probably be called upon to volunteer for a starvation test at Yale or Harvard, wherein some new theory of one of the faculty is to be tried. Or he may be called upon to drink several million typhoid fever germs to test the effect of a new vaccine, or the outbreak of a particularly dangerous fever among the posts in the tropics may necessitate a series of experiments upon him to see how it may be stamped out.

Some one has an idea that vast wealth will be added to the country and many homes be made happy if cotton seed is used to make bread. But what will be the effect of eating cotton seed? Ah! try it on the army! And so the boy in blue and his companions live for a time on cotton seed, while scientists sit by and note his temperature, his cheerfulness and general demeanor under this new staple of food.

And all this, while apparently odd treatment for a man filled with a desire to do and die for his country—but always in the midst of battle—is, perhaps, as it should be. Certainly more people die each year from one single disease than the blood lost were have ever been killed in all their years. And as diseases are enemies menacing government and state and the welfare of the citizens, why should not the army combat them just as if other foes were harassing or slaying their people?

Racked with Dengue Fever for Science.

IN the tropics many unpleasant diseases of which we have little or no experience are prevalent. The study of these in the Philippines has afforded much instruction to our military doctors, who have made several important discoveries in regard to them. For instance, they have come across a new variety of the "filaria," or thread-worm, which, by blocking the lymph channels in various parts of the body, produces swellings and the dreadful malady known as "elephantiasis." And, incidentally, they have proved that this parasite is carried by a certain kind of mosquito—the Culex fatigans.

All such research work is carried on by the Army Board or Tropical Diseases, which is permanently located in the Philippines, and is directed by officers specially detailed from the Medical Corps for this purpose. The duty of the military physicians composing the board is wholly investigative. Through its efforts was discovered recently the germ of yaws—a particularly horrible disease, which causes the most dreadful and persistent sores. The micro-organism concerned in this case is a true animal—a protozoon, which gets into the blood. The infection is communicated by the bite of a tick.

No reports have been received up to the present that any soldiers have been afflicted with the yaws or with elephantiasis, but certainly other tropical diseases have been tried on them.

One of these diseases is dengue, an acute epidemic disease very prevalent in the Philippines. It is accompanied by violent fever, a terrible pain in the bones and an eruption like that of scarlet fever. Although not immediately fatal, dengue is a very serious matter to an army, as a soldier attacked by it is unfit for service for a long time.

Recently, in the Philippines, Captain Charles F. Craig, of the Army Medical Corps, has conducted experiments which have brought about the discovery of the fact that dengue owes its distribution wholly to Culex fatigans—the same abominable mosquito that carries filariasis. This disease, which is well known in Southern States under the name of breakbone fever, has always been supposed to be very contagious. It appears in explosive epidemics, and at Fort William McKinley, four miles from Manila, there were over eight hundred cases three Summers ago.

The method used was to put a dengue patient to bed beneath a mosquito bar in a mosquito-proof tent, and to liberate from thirty to fifty mosquitoes beneath the bar. These were collected next morning—all of them full of blood as a rule. Then the subject of the experiment was put to bed under exactly similar conditions, and the mosquitoes which had bitten the dengue man were liberated beneath his mosquito bar.

Needless to say, he had a lively night, and he was forbidden to kill his tormentors! In nearly every instance symptoms of dengue appeared within four days.

Other volunteers slept in beds which had been occupied by dengue patients, wore their underclothes and pajamas, and ate and drank from the same plates and cups which they had used. Eight men were employed in this experiment, and not one of them caught the disease.

By this means it was proved that dengue is not contagious or infectious except through the bite of the mosquito. Consequently, cases of it are now treated in the ordinary hospital wards, merely taking the precaution to cover the beds with mosquito barn at night. Culex fatigans is a night-flyer. In the daytime the dengue patients mix freely with other occupants of the hospital. Of course this greatly facilitates the treatment of persons sick with the malady. But from a military viewpoint, the most important consideration is that soldiers can be kept from catching the disease by sheltering them from mosquitoes. In a campaign an army attacked by dengue would be unable to fight.

It was the Board of Tropical Diseases, in the Philippines, that suggested the idea of supplying our soldiers with orange-red underclothes—the object in view being to shut out the light. Its investigations have appeared to show that one of the greatest perils encountered by the white man in tropical regions is the intense light, against which he is not defended by an adequate amount of dark pigment in his skin.

The chemical rays seem to paralyze the little nerves in the skin, so as to interfere with the action of the sweat glands. In the Philippines many of our officers and men suffer from severe headache, exhaustion, and even inflammation of the brain in occasional instances.

Experiments made by Colonel V. Havard, of the Army Medical Corps, showed that black affords the best protection against light, red coming next, and orange next. This he ascertained by laying small squares of silk, of the same fabric, but of different colors, upon sensitive photographic paper, and exposing the latter to sunlight. It was thought hardly desirable to put all of our troops into mourning, and, accordingly, it was recommended that underclothing of an orange-red hue should be given them to wear. The experiment has been carried out on a considerable scale, the garments being so distributed that half the members of each company wore the colored garments, while the other half wore white. But, after a year and a half of careful observation by the army medical officers, it has been decided that no advantage is gained by the innovation.

Soldier Undergoing Experiments with Hertzian Waves and Various Scientific Instruments.

The Czarina of Russia, Who H... Only Been Overshadowed by her Mother-in-Law, Dowager Czarina, but W... ried Out of Her ...

Whenever a College Professor Wants to Try a New Cure for Disease Uncle Sam Very Kindly Hands Him a Bunch of Willing United States Soldiers to Be Experimented On Gave Their Lives to Stamp Out Yellow Fever.

SOLDIER after soldier has bravely offered himself to be inoculated with yellow fever germs.

The experiments by which the United States Army surgeons in Cuba discovered that the mosquito was the carrier of yellow fever are now famous, but it is not known how cruelly the soldiers of the United States Army suffered in these experiments.

There is at the present time before Congress a bill to bestow an adequate pension—$100 a month—upon John Kissinger, a former private in the Hospital Corps, who has become a helpless paralytic as the direct result of experimental inoculation with yellow fever to which he submitted ten years ago.

In the year 1900, in Cuba, Major Walter Reed, of the Army Medical Corps, was working on the yellow fever problem with the aid of Assistant Surgeons James Carroll and Jesse W. Lazear. Part of their experiments consisted in breeding mosquitoes and infecting them by allowing them to bite yellow fever patients in the hospitals.

Incidentally Dr. Lazear purposely allowed a mosquito to bite him in a hospital ward. The insect lighted on the back of his hand and he permitted it to fill itself with blood. As a result he took the disease in a terrible form and died.

Dr. Carroll allowed himself to be bitten by an infected mosquito, and in consequence suffered a severe attack, from which he recovered. He died in 1907 of heart disease, and his widow now gets $125 a month from the Government. The widow of Lazear receives a like amount, and so also does the widow of Major Reed, who died of appendicitis in 1902.

But the doctors were not the only sufferers. United States soldiers were called upon in large numbers to undergo injection by yellow fever. The first American soldier experimented upon in this way was William H. Dean (Troop B, Seventh Cavalry). The second and third were John J. Moran, now in the service of the Panama Canal Commission in the Canal Zone, and John R. Kissinger.

In that series twenty-two cases of experimental yellow fever were produced—most of them by mosquito bites, but a few by injections taken from yellow fever patients. Seven men, in addition to the twenty-two infected, went through the trying ordeal of sleeping in infected bedding from the hospitals. A short time later Dr. Guiteras, of Havana, performed another series of experiments. Out of seven men inoculated no less than three died of yellow fever.

Private John Kissinger, soldier and martyr of science, is now dying helpless in his bed in his miserable home in Washington. His poor wife has to support him by taking in sewing. To a correspondent of this paper he gave an account of his bitter fight with death and yellow fever.

"I knew very well what I was doing," said Kissinger, telling of the tests in Washington last week, "and I knew it might result in my death.

"When I went into a battle I took my life in my hands. I would do that for my country. Why, then, I reasoned, should I not do this. I had confidence in my superiors. I was a wife and two children dependent upon me, but I felt that when they took the chance of my going to war they would take this chance, too.

"I went into a room and a doctor asked me if I knew the chance I was taking. I said that I did. He asked me if I knew that I might die. I said that I did. I added that I was willing to do it for the sake of the rest of the boys and that anyhow I might get the disease in the natural course of events, and that inoculation, if I were lucky, might prevent it.

"Do you think there is any chance that it will be successful?" I asked. The doctor said it might, and then again it might not. I looked around the room and saw five fellow-soldiers. They had just been inoculated with the deadly fever germs. If they had the courage to stand it, I reckoned that I had too.

"Well, the germs got me. For months, down there in the heat of Cuba, they despaired of my life. Finally I grew a little better—the fever began to go away. But as it left me I found that my legs were completely paralyzed. I couldn't walk. I was shipped back to this country, back to my wife and children. I have been like this way ever since—a helpless paralytic for twelve years.

"My friends in the army advised me that I better say nothing about what had happened. Maybe I would get a pension if I kept quiet. So I kept quiet."

The Government has been trying to arrange for a pension to Kissinger for some time. In the House Military Committee there is a bill pending for this purpose at this time. Until recently it has been pigeonholed there for years, gathering dust. Even those who felt that Kissinger should have a pension were cautious lest the story leak out.

The Kissinger pension bill went into the Senate with half a hundred other pension bills several weeks ago.

It has been called up it was referred to merely as "bill for the pensioning of John R. Kissinger." It provided for a pension of $125 a month in recognition of "eminent service rendered during the Spanish-American War." Nobody in the Senate showed the slightest interest in it.

Senator Hale, of Maine, who opposed the Spanish war so persistently that he became known as the "Senator from Spain," sat in the chamber while the bill was being passed. So did Senator Depew and other members of the upper branch who had opposed the war and are always looking for an opportunity to prove that they are not.

To them, and to all the other members of the Senate, it was simply an ordinary pension bill introduced at the request of the War Department.

Several days later the bill reached the House Committee on Military Affairs. This committee was very busy at the time trying to effect economies. A very short meeting was held and the bill in the Kissinger bill was cut to $75 a month. When the conference committee, with representatives from each House, meets to agree on the military bill, the members will probably split the difference, and Kissinger will perhaps receive $100 a month for being a martyr.

The experiments involved the construction of a ... swamp four miles out of the city of ... bycullosus used were specially bred from ... as 10 were kept in a building screened ... pec ... com ... mos ... WIL...

Six Soldiers Fed on One-Half Their Ordinary Diet.
From "The Nutrition of Man," by Russell H. Chittende...

...traordinary Resemblance and His First Cousin the ...

How Uncle Sam's Soldiers, Enlisted for Martial Glory Are Charging Experimental Battle-fields of Disease Germs, Starvation Tests, Strange Diets--Eternal Enemies That in Peace and War Menace Man.

aking Cottonseed Bread to Feed to Soldiers at Fort Riley, Kan., to Ascertain if They Can Live on It as Well as on Wheat Bread.

rying Starvation and Many Queer Foods on the Soldier

WHENEVER a new diet is to be tried, or whenever a professor wishes to know how little food a man can live on, Uncle 's soldiers are invited to become subjects of experiment.

t present an experiment is being conducted find out if men can live comfortably on cot- seed flour. This experiment is being carried at the bakers' school for soldiers at Fort y, Kan. Bread prepared from cotton seed r is baked there in huge ovens, and fed to cted squads of soldiers.

his experiment may be highly useful for entific and economic purposes. Cotton seed can be made at less than half the cost of bread, and if it can be proved to be as rishous and palatable as wheat bread, it will an enormous gain for the community. It will erially reduce the cost of living for the ordi- y citizen, and it will also reduce the cost of ining the army.

xperiments in starvation have been going in the army for a long time. Squads of antry and cavalry were obliged to subsist ten-day periods on the slimmest diet that id keep body and soul together. The object s to arrange an "emergency ration," on which diers could subsist during short periods when arated from their commands and from the gon trains.

hrough these experiments was ally evolved the emergency ration it has been in use for some years , consisting of a mixture of dried [illegible] supplemented by chocolate. The choc- te was expected to furnish fuel to p the soldier going, while the meat wheat made bread and mixed, cereal and meat, deprived of moist- , were pressed to the hardness of a k, and three little packets of the ture, each containing also a tablet chocolate, represented one day's ion—he carried in the knapsack. pecial machinery being required to up this ration, the War Depart- t has been obliged to order large antities of it each year. In order to e it worth while for the manufac- rs to produce it. The stuff has to be used up somehow, and, to get of it, it has been fed out to the sol- s at army posts, who have been , however unwillingly, to con- e emergency rations for their reg- r meals.

o avoid this trouble the department ow adopting a new kind of emer- cy ration, which, being easily pro- able at any time in quantities large small, will not embarrass the com- sariat. It is a mixture of chocolate, ar, egg and malted milk, and is put in such shape as to look like com- rcial chocolate—that is to say, in cakes wrapped in tinfoil. Three en, three meals. Weight, twelve for the three, including the tin which contains them.

some cases the men have been t in glass cases in order that their ration may be perfectly controlled. ncle Sam loaned twenty of his sol- rs to Professor Russell H. Chitten- , of Yale University, for a famous ies of starvation experiments. These periments established the fact, ac-

rof. Chittenden, of Yale.
pyright by F. A. Stokes.

Soldiers in Hospital After Taking Typhoid Fever Antitoxin, While Doctors Wa[illegible]or Results.

according to Professor Chittenden, that man can live on about half the meat or proteid that is consumed by the average American citizen. This conclusion is generally accepted by men of science, although some disagree. Dr. Woods Hutchinson says that the experiments merely proved how strong the soldiers were.

"Although the men volunteered for the experiment," writes Professor Chittenden in his book, "The Nutrition of Man," "they had no personal interest whatever in the principles involved. Again there were necessary restrictions placed upon their movements when relieved from duty, which constituted something of a hardship in the minds of many of the men and added to the irksomeness and monotony of their daily life."

The professor found that these misguided soldiers were in the habit of eating everything eatable they could lay their hands on, including not only the Government ration, which is very generous, but all sorts of things which they bought or had given them. He gradually reduced their rations, in order not to give them too severe a shock, and finally put them on the low proteid diet which he considered sufficient. He kept them on it for five months.

Under this diet their daily consumption of proteid was reduced one-half. Their consumption of meat was reduced by much more than one-third.

Five of the men maintained their weight; the majority lost a trifle; while two who lost considerably were too fat and glad of the reduction.

The intake and output of nitrogen under this system was nearly equal, whereas, in their ordinary diet, they stored up one gram of nitrogen daily. This storage of nitrogen, according to Professor Chittenden, is unnecessary and overloads the system. It is a common cause of ill health in heavy eaters.

He found that the muscular strength of the men was greatly increased by the reduced diet. Dynamometer tests were applied to the muscles of the back legs, chest, upper arms and forearms. At the end of the period they showed an increase of about three-quarters. For instance, one man's number of points at the beginning was 2,500, and at the close 5,350.

In explaining this Professor Chittenden suggests that an excessive quantity of proteid may flood the tissues and the surrounding lymph with a variety of nitrogenous waste products, having an inhibitory effect upon the muscle fibres themselves or upon the peripheral endings of the motor nerves, by which the muscles are prevented from working at their highest degree of efficiency.

"There must be enough food to make good the daily waste of tissue," concludes Professor Chittenden, "enough food to furnish the energy of muscular contraction; but any surplus over and above what is necessary to supply these needs is not only a waste but may prove an incubus, retarding the smooth working of the machinery and detracting from the power of the organism to do its best work."

It will be interesting to give what Professor Chittenden considers an ideal allowance of food for one day.

Breakfast—Fried hominy, 150 grams; syrup, 75 grams, baked potatoes, 200 grams; butter, 20 grams, one cup coffee, 250 grams.

Dinner—Baked spaghetti, 200 grams; mashed potato, 250 grams; boiled turnip, 150 grams, bread, 35 grams; butter, 10 grams; apple sauce, 200 grams, one cup of coffee, 250 grams.

Supper—Fried bacon, 25 grams; fried sweet potato, 200 grams, bread, 35 grams; butter, 20 grams; jam, 100 grams; apple tapioca pudding, 200 grams, one cup tea, 250 grams.

A gram is one-twenty-eighth of an ounce. In this day's diet meat is given but once, and in the form of less than an ounce of bacon (25 grams). The soldiers were not pleased with the diet.

Drinking Armies of Typhoid Germs.

DURING the last year more than 8,000 men in our army have been inoculated with dead typhoid germs. The object, of course, is to render them immune to typhoid fever, and up to date there has been only one case of the disease among the soldiers thus treated. They have been without exception volunteers. Accordingly, it may be said that they practically proved the theory of the efficacy of this method of preventive treatment.

The new typhoid fever vaccine was first tested on soldiers stationed at Fort Omaha, Neb. It was a severe experience for them, not only because it was painful, but the outcome was quite uncertain.

Sergeant N. H. Fuller was the first man to be treated. Into his left arm was injected a large dose of the serum. Several days later another dose of the same size was injected, and after a lapse of a week another billion toxins were sent coursing through his veins.

The toxin acted quickly. Within an hour after the first injection Fuller's temperature went up to 101 degrees. In two hours he showed symptoms of great lassitude and went into a troubled sleep. Sickness and nausea, with high fever, followed for twelve hours, after which it subsided, and twenty-four hours after the injection the patient was normal.

The second treatment was followed by a similar reaction, but not so strong as the first.

On the third dose there were no changes in his condition and the treatment was complete.

Ralph S. Goodman, a private of the hospital corps, was the second man treated, and the result was substantially the same as in the case of Fuller. Private Schultz next underwent the treatment.

When all these men had received the injections and had shown the desired reactions they were allowed a period of rest. Then another injection of the serum was given them and they showed no reaction. This was an indication that they had become immune from typhoid fever.

Then came the supreme test. Each of the soldiers drank deliberately from a beaker of stagnant water in which about a million typhoid fever germs had been placed. Uncle Sam's heroic soldiers swallowed the nauseating, death-laden draught with the same reckless and cheerful bravery they would show in charging across a bullet-swept field.

Then they were sent to the hospital and closely watched. Ordinary persons, who had taken the infected dose as they had, would have developed the disease in five to seven days. They did not show it in that time, and therefore it was concluded that the antitoxin was effective.

The new remedy is based upon observation of the well-known fact that a person who has had one attack of typhoid rarely suffers from it again. Evidently the first attack leaves the body and the blood in a condition in which they resist further attacks by typhoid germs. This power of resistance is due to various causes. When an attack of typhoid fever is over it leaves behind millions of dead germs and their emanations called toxins, which have the power of preventing fresh live germs from propagating in the blood. At the same time the blood acquires special powers of resisting attacks by this disease, and the white corpuscles of the blood, which perform the duty of fighting disease, undergo a new development, fitting them to cope with typhoid germs successfully.

With these facts in view the doctors set about preparing a liquid which would give to the body the power of resisting typhoid, which naturally it acquires only after a regular attack of the disease. The process sounds simple, but it really requires a vast amount of labor to produce a preparation that would immunize a human being and not kill him.

Vast quantities of germs were cultivated and then killed and sterilized.

This mixture was strained off with great care and a liquid was obtained which contained no germs, but a certain proportion of the toxins or poisons given off by the germs. This liquid, it was expected, when injected into the veins, would produce a fever, though not typhoid, because the live germs were absent, and that after recovery from this fever the blood would be in a special state of defense against typhoid. Just as it would be after an actual attack of the disease. The expectation eventually proved justified, although many difficulties had to be overcome and many of the experimental doses proved fatal.

Finally a liquid was produced which was theoretically an efficient cure for typhoid. But obviously, to determine its real value, it had to be tried on a human being. With remedies of this character there is always a possibility that they will cause a dangerous illness. The test was therefore made on selected soldiers as described.

In spite of this test the remedy has not yet been brought to a state of perfection such as the doctors would desire to see. It produces a severe fever and there is consequently grave doubt about the wisdom of administering it to a sick child, although it may be perfectly safe to give to a hardened regular army soldier. Moreover, its power to protect the body against typhoid is believed to last only from six months to a year, according to the individual. This is a great defect, as few persons would care to repeat the ordeal every six months.

The Brave Boy in Blue Is Inoculated with Typhoid Fever Antitoxin.

He Wears Funny Colored Underclothing to Find Out if It Will Save Him from Sunstroke.

Science Puts Him in a Cage to Ascertain Just How Much Strength He Can Exert.

The Doctors Put Him Under a Net with Yellow Fever Infected Mosquitoes.

He Is Shot At to Demonstrate the Value of a New Bullet-Proof Coat.

He Is Fed with Tablets of Food to Show How Little He Can Live On.

Copyright, 1910, by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

"Hobble Dresses"

The Paris Craze for Skirts One Yard Around at the Bottom, Which Are Fatal to the "Bandy-Legged"---How to Walk, Set and Stoop in Them, and You'd Better Be Lifted Into Your Auto!

The Extraordinary Parade of "Hobble" Gowns at the Chantilly Races

LADY DUFF-GORDON, the famous "Lucile" of "Hobble Gown," seen almost to the e... other London, writes each week a fashion article for this styles at the Chantilly races, and wh... current newspaper, illustrating it with sketches or photo- Paris craze among the "very smart dre... No. graphs from her exclusive New York and London models. Lady Duff-Gordon's American est... Lady Duff-Gordon's article to-day deals with the 17 West Thirty-sixth street, New Yo...

By Lady Duff-Gordon ("Lucile").

It is really remarkable, the present tendency leads to results almost ridi... vogue of the "hobble" skirt in Paris. ...lous. The original models were fairly In America, where the skirt that is comfortable to get about in, and, it must only a yard around at the bottom is be admitted, possessed a certain charm, seen only here and there, the rage for adding new and graceful lines to the that unique style at the French capital costume. Beyond a certain point, how- would hardly be believed. ever, it is impossible to restrict the bot- tom of the skirt without burlesquing Not in the city itself but at the the effect sought for—and this is often Chantilly races the "hobble" gown crase done seems to have reached its apotheosis. One would think that freedom for the The test of correct width in the new limbs would be the first requisite in walking skirt is whether one could step dresses for these outdoor sport occa- in it were it an inch narrower. If so the sions, and it is impossible to walk grace- skirt is too wide. These new skirts are fully and with ease in these skirts, so very short, so that a pair of silk- which wrap themselves about the ankles, clad ankles can be plainly seen; and very creating the mincing gait which gives close must the pretty ankles keep to- them their popular name. Yet at the gether, and very mincing must be the great French racing event women who step within the skirt hem. are not attired in this latest of skirt in- ventions are ...celessly out of class.

At Chantilly, on the first Sunday in As I have so often pointed out in June, when the racing event known as these articles, the tendency of the fol- Oaks Day took place, the skirts of some lowers of fashions is always to go to of the women were so tight around the extremes. That is as much a fault in feet that the wearers had to be actually Paris as in New York. During the lifted into their motor cars. It is rare is prevalence of a new departure of any the first of an important series and it kind in dress every woman seems bent with the Grand Prix at Longchamps, on ...ng emphasis to the novelty. June 26, and a very fashionable throng ...e of the "hobble" gown was present. Though most of these "hobble" costumes were worn, by women ...e always on the alert in appearing in spec- tacular clothes, many women of the grande monde wore skirts so narrow that they had visible difficulty in walking about.

Hobbling in a "Hobble" Gown.

Paris dressmakers insist that the ab- surdly tight skirts are ugly, grotesque, contrary to all rules of artistic dress; yet in spite of their protests they go right on making the banded-in-at-the-foot skirts, and each week the skirt seems to grow shorter and also narrow- er. If the yard limit—to borrow a phrase from railroad vernacu- lar—is exceeded women will cer- tainly have to propel themselves about by hopping forward — as a kangaroo does— on both feet at once, for it will be absolutely im- possible to step.

How to Sit in a "Hobble" Skirt—Never Cross the Knees.

The only explanation of the popularity of these skirts, in the face of the pro- tests of the dressmakers and the dictates of good taste, seems to be that the banded-in skirt does make one look more slender. That is, if it is cleverly cut and a corset worn beneath it to keep the line of the hips long and uncurved. In fact, it makes the general outline or silhouette of the figure as much more slender in effect that when an ordinary skirt of the styles. Everybody has heard the story about the young lady who ordered her first hoop skirt sent home, and, dressing hastily, in order to impress a very particular caller with her knees must on no account be crossed.

'One of My Gowns Which I Have Designed for Violet Van brough to Wear in Her New Play Shows the Round Cut Neck and a Sugges tion of the Close-fitting Hem, but It Is Not Carried to Any Extreme'

The folk who make the fashions are predicting that now that the skirt has reached its utmost limit of narrowness, there will be a radical change and vol- uminous effects may soon be the mod ; and, of a surety, one does long for th day when "like mice beneath her petti coat, her little feet" may peep in and ou again—and not be always and eternall in evidence as now they are with the sh brevisted and abridged skirt of the mo ment. Meanwhile, woman walks as wel as she can and pays most particular at- tention to her footwear.

One of my gowns which I have de- signed for Violet Vanbrough to wear in her new play shows the round cut neck and a suggestion of the close- fitting hem, but it is not carried to any extreme.

A general impression of shadowy gray is suggested by the one gown whose white chiffon is covered with a cobweby device of black, only broken into by the pattering of single blossoms and scat- tered bouquets, outlined in black against a plain white background. This filmy fabric is draped over an underrobe of softest white satin banded in about the ankles with a broad white satin ribbon, which at each side is tied with big pla bows, a transparency of hollow-toned lace coming as a final bordering and permitting a peep of gray silken hose- ings and dress shoes, such footwear be- ing indeed always to be recommended for carrying on the chosen coloring of the dress. The collecting together of the chiffon folds in front is effected by means of curves over central bands of folded satin, of medallions formed of interned scrolls of white satin cording, and these figures again you see on the corsage, where they whose half a dozen deepening shades of fuchsia purpe being the only touching, definite color into the scheme. The waist line is only suggested in front by sharp curved bands of satin, finishing off at either side with a leaflike motif, the back being an unbroken softness of deftly draped chiffon. Then as to the neck, some Valenciennes lace is laid lightly against the skin and beneath this a bordering of white flax thread and sou- taché is wrought to a transparency of net. This, in its turn, giving place to a frill of net, whose pleated fulness is all followed by a bordering of back.

This dress is included in the list, and a daily increasing one it is now of those models whose lengthened skirts are permitted to almost touch the ground, the more abbreviated styles being reserved for the tailor-made cos- tumes, and the "little gowns" of cloth or serge, shantung or linen, whose fabrics are better suited to the more severe lines, though—as I propose to show you later—muslin can also be dont with in this way if desired.

Violet Vanburgh's other gown, which one may liken to snow, is in "year of sapphire" blue charmeuse with topaz pink shadings in the silk, which is fouled at the waist, the innermost loops of the upstanding side bow shar- ing amber tints. An embroidered lawn, as fine as a cobweb, and mellow-toned as old lace forms and softens the square at the neck and reappears again beneath the loose folds of the kimono sleeves, and then the bodice is turned back in embroideries of Persian pat- terning, where all the shadings of the gown are reassembled and emphasized by the contrast of some touches of black, those dangling ornaments being also covered with the embroidery and threaded on entwined strands of blue and gold.

It is always a pleasure to dress Mrs. Vanbrugh, for she is a leader in style as well and her tall, slender figure is so supremely graceful and supple, unfet- tered as it is by any corsets.

One of Many Problems Faced by "Hobble" Gown Wearers.

Bad Effects of the "Marathon" Craze.

It is pointed out by the London Lancet that in France and Italy, hi heria not much given to outdoor athletics, the "Marathon" craze has re- sulted in an injurious amount of zeal for open-air athletic records.

Hitherto neither country has shown much liking or aptitude for the games so high in favor with ourselves—the fencing saloon or the pistol gallery ab- sorbing the time devoted in England to cricket or football. Now, however, both Italy and France are taking kindly to these athletic pastimes, football es- pecially, and the press, Italian as well as French, if week by week recording the matches of rival teams with a fu- ness and a zest that imply a growing interest in the game bidding fair to equal that entertained by the country of its origin.

The last notable encounter of a French with an Italian "squadra, d'team" took place the other day at Milan, when the latter came off the victor, amid a scene of the wildest en- thusiasm by six goals to two. So far both countries are to be congratulated on their adoption of a game which, in the opinion of such medical authorities as Professor Jokes, of Turin, who is said to have introduced it to his com- patriots, is fraught with benefit to the youth already so prodigal in its prac- tice. But there are other forms of ath- letic pastime by no means so salutary to its young votaries—we mean the bicycle polonaise "round Italy," in which the man is won by the performer who can combine speed with endurance over the greatest number of miles.

The second giro d' Italia, has just come off and the state in which the young competitors were seen by an eye- witness to arrive at his "corn of van- tage" between Ancona and San Bene- detto del Pronto was such as to evoke the greatest misgivings as to the re- sults of the competition on its partici- pants.

"These youths," he says, "who, either singly or in groups, reached that inter- mediate stage, exhausted and panting, were stretched on tables on which they rocked and shifted uneasily in distressing dyspnoea, hardly able to write the signa- tures required of them by the condition- their sun-manual being all but illegible Restlessness or seemingly stunned, as by the blow of a mace, they offered a spectacle truly pitiable, inspiring the be holder to lose no time and spare no effor in denouncing such competitions as un worthy of a civilized people.

"So practical, however, must prove the attitude of youths who are tempted to compete in these matches by the prosp- rect of gaining a few thousand francs— at what an inevitable risk to their health and life itself one shrinks from contemplating!"

An appeal is made to the press not to hold out golden prizes for such competitions but, on the contrary, to use its influence in a sense exactly the reverse, and to urge under authoritative medical names the plain, profound and permanent, in- curred even by the most robust of "ton- dini."

The passion for athletics, now at high pressure throughout the Latin countries, may be an estimable advantage to bodies only, however, in the degree in which it is rationally and not made to lead to degenerate into Marathonism, of which in Italy resulting in overstrain or pre- mature impairment of what the ancient physicians called "the tripod of life."

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Assn. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

Hunting A Live "Prehistoric Monster!"

The 'Gazeka,' Man-Eating Terror of a Tribe of the Newly Found Pigmies Living in the Wilds of New Guinea Discovered by a British Expedition.

The Gigantic Skull of the Diprotodon Compared to That of a Man.

ONE of the most remarkable scientific discoveries ever made has just been reported by an expedition of British scientists.

In the wilds of New Guinea, the great unexplored island just north of Australia, these explorers have run across a marvellous race of pigmies whose average height is about four feet three inches, and monster mammoth considerably larger than an elephant, which they have named the 'Gazeka,' and which has seemingly wrought great havoc amongst the pigmies.

Just what species the gazeka belongs to has not yet been determined, but in the description given by the explorers, Dr. W. D. Matthew, of the American Museum of Natural History, sees a strong reason anew to a prehistoric monster known as the diprodont, fossil remains of which have been found at different times throughout Australia. Dr. Matthew's views on the discovery are set forth in another column.

The expedition was sent out by a committee appointed by the British Ornithologist's Union, to explore the great snow Mountains in Dutch New Guinea, and consists of several famous scientists, headed by Walter Goodfellow, the naturalist.

The expedition landed at the mouth of the Mimika River, on the south coast of Dutch New Guinea, in the early part of the year, and at once pushed into the interior. While ascending the Snow Mountains, at an elevation of about 2,000 feet, the explorers came upon the tribe of pigmies, which are said to belong to that division of the human race known as the Negritos.

The importance of this discovery to anthropologists can hardly be overestimated, because it has always been a subject of controversy among the scientists as to whether Negritos existed in the Papuan Islands.

The New Guinea savages, or Papuans, as they are called, are comparatively well known, but they are a very different kind of men to the pigmies just discovered. The typical Papuan is much taller than the average European, after attaining a height of 7 feet, and is strongly built. The color of the skin varies from deep chocolate to nearly black. The nose is large and prominent, and a bone bar of shell, bone or wood is usually thrust through it. Both men and women go about entirely naked. Their houses are built on piles, and, as in Borneo, are often communal and of very large size, many families occupying one building, which may be as much as 700 feet long. Then there are remarkable houses built in trees and known as 'dobos,' but these are used only to escape their enemies. Cannibalism prevails among the Papuans, although it is by no means universal.

The "Gazeka" Fighting With the Pigmies—An Encounter Reported by Colonel Monckton of the First British New Guinea Expedition.

The Negritos, on the other hand which heretofore have been thought to occupy only the Andaman Islands, in the Bay of Bengal, the northern portion of the Malay Peninsula, and the Philippine Islands are characteristically short, no adult standing over 4 feet 6 inches, while the women rarely exceed 4 feet. The average height is about 4 feet 2 inches.

The main features of this peculiar human type, apart from their diminutiveness, are the extraordinarily dark color of their skin, which approaches the color of a newly blackleaded stove, the extremely broad nose, the breadth of which is about equal to the height, and the frizzy hair, which grows in isolated peppercorn tufts all over the scalp. Their arms are unusually long, like those of the man-ape, and their mental qualities are sadly undeveloped, not one of them being able to express a higher numerical idea than three.

How these little people have been able to protect themselves against the many dangerous animals that infest the section, particularly the gigantic 'gazeka,' which has just been discovered, is still a mystery, although they have shown remarkable ingenuity in the invention of weapons. One, for instance, is a variety of "spring gun" which might prove effective against almost any living enemy. It is made by setting a flattened bamboo spear attached to a bent sapling which is fastened to a trigger in such a way that it is released by the passerby stumbling against an invisible string stretched across the track. The spears are poisoned, either with the famous "upas" or some other similar vegetable poison, and a wound from one of them means almost instant death.

Whether such primitive defensive methods avail them against the huge gazeka, is not known, but the chances are that they find safety in retreat.

According to the official reports, the gazeka is of gigantic size and fearsome aspect. It is black and white striped, has the nose of a tapir and the face like the devil. Among the Papuans in the vicinity of the hunting ground, the animal is known as Monckton's Gazeka, in honor of Mr. Monckton, a former explorer in New Guinea, who first reported [illegible] while on the other only mammal of that size. Neither tapirs nor rhinoceroses exist to the east of Wallace's line, which includes Australia and New Guinea, but about the period when the London and the mammoth flourished in America a huge marsupial known as the diprodon is known to have existed in Australia. Fossil remains recently discovered leave no doubt as to its gigantic size, and, although there is, of course, no means of ascertaining its appearance in life, as it has been extinct for several thousands of years, the gazeka appears to bear a marked resemblance in form to this ancient monster.

That a few diprodonts could have survived to this day despite the extinction of the main part of the type is not considered unlikely by the scientists, who point out that nature does not usually blot out a whole class of animals suddenly, but that, on the contrary, it is sometimes thousands of years before the last individual member of the type succumbs to the conditions which destroyed his fellows.

The British explorers are enduring many hardships in their scientific expedition. In New Guinea the temperature is never less than 114 degrees in the shade, and water is not always accessible. But if these ardent explorers really capture a living diprodon they will consider their labors well rewarded.

Probably the Gigantic Diprotodon.

By Dr. W. D. Matthew, of the American Museum of Natural History.

THE reported discovery of a gigantic mammal in New Guinea by a British expedition is extremely interesting. While the description of the animal so far received is too meager to enable me to identify the creature, it is not at all improbable that some [illegible] has been found.

[illegible] is said to have the head [illegible] there are two reasons why it cannot be a tapir of the kind with which we are familiar. In the first place, the newly discovered animal is described as a "gigantic" creature, whereas the largest specimen of the tapir stands not more than four feet high. In the second place, the tapir belongs to the placentalia order of animals, whereas New Guinea lies in that section of the globe where, through some [illegible] circumstance of geogra[illegible] distribution, only marsupials are found. The principal difference between the placenta and the marsupial is that the female of the former breeds her young and nourishes them after birth in human fashion, whereas the marsupial female is furnished with a sack or pouch, in which she carries and nourishes her young for some time after birth. In the latter class, the kangaroo, the opossum and the wombat are perhaps the most familiar to the layman. All the animals of Australia and the surrounding islands, including New Guinea, all of which territory lies east of a line known to scientists as Wallace's Line, are of the marsupial order, and though they often bear a strong resemblance to placenta animals, there is always the one fundamental difference between them. Thus, the Tasmanian striped wolf, though it might very well be taken for the wolf of America or Europe, is nevertheless provided with the characteristic pouch and is a true marsupial.

It has been suggested that in view of the tapir-like head which the newly found animal is said to possess it might, perhaps, be a marsupial tapir, but the animal's enormous size renders that rather unlikely.

There was once a marsupial mammal in Australia, however, which had the head of a tapir and was of gigantic size, and though it has been considered extinct for thousands of years, it is not impossible that some few hardy specimens have survived the extinction of their fellows and that the animal reported by the British expedition is nothing less than the ancient diprodon.

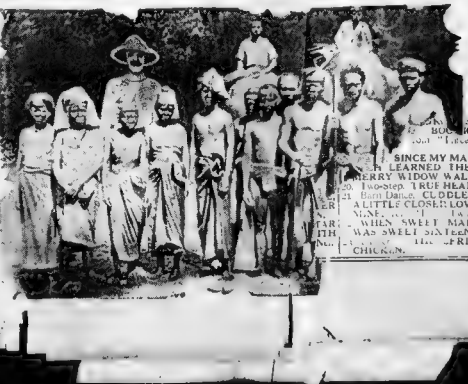
Fossil remains of the diprodont which have been found in Australia in recent years indicate that it was an animal of enormous size, possibly larger than an elephant. Its head was shaped very much like that of a tapir, although, of course, very much larger.

It was by far the largest marsupial that ever existed as far as we know. A skull of the monster, measuring nearly three feet in length, is now to be seen in the Adelaide Museum, Australia, and we have a cast of it in our own museum.

The diprodon probably resembled the modern wombat, and its protruding front teeth must have given it a particularly ferocious appearance.

If the British scientists have indeed discovered a living specimen of this ancient monster, their find is one of the most important ever made.

Enormous Foot of the "Gazeka," P[illegible]tructed from Recent Tracks, Compared to a Fo[illegible] Pigmy.



A Group of the Newly Discovered New Guinea Pigmies.

SINCE MY MARI[illegible]
LEARNED THE
MERRY WIDOW WALTZ.
Two-step TRUE HEART.
Barn Dance. CUDDLE UP
A LITTLE CLOSER LOVEY
[illegible] NOW.
WHEN SWEET MARIE
WAS SWEET SIXTEEN.
CHICKEN.

Copyright, 1910 by American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

My Secrets of Beauty—No. 79

SUMMER EXERCISES

By Mme. Lina Cavalieri, the Most Famous Living Beauty.

"A good chest developing and at the same time abdomen reducing exercise."

"Lie flat upon your back without a cushion or pillow for the head. Slowly rise to a sitting position without the help of the hands."

MME. CAVALIERI, in her article to-day, warns ... ers that hot weather is no excuse for indolence that permits them to grow fat and lose their figures. While disfavoring physical exercise during the mid-day heat, she urges regular weight-reducing exercises every night and morning—and proceeds to describe several that are best suited to the season. Mme. Cavalieri's article next Sunday will discuss the timely subject of "Bathing for Beauty."

By Mme. Lina Cavalieri.

DON'T grow lazy in the Summer and resign yourself to becoming fat, with the excuse: "It is too hot to exercise." It is, indeed, too hot at midday, but not in the early morning and the late evening. Exercise the year round, but exercise in the morning and evening rather than in the midday heat. Practice a little and often rather than long and irregularly. Accustom the body to its regular exercise, say at 7 in the morning and at 8 at night, for ten minutes instead of at intermittent and spasmodic hours. A little exercise day after day is the motto for the accomplishment of sure results in physical culture.

A good chest developing and at the same time abdomen reducing exercise is that of holding the hands straight out before you, stretching the arm muscles as much as possible, then slowly sweeping them to the sides with a swimming-like stroke, keeping them on a level with the shoulders. Hold them thus until you feel the strain upon the muscles, counting five while you inhale deeply and slowly, five more while you exhale, and five while slowly and yet forcefully expelling the air from the lungs until they seem empty. This exercise, called "forcing a draught in the lungs," expands the chest and develops the breast, at the same time making the abdomen and stomach smaller, for deep breathing reduces the fatty layers over these parts of the body.

Another excellent exercise that does not make an overdraft upon one's strength is standing with chest well up and lungs expanded, arms straight out at the sides and on a level with the shoulders. While holding the arms thus, relax the hands. Imagine them hanging loosely from the wrists and heavy, and shake them around and around.

To make the body supple and at the same time to reduce the hips, place a mat or blanket upon the floor and lie flat upon your back without a cushion or pillow for the head. Slowly rise to a sitting position without the help of the hands. Let them hang loosely and relaxed at the sides. Try to forget them.

Also reverse and lie upon the stomach, raising your weight slowly with the aid of the hands until you are kneeling.

A fourth exercise may be taken upon the bed, but it is better to take it upon the floor. For the bed yields with the limb, while the solid floor offers resistance. Again, lie flat upon the back. Raise the right leg slowly until the leg forms a right angle with the trunk of the body. Imagine that the sole of the foot reaches the ceiling. Press the foot with all your strength against that imaginary ceiling. Repeat this a half dozen times. Then make the same movement with the left foot. Then alternate. Then repeat them together. There is no more valuable exercise for reducing the hips and abdomen.

Clasping the hands tightly above the head and keeping the elbows stiff mean while breathing very deeply and slowly their running exercises at dusk in the park. Perhaps you can do the same in the seclusion of your country home.

And if you can sleep on the veranda or roof during your vacation, or the entire Summer, your health and beauty will have doubled by the Autumn. The outdoor sleeping chamber is becoming an institution of homes in the country and small cities. A veranda or balcony protected by a screen is an ideal sleeping place for four to six months a year, at least.

A young New York matron writes me that maternity has "spoiled her figure," and asks me how to restore her bust to its former firmness and fulness.

Cold water spanned often upon the breasts and cold compresses worn for ten minutes to a quarter of an hour and then renewed, will in time make the bust firmer. But I never advise any means to

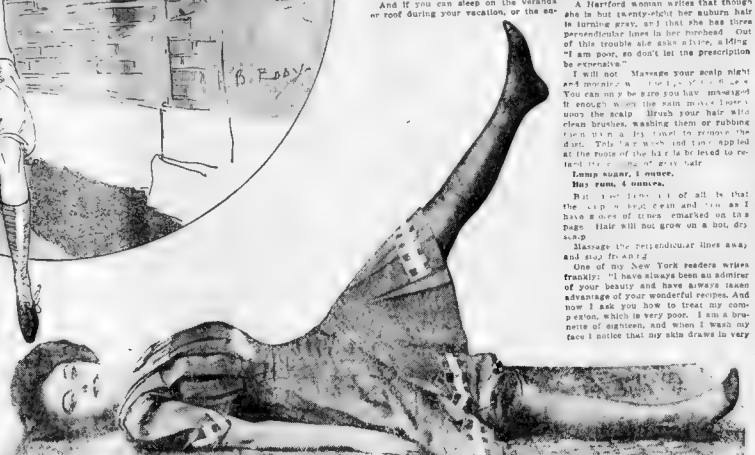


PHOTO COPYRIGHT BY DAVIS & EICKEMEYER.

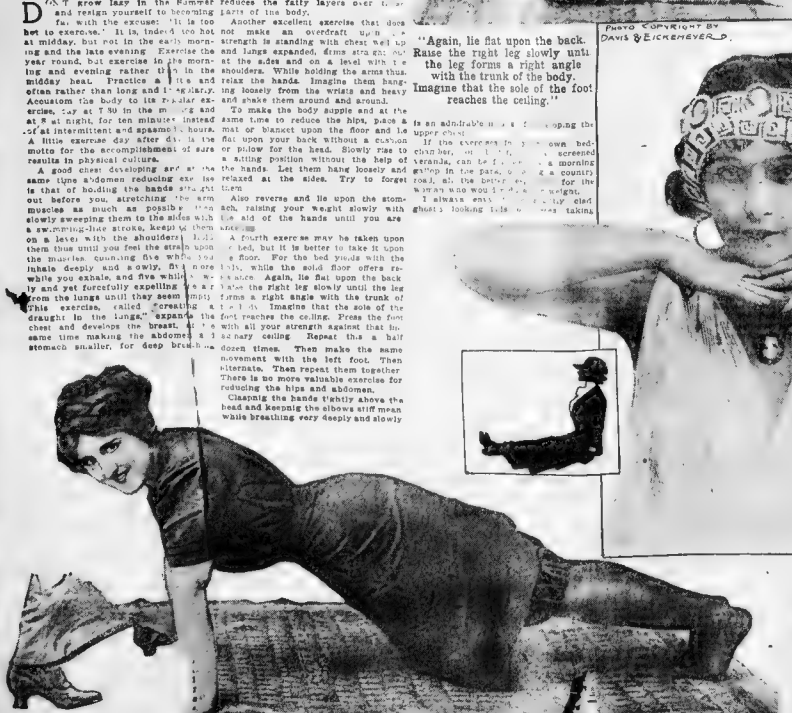
"Again, lie flat upon the back. Raise the right leg slowly until the leg forms a right angle with the trunk of the body. Imagine that the sole of the foot reaches the ceiling."



...be stomach, raising your weight slowly with the aid of the hands until you are kneeling.

Rinse the hair well in clear water and dry it in the sun. Then brush it out well and you will find it soft and glossy.

Lemon juice is also excellent for the hair, but it is not as good as the above for dark hair, as it has a tendency to lighten it. Lemon juice is excellent for the hair if it is dandruffy or oily. Rub it well into the scalp and hair roots, and then rinse it out with clear water.

Another excellent remedy for dandruff is the following:

Lump sugar, 1 ounce.
Hay rum, 4 ounces.

But best beyond all of all is that the scalp be kept clean and free as I have so often remarked on these pages. Hair will not grow on a hot, dry scalp.

Massage the perpendicular lines away and stop frowning.

One of my New York readers writes frankly: "I have always been an admirer of your beauty and have always taken advantage of your wonderful recipes. And now I ask you how to treat my complexion, which is very poor. I am a brunette of eighteen, and when I wash my face I notice that my skin draws in very fine wrinkles around my mouth the pores are very dark looking and the skin is very rough. I would like something to clear my skin and make it right."

Your description of your complexion suggests that the skin hasn't proper exercise and feeding. First, I wonder if you yourself have proper exercise and the right kind of food for you. I think I hear you answer, but are you sure? Do you walk from two to five miles a day, no matter what the weather? Do you sleep in a well ventilated room? Do you eat slowly of wholesome foods, chewing every morsel until it is turned to a substance as thin as milk in your mouth before swallowing? If you do all these things, then the skin itself needs attention. Exercise the skin by patting it lightly with the tips of the fingers for five to ten minutes, or until the blood rushes to the surface, night and morning. Dip the fingers before patting into cocoanut oil or a good cold cream.

A determined young woman asks for the third time for a remedy for "pigeoned breasts" and says she is quite willing to "assume any risk." I recommend for her the following French formula, which may be massaged into the breasts, and I am assured, contains no injurious elements.

Tincture of quillaya	2 drams
Tincture of myrrh	2 drams
Tincture of benzoin	2 drams
Colora water (infusion of quince rust)	8 drams
Rosewater	15 ounces
Almond milk	2 ounces
Rectified alcohol	1 ounce
Essence of bergamot	1 dram
Essence of neroli	6 drops
Powdered alum	90 grains

If you mix these at home do so in the following manner. Let the alum dissolve thoroughly in the gluten water. Mix the rosewater with the almond milk. Add them well. Then add slowly, shaking all the while, the tincture of benzoin, the tincture of quillaya and the tincture of myrrh. Mix the essence of neroli and the essence of bergamot with the alcohol. Add together and shake until thoroughly mixed. Apply this to the

Why not keep in style... Make your light mustache... a rich brown or black. ...UCKINGHAM'S D...

I treats it right, by massaging it gently into the [illegible]

From Philadelphia comes an enthusiast. I [illegible] me the writer has used a [illegible] printed on this page [illegible] "I [illegible] years and [illegible] anonymous.

I [illegible] upon her preparation. It [illegible] made to a [illegible] blemishes are put [illegible] must do that [illegible] To revert to an [illegible] again, [illegible] is no excellence with [illegible] great labor. The skin is liable to look loose and hazy after the disappearance of the sagging muscles of a double chin. Harden them by pressing ice against the muscles as long as it can be borne. Also splash cold water with both hands on the skin and wear a chin band at night. Pressing the backs of the hands hard against the [illegible] hair [illegible] them.

Comes this letter from Harrow: "Will you please publish a formula that I may follow to make my face thin? They are much too thick, and tell me where I can get the [illegible]."

I am not at liberty to advertise any chemist or beauty shop in these columns, but in New York or any other large city you should be able to get at first class houses the materials mentioned in one of my formulas. Druggists have their own preparations that they want to sell and that they will tell you are "just as good." But if you will insist your formula can be made up.

Lips may be coaxed into lesser fulness by massaging with the second fingers of each hand from the corners to the middle of the lips and by applying often a solution called spirits of camphor.

A young woman sends a triple order for relief. "I have dark rings under my eyes. Tell me what to do for them," she demands. "Also publish a recipe to make the eyebrows long and thick and something to keep them dark auburn. Also something to keep the hair in curl."

See your physician about the dark rings under your eyes. They are signs of general debility. Massage the eyebrows with lanoline every night before retiring. Use an eyebrow brush on them morning and night to remove the dust and cause the friction which makes hair grow. Since I do not know what color your eyebrows are I have nothing to suggest about making them auburn. I advise you not to use dyes upon the brows, lest it injure the eyes.

To make the hair curl use the following:

Gum tragacanth, ¼ oz.
Rosewater, 1 pint.
Glycerine, 5 drops.

A young girl writes me that her once beautiful auburn hair has been falling out ever since she went into the employ of a tobacco concern, and asks whether the odor of tobacco disagrees with her hair.

Not with the hair, artistic speaking, but evidently with your general constitution. Why not seek employment in more wholesome surroundings? The hair reflects the condition of the health.

A Plainfield woman writes to ask whether henna is good for gray hair. It will color the hair auburn and is harmless dye.

I REMOVED MY FRECKLES
I will show you how to remove yours FREE
[illegible]

Raise Your Own Pheasants

Cheaper Than Chickens and Easier to Rear, Clubs and Individuals Finding Profit and Amusement in the Beautifully Plumagea Fowl.

By Rene Bache.

Above—The Argus, Rarest and Costliest of Pheasants

At the Side—The Jungle Fowl, a Pheasant from Which All Our Chickens Are Descended

Below—The California Quail—A Real Pheasant

Photo Copyright by W. F. Kendrick - Denver - Col.

Hardy Pheasants Sleeping on Ice.

10 Days Free Trial

SEND US YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS. WE WILL SEND TO YOU AT OUR EXPENSE ON APPROVAL

This Magnificent Watch

50c A WEEK

Sold by all retail dealers for $38.50

Hunting Case Model

$24.50

If Perfectly Satisfied After 10 Days' Free Trial, We Give You the Written Guarantee

To Be Paid on the Very Easy Terms of

50c a Week or $2.00 a Month

Remember the price, and you have a high grade 7 jewel or 15 jewel movement with a very handsome case to select from. 20 years. Stem wind and stem set fancy gold hands.

Send your name now to Dept. 28 "S"

Sterling Manufacturing Company

PHILADELPHIA
NEW YORK Drawer 180 CHICAGO Drawer 765

LA BLACHE

Face Powder

Summer Delights are enjoyed by those who use

BEN LEVY CO.
Paris, France, Dept. 21
Bond and Regent Sts., London

KOSMEO CREAM

protects and adorns the skin. Price $1.00 per bottle of Powder, Cream, Soap.

Mme. Germaine Graham,
1421 Michigan Ave., Chicago.

THE NATIONAL MARKET PLACE.

PATENTS AND INVENTIONS.

OUR BOOKS FOR INVENTORS tell what you want to know about Patents, how to obtain them, and the values of inventions. Sent free. Richard B. Owen, Patent Lawyer, 45-66 McGill Bldg., Washington, D. C. Trade Marks for 15 cents.

PATENTS SECURED OR FEE RETURNED. Illustrated Guide Book and List of Inventions Wanted free to any address. We are assisted by a different class of inventors every month. Sample copy 10 cents. Send stamp. Address, VICTOR J. EVANS & CO., Washington D. C.

PATENTS—Our facts about Patents and Patent offers and inventions that will bring from $5000 to $1 MILLION DOLLARS, and for books of interest to inventors, sent for promptly. Send for Free Patent Sense, Dept. 64, Pacific Bldg., Washington D. C.

OUR BOOKS FOR INVENTORS tell what you want to know about Patents, how to obtain them, and the values of inventions. Sent free. Richard B. Owen, Patent Lawyer, 45-66 McGill Bldg., Washington, D. C. Trade Marks for 15 cents.

PATENTS AND PATENT PROTECTION. A 32-page booklet sent free. Highest references. Best results. Patents procured through Munn & Co., Washington, D. C., 9 F Bldg., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS that PAY. 3 Books for Inventors, How to Obtain a Patent, How to Sell a Patent, How to Invest in Patents. Sent free. Patents secured or fee returned. Edwin G. Siggers, Patent Lawyer, 925 F. Washington, D. C.

PATENTS that PAY. 3 Books for Inventors. How to obtain a Patent, How to Sell a Patent, How to Invest in Patents. Sent free. Patents secured or fee returned. E. G. Siggers, Patent Lawyer, 925 F. Washington, D. C.

AGENTS.

AGENTS—Steady income introducing guaranteed line of hosiery to men and women. Exclusive and best agency proposition. Thomas Hosiery Co., 3963 Third St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

RAINPROOF. How to clean Health Rubber. Only 25c. Sells quick. $36 monthly. Exclusive territory. Costs $2.00 outfit. Send wholesale trade. Rainproof Co., 240 St. 7th St., St. Louis, Mo.

MUSIC PUBLISHERS.

MUSIC PUBLISHED for new writers and composers. Submit your songs or poems. Send for our booklet for a free examination of your work, advantageous offer, and full information. We are the largest music publishers in the world. Established 1890. Dept. 10. DONALDSON, DOUGLAS & GUMBLE, Chicago, Ill.

CALIFORNIA FARMS.

CALIFORNIA land, $1 acre cash payments, buy 10 acres. Purchase and sale contracts drawn free. Free map showing location of property. Level, rich, clear, ready to plow; irrigation perpetual; water rights guaranteed; perfect title; abstracts; maps, photographs free. STEVINSON COLONY, 330 Market st., San Francisco.

SONGS.

SONG WRITERS' GUIDE—Our new book on the subject is worth its weight in gold. It not only teaches the novice, but is valuable to those who make a specialty of writing songs. Sent postpaid for 25c. REMICK & CO., 131 West 41st st., New York.

HIGH GRADE HELP.

LEARN ADVERTISEMENT WRITING by mail; earn from $25 to $100 per week. Write today for interesting booklet and free prize contest; it tells everything. Page-Davis School, Chicago.

INEBRIETY CURED.

LIQUOR HABIT. Guaranteed lifelong home cure. Book and testimonials free. Dr. Haines, 1 West 42d st., New York, N. Y.

HYPNOTISM.

Learned at home by mail. Small cost. No failure. Book explained. Particulars and testimonials free. Prof. Wm. Russell, A. M., Westchester, N. Y.

VARICOSE VEINS.

ABSORBINE JR. will greatly relieve swollen veins, allay pain, reduce inflammation and varicosities, and will clear the skin of unsightly discolorations. Absorbine Jr. is a powerful germicide, antiseptic and liniment for the skin. Does not blister or remove the hair. Pleasant to use. $1 per bottle, delivered. Book free. Manufactured only by W. F. YOUNG, P.D.F., 317 Temple st., Springfield, Mass.

VARICOSE VEINS. Red legs are now completely cured with injections home treatment, and positively removes the pain, swelling, tiredness, and ugliness. Full course sent on receipt of $2.00. W. F. Young, P.D.F. 317 Temple st. Springfield, Mass.

TOBACCO HABIT CURED.

DR. ELDERS' TOBACCO SPECIFIC cures all forms of Tobacco habit in 72 to 120 hours, 75c. Write for free booklet. Dr. Elders' Specific Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

TOBACCO HABIT CURED in 72 hours. Nothing to smoke, chew or inhale. Costs $1 if cured. Write us before you buy. Edwin Remedy Co., Dept. 1, Jackson, Mich.

TOBACCO HABIT CURED or no cost. Harmless. Home treatment. Write for booklet. Full strength guaranteed. Results in three days. Write quick. KING NO. KO, Wichita, Kansas.

ASTHMA CURE.

INSTANT RELIEF and PERMANENT CURE for ASTHMA and HAY FEVER. Don't suffer another day. Write for free trial to any sufferer. Address Dr. F. G. Hayes, 283 Main st., Buffalo, N. Y.

ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER CURE sent by express to any sufferer on 10 days' free trial. If it cures you, send $1. If not, you owe us nothing. Address Dr. F. G. HAYES, CHEMICAL CO., Dept. M, Buffalo, N. Y.

HABIT CURE.

We send a FREE TRIAL TREATMENT to anyone addicted to the use of Morphine, Opium or Laudanum. Hundreds of testimonials demonstrate the merits of our painless Home Remedy and prove that it cures permanently. Don't suffer another day. Write us in confidence and we will send you a generous trial treatment and Book Free, postpaid. Write us to-day. DR. PAUL ASSOCIATION, Suite 378, 45 Van Buren st., Chicago.

EYE CURE.

MAR VOKE EYE SPECIALIST PRONOUNCED WONDERFUL. No matter how pronounced, they are invisible or who has treated you before, Cyrl Colvez, Specialist, 1000 Majestic Building, Detroit, Mich., will write you for 30 days. Book for pamphlet. OPTICAL CO., Box 580, Providence, R. I.

ELECTRIC BELTS.

Sold on credit by doctors at $18 to $40, direct from factory at $2 and up; why pay more? Prove our low price. Free illustrated, home book explains many useful secrets; contains advice; tells how to cure yourself at home and how we cure you by our new method. Electric Belt Co., Dept. 0, 1133 Broadway, New York.

MISCELLANEOUS CURES.

CANCER REMEDY. At your home without a knife. Easily applied. Price $2.50. Send on receipt of post office money order. Dom Mfg. Co., Dept. H, Visalia, Cal. Please send to some afflicted.

FOR WOMEN.

A PERFECTLY DEVELOPED BUST. "Superfine" gives wonderful results; no failure; blemishes never returned. $1 by mail. Call, write. We'll suggest a Perfect Bustle. 101 W. 23d St., New York.

CLAIRVOYANT.

FREE. To know your diseases and age symptoms, look at your hair, two names full name to Dr. Hines v. 22 Grand Rapids, Mich.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

500 Bags guaranteed. Just 7,000 names of buyers of chewing stocks. Part of Net-ad $10. Illustrated tips regarding "Now, Southeastern Publicity Co., Florence, Ala.

$5 an hour in North Dakota. Write for free map showing locations. Write for list now. Kingsford Co., Box 2, Owego, N. Y.

ASK for free copy of "Salesmanship." Tells how to become a crack salesman at home evenings. I began that way. Now I travel $5,000 to $10,000 a year. Book free. CLYDE 101 Ewbank N. Y.

CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS.

BE A DOCTOR OF MECHANO-THERAPY, the wonderful new system of Drugless Healing. $5,000 to $10,000 a year. We teach you by mail. Greatly superior and more scientific than Swedish Movements. Anatomical charts and 125 page illustrated book free. AMERICAN SCHOOL OF MECHANO-THERAPY, Dept. 131, 120-122 Randolph st., Chicago.

PLAYWRITING.

PLAYWRITING is a very lucrative profession. Many have the ability and don't realize it. Let us develop your talent. Our book on the subject, "How to Write for Money," sent free. Write for it now. SHORT & REMICK & CO., 737 West 41st st., New York.

FOR THE TEETH.

SAVE LOOSE TEETH—If your teeth are loose and insecure, use Calvert's Tooth Powder. It tightens them. CALVERT'S ANTISEPTIC is a wonderful preparation for the teeth. 4d. each. Of all Chemists in the United States. Money back if unsatisfactory. Calvert's Antiseptic Co., Ltd., Manchester, England.

N. J. FARMS FOR SALE.

FIVE ACRES $125 $5 MONTHLY. 10 miles from Atlantic City. Ten acres $250. Many acres of fruits, berries, vegetables and poultry. Near large markets. Two trains daily. Deeds and abstracts signed, title insurance. Booklet free. FRAZIER CO., 721 Ealer Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.

GAMES AND AMUSEMENTS.

MAGIC Pocket Tricks and Catalog for 4c. Magic Co., 272 W. 39th st., New York.

This Page Goes Into Two Million Homes

The above department of classified advertising is a regular feature of this Sunday Magazine. It appears every Sunday in all of these newspapers: The New York American, the Boston American, the Chicago Examiner, the San Francisco Examiner and the Los Angeles Examiner, with a combined circulation exceeding 2,000,000 copies. The rate is $2.00 a line, seven average size words to a line. Forms close ten days before date of issue. Cash must accompany orders. Address AMERICAN SUNDAY MAGAZINE, 23-25 East 26th St., New York, or 708 Security Building, Chicago.

Gentlemen: I send attached to this order copy for.....line advertisement, which I desire to have you print in the NATIONAL MARKET PLACE. I enclose remittance of $.....to cover cost of same.

Name .....

Street .....

City and State.....

WANTED—RIDER AGENTS IN EACH TOWN and district to ride and exhibit a sample 1910 Model "Ranger" bicycle furnished by us. Our agents everywhere are making money fast. Write at once for full particulars and special offer.

NO MONEY REQUIRED until you receive and approve of your bicycle. We ship to anyone, anywhere in the U. S., without a cent deposit in advance, prepay the freight, and allow 10 DAYS FREE TRIAL. If you are not entirely satisfied with the bicycle you may ship it back to us at our expense and you will not be out a cent.

LOW FACTORY PRICES We manufacture bicycles and sell them direct to the rider at factory prices. It is possible to make better bicycles and we do, but no one can sell bicycles of equal quality at our prices. We are satisfied with a small profit above factory cost. Our large output and our direct selling plan enable us to do business on the smallest margin of profit. Our prices are less than half the prices asked for bicycles of inferior grade. Do not buy a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogs and learn our unheard of prices and our liberal terms.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our catalogs and learn our unheard of prices and our liberal terms. We will do the highest grade bicycle possible to make at a reasonable profit above factory cost. We will make you the most attractive proposition ever submitted. Our large output and our direct selling plan enable us to do business on the smallest margin of profit. Our prices are less than half the prices asked for bicycles of inferior grade. Do not buy a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogs and learn our unheard of prices and our liberal terms. We will do the highest grade bicycle possible to make at a reasonable profit above factory cost. We will make you the most attractive proposition ever submitted. Our large output and our direct selling plan enable us to do business on the smallest margin of profit. Our prices are less than half the prices asked for bicycles of inferior grade. Do not buy a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogs and learn our unheard of prices and our liberal terms. We will do the highest grade bicycle possible to make at a reasonable profit above factory cost. We will make you the most attractive proposition ever submitted. Our large output and our direct selling plan enable us to do business on the smallest margin of profit. Our prices are less than half the prices asked for bicycles of inferior grade. Do not buy a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogs and learn our unheard of prices and our liberal terms. We will do the highest grade bicycle possible to make at a reasonable profit above factory cost. We will make you the most attractive proposition ever submitted. Our large output and our direct selling plan enable us to do business on the smallest margin of profit. Our prices are less than half the prices asked for bicycles of inferior grade. Do not buy a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogs and learn our unheard of prices and our liberal terms.

DO NOT WAIT—but write today for our Large Catalog—mailed, illustrated and containing a great deal of interesting matter about bicycles. Only write a postal—it costs little—do it now.

TIRES, COASTER BRAKE and sundries at half usual prices. A limited number of second-hand bicycles taken in trade will be closed out at $3 to $8 each. Write today.

MEAD CYCLE CO. Dept. K-63, CHICAGO, ILL.

Your Summer Vacation Not Complete Without a Copy of This Great Book

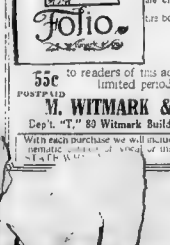
$10 WORTH OF PIANO MUSIC FOR 55 Cents Postpaid

72 Pages of the best dance music ever published; selected from some of the most successful musical comedies, containing

23—WALTZES, TWO-STEPS, BARN DANCES, LANCIERS—23

EVERY NUMBER A HIT

ALL COPYRIGHTS



1 Two-Step. SOMEBODY'S BEEN AROUND HERE SINCE I'VE BEEN GONE from "The Gay White Way."
2 Waltz. AS LONG AS THE WORLD ROLLS ON.
3 Two-step. THE TOTEM POLE, from "The Alaskan."
4 Waltz. STARLIGHT MAID, from "The Auto Maid."
5 Barn Dance. KISS, KISS, KISS, from "The Parisian Model."
6 Two-Step. I'M THE HUMAN NIGHT AND DAY NEW YORK, from "The Soul Kiss."
7 Waltz. WHEN YOU STEAL A KISSOR TWO, from "The Girl Behind the Counter."
8 Barn Dance. WHISTLE IF YOU WANT ME, DEAR.
9 Two-Step. THE PARTY THAT WROTE "HOME, SWEET HOME" NEVER WAS A MARRIED MAN.
10 Waltz. EVERY STAR FALLS IN LOVE WITH IT'S MATE, from "Dr. Dorry."
11 Barn Dance. I IDOLIZE IDA, from "Mary's Lamb."
12 Two-Step. YAMA YAMA MAN, from "Three Twins."
13 Waltz. SOMEBODY LOVES YOU, DEAR.
14 Barn Dance. WOULDN'T YOU LIKE TO HAVE ME FOR A SWEETHEART, from "A Yankee Tourist."
15 Waltz. I'LL SAY SHE DOES, from "Lonesome Town."
16 Two-Step. DON'T BE CAUSE HE COULDN'T SING "LOVE ME AND THE WORLD IS MINE."
17 Waltz. TAKE ME WITH YOU IN YOUR DREAMS.
18 Barn Dance. BOO-HOO, I'LL CRY IF YOU LEAVE ME, from "Twin Twins."
19 Waltz. SINCE MY MARITCH LEARNED THE MERRY WIDOW WALTZ.
20 Two-Step. TRUE HEART.
21 Barn Dance. CLODELLE UP A LITTLE CLOSE TO LOVEY MINE.
22 Waltz. WHEN SWEET MARIE WAS SWEET SIXTEEN.
23 Two-Step. THE SPRING CHICKEN.

Look Over Contents

Any one of the 23 numbers if bought separately would cost YOU what we are charging for the entire book, postpaid.

55c POSTPAID to readers of this ad, for a limited period. 55c POSTPAID

M. WITMARK & SONS,

Dept. "T," 80 Witmark Building, New York.

With each purchase we will include FREE our new pamphlet entitled "A Study of Instrumental Music in Relation to the Voice."

The Glorious 4TH

Sizzle! Crash! Bang!
Crackers popping---
cannon booming--- rockets flaring---

nothing but noise.
Head aches---nerves jumping --- you're worn out.

Drink Coca-Cola

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

Send for our interesting booklet. "The Truth About Coca-Cola."

It can't stop the noise but it will keep it from hurting. It relieves fatigue of the body, brain and nerves and refreshes delightfully.

Whenever you see an arrow think of Coca-Cola.

Delicious Wholesome Thirst-Quenching

5c EVERYWHERE

THE COCA-COLA CO.
Atlanta, Ga.

Comic Section of the BOSTON AMERICAN July 3rd 1910.

Jimmy--He Celebrates the Glorious Fourth!

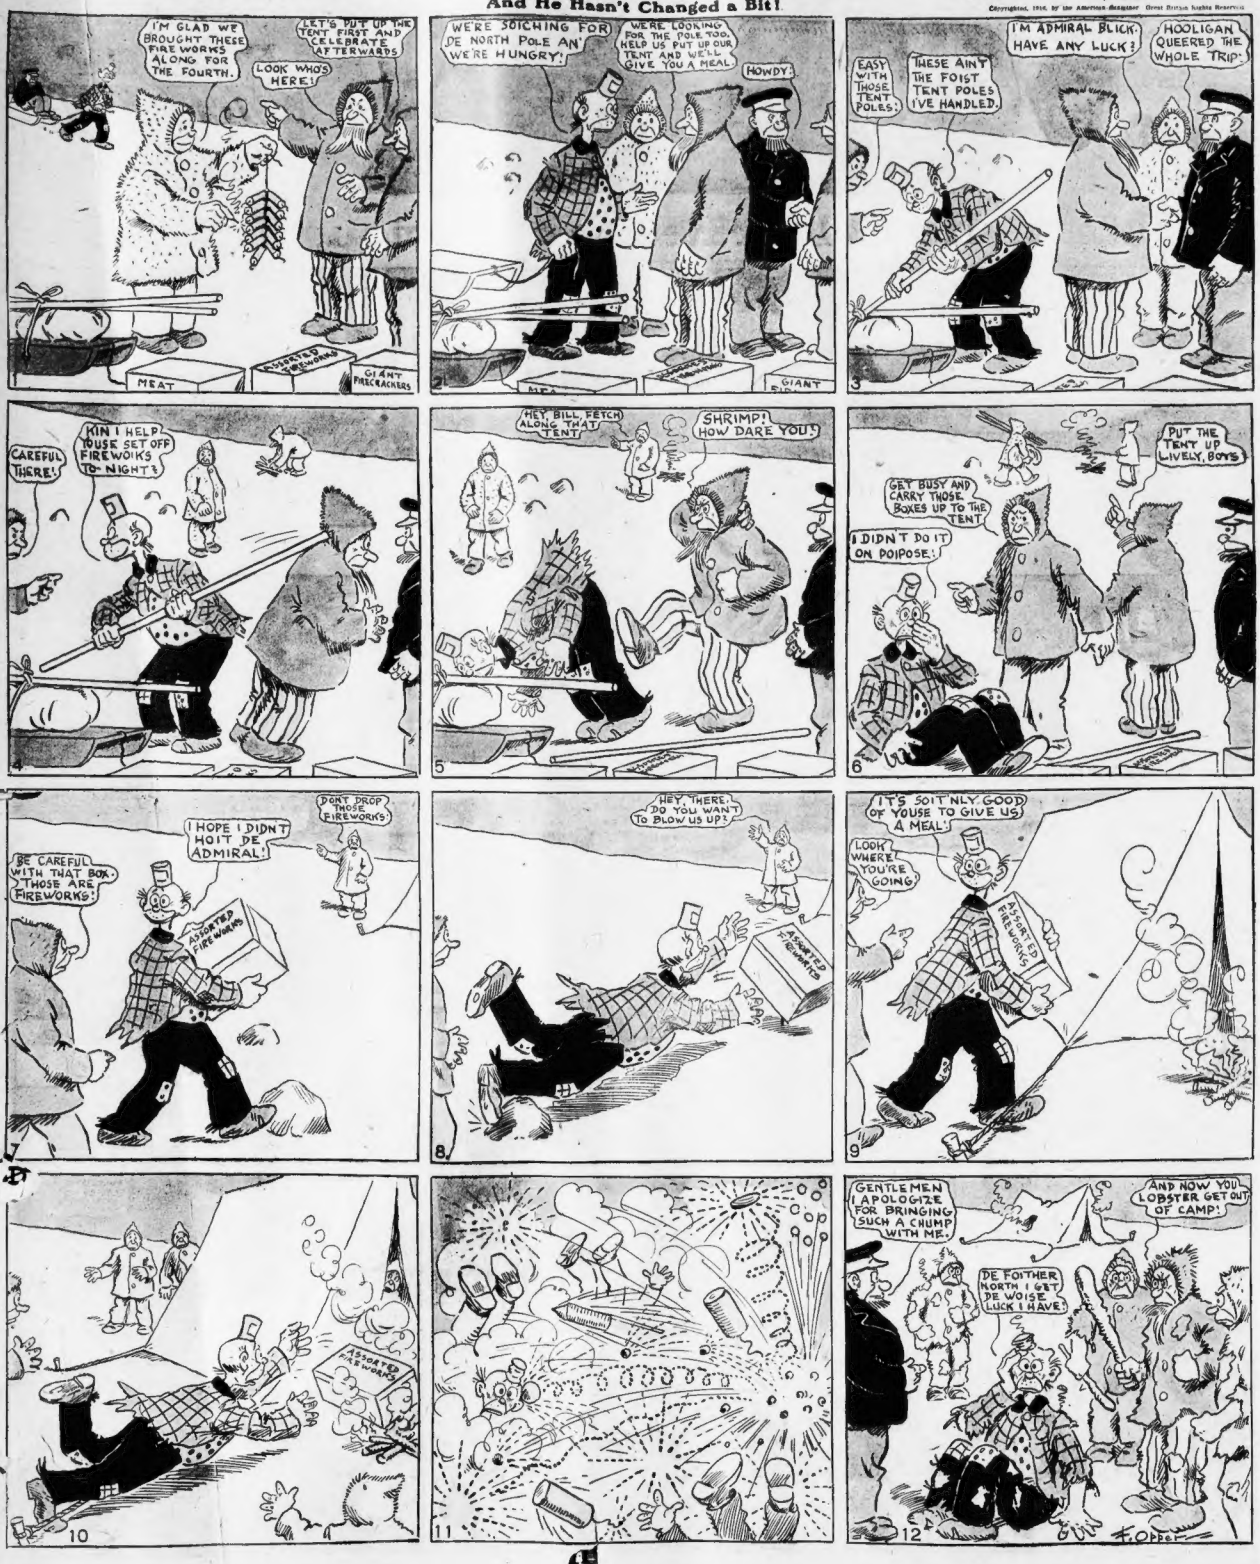
Copyrighted, 1910, by the American-Examiner. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

1.
NOW JIMMY, TAKE BABY OUT FOR A NICE RIDE. DONT LET HIM GET HURT BY ANY FIREWORKS. MAMMA TRUSTS YOU.
SO DOES PAPA — NOT!
2.
"GEE, JIM, LOOK UT D'WHOPPER!"
3.
"HEY, YOUSE! MIND D'KID AN' QUIT YER BEEFIN'!"
"SAY! WHERE DO I COME IN?"
GUB
4.
5.
6.
HONK
AND IN THE MEAN TIME
9.
OOH, LOOK UT D'BABY, WOT'S LOSTED!
"LOOKUT ALL D'FIRECRACKERS WOT AINT 'SPLODED!"
"BAW!"
10.
"IM GAWNA TEK DIS 'ER CHILE HOME. DIS WE KIN FIND OUT WHO IT BELONGS TO!"
11.
"YUH!"
"LAWSY! AINT DAT CUTE!"
AND A FEW MINUTES LATER
12.
"DID YOU SEE ANYTHING OF A LITTLE BOY WITH A BABY AROUND HERE?"
"I DIDN SEE NO LITTLE BOY BUT MAH SISTER TUK A BABY WOT VUUZ LOS' OVER HOME."
13.
"WHA-A-AT!"
"WHY! EF IT AINT SINATOR THOMPSON!"
14.
"TSS-ST! HERE HE COMES!"
15.
SWINNERTON

Why, Here's Our Friend Happy Hooligan Again!

And He Hasn't Changed a Bit!

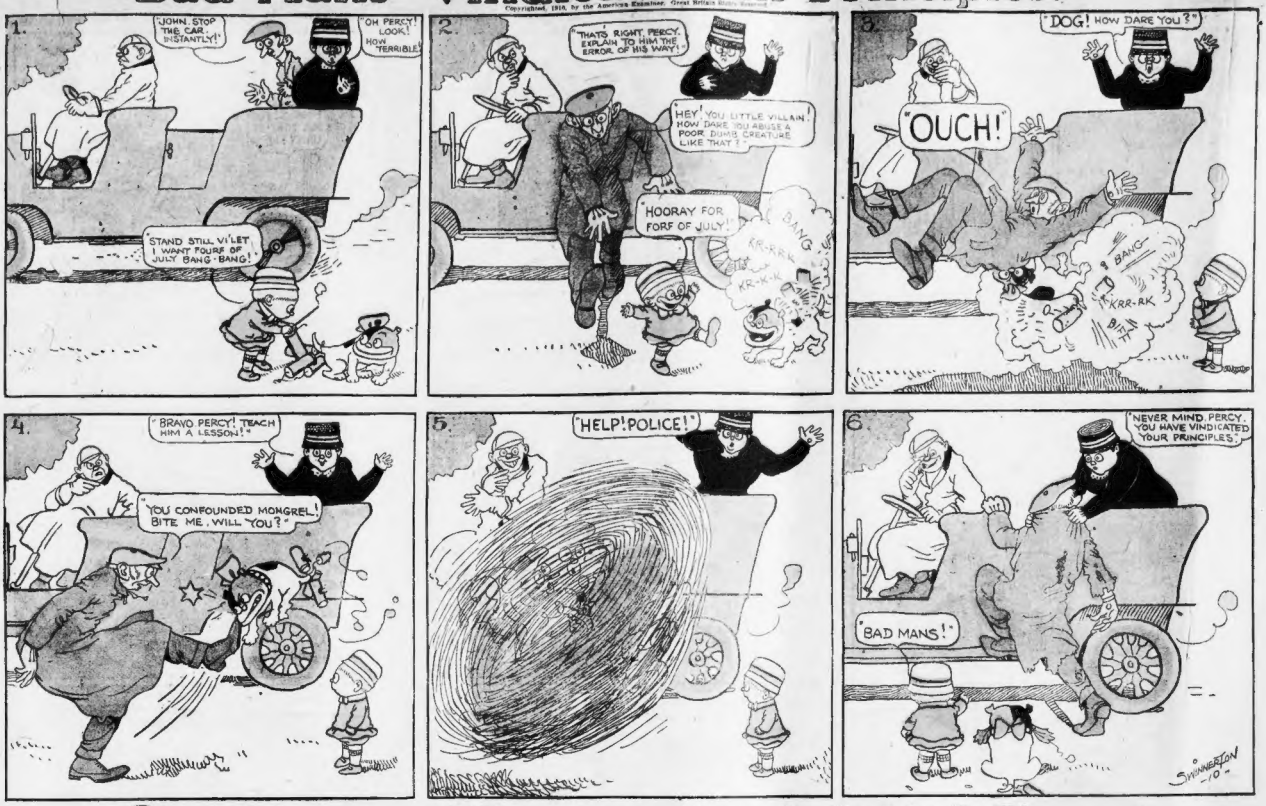
Copyrighted, 1910, by the American Newspaper Group. All rights reserved.



I'M GLAD WE BROUGHT THESE FIRE WORKS ALONG FOR THE FOURTH.
LET'S PUT UP THE TENT FIRST AND CELEBRATE AFTERWARDS
LOOK WHO'S HERE!
MEAT
ASSORTED FIREWORKS
GIANT FIRECRACKERS
WE'RE SOICHING FOR DE NORTH POLE AN' WE'RE HUNGRY!
WE'RE LOOKING FOR THE POLE TOO. HELP US PUT UP OUR TENT AND WE'LL GIVE YOU A MEAL
HOWDY!
EASY WITH THOSE TENT POLES!
THESE AIN'T THE FOIST TENT POLES I'VE HANDLED.
I'M ADMIRAL BLICK. HAVE ANY LUCK?
HOOLIGAN QUEERED THE WHOLE TRIP!
CAREFUL THERE!
KIN I HELP YOUSE SET OFF FIREWOIKS TO-NIGHT?
HEY, BILL, FETCH ALONG THAT TENT
SHRIMP! HOW DARE YOU!
GET BUSY AND CARRY THOSE BOXES UP TO THE TENT
PUT THE TENT UP LIVELY, BOYS
I DIDN'T DO IT ON POIPOSE!
BE CAREFUL WITH THAT BOX. THOSE ARE FIREWORKS!
I HOPE I DIDN'T HOIT DE ADMIRAL!
DON'T DROP THOSE FIREWORKS
ASSORTED FIREWORKS
HEY, THERE. DO YOU WANT TO BLOW US UP?
ASSORTED FIREWORKS
IT'S SOIT'NLY GOOD OF YOUSE TO GIVE US A MEAL!
LOOK WHERE YOU'RE GOING.
ASSORTED FIREWORKS
ASSORTED FIREWORKS
GENTLEMEN I APOLOGIZE FOR BRINGING SUCH A CHUMP WITH ME.
AND NOW YOU LOBSTER GET OUT OF CAMP!
DE FOITHER NORTH I GET DE WOISE LUCK I HAVE!
F. OPPER

Bad Mans "Vindicates His Principles!"

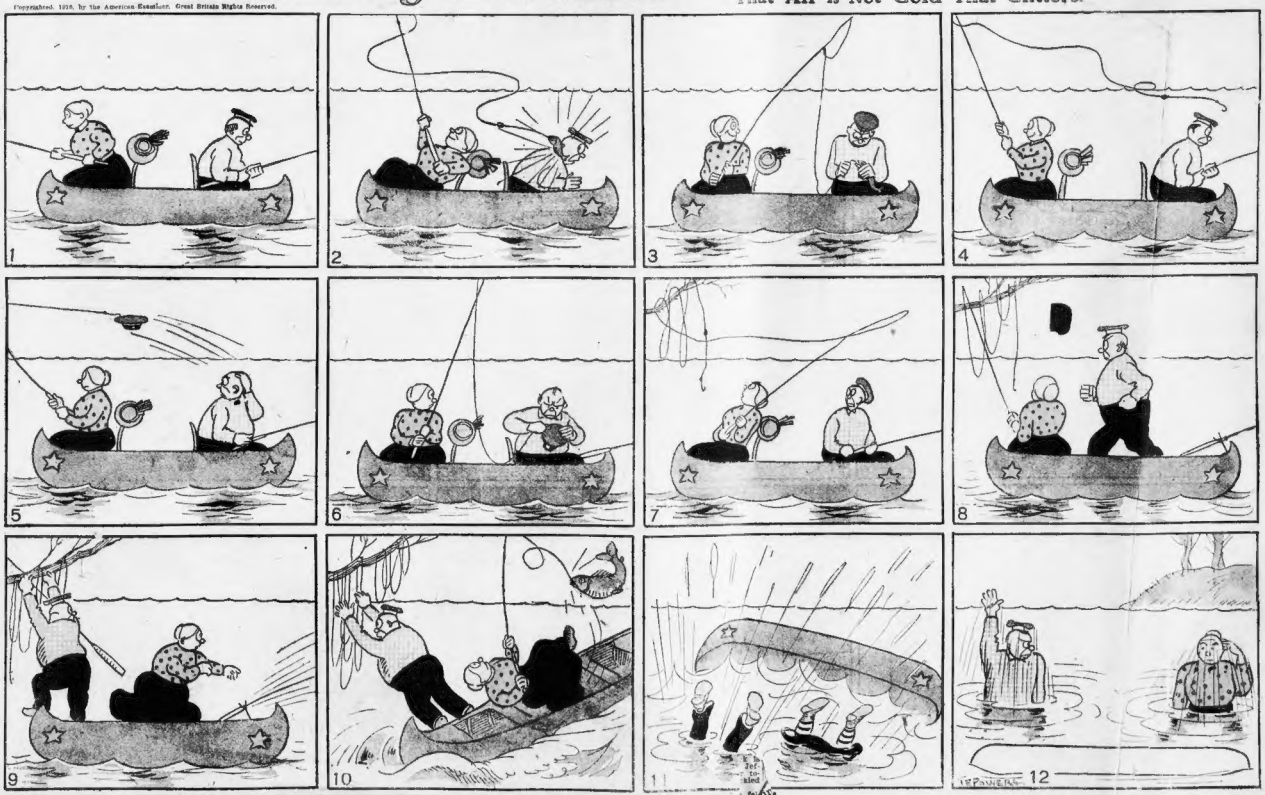
Copyrighted, 1910, by the American Examiner, Great Britain Rights Reserved.



Our Moving Pictures:

Showing a Man Who Takes His Wife Out Fishing, but Makes Up His Mind That All Is Not Gold That Glitters.

Copyrighted, 1910, by the American Examiner, Great Britain Rights Reserved.



Kazink!

Being a Tragedy of the Coast of Africa, in Which One Katzenjammer Kid Betrays Another Katzenjammer Kid!

Copyrighted, 1916, by the American Hearst Corp. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

CHEER UP! TELLERS! SOON COMES DER 'KAZINK'!
QUICK HANS, CLIMB OVER DER DECK UND LOCK DER DOOR OPEN UND I AM YOUR FRIEND MY LIFE-LONG!
BANG
8